Inside would be even darker. Only the glowing of the newly formed ghouls would be crawling around. From one of the stairwells, footsteps could be heard and a glowing flame could be seen. The monsters growled at the person coming, but then they started to cower in fear looking at the menacing being before them. It was a petrifying, yet attractive mobian wearing a leather tank top with a matching skirt. She also had a demon tail and wings to match. Behind her was the royal princess of Soleanna floating while being bounded by chains and locks. Your guards are gone, your servants are useless. As far as anyone else knows, your safe and sound. She will be safe and sound. Deep in the shadows came a bat flying over to the two, following another, and then a third. Within seconds the entire room was filled with bats that started swarming into one being. The princess had never seen anything so dark and mysterious appear in such an elegant matter. Even with all the ghastly looking bats, a figure appeared from their grisly presence. A mobian bat with fur as purple as the night sky just moments after sunset, her dress black and tattered, her black-crimson wings opening, and her long flowing hair blowing in the wind. The new mobian opened her violet, glowing eyes, staring at the demonic figure before her. Once I free her from your grasp, and end you where you stand" "Darcy, old girl! Real queen-like of you to run away from your people. What difference does it make? The princess gazed on it in horror. She then tossed a blue rock over to Darcy. Darcy then suddenly fell to the ground grunting and groaning in pain. I got a date with an old friend of the princess and her family! The princess then turned over to the monsters who were looking at them through the door. Her options were very limited. She grabbed the stone and threw it out the window. Darcy started panting as she slowly got up. The monsters slowly start to crawl over to her and the princess who started to back away in fear. They are now followers of the radiant dark. Three of the servants got up and came up to Darcy. The servants bowed walking out of the room. Moments later, a fire was started in the trophy room. Darcy and Elise were sitting by the fire on a couch. A servant came hover setting down some snacks and two drinks. The princess was silent during the time the ladies prepared the treats. Darcy reached over and started drinking her cup. For over years, people have protected this world. During my reign, I would carry out the legacy, but then an organization cloaked in blue, saw us as demons and sought to do away with us. My husband and I were sent off by our followers who wanted our kind to live on. So how are you here now? And where is this husband? After that, I went in search for my husband, as well as those who were worthy of becoming the new Cramoisi; the followers of radiant darkness. With my new legion slowly building up, I was able to find my husband and wake him as well. I only wish to live in peace with you and everyone, but it would seem there are others who wish otherwise. You see, my clan of vampires do not just bite whomever we please, a hidden spirt known as Sonaura is around us. It guides us and helps us seek those who are worthy of it. It helps us find possible brothers and sisters. However, those who were not chosen by Sonaura can still be affected by the changes of it, but as a result of not having the proper character, they become a lower class of followers. They become savage and primal thralls that strive to get blood from wherever they can find it. They refer to me and naturally born Cramoisi as their masters. This is the fate that has befallen your servants, and a number of your citizens" The princess got up dropping her cup. Why would you let this happen?! But there is someone roaming about the city transforming people into Cramoisi, without approval from me, my husband, or Sonaura. And with my spouse and I not at full power, we have become vulnerable. The servants started hissing and snarling. The princess was lost in the violet stare of the queen. The servants stood back giving the queen some space as she continued her meal. She pulled from her neck licking her lips. She then quickly grabbed the princess before she fell after losing consciousness. Despite of this you still carry a kind and gentle heart. The princess then started to shake violently and scream. Darcy walked over to the castle window looking at the moon. He spimed while holding his cane. Behind him came Mora bowing and showing him the urn. A nightly stroll Soleanna is split into seven different districts. The Damson District, the closest one to the forest, has been closed off due to the recent attack. GUN was stationed on the most southern part of the city to offer protection from the Cramoisi. The whole city has been on high alert for almost twelve whole hours. But during this time around, more issues rose to the surface. On the east side of the city, just a few miles off the coast several torpedo projectiles were closing in from underwater. Around the coast were several GUN navy ships patrolling the city, the torpedoes were able to pass by them with ease. It was like they were being carefully controlled. Over the radio were similar replies over the communication. She looked through a pair of binoculars with her bat wings slowly flapping in the air. How many we looking at? Everything is in position, captain. He was wearing a fedora and a long trench coat. He was eating loudly. Toss me another one" The cook turned around looking at all of plates he had eaten. The stack was over twenty-four plates tall!. He then heard his cell phone ring. He stopped chanting and looked at it, seeing one text. That part of the city is offâ€¢. As the torpedo disassembled it was reforming around the mobians until it took the form of two wrist and ankle bands, and a breastplate. Despite its seemingly heavy attire, it was actually very light. Light enough for all the team members to travel into the city, or into the shadows of the allies. Captain are you here?! He first started moonwalking over to them and danced without turning around. He then looked up smiling pulling out two weapons of his own. Before they knew it the two of them were pulled into each other hitting their heads knocking each other out. He acted casual as he advanced, turning around, dancing and singing to the song. In his own way.. Rich walks warily down the street, With the brim pulled way down low More guards came running at the mobian armed. Some were also looking down at him from the perch of their lookouts, aiming downward at them about to fire. Are you ready for this? Are you hanging on the edge of your seat? As one came up about to shoot he quickly punched him in the face and threw him into another one. He then spun his weapons which transformed into two separate blasters. He then spun around holding up his guns.

