Please, give me advice on how to overcome this fear. I know something good is on the other side of this fear. Now i talk only to the angels because im fearful of who might answer. My shaman teachings told me to stay away from anything that has fangs or looks like an insect keep your wits and reject anything that proves to be negative or mis leading. Or it can be helpful for everyone. Place a piece of Selenite, not Satin Spar , under your table or chair where your client is. Selenite and Black Tourmaline draw all negativity away. So if darker energies, negative thought forms make themselves present during healing, they will be drawn away. Please do not use the Antahkatana Triskallion symbol in your Reiki room. This is a pre Celtic symbol that calls Thrones. Thrones will deplete auric energy. Selenite does not override the call of this symbol. To personally protect yourself, Turquoise not Howlitte or Magnasite and or Jaspers are grounding and protective stones to wear. If you feel you have drawn negative entities at anytime call in Arch Angel Michael and ask that he removes all that does not belong to you, all darkness etc. Reground and re surround yourself in light. It is always a good practice to protect and close your Solar Plex as part of your opening before doing Reiki. I hope these suggestions help you. There are some who flick away during healing. This sound can be annoying and unsettling to the client. It is better to use your intent and call in Arch Angels to assist and have Selenite in the room. I tried to reach you through your Email address give here but It says the email id is not correct. Can you please give me the correct email address.

The most comprehensive listing of books relating to Archangels, Guardian, Angels, Celestial Beings and all forms of Angelic information and magickal correspondances.

What is the difference between Archangels and angels? We all have guardian angels, and an Archangel can also be one of our guardian angels. But unlike guardian angels, who are assigned to be with us throughout our lives, Archangels can come in and out and can also be called on to help anyone or anything. They are allowed to intervene wherever they are needed. They are concerned with almost every advancement of humankind as well as showing up when there are catastrophes such as hurricanes and wars. Because there is truly no linear time on the other side, Archangels can help people and situations simultaneously. When we call on them they will also work with us as individually, giving unconditional attention to our difficulties, obstacles and sadness. Archangels manage the concerns of many realms and dimensions. Many are already divinely assigned to work with us individually on various parts of our life. Archangels are very large and radiant. Like our guardian angels, they may communicate with us telepathically and give us wise and thoughtful insight. Archangels have the freedom to move through all the spiritual realms. They like to work with deities, ascended masters, fairies, plants, animals, people and other angels. They are able to create miracles in any sphere and frequently get involved in our affairs as the Divine wills. There are many archangels but most angelologists can usually agree on four: Archangel Michael is the protector, he can also clear away negativity and fill us with light. Chapter 5 : Spirit Guides, Angels, and Archangels - Reiki Rays

Archangels, God's top angels, are such powerful spiritual beings that they often capture people's attention and calendrierdelascience.com the exact amount of archangels is debated among different faiths, seven archangels supervise angels who specialize in different types of work helping humanity, and four of those are considered by many believers to be the most important archangels.

