

Chapter 1 : Mt. Zion Tabernacle Pastor Installation Service by Mt. Zion Tabernacle Christian Church - Issu

A pastor installation service is the ceremony that recognizes a minister as the new pastor of the church. The formal service is held within the church with the other members present.

First appointed associate pastor of St. Joseph Parish in Amelia following his ordination in June , Father Netusil served as parochial administrator of both parishes for nearly 10 months. Also known as canonical possession, intallations are required canonically “ and this year because parish assignments did not include any other new pastors, Father Netusil stood alone as a priest being installed to assume authority of the parishes he was assigned to serve. Depending on the wishes of the pastor and sometimes the wishes of parishioners, the ceremony can take many forms, said Father Harold Buse, pastor of St. Bernadette Parish in Bellevue, who led installation ceremonies when he served as the dean in rural and urban archdiocesan deaneries. For example, ceremonies can be conducted during Mass, a special liturgy or a private gathering, he said. Two witnesses “ lay people, clergy or religious “ also must be present during private installation ceremonies, which often take place at a rectory, he said. Publicly celebrating the arrival of a new pastor also is important because in addition to being a significant moment in the life of the priest, it is a landmark event for a parish, especially since it may only happen once every few years, Father Buse said. Highlighting that notion, Father Buse referred to his installation at St. Lucas, who celebrated Mass and attended a reception to visit with people. Public ceremonies also can include acknowledging the history of the parish, thanking the outgoing pastor and providing a "sense of appreciation for who came before," said Father Richard Reiser, pastor of St. John Vianney Parish in Omaha and a former pastor of St. John Vianney in a July Mass. For example, at St. James Parish in Omaha, the ceremony was held during evening prayer. Father Reiser also held an installation ceremony when he was appointed servant minister for the archdiocese in , providing spiritual guidance for archdiocesan priests. As pastor, he said, his role shifts from caretaker to someone who must plan short- and long-term for the benefit of the parishes. The bishop presents the pastor-elect and invites parishioners to express their approval. After giving the homily, the bishop presents other priests, deacons and parish officials such as trustees, pastoral council and finance committee members to the pastor-elect as people who will assist him in the care of the parish; in turn, the pastor-elect pledges to seek their guidance. At the request of the bishop, the pastor-elect, with his hand on a Bible or a Book of the Gospels, leads the congregation in the Profession of Faith, recites an Oath of Fidelity and signs a Decree of Possession.

Behold, I cannot speak: thy children will keep my covenant and my testimony that I shall teach them, their children shall also sit upon thy throne for evermore. This is my rest for ever: Let us all together reaffirm our high resolution and devotion to the preaching of the good tidings of salvation. We consecrate our gifts. We consecrate our time. To the leading of children and youth to the knowledge of the love of Christ. We consecrate our talents. To the healing of broken bodies and the soothing of troubled minds. We consecrate our service. To the caring for the helpless and the relief of all those who look to us for help. We consecrate our strength. To the evangelization of the community and the worldwide extension of the Kingdom of God. We consecrate our wealth, our efforts and our lives. You have heard the solemn promise. Receive it not as the word of men, but what the Word of God expects of you as members of his flock. Listen eagerly to his preaching of the Word, receiving it not as a word of men, but the Word of God. Take to heart his scriptural words of warning and encouragement, humbly accepting the Word planted in you. Honor him and love him. The apostle Paul says: Pray for him continually, that his ministry among you may be greatly blessed. You are to devote yourself to the meditation and study of the Scriptures and carry out your duties in conformity with the Word of God. The Apostle Paul says here is a trustworthy saying: Now the overseer must be above reproach, the husband of but one wife, temperate, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, not given to drunkenness, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. He must manage his own family well and see that his children obey him with proper respect. Keep your head in all situations, endure hardship; do the work of an evangelist; discharge all the duties of your ministry. Pastor Murray, having been called to be pastor of this church, do you take this people to be your people, this field of labor to be your field, without reservation of mind or heart? Do you promise to give yourself faithfully to the ministry to the Word and to prayer, to be a good shepherd of this flock of God, to minister to the needs of all alike, to be the friend of all who will permit you, to seek the salvation of souls and the nurture of the saved, to put the service of Christ and His Kingdom above all else, if wronged to forgive as you expect to be forgiven, to seek always to keep yourself mentally alert and physically fit, as much as in you lies to be at peace with all men, and to lead this church in the ways of Christ as the Holy Spirit may give you wisdom and strength? I do The office of Senior Pastor of Mt. Zion Tabernacle Christian Church is now committed to you in the name of the father, and of the son, and of the Holy Spirit. Chapter 3 : Ordination and Installations - Center for Congregational Leadership

