

Chapter 1 : Mary Louise Helwig-Rodriguez - March 14, - Obituary - calendrierdelascience.com

The Shenandoah Valley's premier winery invites you to join us for an hour, an afternoon or an evening to enjoy our award winning wines. Located in Plymouth, California, Helwig Winery offers sweeping vistas overlooking lush vineyards, breathtaking views of the Sierra and Coastal mountains, and a sky you won't believe until you see it for yourself.

Her passing transform my life and created a new covenant with your Holy Grace! Just the way she always wanted for me I opened my eyes! I know what love is! I love you Marylouise!!! I will always remember your creativity and spunk when we did the Tri-boro book club and you made the cheese and mouse hats. The kids just loved your game and you really knew how to break the ice and work the crowd. Your genuine love and concern for others was always evident in your eyes, your sincerity and your life. You have lived your dream and touched so many with your love of books, children and of humanity. Hope to see you up there with all the other librarians someday!!! I always envisioned heaven as a kind of library with puppies and children. I am sure your heaven is like that. I know your brother, parents and husband suffer a great loss, but knowing you were such a vibrant loving woman who truly lived a good life must be a comfort to them now. Even then, she was a cheerful, intelligent and compassionate young lady. She helped me acclimate to my new position. We remained friends as she grew up and moved onto the LF Library where she became a valuable resource whenever I needed something for my students. With her fantastic sense of humor, she could always be counted to share the latest joke mostly puns. The world would be a better place if we had more special people like Mary Louise. As we mourn her loss, we rejoice that her influence has touched the lives of so very many. It has been a privilege to know her. My very deepest sympathy to her family. At this very difficult time, may the wonderful memories of her comfort you. She truly was a remarkable woman and an icon of Little Falls. She always had a smile on her face and a kind word to say whenever you ran into her. What she gave the children of this community will never be forgotten. May God bless and keep her. Her family will be in my thoughts and prayers. I am so sorry for your loss. Over folks at the wake How one person can impact so many. My deepest sympathy to all her friends and family. She touched so many lives with her smile, sweet spirit and love We will miss her kind ways, her smile, and her wonderfully wild antics. Our sincerest condolences to the family. Keep a watchful eye over us, Miss Mary Louise, as you always did so lovingly. She will be missed. My condolences to her family, always. Her warmth, tender smile, and unending desire to stand by your side always made you sense that you were not alone. Her talents were a beacon for all who went to her. Mary Louise always was able to find exactly what literature I needed to make a lesson sparkle. It is with a heavy heart and deep love that I pray for you and send my love to your family. I remember a skit she did during Mass on Trinity Sunday in which she used three balls appropriately and juggled them trying to explain the theological mystery to the kids. It was a great idea to convey it that way. I and so many others will miss her. You are in my prayers and thoughts, Fr. May God continue to bless you and guide you through your time of sorrow. I went to college with her -- we were buddies on The Beacon newspaper and in recent years I chatted with her many times on Facebook. Her dedication to children and instilling in them a love of reading was remarkable. She was one of the sweetest and funniest people I have ever known. God bless her and keep her; may she rest in eternal peace. My deepest sympathies to her husband, parents, brothers and family. Mary Louise - read Jenelle a bedtime story for me I was a classmate in PV and my son, nephew and niece all enjoyed story time at the library. RIP Mary Louise you will be missed. ML was a beautiful person and always a bundle of laughs. She will be so missed. Truly, I never would have expected to be removing her e mail address from my list. It should have been the other way around. My deepest sympathy to each family member; you were very blessed to have her in your lives each year she was with you. What a legacy she has left behind to all who knew her! I pray that the echo of her joyful spirit will console all who love and miss her so very much. Until we meet again, my Sister in Christ, may God hold you in the palm of His hand. She was a special person who will be missed by all! We offer our deepest sympathies. Our thoughts and prayers go out to her husband and family. Her smiling face will greatly be missed. Our memories of Miss Mary Louise are many. Our daughters were part of the story hours when Mary Louise was just getting started. We thought this year was one of her best and had a good laugh sharing it with our family at Christmas dinner. I believe she had a part in teaching our daughters and many other children to love reading. Thanks Miss Mary Louise you will be missed by all of us. We knew Mary Louise since she was a little girl and she was always the sweet person that everyone came to know. Mary Louise will be sorely missed but we know that her soul lives on and will be rewarded. May she rest in peace in the arms of the Lord. Her truly unique spirit will live on in the many lives that she touched as school librarian. I remember her unshakeable optimism. Prayers for her and all her family. I first met Mary Louise when my kids were toddlers and we would go to the Little Falls library for story hour. My kids are all grown up now and are very sad to hear of her passing. Later on, I had the privilege of playing along side of her in the Holy Angels handbell choir. She affectionately called us the "ding-a-lings". I was very nervous as a new member, but she had a way of calming my nerves by sharing her hilarious stories, witty jokes and funny poems. Bell choir rehearsals will not be the same without her, I realize that. We will all miss you, Mary Louise but we will never forget you!!! My thoughts and prayers are with all of you. She was so entertaining for kids and grownups alike, a real gem most libraries wish they had! Long after we moved out of town, my kids still went back to the library. Miss Mary Louise was always happy to see us and help us with whatever we needed. I was saddened to hear of Mary Louise Passing. She was always positive. She will be missed by all. You taught my children and hundreds more to love the library. Every year it would be a new adventure. You were someone they looked up to and admired. We will forever keep you in our hearts and prayers. We are saddened by the loss of Mary Louise. She was so special. You will be missed by all. Anyone who had the pleasure of being part of your life, has been touched by and Angel.

