come to or meet an untimely end. Die at a young age, terminate much sooner than desired or expected. Die at a young age, terminate much sooner than desired or expected. For example, The blow was fatal, causing the young boxer to meet an untimely end, or Our partnership came to an untimely end when I became too ill to work.

My garden is starting to look a little tired with plants falling all over the place. We have had a lot of rain -- hence the plants all over the ground -- but it looks like it is going to be a beautiful fall weekend. The critters are starting to eat the mature sunflower heads. I have learned that the more you pick - especially zinnias -- the more blooms that keep coming. And so I pick and pick and pick. Last week, The Farmer had to have more surgery to repair a torn hip muscle due to a fall after his hip replacement surgery. It was lucky that I had called my third retreat off because this surgery came up very quickly and would have been the day before that Retreat started. Looks like another year of surgery and fewer animals. It makes me think about a large percentage of the farmers who have fed people over the years who are growing older and less nimble. Are there enough young farmers interested in keeping livestock and growing crops to feed the population that continues to move to the cities and suburbs. Do those people who shop at grocery stores ever really think about the person and people behind the veggies fresh, canned, and frozen and meat wrapped in plastic wrap placed on styrofoam trays? What if it all went away? What would they do? Season 3 starts this weekend and I hope to get up to speed so I can enjoy it in real time. It was a curious place which we knew nothing of. If you ever get to Jersey, visit the Zoo. I think I may read them again As an author, I really do marvel at the longevity of these Gerald Durrell books - especially My Family and Other Animals which has been continuously in print since The stories are simple and fun and chaotic - about family and animals and people. I wonder if Gerald Durrell ever got tired of talking about the books because he had moved on. But then to have the good fortune to have written a book that lasted for decades and decades and gave him the ability to build and fund his own zoo. That is really remarkable. Speaking of animals, we have kittens. Our calico cat Fiona has a gorgeous litter of 6 babies - all of them different colors. We are having a fun time socializing them and figuring out all their little personalities. Just this week they have become lap cats and each evening you can find the three of us watching tv covered in kittens. What a lovely way to spend an evening. I hope you all are enjoying the end of summer. It sure has flown by. Looking forward to the autumn colors but not so much to the cold. Fingers crossed I can find some so I can keep the woodstove going for those cold winter evenings.

A woman is medically defined as being in menopause when she has not had a menstrual cycle for at least 12 months, says Kevin Audlin, MD, a gynecologist at Mercy Medical Center in Baltimore. At that point, the transition into your non-child-bearing years is complete. The symptoms typically associated with menopause, like hot flashes and mood swings, can occur for some time both before and after that point. Women who have reached menopause can expect menopause symptoms to become worse than they were during perimenopause, the 2- to year stage leading up to the permanent end of menstruation. However, women who take hormone replacement therapy usually find that their hot flashes will resume years later, when they go off the drugs. Some non-hormonal methods are available for relieving menopause symptoms. Certain antidepressants, such as Pristiq desvenlafaxine and Effexor venlafaxine, have been proven to be effective hot flash treatments. But, Audlin says, the simplest way to take control of your physical symptoms is to stay in good health. Regular exercise, healthy eating habits, and getting enough sleep at night can all help a woman stay stronger, which makes her more able to withstand the changes that occur as estrogen levels drop. The Most Important Part of Post-Menopause Life Along with the physical changes that occur after menopause, women may need to improve their health care routines. Postmenopausal women are at greater risk for heart disease, so redirect your diet toward low-fat foods and lower your salt intake – this reduces the risk of heart attack and atherosclerosis, a condition in which plaque cholesterol and other fats builds up on the insides of the arteries. As part of your routine check-ups, you should have a blood test at a minimum of every five years until age 50, and then at regular intervals. Your doctor will recommend what that interval should be based on how high your cholesterol is, if you are on cholesterol treatment, and on other cardiovascular risk factors that you may have, such as hypertension or obesity. Women also should have their bone density checked once every two years to spot early signs of osteoporosis, a weakening of the bones. Postmenopausal women are particularly at risk for this condition: Research shows that up to 20 percent of bone loss can occur in the first five years of menopause. This can be accomplished with supplements, by consuming calcium-rich foods like milk, or a combination of the two. According to Audlin, proactive health habits like these can keep women happy and healthy in their post-menopause years.

