

Chapter 1 : Read-Aloud Bedtime Bible Stories by Daniel Partner

The Bedtime Book of Bible Stories is designed for toddlers and young children, but will still appeal to early elementary age children. My youngest son and I enjoyed the book before bedtime, sharing the stories and prompted to conversation by the questions at the end of each of the stories.

There are sometimes bad communications surrounding them during the day that parents are unaware of; however, parents have the opportunity to seal the evening with Bible stories. Use the following bedtime stories as a launching point of sharing with your children every night before they sleep. The key to children remembering particular verses is the repetition as well as the daily applications of everyday life. Our children need to know deep in their hearts how much God cares for them. As it was with Noah, we desire the favor of God on our children no matter where they are in the world. Encourage them to walk righteously and follow God faithfully as Noah did. All believers in Christ Jesus have a calling to follow Him, share the Good News with unbelievers, and disciple other people in the faith. After the third time, Eli gave Samuel the right instructions for listening to God. Many governments are passing laws that increasingly interfere with worship, Bible study, and evangelism. Persecution will come at our children hard and fast; therefore, they need to know the comfort of the Lord when everything around them is uncomfortable. Elijah ran from Jezebel after performing one of the greatest miracles of all time. He was exhausted inside and out; Elijah needed comfort from God. The Lord graciously provided food for his physical body and spoke to him in a gentle whisper to encourage his spirit. The story of Elijah will remind your children how God will comfort them in trouble as they turn to Him. Jesus asked Philip how they were going to feed so many people even though He knew the outcome. Sometimes the Lord allows a season of pain for our children so that they will learn to dig deeper spiritually and trust that He is in control. Our children are included with everyone who must put their faith in Jesus in order to be saved. Make It a Fun Bedtime Story! Depending on the ages of your children, you could include puppets using old socks , Bible story books, or any Bible translation that engages their understanding. Until your children leave the homeâ€”make it a tradition to read scriptural passages in the Bible and share a short discussion with how to apply it to their lives. Just click the button below to get started.

Chapter 2 : Bedtime Bible Stories - Explicit! by Joey Lee Kirkman

The Most Important 10 Minutes in Your Child's Day! Make the most out of bedtime with Read-Aloud Bedtime Bible Stories Children love Bible stories, especially when they are written in age-appropriate, easy-to-understand language.

Jun 14, Andrea rated it liked it This review has been hidden because it contains spoilers. To view it, click here.

Sun May 7 I read this through at least once as a little kid. I remember reading it at night. It was nice to pull it out of my chest and reacquaint myself with it. With my recent religion revival I felt inspired to read it and learn the bible stories again. I really liked the line that Sun May 7 I read this through at least once as a little kid. I really liked the line that said God made man to care for the earth, what with controversy debating on whether the planet is in danger and whether conservation is okay or not. I was a little confused because the beginning said God made animals on the fifth day, and on the sixth He made man. But the story of Adam and Eve confused me. God made Adam and then He made animals and Adam got to name all of them. I thought God made animals first, because I was just told that. So how could He create Adam first and all those animals second if he created animals before He ever created man? On the first day God made Day and Night. Second day He made the sky. Made dry land and plants grow. Very interesting that since the serpent tricked Eve, God said he would always crawl on his belly and that humans would hate him and he would hate humans. Seems like unfair punishment for women because of her sin And guys would work for everything from the earth and sweat and suffer and return to dust. Cain murdering his brother Abel was such an incomplete story. It gave no motive as to why. The line "Later, Cain killed Abel walking in the field" showed bad grammar. It was missing a word, like Cain killed Abel while walking in the field or while he was walking in the field. And what was the curse that God put on him? All it said was he lived outside Eden. It really hit home that God saw the wickedness of people and said He regretted making them, so He had all of them killed except Noah and his family because he was the only one living right. Like day 45 terrible days of Egypt. The Day 50 Food Rains from Heaven was really inspiring. The people of Israel were hungry as they traveled from Egypt and journeyed to their new land. God spoke to Moses and said he would rain food down but only to take what they needed. So white flakes rained down and they called it manna, which meant what is it? I thought that was so cool. And the ones left on the ground would melt in the sun and if kept overnight they would stink and have worms. It stopped falling 40 years later when they reached Canaan. It was interesting that God told Moses to have Israel build a special tent where they would meet with God, and this was called the tabernacle, or the tent of meeting. I was confused because Aaron was the one that told the people to give him their gold earrings and he burned them down to liquid and formed the golden calf for everyone to worship. God wanted to destroy them all but Moses asked Him to reconsider. Moses asked who was with God and the tribe of Levi came forward and he had them kill all of the idol worshippers. Then a couple stories later Aaron and his sons were made priests that went into the tabernacle. It was made even more confusing because it said he was of the tribe of Levi. It was so interesting that one of the laws God gave Moses was that if someone accidentally killed someone they could go to one of the six figures of refuge and escape being killed themselves. Some stories were terribly written. Too many times the question was about the previous story. And some questions are about what we thought instead of asking for a fact from the reading. But later she told Ruth that Orpah went back to her family and her gods. Because that would mean Orpah was a sinner and worshipped fake gods. Typo pg 98 "He is a prophet who can be trusted," They said. Pg "Anoint him, This is the one. Which is to say that was their oldest son, bcuz he was born next. But then the author went on to say their oldest son Absalom. Some things are plain contradictory and confuse the heck out of me. The order of things was really messed up. For example, in one story King David ruled for so many years and then passed he throne to his son Solomon. The very next story said David ruled 33 years then died, was buried and Solomon sat on his throne. This makes it sound like David died first and then Solomon was the successor, when he just said David himself gave the throne over to him and obviously lived after Solomon was king. Typo pg How long did the widow have to food for Elijah? Turn their hearts back to you. Pg There Josiah found a grave! Pg How could Esther visit the Ahasuerus? This should say Mordecai and not Haman. Haman was the man wanting to kill all Jews.

