Eisenbud and Serios c. If this reading passage continued, what do you suppose the next part might be about? Here is an example of the Writing Section of the English placement test: Explain two ways that some form of transportation has changed urban life. Argue that people should not be allowed to marry until they are more than thirty years old. If you would like to be considered for ESL, please write one or two paragraphs on one of the following topics: Tell about a time you lost something important. Tell about a funny experience you had with a friend. The listening section has five passages that are tape-recorded. Students listen to each passage on tape and then answer five multiple-choice questions. Here is a sample: You will hear a short sample of speech followed by five questions. Each question will be repeated on the tape, but the questions do not appear in the test booklet. You may take notes on the provided piece of paper. When you answer the questions, be sure to mark your answers on the scantron and not on the test booklet. Your notes will be collected after the test. Because African music is very much based on rhythm, the banjo looks very much like a drum and probably developed from a drum. It also has a neck and from four to six strings. The banjo was probably brought from Africa to America by slaves in the 16th and 17th centuries. In the United States, white country musicians began using the banjo to play their dance music.