In , for the good of his art, Jack Gilbert had to distance himself from the society of American literature. He spent most of the next two decades in relative obscurity, living a Spartan existence on remote Greek islands with Linda Gregg , who had been one of his students at San Francisco State University, spending time in Copenhagen and London, marrying Michiko Nogami and moving with her to Japan where he taught for a number of years , and lecturing on poetry in various countries for the State Department. And in all that time, no second book. When asked about his long disappearance by Jody Allen Randolph in at the conclusion of a Lannan Foundation reading , Gilbert said simply that he was "falling in love" with Linda and with Michiko. In fact, what he was doing was living a real life, far from the artificialities of American literary culture—living deeply and feeling the heft of his heart and soul. When the second book did arrive, it had been twenty years since the appearance of the first. And even then, only two-thirds of the book was truly "new. Poems, and is divided into two parts. The first, ", largely consists of poems reprinted from Views of Jeopardy along with others presumably written in the same period ; the second, "Monolithos: The poem considers the beauty of extraordinary acts, but in the end decides that those do not constitute courage. Rather, courage is "the normal excellence, of long accomplishment. In the first, "All the Way from There to Here," Gilbert arrives at a hard-earned philosophical truth by the fourth line: After recalling events from the last two decades of his life, Gilbert comes to this final stanza: Her blondeness and ivory coming up out of the blue Aegean. The second poem also dwells on memories of the quotidian life on those remote Greek islands. Its title is "Not Part of Literature. The same year Monolithos was published, Michiko died of cancer. In the ten years that followed, Gilbert taught at various locations and composed more poems, many of them elegies for his late wife. These poems were collected in his third volume, The Great Fires: Poems, , published by Knopf in Of the elegiac poems, "Michiko Dead" is particularly striking, one of the best poems ever written about grief. In it, Gilbert describes a man carrying a heavy box, changing the position of his arms when different muscles become fatigued. After working through a series of positions, the man is able to go back to the original with renewed strength: You are vain and stubborn. Takes out the fish and scrambles eggs. I am not stubborn, he thinks, laying all of it on the table in the courtyard full of early sun, shadows of swallows flying on the food. Not stubborn, just greedy. His poems are never written for the pleasure or aggrandizement of the self, though he has been accused of sentimentality and solipsism by some critics. When asked in an interview about the poems that deal with his own experience, Gilbert claimed that the poems are not "about him," though he is in them. He insisted that they are about "what is important about what was happening. He has given up convenience and ease to record the depth of a human life for the good of us all. His poems are gifts. And now, eleven years later, as Jack Gilbert turns 80, we have a fourth collection of such gifts, Refusing Heaven. Fittingly, there is a sense of finality to these poems. In fact, Gilbert has always embraced his mortality in a way that recalls Keats. Even Icarus, a character traditionally mocked for his foolishness, is rehabilitated from such a viewpoint. The revelation was worth the hardship. At the end of the poem, Gilbert makes an assertion that I cannot help reading in the context of his refusal of literary stardom and his embracing of obscurity and poverty: To rehearse the subject matter of various specific poems is unnecessary. There are poems about Linda and about Michiko; poems about his time in San Francisco, Greece, and Europe; and poems about love, loss, and grief that defy all expectations of sentimentality. All of them are part of the larger poem, the poem that is the life of the poet, perhaps the most profound and moving piece of work to come out of American literature in generations. If therefore you shall not watch, I will come upon you as a thief, and you will not know what hour I will come upon you. Clearly Jesus details signs that must occur at the end of the age for when he will set up his kingdom. We must remember this comes just days after Jesus presented himself as the king in the Triumphal Entry on Palm Sunday. A number of Jews were hoping Jesus would establish his kingdom right then and there. We know that did not happen, but they were still confused and did not grasp what was coming in a couple of days to fulfill Passover. Consider this famous passage of Peter who did not understand what the Christ must first do in Mark 8: And He Jesus began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. He spoke this word openly. Then Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him. Why