Driving Directions Bobble Hill Road Bobble Hill Rd, on the west shore, was once considered the perfect test track for trying out a new car. Squaw Island Squaw Island, the shrinking island of the Finger Lakes, is on the northwest end of the lake map. It is a sandbar, formed by sediment draining from Sucker Brook to the north. During the fall the sandbar may be visible above water. The island is state property and some recent efforts have been made by the DEC to reinforce the shoreline using wooden planks. Today, less than 8, square feet remain. Roseland Amusement park is now only a water park. Canandaigua ice harvesting on Canandaigua Lake was once a booming industry in the days prior to refrigeration. Distributors on the northern shore would cut large blocks out of the lake in winter and cut and distribute smaller blocks to be used for refrigeration. Today, ice fishing is a popular winter lake activity. Each residence lights a fire or flare along the shore, creating a speckled ring around the lake. This tradition stems from a Seneca Indian harvest festival where the Seneca would burn tobacco around the shore of the lake to give thanks for bountiful harvests. The Ring of Fire takes place on July 3rd of each year.
