Chapter RIZAL IN LONDON () TRIP ACROSS THE ATLANTIC >He won many of friends of different nationalities on board the palatial City of Rome because of his friendly nature and ability as a linguist.

He chose this city for three reasons: Improve his knowledge of the English language 2. Regidor, an exile of who is also a practicing lawyer in London. The main points of this letter were: Eiffel Tower, ft. Propagation of all the useful knowledge- scientific, artistic, literary in the Philippines. Marche in French, etc. His main thesis was that the Filipinos are not by nature indolent. Such decline was due to certain causes: The native revolts and other internal disorders which followed the establishment of Spanish rule. The wars which the Filipinos fought for Spain against the Dutch, Portuguese, English, and other enemies. The frightful raids on the coastal towns and village of Christian Philippines by the Muslim pirates of Mindanao and Sulu. The forced labor which compelled thousands of Filipino labourers to work in shipyards, roads, bridges, and other public works, resulting in the abandonment of industry, commerce, and agriculture. Lack of stimulus to work harder because the people could not enjoy the fruits of their labor. Government neglect and indifference to agriculture, industry, and commerce. The bad example shown by the Spaniards in despising manual labor. The teaching of Spanish missionaries that it is easier for a poor man to enter heaven than for a rich man, hence the Filipinos prefer not to work and be poor so that they could easily enter heaven when they die. Encouragement and propagation of gambling by the Spanish authorities. They do not have to kill themselves working hard in order to live because nature gives them abundant harvests by working less than those in temperate and arid countries. Ferdinand Blumentritt Australian Vice President: Edmund Plauchut French Counsellor: Reinhold Rost Anglo-German Counsellor: Unfortunately, the convention did not materialize because the French government discouraged the holding of conferences by private organizations during the period of the international exposition. Mario Cunanan- a rich Filipino resident in Paris, from Mexico, Pampanga, promised to help Rizal raise P40, as initial capital for the college. However, years later, during his exile in Dapitan, he actually founded a school for boys, in which he put into practice some of his splendid pedagogical concepts. Salvador Font, who masterminded the banning of his Noli. It describes a telephone conversation between Fr. According to biographers, purpose of the visit were unknown but it may be due to 2 reasons: To see Gertrude Beckett for the last time. Although Rizal complained of a terrible headache, fortunately, he was not stricken with flu. Baybay, Leanlexoz Valiant B.

Chapter 14 Rizal in London () SSRizal â€¢ Made friends in his atlantic voyage â€¢ Amazed some American and European passengers â€¢ Had a chat with newspaper men but became disappointed â€¢ Arrived on Liverpool May 24, â€¢ "Liverpool is a big and beautiful city and its celebrated port is worthy of its great fame.

Rizal stayed at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. It was one of the best hotels in New York City at the time and the building is now the location of the International Pencil Factory located at the Madison Park incidentally where the Filipino Independence Day festival is held every year. The Statue of Liberty was only 2 years old when the ship departed the New York harbor. She was a gross ton vessel - length There was accommodation for st, nd and rd class passengers. She was considered by many to be the most beautiful steamer ever built. I think that Rizal would have appreciated that. Another irony was that Rizal might have boarded the ship again in September , because he was accepted as a volunteer physician to work with the Spanish army in Cuba. Instead he was brought back to Manila in for his trial. He was sentenced to death by firing squad on Dec He landed at Liverpool on the 24th of May and went on to London, where he eventually settled down at No. He wrote to Bluementritt from London I live here with an English family who esteem me. That would be humiliating for your friend Rizal and would be ill-considered. At times when I receive news from Spain, it seems to me that I ought to hate all Europeans, but then I believe I shall go to Austria to live there if I cannot live in the Philippines, because Austria has no colonies and for being an Austrian he who has done so much for my country and loves her greatly. Rizal in his early letters to his friend Bluementritt wrote from Manila, "The first hammer-blow in the railway has fallen on me! I have two rooms, a bedroom, small and cozy, and another room where I can study, write and receive visitors. The family is made up of man and wife, four daughters and two sons; the daughters are called Gertrude Tottie , Blance Sissie , Flory and Grace. The first two are young ladies and have their sweethearts, Tottie sings rather well; Sissie accompanies her on the piano. One of the two sons is employed; the other signs in a church choir. Everything is more expensive in England than in other parts of Europe. He was very fun of Tottie according to other books written, but I was able to get this info from the UK census. I was excited so I will post it here just to say that the girls of Rizal were real. FHL Film PRO Ref RG11 Piece Folio 15 Page 23 He stayed in an affluent place in London and that was probably the reason that there are no jokers among us who could connect him to the most vicious crime of the century that started few days after he arrived. The killing stopped after he left for continental Europe in the beginning of Eyewitnesses claim that Jack wore a dark overcoat, but again JR had a small frame that his shadow would stand short. It was the first known serial killer that remained unsolved.
