It then runs east across north-central Illinois just north of the Illinois River to Joliet. I continues east and joins I just before entering Indiana. The two Interstates cross rural northwest Ohio and run just south of the metropolitan area of Toledo. In Rossford , the turnpike intersects I in an area known as the Crossroads of America. This intersection is one of the largest intersections of three Interstate Highways in the United States. I runs east-southeast through the southern suburbs of Cleveland. Just northwest of Youngstown , the Ohio Turnpike continues southeast as I , while I exits the turnpike and runs east to the north of Youngstown, entering Pennsylvania south of Sharon, Pennsylvania. Interstate 80 in Pennsylvania In Pennsylvania , I is the main east-west Interstate-standard highway through central Pennsylvania. It traverses the extreme northern section of the Pittsburgh metropolitan area. Also in Western Pennsylvania I serves as the western terminus for I which connects it to the Pittsburgh International Airport and on to downtown and suburban Pittsburgh. Therefore, the fact that mileage markers beyond the end of I appear to follow as if they were part of I is a coincidence. They match what would have been the correct mileage markers of I had the Somerset Freeway been built. It is one of the oldest sections of Interstate Highway in the United States. The highway was built in segments. The final piece of I was completed in on the western edge of Salt Lake City. This piece was coincidentally dedicated close to the 30th birthday of the Interstate Highway System, which was noted at the dedication and considered to be a milestone in the history of highway construction in the United States. In "Basin and Range" , he described how the idea emerged in a conversation with Princeton geologist Kenneth S. It goes the distance. How would it be? And he mused aloud: After 80 crosses the Border Fault, it pussyfoots along on morainal till that levelled up the fingers of the foldbelt hills. It does a similar dance with glacial debris in parts of Pennsylvania. It needs no assistance on the craton. It climbs a ramp to the Rockies and a fault-block staircase up the front of the Sierra. It is geologically shrewd. It was the route of animal migrations, and of human history that followed. It avoids melodrama, avoids the Grand Canyons, the Jackson Holes, the geologic operas of the country, but it would surely be a sound experience of the big picture, of the history, the construction, the components of the continent.

We step and do not step into the same rivers; we are and are not. Heraclitus by Johannes Moreelse, c. It is wise to hearken, not to me, but to my Word, and to confess that all things are one. Fragment 51[edit] Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 9, 2. Men do not know how what is at variance agrees with itself. It is an attunement of opposite tension, like that of the bow and the lyre. Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 9, 4. Fragment 53[edit] Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 9, 4. War is the father of all and the king of all; and some he has made gods and some men, some bound and some free. Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 9, 5. The unseen harmony is better than the visible. Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 9, The things that can be seen, heard, and learned are what I prize the most. Fragment 56[edit] Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 9, 6. Men are deceived in their knowledge of things that are manifest, even as Homer was who was the wisest of all the Greeks. For he was even deceived by boys killing lice when they said to him: What we have seen and grasped, these we leave behind; whereas what we have not seen and grasped, these we carry away. Men think he knew very many things, a man who did not know day or night! Fragment 58[edit] Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 10, 3. Physicians who cut, burn, stab, and rack the sick, demand a fee for it which they do not deserve to get. Fragment 59[edit] Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 9, 4. Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 10, 4. The way up and the way down is one and the same. Fragment 61[edit] Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 10, 5. The sea is the purest and the impurest water. Fish can drink it, and it is good for them; to men it is undrinkable and destructive. Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 10, 6. Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 10, 7. It is the thunderbolt that steers the course of all things. Fire is want and surfeit. Fire in its advance will judge and convict all things. Fragment 67[edit] Hippolytus , Refutation of all heresies, IX, 10, 8. God is day and night, winter and summer, war and peace, surfeit and hunger; but he takes various shapes, just as fire, when it is mingled with spices, is named according to the savour of each. Fragment 67a[edit] Hisdosus scholasticus, Commentary on the Timaeus, 17v. Fragment 68[edit] Iamblichus , On the mysteries, I, On this account, also, they are very properly called by Heraclitus remedies, as healing things of a dreadful nature, and saving souls from the calamities with which the realms of generation are replete. We must admit, therefore, that there are two-fold species of sacrifices; one kind, indeed, pertaining to men who are entirely purified, which, as Heraclitus says, rarely happens to one man, or to a certain easily to be numbered few of mankind Marcus Aurelius , Meditations, IV, Think too of him who forgets where the way leads. They are estranged from that with which they have most constant intercourse. We ought not to act and speak as if we were asleep. We ought not [behave] like children who learn from their parents. Those who are asleep are fellow-workers. The death of earth is to become water, and the death of water is to become air, and the death of air is to become fire, and reversely. It is pleasure to souls to become moist. The way of man has no wisdom, but that of the gods has. Man is called a baby by god, even as a child by a man. We must know that war is common to all and strife is justice, and that all things come into being and pass away? The [sciences] introduce no reasoning which is aimed to deceive, but all the principles of the rhetoricians are aimed exclusively at that, and according to Heraclitus rhetoric is the prince of liars. The most beautiful ape is ugly compared to man. Plato , Hippias major, b. The wisest man is an ape compared to god. Fragment 84[edit] Plotinus , Enneads, IV, 8 6 , 1. The fool is fluttered at every word. Fragment 88[edit] Ps. Plutarch , Consolation to Apollonius, E. And it is the same thing in us that is quick and dead, awake and asleep, young and old; the former are shifted and become the latter, and the latter in turn are shifted and become the former. Fragment 89[edit] Plutarch , On superstition, 3, C. The waking have one common world, but the sleeping turn aside each into a world of his own. All things are exchanged for Fire, and Fire for all things, even as wares for gold, and gold for wares. Plutarch , On the E at Delphi, B. You cannot step twice into the same rivers. Fragment 92[edit] Plutarch , Why the Pythia no longer prophesies in verse, A.
