The designed landscapes are ideal for private or professional use such as in business presentations. The Architect contains an easy to navigate user interface that lets users bring the features and tools that they need to use instantly to their landscaping projects. The software offers unlimited possibilities as users can create unlimited designs of the landscape of gardens, yards, ponds, decks, fences, patios, water features and swimming pools. This is enabled by among other features 16, objects including over 7, plants. About creating spas, users can add all sort of pools including pools with rockery and add products from original manufacturers. On the other hand, the app offers a realistic experience for designing irrigation systems. When designing irrigation systems, the app allows users to add a variety of symbols including sprinklers and piping. Notably, the architect version has high-quality three- dimensional rendered images that relate well to the environment. The software gives one of the most realistic and accurate experiences in creating landscape designs. For instance, plant models are in 3D resolution. For users who desire professional results, the software includes drawing templates that have A0-A4 sizes. Users also have access to over 7, plants including annuals, perennials, water garden, shrubs and tropical. To give an easier and comprehensive use of the software, the software is designed with remarkable ease for importing of CAD drawings in various platforms. For users who would rather use their drawn pictures, the app allows users to import such drawn and painted pictures into their designs. Novice users will find the software useful as the app has linked 2D and 3D visuals that are automatically updated. Also, the app contains a wizard that allows users to add plant labels automatically. The in- built wizard also enables to add a plant legend with just a few mouse clicks. Further, the software is not only applicable in designing landscape but is also a handy tool for making cost estimates for the landscape projects. In this regard, the app contains an integrated project material list that is also automatic. To begin using the feature, a user just needs to open the list and then enter the various prices of the various landscaping objects. The printed results can then e exported to excel so to add other items such as labor. Besides, Realtime Landscaping Architect , has the photo editor feature that allows users to import pictures and touch ups. The software is also simplified as it is designed with the layer technology. The layer technology makes it possible for users to alter the plans at any stage of its design. In this regard, users can alter the terrain properties to add hills, slopes, contour lines and custom topology. More so, with the software, users can label flowers in the landscape design, make CAD drawings and much more. Simple and intuitive user interface