Seeing that the subject of the Archangels should be treated fairly with their own essay, I now expand this series with a fourth essay devoted to them. Based upon what we know from Scripture from Tobit The Archangels have played an important role in the Bible and in other Jewish and Christian literature for many centuries. Some of their names are very well known, while others have been forgotten to history. As of Council of Rome in under the reign of Pope Saint Zachary, the Catholic Church officially only acknowledges the names of three of the seven Archangels: Although the Church acknowledges that there are seven Archangels according to Sacred Scripture and Sacred Tradition, because these three Archangels are the only angels named in Scripture, they are currently the only three who are officially recognized by name in Catholic doctrine. The names of the other four Archangels appear in Jewish and Christian sources outside of the canon of Sacred Scripture an example is the Book of Enoch chapter 20 and their names are: Uriel, Raguel, Zerachiel, and Remiel. Michael also appears in many apocryphal Jewish and Christian sources. Various traditions say that he was the first of the angels who were created, which may explain why he is often revered as the eldest brother of his brethren. Now war arose in heaven, Michael and his angels fighting against the dragon; and the dragon and his angels fought, but they were defeated and there was no longer any place for them in heaven. And the great dragon was thrown down, that ancient serpent, who is called the Devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world--he was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. Saint Basil the Great made this argument during the 4th Century in his homily De Angelis and others, such as Saint Bonaventure 13th Century , argue that Michael was of the order of the Seraphim. However, Michael is the only angel in Sacred Scripture explicitly addressed as Archangel Jude 9 and thus if the Nine Choir Tradition is accurate he could not be among the order of the Seraphim at the top of the hierarchy, because the order of the Archangels is at the second to the lowest of the hierarchy. There seems to be a major problem here but there are two possible ways to rectify this. The first possibility is that our current understanding of the Nine Choirs might be a little bit wrong. Thus, it is possible that the Nine Choir Tradition might be accurate overall minus the possibility that the Archangels could outrank the Seraphim and might lead the entire Angelic Host. Since we also established in the last section that it is right to refer to all Nine Choirs as angels and not just the office of the last choir, it could be fitting that the Arch-angels could be a rank that designates superiority over not just the last choir, but the other seven choirs as well. This would also logically explain why there are only seven Archangels while there are an innumerable amount of angelic beings within the other eight choirs. It is important to remember that this is only speculation though. The second possibility is that the Nine Choir Tradition is accurate and that the Archangels are the eight choir in rank. It is important to remember that this too is only speculation though. Whatever the explanation might be, it is quite clear that Michael has always been revered as being the greatest of all of the angels according to Christian and pre-Christian Jewish sources. Thus, no matter what the exact scenario might have been, Michael is indeed the Prince of the Heavenly Hosts, which is not just an honorific title but one with real authority in the angelic hierarchy. Michael also plays a role in human history in interactions with the Saints. Gregory the Great led a procession of prayer through the city streets pleading with God to end the plague. When they reached the tomb of Emperor Hadrian, Pope Gregory saw a vision in which Michael stood atop of the tomb sheathing his sword, which was taken as a sign that what the Pope and those who joined him in prayer had done was pleasing to God. The plague came to an end shortly afterwards. Joan of Arc ca. She was seen to be a gift from God used by Him to encourage the French that He favored them in the war. She received numerous visions from many Saints, among whom was Saint Michael. Michael as a result. While consulting with a number of Cardinals in the private Vatican chapel on October 13, , he happened to pass before the altar, where he stopped suddenly and seemed to lose all awareness of his surroundings. His slender face grew pale, his eyes stared in horror, and he stood motionless for several minutes until those around him thought he was going to die. What terrifying words I have heard. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. According to the report of his vision, the devil, in a guttural voice, had boasted to God that he could destroy the Church if he were given more time and more power. He then asked God for 75 years, then years. His request was granted by God, with an understanding that there would be a penalty when he failed. The Pope was so worried about this experience that the prayer he composed was ordered by him to be said after all low Masses around the world. The prayer was recited as ordered, and was preceded by three Hail Marys. The recitation of these prayers after Mass was discontinued in most parishes after Vatican II when the traditional Latin Mass was replaced in Michael prayer is still recited after Mass whenever the traditional Latin Mass is offered. Tan Books and Publishers, Inc. Gabriel appeared to the Prophet Daniel to explain a vision from God Daniel 8 ; he appeared to the priest Zacharias to announce