Chapter 2 : St Mary's In Exile | St Mary's In Exile

Dr. Lisa Beck Helwig D.O is a female health care provider with Family Medicine listed as her primary medical specialization. Her credentials are: calendrierdelascience.com graduated from Philadelphia College Of Osteopathic Medicine in (around 12 years of experience).

Control by abstract reviews After the charges against the Avengers are dropped and accords are scrapped, the Avengers return to the tower with the addition of Bucky. Will he get better with help from Wanda or will his dark side take over? What will happen when they realise how much they care? Infinity and Beyond by Sgt. Pepperony reviews Following the events of the Avengers Civil War, Steve Rogers, Sam Wilson, Wanda Maximoff and Natasha Romanoff are hiding out in Wakanda, and have to navigate through the world by avoiding the authorities while trying to deal with the traumas inflicted on them. M for sexual content, mental illness and violence. Infinity War plot begins Chapter And somehow this lead to them finally adressing the latent attraction the two had been feeling for one another lately. Rated M for a reason nothing to bad, but it does get steamy Avengers - Rated: When Wanda moved in to the Avengers compound, she had no idea how completely her life would change, or that The Vision would become the centre of it. Against the odds, they always find a way back to each other. Wanda tries to conceal her injuries from her brief imprisonment, but Vision soon learns the truth, and that night, Wanda has a nightmare that shows him that wounds can be emotional as well as physical. But a conversation with Cap makes him begin to double check his ideals. She runs away from her past and away from herself, which is probably how she ends up running straight into Bucky. New York brings the young heroes together, and the rest is history. The only problem, he already in love with someone Had to re-upload due to tech problems Avengers - Rated: Unexpectedly, you find yourself becoming close friends with Pietro, and even falling for his sister, Wanda. But ghosts from your past rise and threaten to tear your new family, friends and love from you. Gilmore Girls - Rated: What if further down the road, while helping Captain America search for his friend, Wanda comes across a familiar face? M - English - Romance - Chapters: Make sure you attract her attention. Girls love a man who always dresses well. But a new revelation about her comes to light that forces the team to take a drastic measure to ensure the safety of the youngest Avenger. K - English - Family - Chapters: While wandering through New York she happens across someone that may be the person she needs in this world She was sure of that. His mouth was about to touch hers, but being the gentleman that Vision was, he deviated his path and planted a sweet kiss on the delicate skin between her cheek and lips. She was so frustrated. Then, of course, all hell broke loose and dreams started to happen. How long until she would smile? Or trust and allow touch? Perhaps what she needs is a friend, and time to heal her injured soul. T - English - Chapters: Pepperony reviews Steve and Wanda are on a stakeout in a hot Tunisian hotel room but there is not just the heat in the room they have to contend with. Rated M for pure smut. Stark would like taken care of, if you truly wish to continue working. Wanda Maximoff is the little sister of infamous gang member Pietro Maximoff. When Pietro trusts Ace to take care of his sister after an attack on their lives, an unexpected friendship blooms, which turns into something more. Hiding out in Europe, Wanda is plagued with guilt over using her power against Vision. This is how they find each other, and what happens when they do. T - English - Romance - Chapters: Will their relationship ever be what it once was? Can Wanda overcome her tragic circumstances and let Vision back into her life, back into her heart? Rating subject to change as the story progresses. T, Wanda finds herself stuck in a personal, lonely void. Adjusting to life undercover and on the run, Wanda just wishes that everything would go back to the way it was, before all this happened. Most of all, she discovers that change can be hard, but with the help of a certain android, can become something beautiful. Eventually, Wanda escapes and Vision finds her. What happens after that? Set after Civil War and before Infinity Wars. Rated M for somewhat mature situations but not really. Just to be safe. Set after Age of Ultron. May turn out to be more! Rewrote the whole first chapter! And yet only one girl treats him as a human. A new breed of crazy to be exact. For some reason he found himself most comfortable with the girls: Who would have thought? Each chapter is a one shot. Scared and alone, she quickly finds comfort in the friendship of a grieving Scarlet Witch. This is their journey together through training and how their friendship develops. AU with no Civil War. He offers to take them back to his farm. Maybe, just maybe, he and Laura can show these kids what home means. Featuring lots of Daddy! Scarlet Witch x Vision. He has his reasons. Spoilers for Civil