Design[edit] The Lion-class battlecruisers, nicknamed the "Splendid Cats", [4] were designed by Philip Watts , the Director of Naval Construction , to be as superior to the new German battlecruisers of the Moltke class as the German ships were to the Invincible class. She had an overall length of feet She had a metacentric height of 5. Each set consisted of a high-pressure ahead-and-astern turbine driving an outboard shaft, and a low-pressure ahead-and-astern turbine driving an inner shaft. Her secondary armament consisted of 16 BL 4-inch Mk VII guns , most of which were mounted in casemates in the superstructure. The gun fired a To align their guns on the target, the turret crewmen had to follow pointers whose position was transmitted from the director. The thickness of the nickel steel deck ranged from 1 to 2. Nickel-steel torpedo bulkheads 2. The battlecruisers headed south at full speed at Princess Royal arrived at Halifax on 21 November, then spent several days off New York City before she steamed down to the Caribbean to guard against the possibility that Graf Spee would use the Panama Canal. Battle of Dogger Bank Positions in the battle On 23 January a force of German battlecruisers under the command of Admiral Franz von Hipper sortied to clear the Dogger Bank of any British vessels that might be collecting intelligence on German movements. The British were reading the German coded messages , and a large battlecruiser force under Admiral Beatty, aboard Lion, sailed to intercept. Contact was initiated at 7: The other ships followed a few minutes later but the extreme range and decreasing visibility meant they did not start scoring hits until 9: Moltke and Derfflinger combined their fire to badly damage Lion over the next hour, even with Princess Royal attacking Derfflinger. Beatty ordered Indomitable to attack her at Soon afterwards Lion lost her remaining dynamo to the rising water, which knocked out all remaining light and power. Beatty tried to correct the mistake, but he was so far behind the leading battlecruisers that his signals could not be read in the smoke and haze. He boarded Princess Royal at By way of contrast, her sister Lion made four hits out of shells fired, a rate of 1. She also fired two The British had decoded the German radio messages, and left their bases before the Germans put to sea. Beatty altered course to the east, as he was still too far north to cut Hipper off. The Germans opened fire first at 3: The British ships were still in the process of making their turn as only the two leading ships, Lion and Princess Royal, had steadied on their course when the Germans opened fire. The German fire was accurate from the start, with two hits on Princess Royal within the first three minutes. This manoeuvre exposed Lion to the fire of the German battlecruisers, and the smoke from multiple successful hits caused Derfflinger to lose sight of Princess Royal and switch targets to Queen Mary at 4: Around this time, Queen Mary was hit multiple times in quick succession and her forward magazines exploded. Beatty continued south for another two minutes to confirm the sighting before ordering his force to turn north. The British battlecruisers turned north, then north-east, to try to rendezvous with the main body of the Grand Fleet , and at 5: Facing the setting sun, the Germans could not make out the British ships and turned away to the north-east at 5: Inflexible opened fire at 8: The British battlecruisers and German pre-dreadnoughts exchanged fire; the Germans only fired a few times before turning away to the west because of poor visibility and the more accurate British gunnery, and disappeared into the mist around 8: She then sailed for Plymouth, where permanent repairs were completed on 15 July, and returned to Rosyth by 21 July. Princess Royal was hit nine times during the battle€”six times by Derfflinger during the "Run to the South", twice by Markgraf during the "Run to the North", and once by Posen just after II Battle Squadron appeared€”with 22 killed and 81 injured. The battlecruiser fired only A torpedo fired at the German pre-dreadnoughts failed to hit. On the evening of 18 August, the Grand Fleet put to sea in response to a deciphered message that the High Seas Fleet, minus the II Squadron, would be leaving harbour that night. The Germans planned to bombard the port of Sunderland on the 19th, with extensive reconnaissance provided by airships and submarines. Scheer steered south-eastward pursuing a lone British battle squadron reported by an airship, which was in fact the Harwich Force under Commodore Tyrwhitt. Realising their mistake, the Germans then set course for home. The only contact came in the evening when Tyrwhitt sighted the High Seas Fleet but was unable to achieve an advantageous attack position before dark, and broke off. Both the British and German fleets returned home; two British light cruisers, HMS Nottingham and Falmouth had been sunk by submarines, and the German dreadnought Westfalen had been damaged by a torpedo. She sailed with the 1st BCS on 12 December after German destroyers sank seven ships of a Norway-bound convoy, including HMS Partridge , four naval trawlers and four cargo ships earlier that day, but the British were unable to intercept and returned to base the following day. However, the Germans were too far ahead of the British, and no shots were fired. See Roberts , p.