that he would have a son, John the Baptist, who would be the forerunner of the Messiah, Jesus Luke 1 ; and he appeared to the Virgin Mary in the Annunciation Luke 1. Tradition indicates that Gabriel was also the angel who appeared to St. In addition, some sources say that right before the Blessed Virgin Mary was assumed body and soul into Heaven, Jesus sent Gabriel to His Mother to inform her what was to happen just as He sent Gabriel to her at the Annunciation St. Gabriel also appears in many apocryphal Jewish and Christian sources. Raphael also appears in many apocryphal Jewish and Christian sources, such as the Book of Enoch. Traditionally, due to the meaning of his name, he is revered as the Archangel of Healing. Due to this, he might be alluded to in John 5: Now there is at Jerusalem a pond, called Probatika, which in Hebrew is named Bethsaida, having five porches. In these lay a great multitude of sick, of blind, of lame, of withered; waiting for the moving of the water. And an angel of the Lord descended at certain times into the pond; and the water was moved. And he that went down first into the pond after the motion of the water, was made whole, of whatsoever infirmity he lay under. Although Uriel cannot be found in Scripture, his name has frequently been a part of tradition and he has an important role in many apocryphal texts, such as the Book of Enoch, the Apocalypse of Peter, and 2 Baruch Although these texts are now considered apocryphal, various Jewish scholars and Christian theologians during the early centuries of the Church did believe that these texts had some credibility and Uriel was indeed venerated as an Archangel by the Church until the Council of Rome in At that Council, Uriel and the names of many other angels and Archangels were removed from the official list i. The list of angels that are worth venerating became confined down to only the three aforementioned Archangels. However, I have found that due to historical and cultural traditions, many Catholics still do pray to Uriel and you find his statues and prayer cards in various Catholic bookstores. These three Archangels appear as the Seven Archangels along with Michael, Gabriel, Raphael, and Uriel in chapter 20 of the Book of Enoch, which was a Jewish apocryphal work before the time of Christ that was considered inspired Scripture by some of the Early Church for a time. Traditionally he has been revered as the Archangel of Justice and Fairness. This Archangel can only be found in apocryphal sources. Traditionally he has been revered as the Archangel of Hope and Faith. This is not necessarily doctrine, but it is a tradition worth mentioning. According to one tradition: Sometimes Gabriel is associated with the Sacrament of Matrimony due to the tradition that he was the Guardian Angel of the Holy Family; however, sometimes Gabriel is also associated with the Sacrament of Confirmation since he was present at the Annunciation when the Holy Spirit descended upon the Blessed Virgin Mary, which caused the Incarnation of Christ to occur. Sometimes Raphael is associated with the Sacrament of Matrimony due to his influence of the marriage in the story of Tobit; however, sometimes Raphael is also associated with the Sacrament of Reconciliation or with the Anointing of the Sick due to his name meaning healing power of God. This concept is not doctrine, but it is worth reflecting upon. The Sacraments do not come from the Archangels, for the Sacraments only come from Christ, but the Archangels can inspire us to reflect upon the Sacraments with greater reverence. According to Paragraph of the Catechism of the Catholic Church: From its beginning until death, human life is surrounded by their watchful care and intercession. There is a Scriptural basis for this as well: Because you have made the Lord your refuge, the Most High your habitation, no evil shall befall you, no scourge come near your tent. For he will give his angels charge of you to guard you in all your ways. On their hands they will bear you up, lest you dash your foot against a stone. Our Guardian Angels, along with the Archangels and the other Angels, also intercede for us in prayer Tobit Through intercession, even the Seven Archangels can come to our aid and we are encouraged to ask for their intercession and guidance. Prayer to the Angels and the Saints must never be confused with worshiping of them. This is a mistake that Protestant Christians often make because prayer for them is only a form of worship in their minds. For Catholics and Orthodox Christians, prayer to the Angels and the Saints is only in asking for their intercession to God as we ask any other believer here to also pray for us , for their protection by means of the Grace of God working through them, and for guidance as we strive to emulate their examples. Those who accuse us of worshipping the Angels and the Saints do not understand this and accuse us of idolatry and being polytheistic the belief in many deities rather than monotheistic the belief in only one God. We need to be very careful of this because there are superstitious Catholics who do fall into this trap that Protestants accuse us of. Nevertheless, we should develop personal devotions to the Angels and Saints, especially the Archangels. We should ask for their intercession and for their aid in times of trial and of jubilee. We should also strive to emulate their example and service to God. Due to the length of explaining why the Angels are loyal to God and how we ought to emulate their example, this subject will be explored in another essay. Please take the time to check out the website where you can find links to my other essays and our work for the Catholic Church.