War. Vision comes to see Wanda in lockup, and make sure that she is all right after everything that happened. XP Avengers - Rated: Tony Stark finds he has a lot in common with the beings called the Brisings, while Jane learns that they are not traveling alone. Clint fights to bring his family back together again, while Wanda struggles to find out who her powers, new family, and exile from America have made her. In the meantime, the Hulk is floating in space and Secretary Ross, with someone Clint thought he lost over a decade ago, make plans to destroy mutants, Inhumans, and Avengers in one fell sweep. But Loki being Loki, has his own reasons. T - English - Drama - Chapters: Choosing You by marialamere reviews Wanda had never been so alone, but that changed after her brother died. Fortunately, there was a certain someone that never gave up on her. The Captain was so nice to her that made her felt something again. The only one willing to care for him is his sister, Wanda, and all is well until Agent Coulson tells the speedster to make a choice that will change his life. Rated M for incest, romance, and language. She goes extreme and only one person can help her. I apologise for the crappy summary. Also trigger warnings for self-harm. Rated T to be safe Avengers - Rated: Vision tries to make her feel better. And then Pietro Maximoff becomes homeless too and soon joins him. Rated M for language and themes. What if the experiment goes wrong? What happens to those who fail? This is the story of Pietro meeting the avengers before Ultron is introduced as a threat. I am not getting them wrong. Just to let people know Avengers - Rated: They may be alive, but not all is well. Wanda angst, and Protective Steve! Blind Date by Kagetora no Tsume reviews Vision is moving their mutual crush along a little too slowly for her liking, so Wanda decides to give a little She pretends to get stood up on a blind date so Vision will comfort her when she returns Meanwhile Wanda Maximoff mourns her brothers death, and contemplates joining him, battling anger and depression of her own.

Chapter 3 : darthelwig | FanFiction

d. dalai lama - freedom in exile. davidson - contemplative meditation. hellwig - what the theologians are saying now. hill - faith in search of understanding.

All who are hungry, all who are fed by strangers, and the ones who suck the scraps of flesh from delicate skeletons - come, there are many fish, if it were not so I would have told you, break the doors - and int he bald salt wind sniffing mucus, skinny puts his hand on the bread that is our golden body. This is our gift - that God speaks the fragrant language of the poor, is one with our saliva, muscles, enzymes, skin. Who have waited, who have not waited enter in. My dears who have no repentance left, who distill salt from your tears, who are to the night indifferent come forward to the feast. The silver wings of seraphs beat the air. And the sugar nails that hold us to these bad hills, I will pull them out of your hands with my teeth. I have said this often enough before - we have nothing to share bu a coat or two, possibly rides in a car. But Joseph the stranger, he was rich and a good man in his way and in the twenty-four hour convenience store the utter light and silence amazes my eyes. In secret I will kiss your sugar wounds. On the bad hills we walk up and down and it is not difficult, nothing is difficult and the sweet ocean is near. I shall be cared for by strangers, and this shall be love in a sort of perfect form and we are not ones who last for long and our Joseph lovers wrap us in good night. Give that light is a paradox which should not exist as it does, given that the sun will kill us all in the end, and the lucid eggshells of air are full of our very own danger, still you in the morning are beautiful. And I allow that space is curved and perhaps we have no choices, only implacable grace and the laws of physics and the fast arc of radium, that skin is a chemical and we can avoid neither salvation nor solitude. Accepting then, I will fall beside you for a time in this cascade of particles, will say that tongue against tongue we shall believe in language, the random acts of speech and love. Given that in a bending universe nothing ends except particular worlds, still I insist on saying your name in the morning, the ways we make each other finite and forever, falling into this bright impossibility, wave and particle, creatures in flight, because death exists, bu also because of you in the morning. Wind, frozen leaves at the edge of the street, the pure sugar taste of need. The once and only perfect moon reaches toward us, hurt by love, close to our dreaming. These are the words, the way we ride from sleep. That we reach out our hands and encounter bread, white blankets, a lamp. These are the names of our belief at the corner of Bathurst and Bloor, our fingers stretched up like the mouths of birds. The world is filled with mercy, we are almost helpless before it, the rain cold on our faces. And this pale flower, appearing on the street at dawn, out of our bones and the burning night. We are waking into a stranger morning than we know.

