From , this was the first U.S. hit for the Canadian singer-songwriter.

They were supposed to be happy. They were supposed to be having a baby in a few months. How did they get this way? Fiction T - English - Brooke D. This chapter is sad but next chapter will end up happy. She always pictured herself as the mom who would buy the cookies and then let her kid just eat the whole box. There were also many other things that she never thought would happen to her When she had gotten married, to Lucas of course, the both of them were happy. They were beyond happy. Lucas was a popular writer while Brooke designed clothes. Is everything okay though? Why would I be mad? When did her life turn into a big mess? How did she end up like this? In five months she and Lucas would have had another child and they would be at bliss once again. She placed her head down in her hands on the kitchen counter and for the first time in two months cried. She completely broke down, not caring that her daughter was in the other room within earshot. During the course of the past two months she figured if she just held in her feelings they would eventually just disappear. But boy was she wrong. Do you mind picking up Kaitlin from school? And she was scared. She could barely walk, it was so bad. And then when she had gone to the bathroom before she had found blood, which made her even more scared. But this was all normal right? It had to be. Nothing bad was going to happen, right? But she was used to this. She knew what happened. She may only be six but she knew I need you to come home from work. Brooke stopped crying when she heard the front door open and then close. She quickly wiped away her tears not wanting to let Lucas see her like this. She rolled her eyes. He was a horrible husband. Acting like this whole thing that happened was my fault! You spend late nights with Peyton! The author would like to thank you for your continued support. Your review has been posted.

Chapter 2 : Howd We Ever Get This Way Chords - Andy Kim - Guitar Chords, Transposed 2 Semitones Do

We'll begin this sermon by turning to Psalm 2. I'm going to be reading the entire Psalm, and it's going to provide the foundation for the sermon this morning.