A tabloid journalist, a former boxer, two chauffeurs and three policemen all faced off against Ball, but it was the princess herself, a force to be reckoned with in her own right, who kept Ball distracted from his goal. Around 8 p. A bearded man with light red hair exited the car and, holding two handguns, charged towards the rear of the limo. Inspector Beaton, 31, assumed that the man was a disgruntled driver and stepped out to meet him. From six feet away, the assailant shot the officer in his right shoulder. The previous November, the year-old princess had married a commoner – Mark Phillips, a Captain in the British army. The two had met through equestrian circles: A year-old victim of mental illness, Ball had rented a car under the name of John Williams, in which police would later find two pairs of handcuffs, Valium tranquilizers, and a ransom letter addressed to the Queen. Ball asked that the Queen have the money stored in 20 unlocked suitcases and put on a plane destined for Switzerland. Queen Elizabeth II herself, wrote Ball, need to appear on the plane to confirm the authenticity of her signatures on needed paperwork. Inspector Beaton tried to shoot Ian Ball, but his wounded shoulder hurt his aim. After firing once, his gun jammed. Anne sat on the other side. Beaton took the opportunity to jump back in the limo. He placed himself between the couple and their assailant, who shot into the car. Ball then shot him a third time, causing a wound that forced Beaton out of the car and onto the ground. Ball shot him in the chest and Callender fell back into the car. The scariest part, he remembered, was feeling like a caged animal when police officers started arriving. Police Constable Michael Hills, 22, was first on the scene. Patrolling nearby when he heard the sounds of a struggle, he assumed the conflict was over a car accident. He approached Ball and touched his shoulder. The gunman turned and shot Hills in the stomach. Before collapsing, Hills maintained enough strength to radio his station. Ronald Russell, a company cleaning executive, was driving home from work when he saw the scene on the side of the road. He approached on foot after seeing Ian Ball confront Officer Hills. Another motorist, a chauffeur named Glenmore Martin, had parked his car in front of the white Ford to keep Ball from escaping. He also tried to distract Ball, but when the gunman aimed at him, Martin turned to help Officer Hills on the side of the road. Recognizing the insignia on the limo, he knew a member of the royal family was in danger. McConnell fell to the road, now the third man bleeding onto the pavement. Ronald Russell approached from behind and punched Ball in the back of the head. While the former boxer distracted the gunman, Anne reached for the door handle on the opposite side of the backseat. She opened it and pushed her body backwards out of the car. As Ball ran around the car towards the princess, she jumped back in with Phillips, shutting the door. Ronald Russell then punched Ball in the face. More police officers were now witnessing the action. Princess Anne noticed their presence made Ian Ball nervous. As he pulled up to the scene in his own car, he saw a man take off with a gun through St. Later, they learned that earlier that month, Ball had rented a home on a dead-end road in Hampshire, five miles away from Sandhurst Military Academy, also the home of Princess Anne and Captain Phillips. Journalists scrambled to pull together theories on how a mentally ill, unemployed man could have masterminded a well-funded kidnapping attempt on his own. An office clerk told a reporter that the police had traced a typewriter that Ball had rented to write the ransom letter. Scotland Yard dismissed any connection between that group and Ian Ball. One month before, a group identifying as the Symbionese Liberation Army had kidnapped Patricia Hearst. In its communication with the Hearst family, the SLA said that they would return the young woman if her family donated what would amount to millions of dollars of food to hungry Californians. It agreed with his request that the findings of the investigation remain confidential. Secretary Jenkins told the papers that he ordered an increase in royal protection but refused to comment on the details. Sentenced to a life term in a mental health facility, he has spent at least part of his internment at Broadmoor, a high-security psychiatric hospital. In , Ball penned a letter to a member of Parliament in which he claimed that the attempted kidnapping was a hoax, and that he was framed. The two talked for ten minutes before the queen could summon help. The day after the attack, Princess Anne and Captain Mark Phillips returned to routine at their home on the grounds of Sandhurst: While Scotland Yard refuses to release specifics on SO14, an internal police budget in revealed that it spent approximately She is the author of We Is Got Him: The Kidnapping that Changed America, and writes about history and culture for Smithsonian.

