He is mostly recognized for being one of the senior pastors at the largest Protestant church in America, Lakewood Church. His live sermons are streamed to an average of 20 million people on a monthly basis. Before he began preaching himself, he spent a lot of time working behind the scenes at Lakewood Church. When Joel took over, the membership of the church grew as thousands of people were keen to hear his unique thoughts on Christianity. Where does Joel Osteen live? Joel is one of the richest pastors in the United States of America, and he without a doubt takes advantage of it. Joel Osteen house is situated in Houston in a wealthy suburb known as River Oaks. The River Oaks stone property boasts loads of unique and luxurious features which span across the large mansion, including 6 bedrooms, 6 bathrooms, 5 open wood fireplaces, 3 elevators, a 1 bedroom guest house and outdoor pool and pool house. It has a huge front door that is accompanied by impressive stone pillars, and it opens into a gorgeous entranceway. The home has a large backyard which is surrounded by tall green trees that make the space a little more private. It also has a large grey concrete driveway which has space to fit probably over 20 cars! What a perfect spot for his Ferrari. Head over here to check out Joel Osteen house address! How big is Joel Osteen house? Joel Osteen house is 17, square feet and occupies a massive 1. It is secluded by a large and beautiful ornamental fence. It is certainly more of a mega-mansion than just a house. And to think only 4 people live there! Both children work alongside their parents in the ministry at Lakewood Church. Alexandra, 19, has made a name for herself on social media where she has a large following due to her solo singing performances, as well as videos performing with her band. Born on March 28th, Victoria is Texas born and bred and has lived in Houston for her entire life. She is also a religious person, and her parents instilled this way of living in her from an early age. Her father worked at a local church and Victoria would accompany him to assist with ministry work throughout her childhood, which she says she very much enjoyed. Victoria is now a co-preacher at Lakewood Church and even hosts sermons and ceremonies across the country and abroad. Like her well-to-do hubby, she is also a best-selling author. Each of the three stories features Christian values and were written to help Christian parents instill Godly properties in their little ones. Many mothers and women alike look up to Victoria as a role model in Christianity, motherhood, business, marriage and charity work. Joel and Victoria on their private jet. Joel has made his millions from his best-selling books, one of which is called Your Best Life Now, which also brought him promotional deals, additional book deals and more. Joel Osteen Controversy Joel and his family have been vocal about their lifestyle. Joel fell into media scrutiny in when his church reportedly turned away Texans who were in need of food, shelter and general care after Hurricane Harvey hit Houston. That the church supposedly was inaccessible due to severe flooding caused by the storm. However posts blasted across social media showed clear roads and a seemingly accessible, non-flooded building. Social users took no mercy on Osteen, calling him un-Christian and more. The story turned into a PR and logistical nightmare for Osteen himself and the church. Lakewood Church responded to the claims with comments that seemed to lack a great deal of empathy, causing Houstonians and Americans alike to become very upset with the church and very much with Joel himself.

Chapter 3 : Think Better, Live Better by Joel Osteen: Book Review | A Midlife Wife

Joel Osteen in his new book, "You Can, You Will" published by FaithWords gives us 8 Undeniable Qualities of a Winner. From the back cover: You are created to be a winner. Get these eight principles deep down on the inside and boldly go in the direction of your destiny.