An installation service for a christian pastor is a special church service for a newly appointed minister. It is an occasion to recognize the calling of the pastor, to acknowledge his responsibilities and duties, and to remind the congregation of their duty to follow their new pastor's lead. There.

But when the fullness of time came, God Himself came down and spoke to us in the body and being of His Son. When God wanted to save men, He sent His Son, in human form, to proclaim and demonstrate the message of the kingdom of God. He sent The Logos, the living word, speech, wisdom, and reason of God. The Word became flesh and dwelt among us. The Logos became flesh! And God is not through with His revelation of the Word made flesh. God still sends His Word in flesh today, but He does it through His preacher. In 2 Timothy 4: God could have made His Word known to humanity in other ways, but we could not have borne this. Had God manifest Himself to us directly, we would have been killed. We see this in the case of Moses. When Moses came down from Mt. Sinai from the presence of God, the glow on his face frightened the people. They surely could not have borne the presence of God. Thus, God chose men to be His preachers. Divine intervention takes place through the proclamation. He wraps Himself in human flesh, the flesh of the Spirit-filled preacher, and literally comes to earth to visit His people. God is here right now! It may be in a single sentence or in just one phrase. We can well afford to listen to the entire discourse with care, lest we miss that one illuminated and searching sentence in which God speaks to us--a sentence that brings conviction, penitence, hope, strength, or renewed faith! From now on, just listen intently for that one portion God intends to be applied specifically to your heart! To send off, send away: To order one to go to a place appointed; a. The message of God comes by the calling and commissioning of God. How can someone preach an efficacious Gospel message, under the power of the Holy Spirit, unless he has been sent or commissioned? That leads us to this conclusion: Therefore the Apostle Paul says in 1 Corinthians 9: He has redeemed us in the slave market of sin. He has redeemed us and removed us from the slave market of sin. He has redeemed us in the slave market of sin, removed us from the slave market of sin, and permanently set us free to never return to the slave market of sin. The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want! I will admit that there are many so-called preachers and so called messages that are not worth listening to, because they have not been commissioned and they are not preaching The Message. Too many preacher have been commissioned by their mothers or wives and are not preaching the gospel. I have seen preachers espouse causes and champion movements, and when the cause died and the movement collapsed, the preacher vanished too. But the man who glories in Christ never grows stale. The Comeliness Of The Preacher v. Paul quotes from Isaiah The feet indicate the eager and swift spreading of the Gospel. How beautiful are those who spread the Gospel! There is a comeliness or beauty of the feet of those who spread the gospel. They are beautiful to: In the eyes of the mature Christians we are beautiful. As we consider that we would not be saved without the servant of God, who was commissioned by God to bring to us the preaching of the goodnews, we will find that servant and his ministry beautiful. As we mature and consider the magnificence of the plan of God, we will consider the eagerness, timeliness, and swiftness of the servants which spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ as beautiful. But the feet of those who run eagerly and swiftly to spread the Gospel are also beautiful to: The service-worship of the NT. When God views one eagerly doing what He has been commissioned to do, certainly this is beautiful in His sight. We come today to celebrate and install the man that God has commissioned to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ in this place. Throughout history, God has called workers to carry out His will. We come today to formally install Pastor Terry Bolds in the work to which God has called him. We seek to honor only Christ, and Pastor Bolds is being set apart for that purpose. Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that they are white for harvest. Already he who reaps is receiving wages, and is gathering fruit for life eternal, that he who sows and he who reaps may rejoice together. The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Therefore beseech the Lord of the harvest, to send out workers into His harvest. Have you, Terry Bolds, prayerfully considered the responsibility of pastoring a church, and have you weighed the work involved and the sacrifices you may be called upon to make? I do with all my heart. Are you motivated, not out of a desire for position or earthly gain, but by the love of God and of your fellow men, and the wish to glorify Him and save them? I will as God gives me strength. Will you endeavor to live a life of love within your family and in the community, and so draw others to Christ through your example as well as by your word? I will make it the purpose of my life to live for Jesus Christ, and I ask your prayers, and the prayers of this church, to help me in this endeavor.