did Peter not like this teaching? It was because Peter did not understand the two advents of Christ. Peter wanted the kingdom now, but that was not what was going to happen. Consider this passage from Acts 1: We must remember that the disciples were struggling to grasp the whirlwind of events of those weeks. Of course Jesus knew this. So then, let us go back between Palm Sunday and the Crucifixion in the Passion Week when Jesus takes the disciples aside as recorded in the Olivet Discourse and presents them many signs that will occur. Jesus explains all of what must happen, but then he says: But of that day and hour no one knows, not even the angels of heaven, but My Father only. Jesus is communicating the time of the end to disciples who do not truly understand the outflow of events that are coming. Jesus is yet to be crucified, buried, raised, and ascended. Jesus explains that no one has seen the time of the end, because it is not occurring at that time. Jesus is not restoring the kingdom as they are hoping will be done.

For more end time signs and even more evidence that we are living in the last days, please see End of World Signs. I hope that you can see from the above Biblical signs of the end times that our generation is truly living in the last days, nearing the second coming of Christ Jesus.

Next Through out the last thirty-five years I have walked with the Savior one lesson continues to prove itself day by day - the more I learn about Jesus, I discover how little I really know and how much more I NEED to know! It never ceases to amaze me that every time I think I have reached a pinnacle of success in my faith walk or I can now relax a little, something comes along and reminds me how much I still have yet to learn! This past year has really been rough. The previous year had left us reeling from the financial effects of the stock market crash and a frivolous lawsuit that took way too much time and money defending ourselves. So, we were kind of hoping that things would just have to get better. In November of the previous year my wife was the victim of a malicious virus that lasted two months. Most people would have gotten through it without any major concerns but my wife has kidney problems as a result of the disease known as Lupus. Twenty-five years earlier she was given 7 years to live and miraculously, to the amazement of the specialists, her kidneys held out. But this virus took a heavy toll and both kidneys failed. She became very sick right after Christmas and went to the hospital immediately to start dialysis. Currently she has to go through 5 peritoneal dialysis sessions a day, 7 days a week. Needless to say it has totally changed the way we live permeating every minute detail of our day-to-day existence. During those first months of the year I had some physical problems that greatly concerned me for fear that cancer had returned after beating it over 15 years previously. It took weeks and weeks of testing and finally a surgery date was set for mid May. I ultimately had the surgery and was given a clean bill of health. In between all the testing and doctor visits for the both of us I got into a car accident. I was unharmed but my pristine year-old Italian sports car was totaled. In May my father was the victim of a terrible accident. My Mom and Dad were visiting friends who lived a few hundred miles from their home in Medford, Oregon. My Dad had gone out into the garage to get something out of the car and bring it back into the house. There were three doors in a row to choose from, one led to a bathroom, another into a downstairs basement and the last back into the house that was full of laughter, warmth and love. He somehow chose the door that led into the basement. He stepped into the doorway as he opened the door and immediately lost his footing due to the first step starting just below the doorsill. It was very dark and he tried desperately to grab onto something to stop his fall but the stairs had no arm rail. He fell head first onto the concrete floor below. He was flown by Life Flight to a Trauma Hospital miles away. He taught me the true meaning of commitment and what it means to be a father, a husband and a provider, not just in words alone but also by how he lived. A month or so later my wife had to have an operation to try and create a good artery for use as a back-up vessel in the event of needing emergency hemodialysis. Because the dialysis pulls both toxins and nutrients out of the body, my wife has had nerve problems and muscle control problems. So, they give her different drugs which cause many side effects, one of which caused what appeared to be a stroke accompanied by mental disorientation and sheer terror, similar to what I have seen with Alzheimer patients I have worked with. The day that happened I received a call from my wife who was extremely upset and almost incoherent. I could sense the terror in her frightened voice. I rushed out of the office pretty shook up.

