

Chapter 1 : A Prayer for Marriage Restoration - Charging LIFE

Your prayer points delivers the manifestation of God presence in my life. So many times I wanted to give up and stop praying. But the holy spirit took over and the strength just comes from no where but the spirit of God.

While overwhelming, all of the books were fantastic in their own way, with at least a few snippets that were very helpful to my husband and me. Here are several ways you can get back to basics and strengthen your relationship. Both verbal and nonverbal, communication is an integral part of a happy marriage. Superficialâ€”This type of communication is exactly like it sounds. Personalâ€”This level of communication is all about personal opinions, ideas, values, and thoughts. Validationâ€”This level of communication is always positive and complimentary. Nonverbal validation can be a wink, a smile, a kind touch, a little love-tap on the bum, etc. Intimacy is also a form of nonverbal validationâ€”just throwing it out there. Try communicating on both personal and validation levels with your sweetie today. Yep, regularly watch the Rock Hudson, Doris Day classic. This is a time when you share your personal thoughts with each other. Take time to listen to your partner. Just close your mouth and open your ears. The most important time to keep your mouth shut is when you have something critical to say about your spouse. Dealing with Passive-Aggressive Behavior Passive-aggressive behavior is something that exists to some extent in many relationships. It is the expression of aggression in non-assertive, subtle ways. Here are some tips from a past Mom It Forward Post by Signe Whitson about how to deal with a passive-aggressive spouse: Recognize the Warning Signs The most common passive-aggressive behaviors include: Make Friends with Your Anger Self-awareness and self-talk are essential to managing your responses to passive-aggressive behavior. Try not to let yourself get angry and yell or react negatively. Decide that you will not participate in the unproductive passive-aggressive conflict cycle. State Requests Clearly Set specific expectations, including time frames, for any request. Never assume that a passive-aggressive person understands your needs. Use care not to allow sarcasm or condescension in your voice as you detail the request. Rather, make your expectations as clear as possible in a neutral, assertive tone. If you want more info on passive aggressive behavior in marriage, check out these two posts on Mom It Forward: Signs of Passive Aggressive Behavior in a Marriage. Resolving Conflict No matter how perfect your marriage, there is bound to be some conflict. Here are simple steps to resolve conflict: Deal with Facts State the problem. Have your spouse state your feelings back to you. Let your partner know if they have stated your feelings correctly. Resolve the Concern Brainstorm. Ask your partner what they think would resolve the issue. Commit to the solution. I was just as surprised as you are. The other crazy thing is that your spouse might not express their love the same way you do. Sometimes these differences can make it hard to understand each other. It focuses on personality types as they relate to innate motives and categorizes them into four colors: They bring great gifts of vision and leadership and generally are responsible, decisive, proactive, and assertive. They bring great gifts of quality and service and are generally loyal, sincere, and thoughtful. They bring great gifts of clarity and tolerance and are generally kind, adaptable, and good-listeners. Fun â€”These are the fun lovers. They bring great gifts of enthusiasm and optimism and are generally charismatic, spontaneous, and sociable. This book will give you insights into why your spouse thinks the way they do and how to interact with them in an effective and healthy way. This book analyzes how you give and receive love: There is a good chance that you and your spouse have different love languages; you may express love through gifts, while your husband expresses love to you through physical touch. You can see how that might cause some confusion. You can take a quick quiz to find out your love language here. Whenever possible, you should share your gratitude for each other. One of the best pieces of advice my husband and I received before getting married was to express our gratitude for one another in our nightly couple prayer. Physical Relationship Your physical relationship can be anything from holding hands to sex to just spending time with each other. And the thing is, your relationship needs all of those things. The time you spend alone together becomes increasingly important when the kiddos enter the picture. Your dates could be as simple as a walk in the park, a picnic, or a drive around town. Be Playful Playtime is just as important for you and your Lovebug as it is for your little ones. Act like kids together. Be silly, play on the jungle gym, play games, ride scooters, get out the old roller skatesâ€¦ laugh togetherâ€¦ flirt. Having fun together will do more to spice up your relationship than you would think. And for most women, sex is not their number one priority. In order to ensure both you and your spouse are getting the intimacy you need, it may be helpful to set up a schedule. The ladies probably want more cuddle time and the fellas probably want more sexy time, so throw them both in the schedule. This can help both of you set expectations each day and night, relieve anxiety or uncertainty about frequency of sex, and can offer added stability to your relationship. If you find that either you or your spouse is regularly easily irritable or angry, the solution may be as simple as getting more sleep. This goes for the kids, as well. Try to set up a good sleep routine for you, your spouse, and your kids to make sure you are well rested for your day. There are great resources available to help you establish healthy sleep habits for your family. My personal favorite is Healthy Sleep Habits, Happy Baby; it has been a life-saver for many of my friends and family. Work At It Marriage can be wonderful, stressful, happy, sad, and hectic all at the same time. Fake it til you make it with a goal to improve your marriage. I know it was great for me to take out all my marriage books and remind myself of things I can do to be a better wife. Living with the passiveâ€”aggressive man. ## Chapter 2 : 6 Powerful Prayers For Your Marriage - Faith in the News