Chapter 4 : One Building in the Earth: New and Selected Poems by Maggie Helwig

Note: Citations are based on reference standards. However, formatting rules can vary widely between applications and fields of interest or study. The specific requirements or preferences of your reviewing publisher, classroom teacher, institution or organization should be applied.

Wells, To Die and Not Decay: Autobiography and the Pursuit of Immortality in Early China pp. The Xiangyang Garrison, CE pp. On-cho Ng and Q. Dawn of a Golden Age: Medieval Chinese Warfare, pp. Power of the Words: Debatten im Salon des Prinzen Xiao Ziliang pp. Zhonggu wenren shenghuo yanjiu pp. The Genesis of East Asia: Culture and Power in the Reconstitution of the Chinese Realm, pp. John Knoblock and Jeffrey Riegel. A Complete Translation and Study pp. Studies on the Han Fu. Translated and edited by David R. Geschichte Chinas bis zur mongol-ischen Eroberung: A Review of Rudolf G. Cook and John S. Image and Reality in Ancient China pp. Die Hymnen der chinesischen Staatsopfer: Die Goldschmiede der Tang- und Song-Zeit: Women Writers of Traditional China: An Anthology of Poetry and Criticism pp. Between Han and Tang: Cultural and Artistic Interaction in a Transformative Period pp. Early Medieval China Website pp. Michael Loewe and Edward L. The Cambridge History of Ancient China: From the Origins of Civilization to B. In the Shadow of the Han: The Mao-shan Tradition of Great Purity pp. Growth of a Religion pp. Metropole Ostasiens und Weltstadt des Mittelalters , Teil 1: Monumentality in Early Chinese Art and Architecture pp. Richard Barnhart, et al. Three Thousand Years of Chinese Painting pp. Anomaly Account in Early Medieval China pp. Rafe de Crespigny, trans. Kenneth DeWoskin and J. In Search of the Supernatural: The Written Record pp. Creating a Scholarly Partnership pp. Michel Strickmann pp. John Marney pp.

Chapter 5 : Custom Made Products - Helwig Carbon

The Paperback of the Speaking in Tongues: PEN Canada Writers in Exile by Maggie Helwig at Barnes & Noble. FREE Shipping on $25 or more!

