

Chapter 1 : Laugh IT Out: Dilbert™s Best Quotes

Dilbert's Guide to the Rest of Your Life contains the best of seven years worth of Dilbert comics, organized around familiar workday themes. It's a great gift for graduates who are new to corporate culture, as well as diehard fans who read Dilbert to survive.

I can only please one person per day. Today is not your day. Tomorrow is not looking good either. I especially like the whooshing sound they make as they go flying by. Accept that some days you are the pigeon and some days the statue. Needing someone is like needing a parachute. Last night I lay in bed looking up at the stars in the sky, and I thought to myself, "where the heck is the ceiling? My reality cheque bounced. On the keyboard of life, always keep one finger on the escape key. I am a carrier. You are slower than a herd of turtles stampeding through peanut butter. Do not meddle in the affairs of dragons, because you are crunchy and taste good with ketchup. Never argue with idiots. They drag you down to their level, and then beat you with experience. A pat on the back is only a few inches from a kick in the butt. After any salary raise, you will have less money at the end of the month than you did before. The more crap you put up with, the more crap you are going to get. You can go anywhere you want if you look serious and carry a clipboard. Eat one live toad the first thing in the morning and nothing worse will happen to you the rest of the day. Following the rules will not get the job done. When confronted by a difficult problem, you can solve it more easily by reducing it to the question, "How would the Lone Ranger handle this? Only the mediocre are at their best all the time. I have erased this line. Bring ideas in and entertain them royally, for one of them may be the king. Life is a waste of time; time is a waste of life, so get wasted all of the time and have the time of your life. When everything is coming your way

Who Is This Class For? This class is perfect for you if: You wake up feeling panicked. You feel tired all day. You become exhausted around 3pm every day. You suffer from the various maladies that are exacerbated by poor sleep, such as weight issues, burnout, low libido, irregular menstrual cycles, fatigue, brain fog, depression, anxiety, panic, bipolar, or adult ADHD. What are you waiting for? Take a holistic approach to health, understanding that sleep is connected to what we do throughout the day. Overcome various forms of insomnia. Use recipes, supplements, and lifestyle modifications to improve your sleep habits. Practice yoga and meditation to feel more rested and energized. We are fatigued, wired, sad, foggy, and generally struggling through each day. While psychiatry promises to rescue us, the data suggests that its tools are limited and risky. Vora lights the path to a new approach to root cause healing that will restore hope in your own vitality. Vora is truly an incredible doctor! She understands the value and importance of treating her patients from a holistic approach, and it has absolutely changed my life! Her intellect, compassion, and patience are just a few of many traits she practices with each and every one of her patients. I have great admiration for the way you guided the conversation with such grace, as well your very thoughtful approach to your work. Vora outlines what this class is all about, who she designed it for, as well as a bit about her experience and how she became so interested in treating sleep. Is This Class For You?
