September 20, Hi there, In my dream I was running around my apartment premises being chased by a baby black snake. It had shiny eyes and was not a full grown but a smaller younger snake but fast. It chased me for a while and then suddenly I looked behind to see where the snake was and suddenly a Squirrel I know came and started fighting the Snake and Killed it. It would be very kind of you to tell me what it means Since I have received 2 very contradicting views One saying it means something bad and one saying it is something positive. Mary Duncan September 3, My dream was I was on a dark sanded beach and there was an island in front of me and I saw a baby black snake swim towards me. It had a flared neck like a cobra but more distinctive. It had bright blue eyes and we quickly became friends. I could talk to it and it answered me. I told it that I was moving to the north island and it begged me to take it with me. I reassured it that it was coming with me because it had already made such an impact with me. What does this mean? The snake was probably sent to you to make a change.