Chapter 6 : Difference Between Angel and Archangel | Difference Between Archangel Michael is the Prince of the Archangels and of the Angelic Hosts, and the Angel of Deliverance. He directs the guardian angels of protection. His divine complement is Archeia Faith.

They were created in this order: Michael is the mightiest and the most loyal archangel, Lucifer was the most prideful and avaricious, Raphael was the most ruthless and imperious, while Gabriel was the most mischievous and deceptive. The angel Metatron was also considered to be an archangel by other angels until he revealed that he was simply a regular angel who was chosen to be the Scribe of God. You made them to create lesser beings; to make you large, to make you lord! You wanted to be big! Michael, Lucifer, Raphael and Gabriel. The archangels acted as siblings, and distinctively interacted with themselves and their father. God then created a mark, later to be called The Mark of Cain, that would serve as both lock and key for the Darkness, which he gave to his most beloved son and most trusted lieutenant, Lucifer. After the banishing of the Darkness and helping create Heaven, Michael personally raised his younger brother Lucifer, and accordingly, Lucifer took care of Gabriel, and showed him different tricks. Following the imprisonment of the Leviathans in Purgatory and creation of mankind, God asked all his children to kneel before them. Although the other three archangels complied, Lucifer refused, and led a rebellion trying to overthrow God because when he was trusted with the Mark, it corrupted Lucifer and drove him to be jealous of humanity. During the turmoil, Gabriel escaped to Earth to avoid taking sides while Raphael chose to side with God and Michael. Whilst they wanted their father back, over time, however, they began to shift their attention into ruling the Universe in his absence. Lucifer, however, was able to take possession of the Angel Tablet sometime after and had it placed in one of his crypts. However, unknown to everyone, the truth was that the leader of the Knights, Cain, killed all but Abaddon himself instead of the archangels. According to Cain, only Abaddon knew the truth though Crowley somehow later found out. Eventually, Dean Winchester broke the first seal in Hell, setting the first stage of The Apocalypse. With this done, the angels were sent to Earth to stop the seals from being broken. However, Michael wanted the seals to be broke to battle his brother and defeat him as destined. Likewise, Lucifer himself made contact with his true vessel Sam Winchester but similar to his brother, Sam refused to give his consent. Castiel refused to believe this and left Raphael trapped though the latter escaped sometime later. Not caring which side wins in the war but only wanting the fight to end, Gabriel lured the Winchesters to him and attempted to get them to give their consent to fight. His attempts had failed and his identity was exposed by them and his own brother Castiel. Downfall Gabriel fakes his death. By, the year of The Apocalypse, after the Winchesters were captured by Deities, Gabriel decided to aid Winchesters. Gabriel fought against his three siblings and their desire to fight each other to end everything as he knew humanity was better than the angels even if they were flawed. He was supposedly killed in a confrontation with Lucifer. Despite this, Sam goes forward with the plan in an agreed proposition with Lucifer: Sam then says "Yes". Michael and Lucifer fall into the Cage. With his vessel, Lucifer travels to Stull Cemetery outside Lawrence, Kansas, the place where he is fated to meet his older brother, Michael for their final confrontation. After a few words, the two prepare for battle but before either can make a move however, Dean Winchester arrives in the Impala and demands to speak to Sam. His actions are met with anger by the two angels who want him to leave so they can have their showdown. Before they can attempt to remove Dean from the scene, Castiel appears and hurls a molotov cocktail of holy oil at the elder archangel, banishing him. Despite the brutal beating he takes, Dean does not resist and merely tells Sam that he will not leave him. In the aftermath of their imprisonment, Castiel was resurrected and improved by God which allowed him to heal Dean and resurrect Bobby. Sam was later freed by Castiel though his soul was left behind, presumably