Even a bum knee that sidelined your jogging or a shoulder injury, as an example, is rarely an issue driving a kart. Deciding what to buy - The most important thing to decide before buying anything is knowing where you are going to run your kart and what class you want to run in. Go to the local kart track and walk around, ask racers questions, most are very friendly and love to talk to new people interested in getting started in this great sport! Do you want new, used? Are you going sprint racing on a road course or oval dirt racing? Doing a little homework before you buy will save you a lot of trouble and money later. What is Sprint Kart Racing? Most tracks are between one-half mile to one mile in length. Some street races are very successful; the Rock Island Grand Prix in Illinois has over 20, spectators every year with a few hundred entries! Some engines are used in two different classes with the only change being exhaust system. The difference in performance is around 5 hp! Different regions and clubs call the same class a different name even if the package is identical. The Kid Kart competitors are aged 5 years to 7 years. The spirit and intent of this class is to allow kids to become accustomed to driving a kart and driving with other competitors on a track. Most clubs just offer this class as an exhibition class with all competitors receiving the same trophy, some clubs run it as a class with winner awards and a year end points champion. Junior Sportsman or Cadet classes are offered for kids ages Local rules and classes offered should be checked into before deciding on a package. The Junior classes are open to kids years old. Junior classes are faster than the cadet and rookie classes and some classes are as fast as the senior classes. Once again classes can range from Yamaha Junior Can to TaG and 4 cycle classes, check local rules and classes offered in your area. Senior classes are for drivers 15 and up. There are usually a lot of senior classes offered in every region with different engine packages and weights depending on the class. Four Cycles - Low cost and big fun has been the name of the game for the past few years in Four Cycle sprint racing. The Clone engine is a very popular class, a 6. It is a sealed OHV engine that restricts the amount of changes that engine builders can make to the engines as well as running on gasoline instead of methanol. TaG is a cc water cooled 2 cycle with an onboard starter and a single speed clutch, it is not a shifter engine. Karting classes can be regional popular at one club and non-existent at another club so check your local clubs and tracks to see what classes are offered and popular in your region. The engines are air cooled, parts are relatively inexpensive and the racing is very competitive. New Karters should also check out our Blog section for more in-depth technical and setup information on sprint karting. New karters should also see our Books and DVD section for more information on karting. What is Oval Kart Racing? The karts are designed to sacrifice right hand corner speed to improve left hand corner speed. Increasing the ability to raise the vehicles left side weight percentage and offsetting the driver to the left of the chassis, as well as offsetting the left rear frame rail to the right of the left front frame rail accomplish this. The right side tires are larger than the left side tires. This helps increase the karts ability to turn left; you can produce this same effect by putting a Styrofoam cup on a table and rolling it. Asphalt or Dirt Oval karts are ran on a variety of tracks and surfaces. The surface can also be loose soft dirt to hard packed clay to even sandy surfaces. Asphalt tracks are also popular but are not as numerous as dirt tracks. Most asphalt tracks are in between these two extremes. Oval Kart Classes Classes are broken down by drivers age, weight, and engine package. By far the most popular engine in oval racing are 4 cycle engines like the Briggs Raptor, Briggs Animal and Honda Clone. Most clubs just offer this class as an exhibition class with all competitors receiving the same trophy. The Junior classes are broken down by age. Engine packages vary depending on the series but popular engines include the Briggs Raptor, Briggs Animal and the Honda Clone. Engine horsepower is typically regulated by a restrictor plate between the carburetor and the engine block to restrict the amount of air and fuel that the engine can receive. Younger drivers in lower age groups typically run a smaller restrictor and as they move up classes the restrictor plate hole increases in size to compensate for increased weight and experience. Senior Classes are broken down by weight and engine package as well. Engines range widely but most series will run Honda

Clone or Briggs classes. Different classes are popular at different tracks so be sure to find out what is popular in your area.