Chapter 6 : 12 Signs of Soon Coming the End of the World

Five years after it launched, the PlayStation 4 is now entering the end of its lifecycle.. That's according to PlayStation head honcho John Kodera, speaking during Sony's Corporate Strategy.

Meelhuysen, President The Bible Research Company I strongly believe that we are at the beginning of the time of Tribulation and the sequence of Events of Revelation culminating with the "end of the world" as we know it! Here are twelve of the most evident signs that are being fulfilled. Most were prophesied by the Bible or other prophetic writers. Each one taken by itself, might not be enough proof, but taken all together, the evidence is compelling! The growth of knowledge would accelerate at the end of time fulfilling prophecy. A well known prophecy in Daniel pertaining to the end of time is being fulfilled in our time. For thousands of years until as recent as years ago, the fastest mode of transportation was on the back of a horse or about 25 mph maximum. Now mankind has traveled over 25, mph on the way to the moon. According to Norman Edmund, Founder of the Edmund Scientific Company, with computers and the Internet, the accessibility of information and knowledge is doubling probably every year and will double every 73 days by the year The near saturation of the gospel to every language tribe and people fulfilling prophecy. This is the first time in history that this prophecy could possibly be fulfilled! A newsletter received from the speaker of the well known TV program It is Written, indicated that at the two ACTS evangelistic seminars in Manila, Philippines and Kumasi, Ghana , over , people attended with over 80, baptisms. A recent newsletter received from speaker of the well known TV program It is Written, indicated that at the last two ACTS evangelistic seminars in Manila, Philippines and Kumasi, Ghana , over , people attended with over 80, baptisms. Proponents of the 30, 50 and 60 year cycle theory are stating that the coming collapse will closely mimic and surpass the crash of , the gradual slowdown beginning sometime in the fall of As we approach this time, its imperative that we remember, "Where your treasure is, there will your heart by also. Civilizations committing a "cultural suicide" and self-destructing; Escape from reality and retreat into thrill seeking; Have a sense of helplessness and powerlessness; Feel self-loathing and guilt; A prevalent sense of promiscuity; Disregard for morality and a pervasiveness of lawlessness. What a marked parallel to our world today! Lawlessness is particularly evident. Our Constitution was made for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate for the government of any other. We are no longer a nation of principles and justice of the kind God has specified. Rather we operate by "rule of law", which essentially means that if you can hire the best lawyers, they can manipulate the jury selection to obtain a favorable verdict. Let me make a strong prediction here. As of October 21, , 14 states permit same sex marriages with lawsuits filed on behalf of same sex couples pending in a number of states. How blasphemous and rebellious to try to add dignity to what God calls detestable or an abomination! Are not these judges taking the very prerogatives of God in defining what is right and what is wrong? Destruction of a type that the world has not seen is at hand. What a rebellious people, not only in the USA, but throughout the world! Count down the days to the next Supreme Court decision! The accelerating growth of spiritualism and its pervasive teachings fulfilling prophecy. Multiple pagan groups are indicating that something major will happen at or around the year Followers of writers of the occult are predicting a global initiation, a "blood bath" of some sort, before the New World Order, with Lucifer Satan at its head, can take over. This involves the "termination" of those who resist the movement. The appearance of evil spirits posing as Mary, other "saints" and "departed loved ones" which were prophesied by a latter day prophet are rapidly increasing. We are seeing that take place at an accelerating pace. Ecumenical unity at the price of doctrinal truth leads to perversion of beliefs. As one great preacher stated, "Worshipping a wrong concept of God is idolatry. Most "Christian" religions teach Christ first, works second. Scripture teaches Christ first, obedience second with works as an outgrowth of love and obedience. The progressive implementation of governmental regulations and enforced enumeration pave the way for the legal implementation of the Mark of the Beast fulfilling prophecy as foretold in Revelation - see next numbered item. In December , President Clinton signed the GATT Treaty in Uruguay, including a little know clause that led the way to enforce the enumeration of the American public through the implementing legislation. Could future paragraphs include the requirements to show