Hazrat Umar R. A belonged to Adi tribe of Qureysh in Makkah. His forefathers played a great role in settling disputes among the clans, the Adi family used to lead them as an Arbitrator. His mother, Khantamah was a daughter of Hisham bin al-Mughirah, a highly ranked person among the Qureysh. Life During Youth He used to graze camels from his early age which increased his task handling capabilities and general aptitude. He also had to bear the hardships by facing wrath of his father whenever he tumbled in carrying out the assigned duties. A was also one of the few educated persons in the entire Qureyshi tribe, who could both read and write. He also got familiar with the art and science of genealogy and knew the history of the Arabs. At youth, he was a physically strong person with tall stature. He could travel long distances on his feet without any problem. He was also considered among the top wrestlers due to his great athletic abilities and he also won most of the fights held at the annual fairs of Ukaz. He was also famous for his immaculate horse-riding skills. He was smart person, a well known public orator and successfully handled the ambassadorial role on part of Qureysh. Acceptance of Islam Despite the combination of his flawless intellectual and physical talent he possessed, unfortunately Umar had not accepted the Message of Allah SWT. He was greatly moved by the Holy verses and approved them as the Word of God. A inclusion in Islam by honoring him as a great strengthening factor in the force of the Muslims. A in the circle of Islam, Muslims could not offer Salah publicly due to fear of forceful chiefs of the Qureyshi tribes. But soon after his identification with the Religion of Peace, the believers got the courage to come openly in front of them as they knew no one would dare to interfere as long as Umar R. Due to such courageous proposal of Hazrat Umar R. Narrated by Abdullah bin Umar R. A duly deserved to be identified with the name of Al-Farooq as observed in the above mentioned Hadith. D, Allah SWT ordered the Muslims to emigrate from Makkah immediately so that they could be saved from oppressions of the Makkan disbelievers. It was the time of great fear and dread as Muslims thought that they would be killed if non believers had come to know about their leaving. Everyone was migrating towards Madina quietly apart from the brave Umar R. A , who after performing Namaz in Kaaba, openly declared his endeavor in front of all and invited them to stop him if they could dare to do so. A in the following words: A in terms of his great persistence over religious faith. Narrated by Abdullah ibn Abbas R. His prudence was due to his exceptional qualities of problem solving abilities and knowledge about the history of the Arabs. A had such great personality characteristics that he was even counted as near to the prophets. All of this discussion tells us that Hazrat Umar R. A was in so much sorrow that he could not believe it. Then, Abu Bakr R. Thereupon, Hazrat Umar R. After death of Abu Bakr R. A , Umar R. A took over the Caliphate and became second Khalifah. His worthiness to be held as the Ameer of Momineen can be validated from the following Hadith in which he has been mentioned as one of the most righteous persons. He was also the one who made the Muslim Calendar by taking suggestions of others and counted it from the migration year. There are many other great achievements of Hazrat Umar R. A during his reign which majorly include the expansion of Muslim state to the far off places well beyond the boundaries of the Arabia, including the conquests of Damascus, Iraq, Iran, Rome, Persia, and Jerusalem, Egypt etc. The Muslim control had expanded more or less 22, 00, square miles under the command of Farooq e Azam. He ran all the matters with such fairness that once in a sermon he was accused of having taken two pieces of cloth from Bait ul Maal, but he cleared the matter well by stating that he was given the extra cloth by his son Abdullah. In short, Hazrat Umar R. He was a true companion, counselor, scholar, ruler, a brave man, highly judicious and above all a great reformer in the Muslim history. H, Farooq e Azam R. A died as a result of assassination at the hands of a non believer who martyred him while he was praying in the mosque due to a personal resentment.