tortured by the archangels in retaliation for his actions. Raphael is killed by Castiel. Raphael was killed by an empowered Castiel. Lucifer did not return to the surface until, where he possessed Castiel and he became the only Archangel active and alive, his brother Michael said to having gone insane. A threat from another reality and the Fate of Heaven Lucifer meets Michael from another world While Lucifer was in the parallel world, he encountered the counterpart of Michael who revealed that he killed his Lucifer and intended to the same to him which ignited a fight between the two. Michael was not amused by this act and ordered Kevin to find a way to create a new rift, so he could enter the other world. After Lucifer escaped him, Asmodeus sent Arthur Ketch after him to kill him before he replenished his strength. While struggling in his weakened state, Lucifer made plans to regain his strength by taking the grace of other angels before he was confronted by Castiel, the Winchesters and Ketch but he escaped with the help of Anael. Ketch offered to be a double agent for the Winchesters, due to the threat of Michael. Lucifer then took control of Heaven promising to build new angels if the others provided some of their grace to him so as to have strength. After Ketch returned to Asmodeus when failing in his task, the latter stated he had a means to kill Lucifer before the latter got to full strength and have something to deal with Michael if he invades. Gabriel held captive by Asmodeus The item was an archangel blade which Ketch revealed can only be used by an archangel but Asmodeus revealed he has just the thing to solve that problem which was a captive that turned out to be a disheveled but still living Gabriel. Jack was imprisoned by Michael after he refused to open a rift for Michael to invade the main world. After Jack escaped with Mary Winchester, Michael dispatches Zachariah and a squad of angels to pursue them and bring Jack back to him. The young Nephilim was forced to deal with attacking angels and was successful in repelling them. In the main universe, Castiel was forced to pry the ingredients from a corrupted Donatello for a spell that could open the rift to the Apocalypse World, he revealed they needed Archangel grace. Arthur witnesses Gabriel, who now sports a fearful and nervous personality, having some of his grace extracted by Asmodeus who injects himself with it to power up. After this, Arthur goes against Asmodeus and liberates the captive Gabriel who was unwilling but forced to escape with the man. Arthur brought Gabriel back to the Men of Letters bunker where he showed him to Sam and Dean who were shocked at his survival. Gabriel cringes away in fear until Arthur soothes him and instead supplies the Winchesters with some of the grace Asmodeus had already extracted. Before Gabriel can respond, Dean interrupts with the intention to travel to Apocalypse World immediately. The return of Gabriel. Sam and Castiel are able to learn how Gabriel is still alive as he writes on the walls of his room of how he faked his own death during the Apocalypse to abscond from his responsibilities but was eventually captured and sold to Asmodeus. The two work to try to fix Gabriel who, in his traumatized state, is initially unresponsive to anything. After Asmodeus invades the bunker, Gabriel recovers and kills the last Prince of Hell. He then absconds from his responsibilities once more and takes off again. Castiel returns to Heaven where he attempts to seek out the aid of the angels in finding Gabriel who he reveals is alive, to their surprise. He also states he needs them to help in the conflict of the invading Michael of the parallel world. Castiel discovers that Lucifer has absconded from his duties as Ruler of Heaven and Naomi , believed dead since the Fall of the Angels , is in charge. Naomi explains that there are less than a dozen angels left alive and as a result, Heaven is running out of power. Without Gabriel returning to Heaven to stabilize it, the remaining angels will soon burn out and Heaven will crumble, releasing the billions upon billions of souls upon the Earth. Castiel agrees to help the angels find Gabriel in hopes that, along with helping to defeat Michael, he will return to Heaven to help with the situation there. After a conflict with two Deities , he revealed his intention of hunting down and killing the deity Loki who