

Chapter 1 : PDF Expert on the App Store

PDF Expert is the best PDF writer for Mac. You can easily edit text, images and links. It will automatically detect the font, size, and opacity of the original text, so you can make edits easily.

The team at Readdle did a really nice job with it. Before I get into specifics, I would like to say that I am very impressed. From my experience, editing or just marking up PDFs on a Mac can be somewhat painful. The tools I use the most for work include the text markup tools and comments. So, our PDF editing method at work is very specific. But, that means I have to haul around two computers all the time. That can become very tiring. From the ground up, it was designed to work with the Mac infrastructure and it just feels great using it. There are some apps – even ones designed for Mac – that feel clunky to me. PDF Expert is smooth and elegant. When you first open it you are met with a very user-friendly screen. You can choose to open a file traditionally, or you can drag and drop a file onto PDF Expert to open it. There is also a help section at the top of the screen that allows you to open up different parts of the user guide if you are having trouble getting started. In addition to opening pre-existing PDFs, you can also start one from scratch or merge multiple existing PDFs, or other documents. PDF Expert makes merging documents very easy. As I described above, PDFs are a part of my daily life. So, in testing this app, I grabbed one of the proofs we created for a client and did some test markups. I really wanted to get a feel for the way they worked and how they differed from Adobe Acrobat Pro. One of the first things I tried was adding strikethroughs to text on the PDF. PDF Expert makes it very easy to strikethrough, or mark text to delete. Once the tool is selected, you simply act as though you are highlighting the text you want to mark. The strikethrough appears automatically. With Adobe Acrobat Pro, you have to select the text and then the tool you want to use. The second markup tool I looked at was for inserting text. This is the second tool I use the most and Acrobat unfortunately wins this test. Acrobat makes it very simple to insert text in place of existing text. The existing text is striked with a blue line and a comment box appears for you to enter new text. This is a very useful tool for artwork revisions. Designers immediately recognize the tool and markup and complete the requested changes without further direction. With PDF Expert, the work around is a bit different. You first have to strikethrough the existing text then add a comment directing the editor about the change they need to make. One other very cool function is the signing PDF feature. The app actually disables the regular functionality of the trackpad for a few moments and makes it act as a signing pad instead. Other editing tools work very much the same in both programs. Is that enough to make me not use PDF Expert? It really solves a lot of problems that are presented with other PDF editors and makes it very easy for someone to just start using the app with very little instruction.

We have a deal on PDF Expert for Mac from Readdle. This PDF editor has a nice list of distinctions, including being The App of the Year in the Mac App Store, Top Paid App in the Mac App Store.

We started by bringing our PDF solutions from iPhone and iPad , then we expanded on them to take advantage of all the Mac has to offer. Read Faster PDF Expert addresses two major problems that we have heard about many other apps – speed and working with multiple files. PDF Expert is several times faster than any other app available on a Mac. From the first document you select, it springs into action with smooth scrolling and fast search. PDFs open instantly, whether they are just small email attachments or page reports. This makes it much easier to switch between them or close the PDFs you no longer need. Of course, you can rearrange tabs with simple drag and drop and make your workspace yours. The difference is staggering, like moving from Internet Explorer 5 to the latest version of Safari. Powerful, yet easy-to-use tools are just a click away so you can leave your mark in record time. You have a full set of annotation tools from highlighters and pen to shapes, stamps, and text annotation. Text fields, checkboxes, radio buttons, and other form elements work as you expect. Even complex interactive forms with Javascript work impressively well. Sign Documents Agreements, tax forms, and many other documents require your signature to be valid. Just type your name on a keyboard, and PDF Expert will transform it into beautiful handwriting. You can store multiple signatures within PDF Expert so other people can grant you right to sign documents on their behalf. It could be a simple merging of two documents, or a delicate extraction of a few specific pages from sales proposals or product catalogs – PDF Expert handles it all. You can also rearrange, rotate, and delete pages within existing documents, which comes in handy when working with scans. All files you store there are available for reading or editing on any device that you own. PDF Expert properly handles changes made on different devices, and it even has a mechanism to resolve possible conflicts. Signatures, stamps, and settings are automatically synced between Mac, iPhone, and iPad. Also, the Mac App Store version of PDF Expert supports Handoff, so you can start annotating a document on iPad, then quickly hand it off to your Mac with a click and continue working there. There is a free Trial.