Boy, have I been in the Spirit of Learning lately. Knowledge is Power people! The saying is true. And so I would like to share with you a book I just finished: The book focuses on 8 qualities of a Winner, The Winner in You. I really hope you get as much out of this as I did, or at least you will have about 6 months worth of Facebook statuses you can use! All over your house, you should have pictures that inspire you, scripture verses that encourage you, mementos that strengthen your faith. When you see something long enough it gets into your subconscious mind. It eventually drops down into your spirit. The Story of Abraham "God gave him a vision" The stars, which symbolize how many descendents he will have. Through waiting and maybe sometimes doubt, he had this symbol to look up to and keep encouraged. And then it came to pass. Many generations did indeed grow from Abraham. If you try to keep every person happy, the one person that will not be happy is you. There are four types of people that may be in your life: Those who Lift You "Brighten up your day, make you feel better about yourself. Those who Thrust You "Inspire you, motivate your dreams. Those who Weigh You Down "Dump their problems on you. Those who Drag You "The one always singing the sad song. Make sure your spending the majority of your times with the lifters and thrusters. Pray for the others. One definition of Hope: Happy anticipation of something good. Be careful on what you allow to play in your thoughts all day. When you forget what you should be remembering, it can keep you out of your Promised Land. In the Old Testament, God commanded His people to have certain feasts and certain celebrations. One of the main reasons was so they would remember what He had done. Life will go much better if we simply decide to be positive. Choose to be happy. Your happiness Is all about your Approach to Life. A negative attitude WILL limit your life. When you have a positive mind-set you cannot be defeated. No matter what comes your way, you shake it off and keep moving ahead. Keep your hopes up! The Story of Daniel "Daniel was a good man, but had bad circumstances. God closed the mouths of the lions! Excellence in everything "getting to work on time, the cleanliness of your household, what we wear. We all have different styles. There is no right wrong. They will stand before kings and great men. Learning is not something you do for a period of life; it is a way of life. Everyone should have a personal growth plan. Every day we should have a goal to grow. Your skills have to be developed. Every day you spend learning you are preparing for your new level. You have to be ready to step into those shoes. The Story of Joseph "He started off at the very bottom, as a slave because he was sold by his brothers. He developed his gifts, made himself valuable. You live not to receive but to give. Every time you serve God sees it. You are doing it unto God. You are never too big to serve, never too important, never too influential. It will give you a satisfaction money cant buy. We should live in amazement at what God has done. We all face difficulties. I really hope you all enjoyed this! I suggest purchasing this book and taking inventory of your life. Go through each quality, spend some time dissecting it, thinking about it and writing your thoughts down.

Chapter 4 : » 25 Powerful Joel Osteen Quotes to Encourage You

Joel Osteen offers his readers a message of hope and determination in "You Can You Will." For anyone who hasn't read - or heard of - Joel Osteen, he is a best-selling author and evangelist known for his uplifting reassurances that you are loved and protected by God.

Books Can you be as happy as Joel Osteen? Like him or not, chances are you will see the megachurch pastor turned media megastar everywhere. You can also probably finish the book in a couple of hours, as I did. You will find the content familiar if you watch Osteen regularly on TV. However, you will save yourself time and money by reading my summary below. He repeatedly insists this is not due to arrogance. You can take him at his word as I do. Otherwise, you will find yourself among his many critics. Tuning out your critics is central to success, he shares throughout. And your vision should be big. Just stay focused on your goals. Then all through the day you should have this attitude of expectancy. Expect to rise to new levels. There are new mountains to climb, new horizons to explore. If you have a good attitude now, God can change the situation. Favor and being excellent go hand in hand. Increase, promotion, and reaching your highest potential are all tied to a spirit of excellence. You have treasure on the inside – gifts, talents, and potential – put in you by the Creator of the universe. But these gifts will not automatically come out. They must be developed. Like David, God has put in you a set of special skills that will slay giant challenges, and open new doors – skills that will thrust you to new levels. You were created to make the lives of others better. Someone needs what you have. Someone needs your love. Someone needs your smile. Someone needs your encouragement and your gifts. The day you quit being excited about your future is the day you quit living. When you quit being passionate about your future, you go from living to merely existing. Whether you will be is up to you.

Chapter 5 : Thanks Be to God! by Joel Osteen | Abiding TV

There are eight undeniable qualities of a winner, according to Pastor Joel Osteen. The mega-church leader and TV host has summarized those in his newest book, 'You Can You Will.'