The emperor ordered that Antwerp be heavily fortified and that 30, French troops be assembled there. Graham had little choice but to follow suit. This move prompted Marshal Jacques MacDonald, who held the sector east of Maison, to withdraw to the south-west. With his remaining 4, soldiers the French general retreated to Lille. The Prussian agreed to help Graham in a second attempt to seize Antwerp from 16 February; this failed and cost the Prussians casualties. The conscripts were poorly equipped and clothed and Maison found it necessary to use most of them to man garrisons, leaving only 1, troops to reinforce his field force. With his weak forces at Lille, Maison faced a three-pronged attack by Johann von Thielmann on 21 March. After some brisk fighting, two columns forced a crossing of the Marque and thrust toward Lezennes. With their left flank threatened, the Saxon columns pulled back behind the Marque. The Saxons withdrew to Tournai that evening where they joined a third column which had marched as far as Orchies before being blocked by the 75th Line Infantry Regiment and French cavalry. When he heard that the Duke of Saxe-Weimar fully committed his forces to an attack on Maubeuge, Maison saw his opportunity. The French overran Deinze and appeared before Ghent at 2: The commander escaped but most of his irregulars were captured or killed. The French broke into the city and rounded up the would-be Belgian soldiers as prisoners of war. Maison wisely decided not to shoot the Belgians as traitors though they were still legally French citizens. Maison sent his chief of staff Colonel Villatte from Ghent to Antwerp escorted by 50 cavalymen and one company of light infantry riding in wagons. Maison hoped to persuade the Coalition commanders that he intended to attack Brussels via Aalst when he only wanted to get back to Lille safely. But his superior the Duke of Saxe-Weimar believed that Maison wanted to capture Brussels, a belief that the Frenchman encouraged by spreading false rumours among the Belgians. The real danger to Maison remained Thielmann who might cut off the French with his total force of 12, troops in 15 battalions and cavalry. The latter place was evacuated by some Prussian cavalry when the I Corps appeared. He called in some dispersed troops and invited Wallmoden to march to Oudenaarde to help defeat the French. The 2nd and 3rd Battalions of the Saxon Landwehr and four guns constituted the reserve while the remainder of 1st Brigade formed the centre. While the 1st Brigade deployed, the 2nd Brigade arrived in Zwevegem. When Brause reported a French battle line in front of him, Thielmann and Prince Paul went forward to investigate. After an inspection, Thielmann waved his troops forward. Seeing the Saxons approaching only from the direction of Oudenaarde, Maison resolved to envelop both flanks. He ordered Solignac to move from Bellegem to strike the Saxon left flank while Barrois advanced from Harelbeke to turn the Saxon right flank. The French units consisted of veteran cadres filled up with conscripts while the Saxon Landwehr had never been in battle before. Sending five companies of Saxons and two companies from the Schwarzberg Battalion ahead as skirmishers, Paul ordered an attack, apparently without specific orders. The attack pressed back the 1st Battalion of the 1st Saxon Landwehr. By now a large portion of the Saxon force was deployed as skirmishers in a noisy musketry duel. The 2nd and 3rd Battalions of the 1st Saxon Landwehr were helped out of a difficult situation by a charge by the Saxon Hussars. As the divisions of Barrois and Solignac closed in from the flanks, the Saxon division lost cohesion. Either the 2nd or 3rd Battalion of the 3rd Saxon Landwehr was trapped against a wall and surrendered in a body. Saxon losses were listed as killed and wounded and 1, men and two guns captured for a total of 1, casualties. The same authority stated that 3, men and six guns from the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th Saxon Landwehr Regiments and two Russian Cossack Pulks were present. One account listed that the Saxons lost killed, wounded and captured, a total of 1, casualties, a second that total losses were 1,, a third that losses were about 1, and a fourth tally of Saxon losses as 1, men and three 6-pound cannons. The 2nd and 3rd Battalions of the 3rd Saxon Landwehr were particularly hard-hit, the two units had to be converged because their numbers shrank by at least soldiers between 25 March and 20 April. While, Barrois watched the road to Avelgem, the French artillery bombarded the 2, Coalition soldiers in Tournai as night fell. Maison was badly outnumbered and had little choice but to abandon Courtrai and withdraw to Lille. That day he found out that Paris was occupied by the Coalition. General of Division Pierre Barrois 2, Brigade: The End of Empire: Saxon Order of Battle[edit] Saxon Division: General-Leutnant Johann von Thielmann 7., 7 guns 1st Brigade:

View phone numbers, addresses, public records, background check reports and possible arrest records for Helwig in New Jersey (NJ). Whitepages people search is the most trusted directory.