the number of your name to buy or sell as well as prophesied in Revelation? The efforts to foist some sort of mandatory identification system upon the American public is growing rapidly, especially with the growth of technology. The public has been resisting these efforts, but government and financial agencies seem determined to implement them anyway. This enumeration effort is taking place world wide, not just in the United States of America. Furthermore, the increasing usage of implanted chips as identification devices is accelerating rapidly. In some countries, namely Israel and Britain, legislation is being progressively passed requiring animals to be implanted with an identification chip. He smiled and said it was "experimental". Is this a portend of things to come? The Bible says it is! Click here for more information. This was prophesied to come to pass at the end of time. From the 10 characteristic identifiers of the Beast also known as the little horn power of Daniel, any elementary student can identify the Beast as the Roman Catholic Church. Its Mark of Authority is its stated change of the day of worship from the Seventh-day Sabbath to Sunday. The scriptures enforce the religious observance of Saturday, a day which we never sanctify. And the act is a mark of her ecclesiastical power and authority in religious matters. Thomas, Chancellor of Cardinal Gibbons, in answer to a letter regarding the change of the Sabbath. Keep the first day of the week, and lo, the entire civilized world bows in reverent obedience to the command of the holy Catholic church. Sunday sacredness civil legislation enforced will be the Mark of the Beast. And when such legislation is enacted by the U. In vision, one contemporary messenger saw that in order to buy or sell, an individual must bear an identity and affirmation card. See item 13 added below for links to this dream message. Israel has experienced a hardening in part until the full number of the Gentiles has come in. And so all Israel will be saved, as it is written: And this is my covenant with them when I take away their sins. And I will pour out on the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem a spirit of grace and supplication. They will look on me, the one they have pierced, and they will mourn for him as one mourns for an only child, and grieve bitterly for him as one grieves for a firstborn son. Sina i Jabel el Laws in Saudi Arabia, and many other archeological finds provide compelling witness and proof to the truthfulness of the Bible. These were preserved in midst of unsuspecting people to minimize their vandalization so that they may be revealed at the proper time. See the Surprising Discoveries section of this website for more information on these discoveries. The end of years of transgression is at hand. Revelation indicates that the seventh 1,year period is the millenium during which time the earth will lie desolate see Isaiah Man was created slightly longer than 6, years ago but Adam probably lived a number of years before he and Eve sinned. However, it is possible to determine the range of time during which Adam could have sinned and thus begun the 6, years allocated for transgression. That range is very tight and ends around 2, A. Click here for more info Furthermore, if the Jewish calendar is corrected for various errors, it also reaches the year 6, by the year The Aztec and Mayan calendars also point to a year 6, in the year All cumulative evidence points to the end of the 6,year period. God is a God of order and His choice of dates is quite systematic. ALL time prophecies containing dates interpreted by the day-for-a-year principle have a beginning or an ending point or both on a Sabbatical or Jubilee year! The total of 70 x 7 x 7 cycles ended in the Spring of, with the Jubilee year ending in the Spring of Adding 22 years to the end of Jubilee cycle in puts us into the spring of or around 3. The Times of the Gentiles has ended and we were in a tarrying period. See a full dissertation on the jubilee cycles on this website. The events foretold in Revelation have begun! God is actively sharing about end time events with contemporary messengers. One especially that I know to be a genuine messenger is Ernie Knoll. God is seeking those who will be part of His chosen, the, These must be without any sins remaining on the record books of heaven. Jesus Christ is about to come again to receive His people to Himself. God calls out for a people who will be in complete obedience to Him and hold onto their testimony for Jesus, in spite of trials to come. Will you chose God and obedience to His authority, or the Beast and deference to its authority? The choice is yours. Jesus is communicating the time of the end to disciples who do not truly understand the outflow of events that are coming. Jesus is yet to be crucified, buried, raised, and ascended. Jesus explains that no one has seen the time of the end, because it is not occurring at that time.

