He did not graduate. In his books, Hinn states that his father was the mayor of Jaffa at the time of his birth and that he was socially isolated as a child and was handicapped by a severe stutter, but that he was nonetheless a first-class student. According to a CBC report on Hinn, his newfound religious devotion during this period became so intense that his family became concerned that he was turning into a religious fanatic. Hinn was taught the Bible and was mentored by Dr. Nunes of Broadview Faith Temple in Toronto. Although he never met her personally, he often attended her "healing services" and has often cited her as an influence in his life. Eventually, he began claiming that God was using him as a conduit for healings, and began holding healing services in his church. These new "Miracle Crusades" were soon held at large stadiums and auditoriums across the United States and the world, the first nationally televised service being held in Flint, Michigan, in Ministry and theology Benny Hinn is the author of a number of Christian books. Tens of millions attend his Holy Spirit Miracle Crusades each year. Some doctrine and practices that Hinn teaches would be thought unusual in mainstream Christianity. Missions Benny Hinn Ministries claims to support 60 mission organizations across the world and several orphanages around the world, and claims to house and feed over 100,000 children a year and support 45,000 children daily because of his donors. At his Miracle Crusades, he has allegedly healed attendees of blindness, deafness, cancer, AIDS, [21] and severe physical injuries. At one Canadian service, hidden cameras showed a mother who was carrying her muscular dystrophy-afflicted daughter, Grace, being stopped by two screeners when they attempted to get into the line for a possible blessing from Hinn. The screeners asked the mother if Grace had been healed, and when the mother replied in the negative, they were told to return to their seats; the pair got out of line, but Grace, wanting "Pastor Benny to pray for [her]," asked her mother to support her as she tried to walk as a show of "her faith in action," according to the mother. After several unsuccessful attempts at walking, the pair left the arena in tears, both mother and daughter visibly upset at being turned aside and crying as they explained to the undercover reporters that all Grace had wanted was for Hinn to pray for her, but the staffers rushed them out of the line when they found out Grace had not been healed. NBC in November The investigation also scrutinized five other televangelists: Long, Joyce Meyer, and Creflo Dollar. Benny Hinn [has] engaged in open and honest dialogue with committee staff. They have not only provided responses to every question but, in the spirit of true cooperation, also have provided information over and above what was requested. He Touched Me an Autobiography. Chapter 2 : ANOINTING THE HINDI - Hinn Benny - Book | Cross Rhythms

Benny Hinn has books on Goodreads with ratings. Benny Hinn's most popular book is Good Morning, Holy Spirit.

I am very mixed about what took place. There was reading and studying of scripture and lots of time spent praising the Lord and singing songs to the Lord. Then some things took place that were wellâ€¦. I know for a fact that not everything that the Benny Hinn ministry wanted people to believe had happened was real. There was at least some deception that took place. I am pretty well grounded in the scriptures and I am not somebody that can have the wool pulled over my eyes easily. Anybody that goes to these crusades that has any amount of intelligence and knows the scriptures will be able to come to the conclusion that at least some deception is being usedâ€¦and the scriptures warn against using deception. We can always have our thoughts, but we have to be careful what we say in judging others and pointing fingers because we will all be measured by the measure we use against others. The people outside the Church God will judge, but within the Body we can judge with the righteous judgement of our Lord for the sake of maintaining the integrity of the Church. Do you not judge those who are within the church? When we talk about these matters we should be careful not to go off the deep end and resort to slanderous remarks or name calling and so on, and we also need to be careful not to accuse anybody of something that we do not know for sure, or at least have some pretty strong evidence to back up what we say. I was there to witness it with my own eyes. Again Mr Hinn did preach from the word of God a bit and that is great. Also an alter call to give your life to Christ if you have not already done so was preached and that was great, he also talked for a bit to those who heeded to the alter call to get a Bible study the word of God and to have an active prayer life, to turn away from sin, to get into a Bible teaching congregation for fellowship and so on. All that was good stuff. Mr Hinn did talk about that if any healing were to take place that it was by the power of the Lord and the Holy spirit and not of his own doing. Much time was taken to sing songs to the Lord in praise and worship and that was great. So much did take place that I agree with, and I do believe that people are led to be saved through the Benny Hinn ministries. As he is preaching the word of God, he is sparking people to believe in the healing power of God, he is bringing the word of God to