Pastor Joey To the congregation: I have thoroughly examined the qualifications of Pastor Terry Bolds for the work of pastoring, as a servant of Jesus Christ. Are you willing to accept my recommendation of him for official installation as pastor of this local church. Pastor Joey to candidate: You have declared your purpose to give your life in the service of Jesus Christ, in pastoring this church, and have received the approval and acceptance of this church. In order that you may be formally set apart for this holy calling, will you now kneel and receive the laying on of hands as we ask the blessing of God upon your pastorate. The candidate and his wife will kneel at the altar. How thankful we are for Christ, who, when lifted up, calls us to His holy service, we praise You, O God, that Jesus died for us and that we may bring our lives to Him in return. We are thankful for this, your servant, who offers himself to the service of pastoral ministry. Father, grant him the Spirit of wisdom that he may know how to stand before your people. May his heart be enlightened through the knowledge of Your Word. May his feet be swift with the gospel of peace, his hands outstretched toward those in need, his tongue a ready instrument for the message of Christ. May his message always be true to Your holy Word, consistent with your compassionate spirit, and in keeping with your holiness and integrity. When discouragement comes, uphold him. In his success, shield him from pride. Let him fear You, rather than men. Give him the boldness to make difficult choices, administrate with divine organization, and give an answer to those who ask for explanation. May Your Spirit work through him to do Your will: Be his constant companion, Father, and may he be yours, that his life will cause many to find salvation. Through Christ our Lord we pray, Amen. HYMN Participating leaders may return to their seats. The candidate and his wife will sit on the front seat. Where He leads Me I will Follow. Bruce Smith The Christian ministry is both a great joy and a solemn responsibility. May your first priority be to follow Christ. Jesus called the twelve to be with Him, first of all, even before sending them out to preach and to serve. Find time each day to renew your relationship with your Lord. Nothing is more tragic than the man who attempts to tell others about Christ, but who does not have Christ in his own heart. I charge you to know the truth. Nourish your own soul upon the Word of God; then you will find resources to share with those seeking your help. I further charge you to preach the truth. Your only right to stand in the pulpit is to answer the heart-cry of those assembled: Do you have a message from the Lord? Do you have a message today from the Word of God? Preach clearly so that people can understand; preach in love that they will follow. Finally, I charge you to live the truth. Keep your personal character blameless. Lay the law of kindness upon your heart and tongue.

page Installation Of a Pastor Installation of a Pastor PRESENTATION page Following the sermon, all who are able may stand and unite in an affirmation of faith and a hymn.

