Correction Officer Exam The next exam for Correction Officer Trainee has not yet been officially announced by the Department of Civil Service. Additional information will be posted here as soon as it becomes available.

Section 3- Career Specific Aptitude In what facilities are persons convicted of terrorism commonly incarcerated? He then confided in Officer Grundy, a male colleague, who reported the matter to the facility director later that day. A controversial investigation ensued, and the outcome would involve the forced resignation of the facility director due to wrongfully terminating Officer Penrose-Smith. What might have happened in the process? The annual pay is divided into 52 weeks that make up a year. What is the present occupancy rate of a bed facility that only has inmates booked? The number of present inmate booked is divided by the maximum bed count of What is the officer-to-inmate ratio of a facility with inmates and one-third as many officers? The inmate population is divided by three. How many seconds will it take to get a seriously injured inmate to a medical center if the distance between the two points is 48 miles, assuming that the transport vehicle runs at a constant speed of 32mph and does not experience traffic or any delays? Divide the distance by constant speed to get 1. Divide the answer by 60 minutes in an hour, then by 60 seconds in a minute. Remember that the question is seeking an answer expressed in seconds. Divide the answer by 4 to get the quarterly budget. The word is not used as a verb but as a participle. Examples in this regard include: Except for Choice C, which is grammatically correct but does not fit the sentence, the two other answers are grammatically wrong. Although Choices A and C are words found in the dictionary, these do not describe the effects of delivering substandard service. Meanwhile, B is not a word. Choices B and C should not be confused with the possessive noun, their, a homonym. Choice D is a contraction of words in the clause, there is. Choices B, C, and D do not fit the context. Choices B and C are outright ridiculous. Meanwhile, the passage implies that Choice A is an unlawful reason to use physical restraints. What is not required by federal and state laws on the use of physical restraints? Choices B, C, and D are mentioned in the passage as requirements on the use of physical restraints. In what situation are physical restraints permitted to be used on an inmate? Choices A, B, and C are obvious distracting questions. Identify another situation where physical restraints are permitted to be used on an inmate. Choices A and B do not pose a threat to the safety of others and are, therefore, not the correct answer. Officers must be good team players. What is true of a cell extraction? Choices A and C are obvious distracters. And while Choice C may be applicable in reality, the situation it describes does not appear or is not implied in the passage. What is not true of a cell extraction? The passage supports Choices A, B, and C. Choice D may be true of a cell extraction and applicable in reality, but nowhere in the passage is it mentioned or implied. What topic is not relevant in cell-extraction training? Reading Comprehension- Passage 3 One morning, an inmate reports that his roommate is suffering from symptoms of chicken pox. Which unit must be informed first-hand? One evening, four inmates convicted of terrorism forcibly take a corrections officer into their shared cell. They threaten to maul the corrections officer to death if their demands are not met by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Central Intelligence Agency within twelve hours. The passage does not support Choices A, C, and D. Basic Skills Communication and Interpersonal In writing an incident report, what critical information must be present at all times? Choices A and C are not required to be indicated at all times, which invalidates Choice D. Why is it necessary for corrections officers to sign incident reports? As required of facility staff, Officer SQR should be courteous and tactful in handling situations like the one described in the test item. Correspondingly, Officer SQR must be aware of the protocol, which is usually to turn the caller over with courtesy and tact to personnel who are authorized to give a proper and full response. Although the traits in Choices A, B, and D are ideal of corrections officers, these are not the most appropriate for this particular situation. What is the basic rule for corrections officers on the matter of handling journalists, who wish to conduct an ambush interview on the general state of the facility and conditions of inmates? Choices B, C, and D may be practised in some facilities, but is not a basic rule. What should all corrections officers do when there is a phoned-in bomb threat in the facility? Choice B is ridiculous, while Choices A and C are not recommended practices to manage phoned-in bomb threats, even outside of the corrections system. Clerical What is the most logically sequenced among the records that are supposedly filed according to booking number? Choice A is a distracter that tends to confuse the test-taker: What is the correct