many places where the word of God is not being preached and so on. He is at least making efforts to get people to believe in God and to give their life to Christ and to study the word of God and seek salvation through the blood of Jesus. All of that is good. However some things took place that once again I can say that were used to make people think that some healings took place there that did not actually take place. And here is what I base this statement on. I myself do have a disabilityâ€¦. I came through the entrance where the disabled people entered the stadium. There was a section of the stadium that was set aside for people in wheelchairs and I kept a very close eye on that section when the healings or so called healings were taking place. When Mr Hinn started his healing portion of his ministry his people would try to encourage people to stand up out of their wheelchairs and so on. I noticed that as his people were going around trying to get people to stand up and walk that most of what I saw the people would try but then sit right back down in disappointment and I saw a few even start crying when they were unable to walk. I saw this time and time again. People being encouraged to walk and the people not being healed but sitting right back down in disappointment without a healing. I was careful to watch all that was going on. This is what I saw and a person I was with saw it as well. The so called empty wheelchairs seemed to be props brought from the side of the stage and I did not see anybody who legitimately came in a wheelchair from the street actually stand up and walk. Every time I saw them try to get a person out of their wheelchair, it was not successful. But yet now a bunch of practically brand new empty wheelchairs were brought up on stage and it seemed they were props and not legitimate empty wheelchairs that legitimate people got out of. At least some deception was used there. Also as far as what was allowed to be shown on camera was very carefully orchestrated. Nobody from the audience was allowed on the stage unless they first claimed to have had a healing and I also felt like at least a few people that claimed to be healed did not come from the legitimate audienceâ€¦. Mr Hinn's people brought up a few people and they actually would speak for the person and not let the person speak themselvesâ€¦. It was very much controlled. There was also a lady who came up there and claimed to be healed and it appeared as if it was staged. I did not see this lady in the wheelchair section and her testimony was such a picture perfect type of story and seemed to be very phony almost as if it had been rehearsed. Its possible that it was legitimate but it seemed very suspicious. It is possible it was real but was all very suspicious. I did not see anybody from the legitimate wheelchair section actually get out of a wheelchair that they came in and be allowed to go up on stage and testify. A few of the people that were allowed to speak about a healing seemed to come from the side of the stage at the right time and some of it seemed to be very rehearsed. I do believe that maybe a few of the people may have been legitimate, but I also feel that at least some of it was staged and rehearsed and very carefully orchestrated for the cameras. Some of his own pastors would start running at Mr Hinn and Mr Hinn would wave his magic finger and they would start convulsing and falling down and all of that in a very over dramatic way and they were all the people that I saw him enter the area with. I know for a fact that most of the people that were allowed on stage were his own people and it all seemed very rehearsed. There was a few people that I believe may have actually come from the audience and may have been healed but I am pretty sure that a lot of it was sketchy as to whether it was real. Again I came into the stadium through the entrance that was marked for disabled people and I was near the wheelchair section and I did not see one person who I knew for a fact came from the street into the stadium get healed and was allowed to go up on stage. I know for almost a fact that at least some of those empty wheelchairs were props if not all of them were props. That is what I witnessed and a person I was with testified to seeing the same things. Now I do believe that there is some good coming from the Benny Hinn ministry as they are at least trying to spread the news about Jesus and trying to get people to believe in the healing power of the Lord but I also know for a fact that there is at least some deception being used and that is not right. People are flocking to Mr Hinn thinking he is the new Jesus and that is not so. Also Mr Hinn seems to be very big into enlarging his own name with his name up on lights and his face up in the billboards and so on and that is something that well. I read a report that he made an estimated million dollars in one year. much of which has come from people that are sick and also the elderly who have sent in much of their life savings thinking that Mr Hinn is the new Jesus or something and I believe that some of these people are being taken for a ride. There is some good coming from his ministry but there is some other stuff as well. What I can say is this. I would not encourage anybody to go to one of his shows. Its not for me. Jesus is for me. The Lord is for me. The word of God is for me. Deception and so on is not for me. I rest my faith in God not men.