Here are 6 powerful but short prayers that I hope can help strengthen your marriage. Prayer for Unity in the Spirit. God, my Father, I know that my beloved is so different from me and I am supposed to learn how to dwell with my spouse in the unity of the Spirit, and I need Your Spirit to help me know how we can both be of one mind and to grow together in Christ.

If a good marriage were easy, more people would have one. Here are 11 activities that can take your marriage from average to extraordinary. Schedule Fun Make a list of 15 activities that you enjoy engaging in with your spouse. Make sure some of the activities cost little to no money. Put some of these activities into your schedule. Encouragement Lists My wife and I learned about this activity from a marriage counselor we saw. Both you and your spouse make a list of 10 things your spouse can do to encourage you. Make a Budget Yes, this can actually build your marriage. To have a successful budget takes BOTH spouses. Creating a budget and sticking to it requires teamwork at a whole new level. Question Jar Put some relationship building questions in a jar, pick a question, and answer that question. Sign up for our newsletter and you will receive a free PDF of 50 of our favorite questions so you can make your own jar. Learn about Marriage Together You can read marriage books together. You can attend a weekend marriage conference. You can see a counselor for a marriage check up. Opportunities to learn about having a healthy marriage abound if you look for them. Pray Together Jennifer and I like to pray before bed and sometimes before we leave for work. This is a special activity we share together that has brought us closer. There is great power in prayer. Admiration Lists Write down 15 things you admire, appreciate, or are thankful for related to your spouse. Write down the details. Get Marriage Mentors Spend time around other couples with healthy marriages. Let them rub off on you remembering that the quality of your marriage will ultimately be similar to the marriages of those you hang around the most. Set Goals Together You can start by setting goals for the next 6 months together in 7 different life areas: Agree upon one goal in each area. Post these goals on your fridge. Incorporate one activity into your marriage each month or even each week and experience the positive impact on your relationship. There are a lot of other great marriage building activities. What is one you can think of not on this list?