Chapter 5 : Yue | Avatar Wiki | FANDOM powered by Wikia

Gun Princess Royale is high school science fiction with a gender twist. It is the story of a feminine-looking young man by the name of Ronin Kassius who once cosplayed as Princess Silver Blue, an animated character, during middle school.

Yue was born with an unknown illness; as an infant, she was still and quiet, as though asleep, and her parents feared she would die. The Moon Spirit gifted her with part of its own life force, saving her life and turning her hair white as a side effect. Thus, her parents named her Yue, for the moon. After awkwardly flirting with her, the two soon began to arrange meetings. Although affection budded between the two, Yue was bound in an arranged marriage to Hahn, who had more love for her high status than for Yue herself. He boasted once to Sokka that "she [came] with the most perks". Sokka and Yue came to realize their love for each other, but she could not bear to continue their meetings because they conflicted so strongly with her responsibilities to her tribe. Sokka eventually became angered when Yue insisted that being together was "wrong" and that it was her duty to marry Hahn for her people, to which Sokka replied that she was not marrying her people. Iroh, who appeared on scene, saw that she had been touched by the Moon Spirit. He reminded Yue of this, and she once again acted dutifully to her tribe, sacrificing herself in order to give back the life that the Moon Spirit had given her as a newborn. Her spirit appeared before him shortly after, wearing a long white gown. She whispered, "Goodbye, Sokka. I will always be with you," and the two shared a final kiss before she vanished completely. The hallucination of Yue angrily told him that he failed to protect her, reflecting the guilt he felt about her death. Yue took it upon herself to meet the Avatar in the Spirit World. She informed him of the damage that had taken place to the Avatar Spirit and explained how to return to his body, further instructing him to seek out the past four Avatars while avoiding Koh, the Face Stealer. Yue subsequently assisted him in his impressive feat of waterbending to get himself to safety, utilizing her powers as the Moon Spirit. In the audience, Sokka wept as Suki looked on in confusion, as Sokka had never told the full story of Yue. Sokka shushed her, still crying, showing that he still cared for Yue. Yue was kind, sweet, and gentle. She had a deep sense of loyalty and duty to her tribe. She offered hope to others, and was courageous enough to sacrifice her own life to save the Moon Spirit and the Water Tribe. Along with her compassion, however, Yue also hid a great deal of guilt over being openly affectionate toward Sokka while engaged to Hahn.

Some people may find this totally unbelievable and shocking! There have also been questions about whether Diana is even buried on the island. I know these reports are true from my own sources. She said that the crematorium at the church was working late into the night. Betty Andrews, the former cook and housekeeper at Althorp, is quoted by Star magazine as saying: While researching this book I was introduced to Christine Fitzgerald, a brilliant and gifted healer, who was a close friend and confidant of Diana for nine years. There is a very good reason for Diana using this description of the Windsors. It took place in the first seven days of July, just before Diana and Charles were married on the 29th. This period is the last seven days of the cycle of the Oak Tree, according to esoteric law, and the ritual was called The Awakening of the Bride. This is a ritual for all females of the 13 bloodlines who are going to be in publicly high positions and marry reptilians to produce the new generation of rulers. Diana was told that she should consider her union with Prince Charles as only a means to produce heirs and nothing else. Camilla Parker-Bowles was his consort, not her. Diana was told that if she ever revealed the truth about them, she would be killed. Arizona says it was of reptilian shape and size and had needle-like protrusions designed to superficially puncture the walls of the vagina and cause bleeding. Now do people understand why Diana suffered from bulimia and serious emotional problems from the time she married Charles? But Philip was subordinate in the hierarchy to the Queen Mother, Diana said. She said she hated the Queen Mother and the Queen Mother hated her. And what else were they giving her? The Queen Mother is a lot older than people think. They take pieces of flesh and rebuild the body from one little bit. This place was a bus stop for many different aliens. All these aliens, they could cope with everything, including the noxious gases. They can manifest how they want to. All the real knowledge has been taken out and shredded and put back in another way. They are just in awe of these people because they are so powerful. They will find reptile fossils, it goes back that far. Think of them as the same person which after a while has had to replace their coat. Fear is their food, they can actually take fear and manifest it into a tangible thing. The key is the vibrational current. At that vibrational current, they can manifest anything from anything. It's like a holographic image. We are all minerals and water vibrating. This is all an illusion we are living in. They will manifest in another form. The reptiles have never been defeated and this is the closest they have come to it. This is their most frightening time, but this is not going to kill them. She was not aware when she told me this of my