At the core of the program is a widespread outreach effort to bring refugees who self-identify as exiled writers into meaningful relationship with PEN Canada, literary networks and diverse audiences. For more information call PEN Canada works on behalf of writers, at home and abroad who have been forced into silence for writing the truth as they see it. It is a centre of International PEN, the worldwide literary and human rights association founded in England in October 5 Program From 2 - 3: This is the first in a new series of chapbooks that will give voice to the affiliations being developed among PEN member authors and exiled writers. The urgency of his situation will be symbolized at this event by the on-stage Empty Chair, a tradition that PEN Canada began in to draw attention to the case of Nigerian writer and activist Ken Saro-Wiwa. The Empty Chair has been incorporated into literary festivals across Canada. A petition for his release will be available for signatures. One of the event participants, novelist Sikeena Karmali is currently the director of a human rights agency in Tashkent, Uzbekistan, and will be able to provide more context about the situation in that country regarding freedom of expression. Participating Authors Charles Foran is a Peterborough resident and the author of six books. Non-fiction works include a book about China in the wake of the democracy movement, Sketches in Winter, and a narrative about a family in Belfast, The Last House of Ulster A Billion Conversations Now, which first aired in November, Charles Foran was born and raised in Toronto. He lives in Peterborough with his family. She lived as a refugee in Turkey before emigrating to Canada in She has been an editorial board member of Sepidar, Persian literary magazine in Toronto, and contributed to various Persian quarterlies and magazines. She has published six books of poetry and, in , her debut novel Where She Was Standing. She manages a micropress, Lowlife Publishing, and was one of the coordinators of the Toronto Small Press Fair from to Her latest collection of poetry is One Building in the Earth: New and Selected Poems. Maggie has worked for human rights groups in Toronto and in London, England. She currently lives in Toronto. Her forthcoming novel about the Bosnian war and international justice, called Between Mountains, will be published by Knopf Canada in Spring She teaches at Ryerson University, where she co-ordinates the Writing program in Continuing Education. She is a past president of PEN Canada. Since she has worked in international development and human rights. She is currently the director of a human rights agency in Tashkent, Uzbekistan. Zahra Khan crosses four continents, untangling family secrets and the fateful lives of her grand-mothers. She encounters love when least expected and discovers she is not who she imagined herself to be. East meets West, and tradition clashes with modernity in an absorbing family drama reaching back through time and generations, across Arabia, India, East Africa, England, and Canada. Kumsa is an Ethiopian journalist, songwriter, and poet, who was arrested on October 16, , in a wave of arrests of journalists and political activists. Kumsa began his career as a high school English teacher; he also worked for Ethiopian Television as a senior program producer, and for Ethiopian Radio, as a freelancer. In he co-founded the newspaper Urjii. He worked there as a writer and editor-in-chief until his arrest, when the paper went out of publication. The entire staff was charged with treason. Kumsa spent three years and eight months in jail. He was released in May and fled to Kenya. Kumsa came to Canada with his wife in February Kumsa has participated in many seminars and workshops on journalism, and has recently continued production of Urjii. Benjamin Santamaria Ochoa, born in Mexico City in , is an accomplished writer, journalist, poet, actor, teacher and longstanding activist for the human rights of children. A recent Convention refugee in Canada, he fled Mexico in the summer of after his lawyer was shot to death by assailants who left a note behind which threatened all those involved with her on human rights issues. He has published two books in Spanish aimed at raising youth awareness of social justice issues: In he was appointed the first Ombudsman for the children of Mexico. Shyam Selvadurai was born in Colombo Sri Lanka. He came to Canada with his family at the age of nineteen. He has studied creative writing and theatre and has a B. A from York University. Funny Boy, his first novel, was published to acclaim in and won the W. His second novel Cinnamon Gardens has been published in Canada, the U. Goran Simic was born in Bosnia in and has published eleven volumes of poetry, drama and short fiction; his work has been translated into nine languages and has been published and performed in several European countries. One of the most prominent writers of the former Yugoslavia, Simic was trapped in the siege of Sarajevo. He will read from his new collection of poems from Brick Books, Immigrant Blues, which explores the personal and the public devastations of war, especially its effects on the emotions, thoughts and memories of exiled survivors. He was born in As a journalist, Taylor has published articles and essays in many magazines and newspapers across Canada, and he has written for theatre and TV. He has also given scriptwriting and playwriting workshops. Being Native in Canada.

Chapter 7 : List of Swedish monarchs - Wikipedia

Custom Made Products. Helwig Carbon specializes in custom solutions for your particular industrial motor application. Our carbon brushes and brush holders are engineered to provide maximum performance and long life, with minimal maintenance and downtime.

Chapter 8 : Zero G Sound : Hai & Topsy Frankl - Lieder von Werner Helwig

This album is devoted to the songs of Werner Helwig (with some lyrics by Bertolt Brecht), a German author and member of the "Nerother Wandervogel". Helwig fled Germany in and went to exile in Switzerland and Liechtenstein.

Chapter 9 : Alice Helwig Artist Biography

Manufacturers of Specialty Carbon Products. Helwig Carbon Products, Inc. is the premier American owned manufacturer of carbon brushes, brush holders, constant force spring assemblies, mechanical carbons, quick disconnect terminals and mounts, sliding contacts.