The Laying on of Hands Anthem: David Rylaarsdam as a Minister of the Word and Sacraments. Praise be to our Lord Jesus Christ. We share one body, one Spirit, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, and one ministry of reconciliation. For this ministry, Christ has given gifts to all of us. Christ appoints some to be pastors, evangelists, and teachers. These people equip all of us for works of ministry. To God be the glory for building up his church. Praise His name for His gracious gifts to all of us. Brothers and sisters in Christ, the Lord be with you. And also with you. To those sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints together with all those who in every place call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, both their Lord and ours: Grace to you and peace from God our father and the Lord Jesus Christ. As God has greeted us, let us greet one another. Brothers and sisters, in the water of our baptism, we were baptized into the death of Christ Jesus. We were buried with Him through baptism into death in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life. By his grace, we have been clothed with Christ. God has called us to a new life, a life of ministry in a broken world. Brothers and sisters, trusting in the gracious mercy of God, do you turn from the ways of sin and renounce evil and its power in the world? Jesus Christ is my Lord and Savior. God being my helper, I will. If anyone is in Christ, there is a new creation; the old has gone, the new has come! All this is from God, who reconciled us to Himself through Christ, and has given us the ministry of reconciliation. Thanks be to God! The voice of the Lord said to Isaiah, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for me? And Isaiah replied, "Here I am, send me" Isaiah 6: When Philip drew near, he said to the man, "Do you understand what you are reading? The voice of the Lord came to David, saying, "Look the fields are ripe for harvest. Will you teach the harvesters the things you have heard me say? Brothers and sisters, in baptism, our brother David Rylaarsdam was clothed with Christ. Now he is called by God through the voice of the church to the ministry of the Word and Sacraments to the particular task of teaching a Calvin Theological Seminary. David, to show that you promise to fulfill the tasks of this office, you are requested, in the presence of God and his church, to answer the following questions: Do you believe that in the call of this congregation, God alone calls you to this holy ministry? Do you believe that the Old and New Testaments are the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and life; and do you subscribe to the doctrinal standards of this church, rejecting all teachings which contradict them? Do you promise to do the work of your office faithfully, in a way worthy of your calling and in submission to the government and discipline of the church? I do so believe and promise, the Lord helping me through the power and grace of the Holy Spirit. What is your desire? All authority in heaven and on earth belongs to You. You have called David to be Your representative and given him authority to be a minister of the Word. But, on his own, he is not equal to this holy ministry. Presentation of the Symbols of the Office The Charges: Include multiple participants in the roles of liturgical leadership in the service. Many sections of the service can be meaningfully led by family members, friends, colleagues, and those who have served as models and mentors for the one being ordained. As noted at the beginning, the basic form for Ordination and Installation is found in the Psalter Hymnal[edition], pages see copyright permissions below. However, you may consider restructuring the content of this form in various ways. It may be presented as read prose, reformulated in responsive fashion, or reshaped as questions for response. Visuals can communicate much in a service of ordination and installation. The appearance of the worship space can meaningfully contribute to the occasion with appropriate banners or other liturgical art. In addition, some have found it meaningful to present the Ordinand with symbols of the work of ministry to be done. In another Bible, chalice and stole were presented to the Ordinand. Glossary of Hymnal Abbreviations: Used by permission of Zondervan. This permission is granted for one time worship use in an order of service for a congregation, or in a special program or lesson resource, provided that no part of such reproduction is sold, directly or indirectly. Chapter 5 : Sermons about Installation - calendrierdelascience.com

The message of most prayers geared to honor installation offer support to a new pastor, elder or minister. These prayers ask for guidance and blessings for the individual being installed. This installation prayer was written by Kathleen Rolenz with the Unitarian Universalist Association.