We will believe God with you and add you to our prayer list. She will know Your will for her life, pleasing You in all respects and bearing fruit in every good work. I pray that she would be healthy, strong and have the stamina she needs today. I pray that her agenda and tasks today would go smoothly and that she would accomplish much. I pray that my wife would not gossip or keep company with those who do, and that you would give her discernment and wisdom and protect her from those who would deceive her. I pray that you would keep her safe and protect her from despair, discouragement, and a lack of faith in the midst of any trials she might come up against. I pray that my wife would be morally pure and set apart for your service, that she would be one with you, one with me, and with her sisters in Christ, staying faithful to you always. Lord, please help me to be the man my wife needs me to be. So Lord help me to be caring and attentive toward her. To be sensitive to her concerns and to provide for her as I should. Help me to listen to what she says and to be courteous and thoughtful towards her and encouraging in her efforts. Lord help me to be alert to protect her and defend her against harm or insult. And give me the will and energy to share my heart and thoughts with her, and to tell her the things that may seem obvious and self-evident to me, but that may not be clear to her at all. Lord help me to be kind, appreciative and fun to live with. You give him strength to lead Joshua1: You bless his work and show him daily how to honor You in his attitude and spirit; confirm the work of his hands unto Your purpose Psalm He will be a wise steward of our finances and all we possess, remembering that all things are Yours and entrusted to us for Your purposes Matthew 6: He will love You with all his heart, soul, mind, and strength and hate evil Mark He will be quick to hear, slow to speak, and slow to anger James 1: You protect him physically, mentally and spiritually Psalm You give him the desire to teach and model a godly lifestyle for his children Deuteronomy 6; Psalm You will instruct him and teach him in the way he should go Psalm He would meditate day and night on Your Word, pray without ceasing Psalm 1: He would develop strong relationships with other godly men Eph 4: Help me create a peaceful, restful, safe place for him to come home to. Teach me how to take care of myself and stay attractive to him. Grow me into a creative and confident woman who is rich in mind, soul and spirit. Make me the kind of woman he can be proud to say is his wife. I lay all my expectations at your cross. I release my husband from the burden of fulfilling me in areas where I should be looking to You. Help me to accept him the way he is and not try to change him I leave any changing that needs to be done in Your hands, fully accepting that neither of us is perfect and never will be. Only You, Lord, are perfect and I look to You to perfect us. Teach me how to pray for my husband and make my prayers a true language of love.

Chapter 4 : Prayer How You Can Strengthen Your Prayer Life

I understand that I will receive my Point By Point: The Prayers That Strengthen Marriages and Relationships as an ebook after my order is processed. I realize that much of the material I'm about to learn is not available in most prayer books.

A Prayer for Marriage Restoration Dear Heavenly Father, I humbly come before you and thank you for saving us from distress when we call out in trouble and thank you for being there for us when things are good in our lives. We love you Dear God we seek and require You earnestly. Thank You Lord, for your kindness, tolerance, and patience with us when we fall into sin, and thank you for sending Christ to die for our sins and redeem us by the cross. Lord, You have made us one in flesh and spirit and You are a witness to our marriage covenant. I give You praise and honor, Lord, and I thank you that no weapon formed against our marriage has prospered and I believe that You Lord will silence anyone who is attempting to come between us, telling my spouse that reconciliation is wrong. With the spiritual authority given to me in Jesus name, I rebuke anyone who would attempt to put a wedge between myself and my spouse- through ungodly advice, use of banned spiritual arts as mentioned in the bible for direction, or through false teachings or words. I petition you dear Lord, that Name of Husband or Wife would humbly accept Your conviction and correction and seek your direction. Enable us to deal with any sin that would be hindering our marriage. God, Your words are trustworthy and you have promised these things to me though your words given throughout the ages through the prophets, disciples and Jesus. You have promised that You will build a home for me and that it pleases You to bless my marriage. In the name of Jesus, I pray that You would bind the work of Satan from this marriage and cast that influence away. Your power is greater than the power of Satan and all who do his work, and I believe all good things will be done on Earth and in Heaven in Your time, such as the restoration of my marriage. I refuse to be discouraged, I refuse to be defeated. You are the God of all hope and I claim in every way this victory in my marriage through your Word. I pray we will live together in harmony with sympathy, compassion and humility, and that we inherit Your blessings. Father, I plead that we will speak the truth to one another in love. Cause us to honestly share our feelings without being arrogant or spiteful. Replace those feelings, Holy Spirit, with love and honesty and enable us to work through our differences. Father, I pray that You would rekindle passion and desire between myself and Name of your Husband or Wife here , and heal any emotional wounds we may have caused one another. It is Your Will that marriages to be for a lifetime and therefore go has joined together, let no man separate. I ask that this petition of prayer be read aloud, before all the angels of Heaven, before Jesus, the Holy Spirit and You my God. And I believe you will move to save and strengthen our marriage and I ask in the name of Jesus that You will do whatever it takes to protect and defend this marriage and place a hedge of protection over our home. God bless and thank you. Page 1 of

