Other traditions record him as serving as a missionary in Ethiopia , Mesopotamia , Parthia , and Lycaonia. These are of Eusebius of Caesarea early 4th century and of Saint Jerome late 4th century. Both of these refer to this tradition while speaking of the reported visit of Pantaenus to India in the 2nd century. In these texts, two kings named Polyamus and Astriyagis were described. It is also argued that the saint was removed of the skin alive and hanged him upside down. He is believed to have been killed there on August He was only 50 years old. Thus, both saints are considered the patron saints of the Armenian Apostolic Church. One tradition has it that Apostle Bartholomew was executed in Albanopolis in Armenia. According to popular hagiography, the apostle was flayed alive and beheaded. According to other accounts he was crucified upside down head downward like St. He is said to have been martyred for having converted Polymius, the king of Armenia, to Christianity. However, there are no records of any Armenian King of the Arsacid dynasty of Armenia with the name Polymius. Current scholarship indicates that Bartholomew more likely died in Kalyan in India, where there was an official named Polymius. This section does not cite any sources. January The Martyrdom of Saint Bartholomew by Jusepe de Ribera Of the many miracles claimed to have been performed by Bartholomew before and after his death, two very popular ones are known by the townsfolk of the small island of Lipari. The people of Lipari celebrated his feast day annually. The tradition of the people was to take the solid silver and gold statue from inside the Cathedral of St Bartholomew and carry it through the town. On one occasion, when taking the statue down the hill towards the town, it suddenly became very heavy and had to be set down. When the men carrying the statue regained their strength, they lifted it a second time. After another few seconds, it got even heavier. They set it down and attempted once more to pick it up. They managed to lift it but had to put it down one last time. Within seconds, walls further downhill collapsed. If the statue had been able to be lifted, all the townspeople would have been killed. The order was given to take the silver statue of Saint Bartholomew and melt it down. The statue was weighed, and it was found to be only a few grams. It was returned to its place in the Cathedral of Lipari. In reality, the statue is made from many kilograms of silver and it is considered a miracle that it was not melted down. Art and literature[ edit ] The appearance of the saint is described in detail in the Golden Legend: On the right, the saint wears his own flesh tied around his neck while he kneels in prayer before a rock, his decapitated head fallen to the ground. Another example includes the Flaying of St. Bartholomew in the Luttrell Psalter c. Bartholomew is depicted on a surgical table, surrounded by tormentors while he is flayed with golden knives. Catherine of Alexandria by Guido da Siena Due to the nature of his martyrdom, Bartholomew is the patron saint of tanners , plasterers , tailors , leatherworkers , bookbinders , farmers , housepainters , butchers , and glove makers. The viewer is meant to empathize with Bartholomew, whose body seemingly bursts through the surface of the canvas, and whose outstretched arms embrace a mystical light that illuminates his flesh. His piercing eyes, open mouth, and petitioning left hand bespeak an intense communion with the divine; yet this same hand draws our attention to the instruments of his torture, symbolically positioned in the shape of a cross. By limiting the number of participants to the main protagonists of the story—the saint, his executioner, one of the priests who condemned him, and one of the soldiers who captured him—and presenting them half-length and filling the picture space, the artist rejected an active, movemented composition for one of intense psychological drama. The cusping along all four edges shows that the painting has not been cut down: Ribera intended the composition to be just such a tight, restricted presentation, with the figures cut off and pressed together. Some twenty years after the ascension of Christ the people of Bensalem found an ark floating off their shore. The ark contained a letter as well as the books of the Old and New Testaments. The letter was from Bartholomew the Apostle and declared that an angel told him to set the ark and its contents afloat. Thus the scientists of Bensalem received the revelation of the Word of God.

A burly, 6-foot, 3-inch man, Boriello was a feared enforcer for the Gallo gang. Between and , Boriello was arrested six times, on charges of weapons possession, assault, larceny and gambling. In the s, Boriello became a made man , or full member, in the Gambino family. Boriello and Gotti would often spend weekends together on Long Island, New York , partying, gambling, and attending performances by singer Jay Black , a childhood friend of Gotti. Boriello also conducted business at the One Over Golf Club , a social club in Carroll Gardens, operated by Gambino soldier Joseph "Joe Pits" Conigliaro , a paraplegic gangster involved in loan sharking and gambling in the neighborhood who was killed a few years ago. During his early days, Boriello was suspected in several gangland slayings, as well as involvement in extortion, loan sharking and drug trafficking. Inside were the other men who were going to be inducted that evening, including Bobby Boriello, John Gotti, Jr. Steven Kaplan was paying Boriello and Junior Gotti tribute for his investments in strip clubs up and down the East Coast. Low level mob associate David Fisher had been in a physical altercation with Mascuzzio, over a business squabble, and ended up shooting him to death. In December , soon after Junior became a capo, his father was indicted and set up a 5-man ruling panel to which Junior was appointed. Boriello operated his rackets from his Brooklyn social club on Sackett Street where he was about to rechange the order of rank of crew members from club at the time he was killed. DiBono had secured, most likely through bribery, the lucrative contract to install fireproofing foam on the infrastructure of the Twin Towers of the New York World Trade Center. On another occasion, Boriello unsuccessfully tried to kill Genovese crime family associate Preston Geritano on a Brooklyn street, firing shots at him in public. Since Geritano had relatives in Genovese crime family, Genovese and Gambino representatives met to discuss his fate. Eventually the Gambinos released Geritano to the Genovese with the condition that he be killed if he tried to retaliate against Boriello. Execution[ edit ] On April 13, , Bobby Boriello was shot to death outside his Bensonhurst, Brooklyn home, on orders from Lucchese crime family underboss Anthony Casso. Lastorino shot Boriello twice in the head, and five times in the torso. Boriello died in the street beside his Lincoln Towncar, outside his home on Bay 29th Street. In fact, Gambino informant Dominick LoFaro , fingered Boriello as one of the shooters in the slaying, reasoning that Boriello had been one of the more accomplished "hitters" in the family. In jail at the time, he ordered Gambino family members to meet with the leaders of the Genovese family. Keeping to their earlier agreement, they agreed to kill Geritano.