Lang , recently called as pastor. Leadership is big these days. Duke Divinity School runs a popular blog at faithandleadership. I was called last year by Concordia College to direct a new religion major concentration for faith and leadership. Luther Seminary in St. Paul runs a Center for Missional Leadership. Our last presbytery meeting included leadership training for elders. Leadership studies is a big deal these days. Who moderates session meetings? Who is head of staff? Who preaches most Sundays? Leadership is essential to what pastors do. God calls pastors, like the rest of us, to follow Christ. Today we install Paul Lang as pastor of this congregation. Paul is called to preach the gospel, preside over the sacraments, and to lead us in how to follow. The story of Jesus calling the disciples to follow him has become a Sunday School classic. Come to think of it: First, the call to follow Jesus can be abrupt. Sometimes, when Jesus calls, we cannot take the time to fashion the perfect strategic plan. Like those disciples on the beach, pastoral ministry sometimes requires split-second improvisation. I know a pastor in Florida Presbytery who, a few years ago, got a call out of the blue from a group of 20 migrant workers from south Florida. They had traveled to the state capital to testify in the legislature about immigration reform and farm labor laws, but the hearing had been pushed-back a day. So their leader called the Presbyterian church downtown, hoping to spend the night there. This story from Matthew 4 reminds us also that our call to follow is, well, a bit weird. We can admit it: In recent years, one of the biggest dangers to the church is that it has become normal. A pastor friend of mine named Sara recently presided over the baptism of her nephew. After the service, a six year-old friend of the newly baptized asked Sara what baptism meant. To be honest, I hesitated when I considered putting the chapter on the syllabus, because Barnes directly takes on much of what my students have experienced up to this point in their lives. I was worried about assigning the reading but my students loved it! They wanted to read the whole book. There is something off-putting to this story from Matthew 4. I think, like good pastoral followership, it should make us uncomfortable. Who does he think we are, that we might follow him? Now let me be clear. To the members of First Presbyterian Church of Fargo: Paul Lang is not Jesus Christ. Among other reasons why: And, lest we forget, you and I are not Jesus either. So we need a church, and a pastor, to help our following. Following Jesus today takes partnership. I asked my students if they knew any pastors of the kind Craig Barnes describes in his book. Pastors as minor poets get beneath presenting challenges of budgets and buildings to underlying theological concerns. Paul, even with his many gifts, will slip on the ice from time to time. We learn to follow by praying alone at home, and praying with our hands and feet, within these walls and beyond. Brother Paul, members of this fine congregation, presbyters of the Northern Plains: And yet, Jesus calls us: And now to God:

I have noticed more churches have installation services when they call a new pastor and I consider this a healthy trend. The formality of an installation service communicates that something significant is taking place and that it marks a new day and direction in the life of the church. Another.

For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior, who desires all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. He has been called by God and recognized by you, the congregation, to be your under-shepherd. Make it a wonderful journey of joy and not sorrow in his being your pastor. So, then, what are your responsibilities? What should you do in making it a joyful time here for Bro Chet and his family? I believe you have a three fold purpose in supporting your new Pastor. First, the most important task you have as a church body is to PRAY daily, both individually and collectively, for Bro Chet, his family and your church staff. Satan is having a field day destroying the lives and ministry of pastors and their families. Your pastor and his wife are under constant attack. The attacks are relentless and at times, quite unexpected. His integrity and credibility are magnified under a microscope in a community which, for the most part, does not recognize or know Jesus Christ. There are those who rejoice every time a follower of Jesus Christ, especially a pastor, falls ethically or morally. Your pastor and his family live in a glass house. They covet your prayers. They need your prayers. I challenge you to pray for Bro Chet and Terri on a daily basis asking God to give him wisdom and to protect them both as they faithfully serve our Savior. He is stepping into a flawed church. We are all flawed people. It will take time for him to learn all of your names, the City of Greenville and your idiosyncrasies. It will take time for you to appreciate his leadership, his humor and his faithfulness to God. Put yourself in his place as he tries to memorize hundreds of names—especially, at his age! I challenge you to pray for Bro Chet and Terri and be patient as he leads lost and broken people to our risen Savior. He and the staff cannot do it alone. You did not call him to do your job. You did not call him to do your ministry. You called him to pray for you, to equip you and to lead you in carrying out the Great Commission given to all believers. Your faithful participation does two things. First, it reveals your support of the pastor, the Search Committee and the direction God is leading this church. Now, I know Bro Chet. I know he will be faithful in his responsibilities. It may not be what is best for you or him but it will be what is best for the Kingdom of God; and it will glorify God the Father and our Lord Jesus Christ. As he leads this church toward even greater days than its past glory, be an active participant in following Christ. You were not created to be spectators but contestants in running the race to obtain the prize, which is an imperishable crown. See 1 Corinthians 9: Are you ready to act upon this challenge? Let me ask the members of Highland Terrace Baptist Church to stand and make this commitment today before the Lord. Do you promise to pray for, be patient and participate with Bro Chet by following his example for the glory of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ?
