

Chapter 1 : Linc Hospitality – A Reputation for consistently exceeding expectations

FF&EZ – Maximizing FF&E Designers' Effectiveness. FF&EZ is a tool for architects, interior designers and FF&E salespersons who wish to plan, organize and present design specifications for FF&E (furniture, fixtures & equipment).

Your home, your office, your retail shop, your restaurant – To what type of space do you want to give that little bit of extra polish? We are passionate about creating awesome spaces where you love to spend time. Our in-house interior design team is integrated with all our studios. Integrated design not only creates a better project, but also provides the best service for our clients. With interiors in-house, your project is never siloed, nor isolated. What if I only want a little help? If you love the idea of sourcing all your own tile, go for it! If that sounds like the worst thing you can imagine, we can take it off your plate. What styles do you do? While we may try to gently coax you away from something we think is a bad idea, when it comes down to it, this is your project. Can you do the purchasing, too? We often have discounts deeper than a normal consumer, as well. We will work with you to determine the best path for your project, whether that means you purchase items, or we do, or a combination of both. Here are some highlights from our interior design portfolio. Interior Design The Urban Sanctuary This condo in a converted church balances the look of original details with a combination of industrial materials and modern lines for a clean, contemporary feel. Explore our integrated portfolio. Or, just curious about something? Send us your questions about design, architecture, interiors, landscape, third places, LEGO rooms – Anything, really. First name Please enter your first name. Last name Please enter your last name. Your email Please enter a valid email address. How did you hear about us? Please select a valid option. How can we help? Please let us know how we can help.

Chapter 2 : Furniture, Fixtures & Equipment (FF&E)

Board & Vellum has a great interior design team that can assist you with the selection of finishes, fixtures, and furniture to tie your space together. Whether it's a quick consult or full services, we love helping you create a space that you'll absolutely love, that feels like you, and presents the image you desire.

In addition to liking or not liking the look and feel of a space, they respond to design elements that make them feel comfortable, inspired, happy, relaxed or excited, often without being aware of it. They also expect to find the comforts and conveniences they have at home when they are on the road. Years ago a hotel was judged on location and cost. Nowadays, customers have access to a world of information and more options than ever before, making them more educated and particular about the products and services they buy. Service and atmosphere count just as much because they add to the overall customer experience. Hotel interior designers must do more than match wall colors with carpet and furniture. They need to create the kind of experiences that guests seek by designing spaces and implementing hotel design trends that are functional yet appealing, polished yet comfortable, exotic yet authentic. Research shows that what guests remember the most about a hotel stay are the look of the lobby, the feel of their room and the quality of the customer service. The lobby is where first impressions are made. Next, the impression hotel rooms can have on guests can make or break a trip. Choosing high quality, commercial-grade goods, durable furniture with easily replaceable parts, stain-resistant fabrics and modern equipment also saves money in the long run. Guests also like rooms that feel new. Role of the Interior Designer Hotel interior designers are not merely decorators who arrange furniture in rooms. They combine furniture, fixtures and equipment creatively and effectively to produce spaces and atmospheres that guests admire and love and for which they are willing to pay premium rates. For best results, interior designers should be involved from the beginning and work closely with architects and builders. The devil is in the details: Hotel interior design mostly consisted of deciding where to put these things. Purchasing has evolved throughout the years, becoming more sophisticated to include analysis of both the initial costs but also the potential costs of specifying the wrong products. Factors such as quality, durability, warranties, delivery times and other tangible factors. The artistic side of design, on the other hand, is not as tangible and cannot be similarly measured. However, it is just as important to invest in design elements that please guests and provide the kind of experiences they will seek to repeat. Design a magazine-worthy lobby The lobby sets the stage for the guest experience. Design a great focal point or go for a wow factor that will make a great first impression, thrill guests and score points with them. Make it comfortable and inviting Besides being attractive and functional, a hotel lobby needs to be welcoming to guests. Choose unique, interesting accessories, high-end upholstered chairs and sofas and accent tables with surfaces made of durable materials such as marble or quartz. Accessorize well Accessories used to be an afterthought, but today they are used to enhance the atmosphere, personality and appeal of the property. The accessories complete a space. It can feel lifeless and bland until accessories are brought in. Choose contemporary and transitional lamps with white or off-white shades. Use fabrics to add luxury and plants to bring in the outdoors and improve air quality. Mind the corridors Going up and down corridors is part of the hotel experience. Use lighting, ceiling fixtures, carpeting, wall textures, plants, artwork, and mirrors to enhance the guest experience in these spaces. Aim to dazzle Strategically use design elements such as accent furniture, artwork, granite surfaces and striking bathroom fixtures, to add pizzazz to a guest room and make it memorable for travelers.

Chapter 3 : Enhance Your Hotel's Guest Experience with Smart FF&E Interior Design

The primary reason is the interior designer, not the contractor, handles the FF&E portion of the project. There are some items that may overlap between the FF&E and construction budget. One example is appliances included in the FF&E budget, which are purchased by the contractor.

Chapter 4 : FF&E Design Software

McNally design international, The irish village dubai, mcnally design and irish pub company irish pub has been named the best in the world!. Cutler | commercial interior design + architecture, Cutler is an interior design + architecture firm headquartered in vancouver bc and specializing in commercial projects across canada.

Chapter 5 : Chapter 5: Furniture, Fixtures and Equipment Interior Design

Specsources has just launched Version 5 of its popular FF&E specification writing software. "We feel this is the most advanced spec writing software ever developed for the hospitality, corporate, healthcare and education interior design industry." said Wade Ballance.

Chapter 6 : Junior and/or Intermediate FF&E Designer Â« BAMO

Innvision Hospitality is a leading provider of FF&E procurement, interior design, and installation services to hotel owners and operators who are building or renovating their properties. We make our clients' hotels visually striking, meeting budgets and hotel brand standards along the way.

Chapter 7 : FF&E Interior Designer (Hospitality + F&B) Job London | Adrem Design & Architecture Recruitment

The FF&E Designer's focus will be on sourcing, production, and documentation of the FF&E and interior finishes aspects of interior design projects, working with and under the direction of project team leaders.

Chapter 8 : 20 Best Ff jobs (Hiring Now!) | Simply Hired

With careful curation of furniture, fixtures, and equipment (FF&E), an interior designer can create a unique and authentic atmosphere that keeps customers coming back for more. Today's hotel guests are sensitive to good interior design.

Chapter 9 : FF&E Interior Designer Jobs You Will Love | Adrem Design & Architecture Recruitment

What are 'Furniture, Fixtures & Equipment - FF&E' Furniture, fixtures and equipment, abbreviated FF&E or FFE, are movable furniture, fixtures or other equipment that have no permanent connection.