She wanted her cousin Mordecai and Jews to pray for her Haman, thought the king wanted to honor him. Example of the bad writing. Pray for me for three days? Pray for her to have three days? Questions part only had 1 question. And the next page had the introduction of Mary! I had been waiting and waiting for when Jesus came into the book. On earth, peace and good will. It was so interesting to learn that Jesus knew when he was supposed to start performing miracles. That was so cool. And really cool that he did it and had them fill jars with water and when they brought it to the leader it had turned to wine. It was the first time he had done something to prove he was the son of God. People asked for a sign that showed he had the right to do this. He said that if they destroyed the temple he would build it up in 3 days. Whoever believes in me will be healed of sin and have eternal life. Because God loved the world so much that he gave his only Son. And it was sad when Jesus said they have no faith and how much longer does He have to put up with them? The story about God searching for sinners, with the man that had two sons: The older son was mad bcuz he had been the one to work there all that time and he never did anything bad. It was such a new concept that Jesus came to earth to seek out and save the lost. Some stories could have used some more explanation. Like Hosanna in the highest. I had no idea what that meant. My mom told me that He cried tears and I had never heard that before or seen it in movies and I think it should have been said in here to show what He was really feeling and thinking. Every story that included a woman around Jesus, I expected to be called Mary, the one who was a prostitute, but nope. Not a word of her, none of the women were even named, until, suddenly, she appeared out of nowhere once Jesus was coming back from death. Or at Pentecost, 50 days after Jesus was crucified that once they were all filled with the Spirit they spoke in diff languages and the crowd listening heard it in their own language. It was bittersweet finishing it because I wanted to finally get done and know the full story but I knew I was going to miss reading it every night. I read it from May 7 to June 14 so it was something I had to look forward to for quite a while. It was the best part of my day. I felt so lost and tried to pretend I knew what they were talking about, because I definitely should have. Now I can say I know a lot more, enough to recognize names and things. I got annoyed with all of the mistakes. There were dozens upon dozens of typos, so many that I stopped writing them down. Actually, there were so many types of errors it was ridiculous. Also, the writing was terrible. I came to notice how badly things were written and there are about 10 better ways to say most things in here. Bad writing and the book should be rewritten with someone editing every single story.

Chapter 3 : Bedtime Stories | ThreeThirty Ministries

As one of the premier rare book sites on the Internet, Alibris has thousands of rare books, first editions, and signed books available. With one of the largest book inventories in the world, find the book you are looking for. To help, we provided some of our favorites. With an active marketplace of.

Chapter 4 : Bedtime Bible Stories (Hardcover)

"The Bedtime book of Bible stories is designed for toddlers and young children to enjoy over and over with their parents. Full of simply retold stories about Bible children "--Cover back.

Chapter 5 : 5 Christian Bedtime Bible Stories for Kids

Christian parents should have a bedtime tradition reading a Bible story at bedtime. Children will learn Biblical truths and enjoy illustrations while reading a Bible story book.

Chapter 6 : The Big Bedtime Book of Bible Stories and Prayers by Debbie T. O'Neal | eBay

The Big Bedtime Book of Bible Stories and Prayers by Debbie T. O'Neal A copy that has been read, but remains in clean condition. All pages are intact, and the cover is intact.

Chapter 7 : Bedtime Bible Story Book: Read-aloud Stories from the Bible | eBay

Finally one book collects together all of those classic nursery rhymes, bible stories, fables, parables, and bedtime stories you remember from your childhood into one massive volume. Lavish full color illustrations throughout the book add to the reading enjoyment.