sold him to Asmodeus and decided to get his revenge for the suffering he endured. As he is weakened and wounded, the Winchesters tend to him and offered him help but only if he will help them in their endeavors and he begrudgingly agreed. It is believed that angels existed before man and that they offer guidance and protection when called upon. Angels are referenced within all faiths, each having their own Divine purpose. We invite you to discover how the angels may have played a role in your life. In fact, angels have no religion as we know it – their existence precedes every religious system that has existed on earth. They are described by a multitude of religious faiths and cited in many spiritual doctrines. A hierarchy exists within the angel realm. The Archangels are of the highest order, closest to God. The angel you are assigned at birth is an Archangel, however; many different angels work with you throughout your life. In addition, personal spirit guides are often referred to as angels. Angels are here to help us bring goodness, peace, compassion and hope into our lives. They are pure love, and they remind us that in everyone there exists love. As divine helpers, they act by delivering messages or helping us when in need. Angels guide us through our challenges and help us to navigate a smoother path. They do not take on all of our burdens and problems and make them disappear. They guide us toward a certain direction, but ultimately we must choose for ourselves which direction to take. Archangels are here to help us bring goodness, peace, compassion and hope into our lives. Learning which ones to call upon will help you to open communication with the spirit world. In fact, many psychics find that these archangels help them deliver messages during readings. As part of their many other duties, the archangels listed below will assist and guide those who seek a higher form of communication with the divine, a heightened intuition and the ability to receive and deliver messages with clarity. Michael assists in clearing and balancing the chakras and eliminating negative energies so that you may receive divine messages. Ask Michael for protection from psychic attacks or from negative energies sent to you by other individuals, commonly known as psychic vampires. Ask for their guidance and support throughout your everyday life. Ask for peace in life or just talk to them about how you feel or what you need. You cannot have anything unless you ask for it, and the same holds true for communicating with the angels. Communication is a two-way process – someone talks, another listens. What the angels have to say does not need to be heard through audible words, nor do you require psychic abilities. To hear and understand them, all you need to do is listen. Some people meditate or pray in order to hear their angels. It is believed that the angels have the miraculous ability to present themselves on Earth in human form. They do this in order to protect you from harm or to guide you toward a different path. Angels use meaningful coincidences to communicate. This is also known as synchronicity, which in short, are two or more occurrences that are not logical or causal, but they come together in a way that has deep meaning. Pay close attention to the synchronicities that occur in your life. They may contain the guidance and messages you seek. Have faith, even if you feel it is difficult to hold onto. Communicating with your angels is a joyous drive on a road that will lead you to a better and more meaningful life. You do not need to be a psychic medium to connect with your angels. All you need to do is ask for their assistance, as they are always around you. Messages from your angels are given in a positive and loving way to give you the strength to make changes and choices in your career, relationships, or in any other aspect of your life in which you need assistance. A misconception exists that angel cards are the same as tarot cards. The only real similarity is that the cards can be laid out into spreads that resemble those used in tarot readings.

Chapter 8 : Saints Michael, Gabriel, and Raphael – Franciscan Media

They are great beings of light and unconditional love who coordinate and oversee guardian angels, guides, and other angels who provide help to us on Earth. Archangels project the light of the Divine and the energy of unconditional love always.

