This way you will know all the important questions and points that you need to focus on that particular topic. Do Your Research Just solving the sample papers is not enough, you should also do some research on them. So, this way he knew exactly how the question paper was going to be. You should also notice such things, they can be really very beneficial. Also, while practicing the guess papers note the different ways in which the questions are asked. Just Like The Final Exam Once you complete the syllabus, make sure that you solve at least two or three sample papers as if they are your final exam papers. It will give you the idea how much speed you should maintain in order to complete the question paper, and it will also improve your instincts to tackle an unknown problem in short time. So these are some points that you should keep in mind while practicing the sample and model papers. I am sure you can discover much more if you use your brain more effectively. Fortunately in 12th, students are given more gaps between exams as compared to other exams. Do only revision and make your points clearer. So keep yourself as far as you can from such matter. Students often burden their minds during exam times, try to relax, do some exercises if needed. How to get through the Judgement day? The final exam day is nothing less than judgment day, especially to those who are scared of the final exams. But if you have worked hard the whole year, then you need not fare, just take care of the following things: Be On your Marks First of all, you should check that you have all your stuff ready for the exam before leaving. You do not want to come back in a rush to get your admit card or something else, this will just add to your fear. Reach the exam hall well before time, and try to find your exam room and seat as soon as possible. Believe in what you have studied and in yourself. The Papers Solving Strategy Once you get the question paper read the whole paper at least once with all your focus. Draw lines on both side of the answer sheet to make your work look tidy. While answering the questions, make sure that your handwriting is clean. Do not waste time on the questions that are half known to you, you must first write the answers to the questions that you know very well and then go to the half-known questions. Do not forget to go through your answer sheet at least once, so that you can omit the error in your answers. Please feel free to comment if you have any suggestion, queries or complaints to make about this article. All the best for exams.