Remember, these signs are to intensify during the last days, and that is exactly what is happening with earthquakes. Take a look at the following information and judge for yourself. Big earthquakes have doubled in compared to each year since source. We need to heed the signs and get ready! Please see these amazing videos showing a graphical look into the earthquakes around the world. Christ said that there would be earthquakes in "diverse" places, and these amazing videos certainly fulfill that prophecy. But I wanted to separate it to show you that this sign alone reveals we are living in the last days. God tells Daniel to seal the book. In other words, to seal the prophecies contained within it. And that at the "time of the end", the prophecies would be unsealed and we would know what they mean. But taking all the other signs together will show us how close we are to the second coming of Christ Jesus, the Son of the living God, and the end of the world. With false prophets like the Pope, Muhammad, Krishna, Buddha, etc. We also have many false prophets and leaders in "Christian" churches, like the prosperity gospel preachers and people like Oprah Winfrey leading these new age movements. People like Rick Warren who preach just enough truth to lull the unlearned mind into following them into apostasy! Yes, this sign has certainly been fulfilled. Please prayerfully seek the truth yourself, by studying the Word of God in the Bible. There is an ecumenical movement today which we were told about in end times prophecy that is uniting the world in an effort to bring peace. Churches and faiths and political leaders are uniting like never before in an effort to bring peace to this world. When they do declare "peace and safety" then destruction will come upon them 1 Thessalonians 5: For nation shall rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom. During the 20th century alone, more people have been killed as a result of war than all previous centuries combined. Today, there are conflicts and wars raging all around the world Source. And in , armed conflicts greatly increased according to this report. So is war a sign for today? Of course is it. All signs need to be fulfilled. Thousands die everyday of starvation and according to this news article global starvation is spreading and increasing causing 1 Billion people to go hungry around the world. Not only that, we have the likes of Monsanto who are poisoning the crops that are left! The sad thing about this sign, is that the amount of food that is wasted in the developed world could feed the hungry! So think about those in need next time you are about to fill up your shopping trolley with food that will be wasted. The Bible teaches us that we need to be helping the poor and needy, by giving them of our bread and clothing. And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another. And once the mark of the beast is enforced soon, then this persecution will spread to the Western World. Is this Biblical sign fulfilled in our day? Just go back 50 years and you would not see half the sin and wickedness that we see in people today. Look at what is portrayed on our TV screens and in the movies and video games! Violence, lust and all manner of evil. This is one of the major end of time signs. And do you know the worst thing about "sin" today? Through movies, television programs, radio, magazines, comics, you name it! The majority of people in this world today, including professed Christians are happily entertained by the very thing that put the Son of God on the cross! And please note, I am not just talking about the sins of non Christians. A sure sign that we are living in the end times is the fact that the Christian churches are full of unconverted, sin loving people! Yes, iniquity has abounded! A great majority of professing Christians these days do not study the Bible much. Let me give you an example. God revealed a great truth to the world about who the antichrist was. All of the reformers knew the truth about the Roman Catholic Church being the Bible antichrist. But as time has gone on and false teachers have crept into the churches, the majority of Protestants now reject this great truth that God opened up to the early Protestant leaders, and they now EMBRACE that antichrist church and have become a part of Babylon! The above end time sign from Timothy also says that they would be turned unto fables. Let me give you a few fables that the majority of Christians have been turned to. Looking to Israel for fulfillment of end times prophecy. Mark of the beast being a microchip. The Battle of Armageddon being a physical battle. And there are many more. Please see our prophecy site for the truth on these topics. Great and precious truths were opened to the people of the Protestant reformation, but the reformation failed because the people did not continue seeking the truth. Although God does have a remnant church with the full gospel truth, we now