own research into reptilians. Christine Fitzgerald, thanks to her insider contacts and her knowledge of metaphysics, had been able to grasp the biggest secret: And also that the Windsors are one of these reptilian bloodlines. Christine also knew about the reptile Satanic rituals, the sexual rites and the widespread sacrifice of children. She said it is the pure essence of the pre-pubescent the reptiles want. This was told to me by one of the participants. They were all couples. The lights used to go out at a certain time and they all swapped round and did their things. These people are nasty pieces of work, sweetheart, these people are nasty. Nothing you can think of can ever be as nasty as they really are. My chin was on the couch now, hearing about all these orgies at the palace. So even that was ritual. Everything about them is ritual! all that heraldry, all that pomp and ceremony. Negative energy gets drawn to negative energy. But it was more than that. Only a few weeks before this book went to press, and months after Christine gave me her information in England, I was contacted by a friend in the United States who was deprogramming a very high level mind controlled slave from Project Monarch. He believes her to be the highest ranked woman in the Satanic hierarchy in the United States and she was one of only three Mother Goddesses in the world. At the time my friend and Arizona had no idea what Christine Fitzgerald had said. Arizona had been programmed and trained since childhood to become a Mother Goddess who conducted Satanic rituals at the highest levels of the Brotherhood all over the world. She described to my friend the inside of many secret and underground facilities that he has personally seen. What she described was accurate every time. He also checked her story with other contacts and the truth of her memories was continually confirmed. What she told my friend, and later told me on audio and video tape, supports the information supplied by other slaves and by Christine Fitzgerald about the Windsors and their true nature. The Brotherhood obsession with Scotland, she said, was because there are many entrances there into the inner-Earth where the physical reptilians live. Glamis Castle is built on the site of an 11th century royal hunting lodge and the present building dates from around She said that during the sacrificial rituals the Queen wears a cloak of gold fabric inlaid with rubies and black onyx. The Queen and Charles have their own ritual goblets, inlaid with precious stones signifying their Illuminati-Brotherhood rank. This also supports a claim made to me by another recovered slave who said she had seen the Queen physically beaten by someone above her in Satanic rank. She also confirmed that Lord Mountbatten was a paedophile and that the Windsors are reptilians in human form. Her interview with me was taped, as were the ones with Christine Fitzgerald, and copies are now at various addresses. The video interview with Arizona is available and details are at the back of the book. I stress that this Mother Goddess had no idea what Christine Fitzgerald had told me and yet their statements match again and again. None of her cohorts even trusted her. They have named an altar mind control programme after her. They call it the Black Queen. I have seen her sacrifice people. I remember her pushing a knife into someone's rectum the night that two boys were sacrificed. One was 13 and the other You need to forget that the Queen Mother appears to be a frail old woman. When she shape-shifts into a reptilian she becomes very tall and strong. Some of them are so strong they can rip out a heart and they all grow by several feet when they shape-shift. The Queen Mother looks basically the same, but there are differences. She also has like bumps on her head and her eyes are very frightening. I have seen him sacrifice children. When Andrew shape-shifts, he looks more like one of the lizards. Who are you going to tell, who is going to believe you? They feel that it is their birth-right and they love it. The Queen and the Queen Mother were also there. It was on December 24th at the ritual of the old king and the new king. But he would have seen a baby being born and introduced as the new king and the sacrifice of an old man. He was being groomed because my understanding of it was that people are picked out and groomed for certain positions. And to be considered for those positions you have to accept the reality and the necessity and the sovereignty of the Illuminati, and that the reptilians run the show. I remember seeing him talking to the royals about something. They were all in it together and still are. She said Diana was also three months pregnant when she died. Diana would probably not have known this, she said, because the techniques the Brotherhood use often mean that the women continue to menstruate for some months before they are officially confirmed to be pregnant. If Diana was, as appears highly likely, a product of the mind control programme, those who plotted her murder could have ensured all that they required to play out their ritual to perfection. She would have accepted the invitation from Al Fayed at the right time, fallen for Dodi Fayed, agreed to go to Paris for the night and so on. She could also have been, like Arizona, impregnated artificially and have no recollection of it. Then there was the weight gain and the weight loss. The bulimia and the cutting herself are all signs of a multiple. Some are told that if you feel bad about yourself or you remember something, cut yourself. To me it was real obvious with Diana.
