Since its creation, DOJ has added additional agencies, offices, boards, and divisions to its organizational structure. DOJ, along with the judicial branch, operates the federal criminal justice system. The department enforces federal criminal and civil laws, including antitrust, civil rights, environmental, and tax laws. Marshals Service USMS , it protects the federal judiciary, apprehends fugitives, and oversees the detention of alleged offenders who are not granted pretrial release. DOJ prosecutes individuals accused of violating federal laws, and it represents the U. In addition to its role in administering the federal criminal justice system, the department also provides grants and training to state, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies and judicial and correctional systems. The Consolidated Appropriations Act, P. This amount was 2. The House-passed bill H. The Senate committee-reported bill S. Total FY funding for the department is 4. The mission of the Department of Justice DOJ is to "enforce the law and defend the interests of the United States according to the law; to ensure public safety against threats foreign and domestic; to provide federal leadership in preventing and controlling crime; to seek just punishment for those guilty of unlawful behavior; and to ensure fair and impartial administration of justice for all Americans. Since its creation, DOJ has added additional agencies, components, offices, boards, and divisions to its organizational structure. Marshals Service USMS , it protects the federal judiciary, apprehends fugitives, and detains alleged offenders who are not granted pretrial release. DOJ investigates and prosecutes individuals accused of violating federal laws, and it represents the U. It also provides an overview of some of the funding proposals put forth by the Administration in its FY budget request for DOJ. Funding for the Pardon Attorney, which was previously part of the Administrative Review and Appeals account, was moved to the General Legal Activities account. Parole Commission The U. The commission also sets the conditions of release for offenders under its jurisdiction and makes determinations about whether to return parolees who have violated the terms of their release to prison. Legal Activities The Legal Activities account includes several subaccounts: General Legal Activities, U. These subaccounts support a wide array of activities. For example, the General Legal Activities subaccount funds the Office of the Solicitor General to supervise and conduct government litigation in proceedings before the Supreme Court. Via this account, Congress and the President also establish a limit on how much can be spent from the Assets Forfeiture Fund to cover certain authorized expenses. In addition, the USMS provides physical security in courthouses, transports prisoners to and from court proceedings, apprehends fugitives, executes warrants and court orders, oversees the detention of alleged offenders pretrial, and seizes forfeited property. Organized into 12 task forces, this program combines the expertise of federal agencies with those of state and local law enforcement to disrupt and dismantle major narcotics trafficking and money laundering organizations. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, the U. Federal Bureau of Investigation FBI The FBI account supports the lead federal investigative agency charged with defending the country against foreign terrorist and intelligence threats; enforcing federal laws; and providing leadership and criminal justice services to federal, state, local, tribal, and territorial law enforcement agencies and partners. The agency plays a key role in federal efforts to counter drug-related violence by focusing on the convergent threats of illegal drugs, drug-related violence, and terrorism. The DEA also has an active role in the Prescription Drug Abuse Prevention Plan through the targeting of improper prescribing practices and promoting proper disposal of unused prescription drugs. The ATF works independently and through partnerships with industry groups; international, state, and local governments; and other federal agencies to investigate and reduce crime involving firearms and explosives, acts of arson, and illegal trafficking of alcohol and tobacco products. Federal Prison System Bureau of Prisons, BOP BOP was established in , and its account supports the housing of federal inmates, professionalization of the prison service, and the consistent and centralized administration of the federal prison system. The mission of the BOP is to protect society by confining offenders in prisons and community-based facilities that are safe, humane, cost-efficient, and appropriately secure, and to provide work and other self-improvement opportunities for inmates so that they can become productive citizens after they are released. The BOP currently operates correctional facilities across the country. RRCs provide inmates with a structured and supervised environment along with employment counseling, job placement services, financial management assistance, and other programs and services. The OVW account and the programs it supports provide financial and technical assistance to communities around the country to facilitate the creation of local programs, policies, and practices designed to improve the criminal justice response to domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. Research, Evaluation, and Statistics The Research, Evaluation, and Statistics account formerly the Justice Assistance account funds the operations of the Bureau of Justice Statistics and the National Institute of Justice, among other related activities. State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance The State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance account includes funding for a variety of grant programs to improve the functioning of state, local, and tribal criminal justice systems. Juvenile Justice Programs The Juvenile Justice Programs account includes funding for grant programs administered by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention to reduce juvenile delinquency and help state, local, and tribal governments improve the functioning of their juvenile justice systems. The PSOB program is intended to assist in the recruitment and retention of law enforcement officers, firefighters, and first responders. Office of Community Oriented Policing Services COPS The COPS account supports the awarding of grants to state, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies throughout the United States to hire and train law enforcement officers to participate in community policing, purchase and deploy new crime-fighting technologies, and develop and test new and innovative policing strategies. It is administered by the Office for Victims of Crime OVC and provides funding to the states and territories for victim compensation and assistance programs. This account does not receive appropriations but instead is funded by criminal fines, forfeited bail bonds, penalties, and special assessments that are collected by U. The requested amount was 2. The Administration proposed reductions for several DOJ accounts. The Administration also proposed reductions for the following: The reductions were a part of a "workforce rightsizing initiative" ordered by Attorney General Sessions. The reductions would have come through attrition and "administrative savings" -2, positions and -2, FTEs , and through eliminating "funded but unfilled" positions and FTEs -9, positions and -1, FTEs. There were also increases for the Offices of the U. Attorneys relative to the FY enacted level. FY Enacted Appropriations P. The amounts in Table 1 reflect only new funding made available at the start of the fiscal year. Therefore, the amounts do not include any rescissions of unobligated or deobligated balances that may be counted as offsets to newly enacted appropriations, nor do they include any scorekeeping adjustments e.