Did God create man so wicked and perverse? The question put before us is perfectly reasonable. It not only rises out of a sense of natural curiosity, but it seeks to get at the very heart of the issue. If, as we heard last week Sunday morning, that man cannot obey the perfect law of God, if man is truly inclined to hate God and his neighbor, then how did man come to this point? How did we get this bad? Well, when looking for someone to blame, it makes perfect sense for us to begin with God. After all, He is the Divine Architect and Creator of the universe. He is the Almighty God who created man by forming us from the dust of the ground, and by breathing into us His own life-giving Spirit, the very breath of life. Perhaps there was a flaw in the way we were created? Could that be the case, boys and girls? Some people think that way – even without intending to blame it on God, they do it anyway. Adam did that when he was caught in sin – Lord it was the woman you gave me. And we do the same thing to a certain degree. God made them this way. And they even turn to scientific studies which suggest that there is a specific gene that is linked toward homosexual behavior. And so in this way, and many others, we blame our sins on our Creator. But is it so? The answer given is clear. God created man good and in His own image, that is in true righteousness and holiness, so that he might truly know God His Creator, love him with all his heart, and live with him in eternal happiness for his praise and glory. This answer stands in agreement with the account of creation in Genesis 1. For after every day of creation we read God saw that it was good. And that especially applied to the sixth day of creation, the day God made man. For after the sixth day, Genesis 1: The Lord God created man to excel in every area and aspect of life and to enjoy perfect fellowship and communion with God and man. No mistakes were made. God created man in a state of perfection. Man desired nothing more, nothing else than what God provided. And man loved God wholeheartedly. Adam and Eve truly loved God with heart, soul, mind and strength – with that perfect love we talked about last week. Adam and Eve obeyed God because they desired in their hearts to obey Him, because they loved God and wanted nothing more than to know God more and more, to please God and serve Him everyday. He encouraged him to keep loving her like that. Man loved God with all his heart, soul, mind, and strength; God lived with God in a state of blessed happiness and fellowship. Is God to blame? The blame for our sin lies at our own feet. Here we learn of Our Sinful Corruption. Here, we consider next, our Sinful Corruption. From the fall and disobedience of our first parents, Adam and Eve in Paradise. This fall has so poisoned our nature that we are born sinners – corrupt from conception on. The answer explains the origin of human corruption, tracing it back to our first parents, Adam and Eve, but nothing is said about the origin of evil itself. In essence, nothing is said about the origin of evil itself. That is a great mystery, to be sure. Why would God do that? Why would God allow that to happen? Why would God even allow for the existence of evil in the first place? Interestingly enough, the Bible is silent on that issue. Here we are reminded again that God does not reveal to us everything we want to know; he has only revealed to us the things that we need to know as far as our salvation is concerned. So, the fact that evil exists is clear – that truth is painfully evident in the world around us. But why evil exists is not clear. And the fact that God has allowed for the entrance and existence of evil in his perfect Creation, in no way makes God the bad guy or the one to blame. God cannot be blamed for evil, nor can the existence of evil be attributed to Him or traced back to Him. God is perfectly good, and in Him there lies no sin or evil. But as far as the fall and corruption of man is concerned, on that the Bible is not silent. He said -- it all goes back to one man. Therefore, just as sin entered the world through one man, and death through sin, and in this way death came to all men, because all sinned. Why do we lie in the midst of such misery? Why is there such sadness and pain and suffering in this world? Why is there disease and death and devastation? Why, why, why we ask. Adam disobeyed God, and as a result, what God had warned Adam would happen, happened. On that day Adam and Eve and all generations after them, were plunged into a sea of spiritual and physical misery and corruption, decay and death. Like a deadly virus that attaches itself to our human nature -- sin and evil, darkness and death affected every child that was conceived and born, so that without their knowledge, without them ever having done anything wrong, even a child in the womb carries within his heart and soul the guilt of Adam and stands condemned. Man can still create beautiful art, and build a vehicle with wings so that it can defy gravity and fly like a bird and can; man can even build a rocket that can take him to the moon, and a submarine that can plunge hundreds even thousands of feet into the depths of the ocean. Without the saving grace of God, without a sinner being washed in the blood of Jesus Christ, and thus saved from all the impurities and poison of sin and guilt, sinful man cannot ever bring true delight to God, because sinful man always lives in hatred and enmity against God. In other words, until and unless sinful man repents from his sin and is saved by grace, he will continue to serve and obey his earthly master, who is none other than Satan. But that is precisely why God has given us the Gospel, the good News of salvation, so that by the preaching of the Gospel, by proclaiming to the world that God has made the way of salvation through Jesus Christ His Son, many millions might hear and be saved. Many millions might be free from the treachery of Satan, and the misery and darkness of sin, and find light and life in Jesus the Son. How serious is this infection that we have? And the doctor says "alright. There is no cure. But are we so corrupt that we are totally unable to do any good and inclined toward all evil? Yes, unless we are born again by the Spirit of God. Unless God, by His grace intervenes, in my life, in your life, in the life of Everett Peter, we are going to die in our trespasses and sins; we are going to carry our sin and guilt with us to the grave, we are going to be subject to eternal condemnation. Jesus is also the federal head of humanity " of all those who by faith, believe! It is Jesus who came on our behalf so that He could stand where the first Adam fell, and where we fall each day. It was Jesus who came to obey God perfectly and not give in to the temptations of Satan; thereby Jesus might fulfill for us all the righteous requirements of the law. So, it was Jesus came and paid the price of our sin and guilt not only through his perfect life of obedience, but also through His sacrifice on cross " where His innocent blood was spilled for the guilty " for our sake, for our cleansing, so that we might be counted as righteous before God. That is the gift that Paul talks about in Roman In Adam, one man sinned, and death came to the entire human race. That is the supernatural miracle, the supernatural gift of God that this covenant child, that we ourselves, and that every sinner needs to be free us from our terminal condition. We must be born again. We must believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. We must be born again of the Spirit, through the blood of Jesus the Son. This is precisely why the waters of baptism are called the waters of regeneration, the waters of rebirth, because they signify and seal unto us that we, by grace, are born again unto new life in Jesus Christ our Lord. And that is why we can celebrate today! We celebrate what God has done for little Everett , but also what he has done for each of us. For God, in Christ, has redeemed us all from our sin and guilt; He has given us the gift of eternal life. By His Holy Spirit, God gives us hearts to love God completely and entirely; minds to know God more and more, and souls which desire to dwell with God, to commune with God, to fellowship with God both now and forevermore. The other day, as usual, I was waiting in line to pick up my girls from school; like so many other parents, grandparents or other family members and friends. You had to get there about 30 minutes before school was out, or you would be stuck in a long line. The line usually went all the way down the drive and out on the road for about a block or two; but it always went smoothly and pretty fast. On this particular day, I had already gotten my girls and was on my way out. There was a car, coming in, that was not moving. The driver appeared to be asleep and all the other cars were going around him. Not a one of those drivers honked their horn to get the attention of the driver that appeared to be asleep. I got to thinking What if that was me sitting there, and everyone was going around me! How sad to think no one cared or took the time to check on this person to make sure he was alright. As I was going out on the other side I yelled and honked my horn. I do not know if he heard me or not and it bothered me. I went down the block, turned around and came back. By the time it took me to get in line and go through again, he was gone. Thank God that he had just falling asleep. My question to myself was When did we become so uncaring and so cold as to bypass a person, that could have possibly had a heart attack, just so we could get home a few minutes early? What do you think our Heavenly Father thought? Just think how we must make Him feel. He took the time to go through all the suffering of being beaten, ridiculed, and then hung on that cross for our sins. What a sad and pitiful situation that we have let ourselves get in. Remember, too, that knowing what is right to do and then not doing it is sin. Give me the courage to not care what others may think and the faith and wisdom to do what I know that You would want me to do.