Angels Guardian Angels and Archangels – Differences and Similarities The archangels have a more powerful, stronger essence than guardian angels. They oversee and guide the other angels who are with us on earth. All of us have at least one guardian angel, and some of us have more than that. Guardian angels guide and protect us throughout various stages of our lives. Our guardian angels are here to serve us and no one else. If we want some help with anything, all we need to do is to ask them for their assistance and they will be there for us. It really is that simple! The archangels have a more powerful, stronger essence than guardian angels. As opposed to our guardian angels, the archangels can be in more than one place at a time. The exact number of archangels is debatable, but the four that are the most widely known are Michael, Gabriel, Raphael, and Uriel. Archangel Michael is the patron saint of police officers and soldiers. His main role is to take away negativity. He is able to restore harmony and peace in our lives and in the world. He is a very huge, powerful angel, and is often seen by those who are clairvoyant as an indigo purplish-blue colored light. Gabriel is sometimes depicted as a male, and at other times as a female archangel. For simplicity, however, I will just use the masculine pronoun when describing him here. Gabriel is the communication angel, and we can call upon him whenever we need help with writing or speaking. Clairvoyants often see him as a copper colored light. Archangel Raphael is the angel to call upon if we wish to heal others or ourselves, except in cases where illness is part of the overall plan. As a response to our request, Raphael will show us what we can do to get well. He also often allows us to see how our thoughts and actions triggered our health problems in the first place. Clairvoyants often see his essence as an emerald green colored light. Archangel Uriel aids us in situations when we feel helpless, and comes to the rescue during disasters. He is very present to help out during times of war and violence. Clairvoyants often see him as a whitish yellow colored light. We may call upon both our guardian angels and the archangels at any time and they will come. Our guardian angels are here to serve only us, and the archangels are here to serve everyone. Guardian angels are present wherever we are, and the archangels can be in more than one place at one time. No job is too big or too small for any of the angels. They bring us protection, comfort, relief, and understanding far beyond what mere words can express here. Remember, all you need to do is to ask for their assistance, and they will be there for you. Archangel is the chief messenger or a higher messenger, who is above the angel. A person can call angels for any personal help but he or she cannot call archangels for any personal help. Archangels are known to be protectors of all mankind.

Definitions A statue of an angel, draped in light An angel is a spiritual, superior being that is commonly met in Abrahamic religions Christianity, Judaism and Islam and in Zoroastrianism. They are supposed to be the messengers of God, to help people in their time of need. In paintings, they are depicted as human beings with wings, flowing hair, with halos and often emitting light. They are the overall symbol of good. Angels are the guardian spirits of the people on Earth. People usually pray to their guardian angels for help in a very deep manifestation of belief. The etymology of the word reveals a very curious blend of the cultures which believe in such beings. It could come from Old English in the form of engel, or from Old French as angele, both of which are derived from the Latin word angelus, meaning messenger, thus underlining their primary function of messengers of God. However, the Latin word was borrowed from Greek, which, in its turn, has a Persian equivalent. The Annunciation, by Paolo de Matteis, depicting the scene in which Archangel Gabriel announced to the Virgin Mary that she was to give birth to the son of God An archangel is an angel of higher rank as translated from Greek. This is a being closer to God than an angel and also being entrusted with the well being of the human world. We can find archangels in the Abrahamic religions, i. Although mentions of them vary from one Holy Scripture of the Abrahamic religions to another, archangels can still be known by name. The ones whose names are mentioned in all these faiths are Gabriel, Michael and Raphael. Their responsibilities in the Heavenly Kingdom are well defined: Archangels are depicted as having a human form, impressive wings and a very impressive stance. There is another archangel known for having fallen from the graces of God. He was banished to Hell along with all of the angels who took his side in the uprising and who thus became demons. Lucifer and his demons are usually associated with all that is evil in the world.

Angels vs Archangels So what is the difference between angels and archangels? Angels are the messengers of God on Earth, while Archangels are the guardians and leaders of the Heavenly legions along with humanity as a whole. It is believed that every person has a guardian angel entrusted to him who can come to their aid when prayed to or at any moment of need. One could also pray to an archangel for help and support but their responsibilities are bigger than just helping out individuals. However, while any generic type of angel is depicted as the living image of pity and love, archangels usually have a different stance of protectors, guardians, fighters. Angels and archangels are present in Abrahamic religions and Zoroastrianism. The roles they play and their importance remain the same, though.