Let me ask you 3 questions How would you like to know the ONE secret that can save your marriage or relationship right now? How would you like to know how to guarantee peace of mind in your marriage? How would you like to learn the secret of keeping your marriage going strong year after year? Now if at this very moment you are feeling desperate, frustrated, alone or even scared or maybe just plain mad when it comes to your marriage But what if the answers, as you will see in a few seconds, are absolutely Yes! She first broke this story on our website in Then in March , Betty, the woman in the story stepped forward to share her testimony and I am reading it already and it is just marvellous. I am finishing on Friday 31st Aug and then I begin immediately the prayers on page 65 of Prayer of Caleb. So, as I was saying, I have never enjoyed my salvation like now. God is in charge of my life and the Holy Spirit is leading me by the hand Do you know he came back a changed husband and there is love all over. He wants to spend more and more time with me and consults me on everything, the opposite of what was before. He even told me to identify a car for myself to buy. I thought he was not serious. Then he repeated it. People have been waking me up very early in the morning to tell me their problems - and many of them are marital problems and I would quickly introduce them to Golden Key prayers. Last Sunday 19th Aug. I introduced her to the ebook "Point By Point" and she said she would do anything to get her marriage back. She started the Esther fast on Tuesday and by Saturday the husband was looking for her everywhere. All through I prayed for her as well and asked Jehovah to intervene and voila! The same husband wants her back, no conditions. He has given her money and asked her to get a house to move in together! God is still in the business of blessing people. Elisha, thanks for allowing God to use you to bless people all over the world She asked me if I wanted my husband back. I told her that I would do anything apart from sin. So she gave me your prayer guide. I met him and he promised to take me back. He also transported his sister back home never to return. His employer was taking him for a training to the U. Your books have made my husband believe in God. When I stopped praying those prayer points that you e-mailed me. I had to repent ask GOD for forgiveness and start all over. Looks as though everything went wrong. We got into an argument. GOD says not just to pray for me and my ex-husband but for other married couples who having marital problems as well. I praised the Lord for you and your beautiful work in the ministry. They were very much alike, these two young women. Both had been brought up by Christian parents, both were beautiful, and both - as young women - were filled with wonderful dreams about the future. Recently, these women returned to the church for their 25th wedding anniversary. They were still very much alike. Both were still married. Both had three children. And both, it turned out, had husbands who worked for the same technology company in different states, and were still there. But there was a difference. One of the women has been struggling in her marriage for years and it showed. She looked drawn and tired. Her husband was having a secret affair in the office!

We pray that you will allow these prayers to bring joy and excitement into your heart. There is a Devotional at the bottom of the page. Fall in love all over again - Every day! Marriage Prayer for a Wife: Dear Heavenly Father, You are amazing and wonderful. Your unchanging love surrounds me and protects me. You bless me, and you bless my marriage. Thank you for my husband. What an impressive man he is. You gave me the man of my dreams. He is a mega-man, and he is mine. Teach me to love him and value him as I should. Show me how to be the kind of encourager that he needs. Continually guide our hearts toward each other and toward you. Dear Lord, I just talked to the sweetest person and the prettiest lady in the whole world. I am glowing like a lighthouse in the most wonderful part of your creation. Lord, the wife you gave me is my treasure. She is the most important thing in my life. Help me keep my heart ever tender toward her and her needs. Help me to learn how to nourish her with kindness and understanding. Show me how to become the faithful, loyal, wise man that you created me to be. Lord, protect and guard my marriage. Strengthen our dedication to each other and to you. Drawing nearer to God while also praying marriage prayers helps keep the hope and harmony alive. It also keeps the husband and wife focused on attitudes and actions that promote marital happiness. God wants to help us to hinder attitudes that might one day lead to divorce. Note that it is almost impossible for two people to get a divorce if they are tender toward God and tender toward each other. Therefore, through prayer and seeking to understand their mate, couples can strengthen their union and bring more friendship, fun, and peace into their relationship. In Mark chapter ten, Jesus explains that divorce is caused by a hard heart. Speaking marriage prayers out loud stirs up compassionate love for your mate and brings husband and wife closer together. Spending time praying together is ideal but God will do powerful things with any prayer given to him. Our heavenly Father is the ultimate marriage coach and counselor. He is always ready to help us improve our marriage. We invite you to look at our Marriage Bible Devotions. A quick jump to the top of Marriage Prayers.