live in a day where the majority have turned away from the truth and been turned to fables. This sign of the end times has certainly been fulfilled in our generation. And what about man destroying the earth? Well, all throughout history, the most dangerous weapon that man had was a bow and arrow. Man could not do much damage to the earth. But now just look at what man can do and IS doing to the earth through industry, destructive weapons of war, chemicals, oil exploration, depletion of the forests and so on. Just look at the massive oil spills that have happened during the past 30 years around the world. We have been living in the time of judgment since and once the judgment has ended, THEN Christ Jesus will return to "reward" the saints and "destroy those who destroy the earth". So is this being fulfilled today as one of the end time signs? We have never had the resources available before to reach the world the way we can now. This ministry alone receives thousands of visits everyday from people from all over the world seeking the truth. Had no more rapid means of conveyance and communication been found than existed a century ago, it would have been impossible to communicate such a message to one generation. But such a work must be done for the last generation. Then the last generation everywhere must hear the message, and this calls for rapid transit, and lightning couriers to bear the tidings to various parts of the earth. And what do we have now for "rapid transit" of the gospel message around the world? The internet and satellite! But what about all the different languages you may say? Well, ministries like Faith Comes by Hearing provides a free audio app that shares the Bible in languages! And that number is growing all the time. So yes, the languages of the world are being reached with the Word of God. For more end time signs and even more evidence that we are living in the last days, please see End of World Signs. I hope that you can see from the above Biblical signs of the end times that our generation is truly living in the last days, nearing the second coming of Christ Jesus. We are living in a time like no other. The world is being turned upside down and we need to get ready! If you are not a Christian and you realize that we are living in the end times and are wondering what you need to do, then please click here to see what you must do to be saved. Give your heart to Christ Jesus. He is about to return to bring judgment upon the whole world. Verily I say unto you, this generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.

End-stage wet respirations is the medical term for secretions that build up in the airway when an individual becomes too weak to clear those secretions out. The accumulation of mucus and fluids causes a rattling sound with breathing, which can be distressing for loved ones.

Read Psalm 34 to start the service Read Genesis Chapter This is a story about coming to the end of yourself - so that God is finally free to work. As a man, Jacob was still quite self sufficient, and he still retained much of the old nature in his life. He had already acknowledged that God was working for him as he talked with Laban. And Jacob was about to enter in to one of the greatest trials he had faced yet. He had left home as a deceiver without regard for God. He was returning in obedience to God - returning to who knows what may happen. In the face of this problem Jacob teaches us the answer to two questions that we face continually. The first question is: If God has sworn to do something than he will do whatever he must to make the vessel of his grace prepared to receive his grace - even if that means breaking your hip Gen Jacob is forced to come to the end of himself " and to throw himself exclusively upon God. God is not content to let Jacob remain a waffler who may find himself once again capable to defending himself " so God will in fact cripple him to make him dependant. And he accomplishes his work in three days. For three days Jacob descends into despair and hopelessness, yet as dawn breaks on the third day - he prevails with God and receives a new name - even as we receive a new name from Christ. As far as Jacob is concerned those circumstances are about to come upon him when he finally meets his brother. Jacob Meets up with these angels on his return trip to Canaan. You can see on the map the location is to the East and center of the Land of Israel. The Meeting he has with the angels however is set directly against the meeting he is preparing to have with Esau a meeting brought on by his own messengers, which he sent to his brother. He calls him "lord" as a desperate attempt to buy favor. So when he hears Esau is coming he immediately assumes the worst and starts running through in his mind all the terrible things that are no doubt going to happen to him.

This just in " extry, extry, read all about it " from Al Arabiya, no less, on Tariq Ramadan's well-deserved calvary.