sequence of records filed alphabetically, according to surname? What is the correct sequence of records filed according to gender, females first, then alphabetically? What is the first name of the youngest among all ten inmates? The year of birth of Sergei Voragyev indicates that he is the youngest among the ten listed inmates. Situational Reasoning Situation 1: The logical story begins with the scene where an announcement on the upcoming CCO exam papers appears in the newspaper. The logical story, which begins with Officer KJI finding out that Inmate 84 is sick, is followed by Inmate 84 being transported to an accredited hospital after the in-house medical team has attended to him. Observational-Image 1 At what time of day does the scene take place? Choices A, C, and D all denote darkness, which the scene does not. How many men are depicted as slaying dragons? There are no dragons present in the picture. What activity best describes the scene? Most of the men are mounted in horses, gathered in a military-like formation, and wield arms. What type of building is shown in the foreground? The building is shown with a priest and an acolyte at the altar, with the clergyman saying Mass. What is most likely to occur after the gathering of these people in the painting? There are no objects pointing to Choices A, B, and C. And since the armed cavalymen are gathered in a military-like formation, it is likely for an armed confrontation to follow. Where is the scene set? There are no bodies of water present, which invalidates Choice A. And while there are trees, there is more barren space on the rolling terrain, and this invalidates Choice D. Observational- Image 2 Which phrase best describes the weather conditions during the operation? There is no sign of wind, overcast skies, and heavy rains that characterize Choices A, B, and D. How many individuals are involved in the operation? There is no indication of females in the rescue party, which invalidates Choices A and B. Meanwhile, Choice C limits the number to 6, although the team has more members than that. What object is being extracted from the wreckage? Although partly covered, the object being extracted is more likely a human leg than a luggage, black box or flight recorder, or a caged animal. Because Choice B is a logical answer, Choice D is not valid. Around what time of day does the scene take place? This is only the time among the choices when daylight can shine as brightly in a tropical-like setting. Where does the scene take place? The background gives the impression that the scene occurs on elevated terrain and moderate forest cover. Observational- Image 3 Which phrase best describes the markings on the fire truck? It is not shown in the picture whether or not any of the team members carry a GPS device. What should the team members watch out for? Apart from the apparent chain on the ground, there are no signs of a sniper lurking in the surrounding buildings or ordnance waiting to be detonated. The fire truck appears to be parked. What is the lead element doing? The lead element is holding a short firearm and pointing it toward an object or an anticipated target in front of him. This is only the time among the choices when it is possible for daylight to shine as brightly. Career Specific Aptitude 1. In what facilities are persons convicted of terrorism commonly incarcerated? Terrorism is a federal offense, and persons convicted of carrying out acts of terror are commonly incarcerated in federal prisons.

Failure in any of the tasks will result in the recruit failing to meet the agency qualification standards and, accordingly, being dismissed from the Academy. The test is administered during the final week of the training program at the Academy. A thorough explanation and demonstration of the course, and an opportunity for a trial run, will precede the final test. College Credit Candidates who successfully complete the Academy Training and their probation period are eligible to earn up to sixteen 16 college credits towards a post-secondary degree. Reassignment Upon completion of the Training Academy program and the on-the-job-training period, new Correction Officers are assigned to facilities based upon staffing needs of the Department, and can only be assigned to facilities for which no reassignment list exists. This generally means that new Officers are placed at facilities in the lower and mid Hudson Valley areas. Thereafter, employees may request to be reassigned, on the basis of seniority, to other facilities. The waiting time for a transfer depends upon the length of existing reassignment lists and Correction Officer turnover. It may take several years to be reassigned to certain facilities. However, reassignment to other facilities may be considerably shorter in time. All reassignments are by seniority. Health insurance and Prescription Drug Coverage for yourself only or family coverage for yourself and your eligible dependents is provided at low cost to the employee. Correction Officers can select from several health insurance options to obtain the coverage which best suits their needs. There is a day waiting period before coverage takes effect for new employees.