There is a prayer point for every conceivable situation in your marriage! Right now I am looking at the prayer points for day one. It contains important scriptures and powerful confessions. A daily supply of relationship-building scriptures helps keep you spiritually alert and sensitive. Confessions that are proven to activate the presence of God over your marriage is laid out, word for word, together with the times to use them for maximum effect. In this revised edition, the prayer points have been honed, refined and polished into something like a There are never-before-revealed prayer secrets you can use to: Turn Troubled relationships to terrific relationships in as little as 7 days One sister told me, "My marriage experienced a turnaround These prayer points will help: No Matter How You Look Or How Old You Are It saturates your relationship with enduring love and affection. It generates the full support of both family and friends. It clears conflicts from the freeway of love in the home. It totally eliminates plans for separation and divorce. It restores love that you can almost feel and touch. It maintains a warm and friendly atmosphere in the home. It acts as an impenetrable "firewall" against unwanted attention from "strange" women. Everything is spelt out for you Nothing is left to chance or guesswork: The time to pray, what to say, what to expect This kind of prayer has been used for centuries by the most successful and the most highly desired Christian couples. And, now YOU too can use it, if you: After praying these prayer points, one woman remarked that if she had this book in her hand just last year, her marriage will still be intact by now. Your life starts to change as soon as you get this material in your hands. After they learned this secret, separation or divorce became a thing of the past. You may just be one prayer away from a tide-turning breakthrough. Plus, this is seriously important information for you in the times that we live in. If you have never used the prayer point method, you cannot imagine how useful it will be to you Much of the information that appears in Point By Point appears nowhere else. This manual is available in ebook format only so that anyone with an Internet connection can gain instant access, no matter where they are in the world. And how much will this investment be worth to you? As I was putting the finishing touches to this manual, someone just told me that divorce is the No. For less than what it costs to fill up at the gas station, you are getting your hands on material that will have a direct positive impact on your well-being, state of mind and family One sister says it costs her twice as much to fill up her gas-guzzling SUV! Because, sadly most people who receive things for free "perceive" such things to be of no value! Scientific research even proves this. In my own experience I have also come to the same conclusion. Are they using the materials? All the incredible testimonies I receive are from those who made a commitment, bought the books and used them. Should Point By Point not measure up to your expectation This material has been so thoroughly proven over many years that I am going to make you this outrageous offer: If you are dissatisfied, you can send me an email at 30daytrial firesprings. Just send your check or money order to: And notify me by sending an email to: If you feel as I do that this is a fair and reasonable proposition, then you will want to find out without delay if Point By Point can do for you what it is doing to thousands of users all over the world. No matter what the marriage psychologists tell you About those 2 women I mentioned earlier. They were wedded on the same day. In the same church. By the same pastor. The same marital blessings from the same Bible were pronounced on both. So what made their marriages so different? Converted to prayer points. But I can guarantee you will find that your marriage, indeed your entire life, will begin to take a turn for the better Ignorance costs you money. Unfortunately we all start out ignorant. The definition of ignorance is "lacking education or knowledge. Do you have a sneaking feeling that you made a mistake in choosing your life partner? That kind of mistake can be fatal! Do you want to avoid making costly mistakes again? Or you know someone who is? This bonus is for you Expect the first bonus in your inbox in 3 days Because these prayers WORK My husband has been delivered from alcoholism and is now growing spiritually and God has taken me to another spiritual level.