These are sermons that feed your soul and stir your emotions. The sermons that change your life, that stay in your mind forever. It may take your breath away as you gasp in horror and disbelief. And if you watch all the way through, it will definitely stay burned in your mind. When you get up in the morning and look in the mirror, instead of complaining, you should be saying, I am fearfully and wonderfully made, I am attractive, I am getting younger. You talk like that and God will renew your youth. This one has over three million views. He has the congregation hold up their Bibles and say a pledge together. Hold up your Bible, say it like you mean it. Today I will be taught the Word of God. I boldly confess, my mind is alert, my heart is receptive, I will never be the same, in Jesus name. Thousands of listeners say together, today I will be taught the Word of God. Unfortunately, over the next 28 minutes, that could not be further from the truth. Osteen ignores the Bible. He misuses the Bible. He ignores the Bible, he misuses the Bible, but he most certainly does not teach the Bible. There are so many problems jam-packed into this wretched little sermon that we could go on all day. First, the Gospel of Jesus Christ is distorted. After all, the apostle Paul in Galatians 1, verse 9, insists, that those who preach a different gospel are under the curse of God. That is the Gospel. So, what does Osteen teach? Just listen as he gives his main point. When you say, I am so clumsy, clumsiness comes looking for you. I am so old, wrinkles come looking for you. I am so overweight, calories come looking for you. Rather than the foundational problem with humanity being our sin, Osteen teaches that our foundational problem is one of self-esteem. Get up in the morning and invite good things into your life. When you talk like that, talent gets summoned by Almighty God, go find that person. Health, strength, abundance, discipline starts heading your way. Instead of faith in Jesus Christ being the solution for man, Osteen has different ideas. We ought to look in the mirror, we have to see our own amazingness there. And then, then we will be amazing. For Osteen, the solution is within us, rather than outside of us. The solution is in our minds rather than in our God. We do not need an awesome God for salvation, we simply need to remember that we ourselves are awesome. See, he believes that words have the power to change reality. So we need to speak the right words and then believe those words and see how the world then conforms to those words. This is why we need to keep saying, I am young, I am beautiful, I am wealthy. What we believe, we speak, and what we speak, we create. This is not the Gospel of Jesus Christ. This is not even Christianity. This is just a new variation of the law of attraction mixed up with some of the power of positive thinking and this hefty dose of prosperity theology thrown in. We have everything we need within ourselves to flourish in this life and in the life to come. The second reason the sermon is so very, very bad, is that the character of Jesus Christ is inverted. But how many people, when they wake up in the morning, look in the mirror, the first thing they say, I am so old, I am so wrinkled, I am so worn out? Do us all a favor, stop inviting that. When you get up in the morning, look in the mirror, instead of complaining, you should be saying, I am fearfully and wonderfully made, I am attractive, I am getting younger. You talk like that, and God will renew your youth. Let me ask this, what kind of a reality would a true Christian want to create? Yet, how often does Osteen encourage his people to declare, I am holy, I am godly, I am humble, I am generous? The reality he wants them to call into existence is so superficial. For another example, watch how Osteen tells his people to deal with weakness. Instead, we should remind ourselves that we are strong, we are able, we are qualified. He inverts the character of Jesus. He calls people toward worldliness and away from true Christlikeness. Why would I critique a man who says he loves Jesus? And this is the third reason this sermon is not great. The name of Jesus Christ is missing. But when you think about the content of the sermon, it actually makes sense. Despite the YouTube count, this is not a great Christian message. Even worse, it sets up health and wealth and self-centered flourishing as being so much greater than God. So Christian, let me plead with you before you listen to the latest popular speaker, think about the truth you are receiving. Does it encourage you toward worldliness or Godliness? Does it exalt man or God? Does it align with the truth of scripture? As Paul told the Romans, abhor what is evil, hold fast to what is good. And Christian preachers, let me plead with you, preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ with all of its goodness, with all of its power. Tell of the perfect life and obedience of Jesus, tell of His full payment for our sins on the cross. Tell of His death-defying resurrection and tell of the salvation that He offers to those who repent of their sins and believe in His name. Tell the people that God Himself is the greatest prize of the Gospel and please, oh please, proclaim the name of Jesus. His name is worthy of all glory and all honor and all praise. And to be sure His name is worthy of being included in your every sermon.

Chapter 6 : You Can_You Will! By: Joel Osteen | DeeLovelyDiaries

In YOU CAN, YOU WILL, Joel Osteen identifies the eight irrefutable traits and attributes of highly successful people. These personal qualities are tested through the ages and all types of circumstances.

We all have negative thoughts that come into our life and mind that can affect our entire life in so many ways. I know that I have negative thoughts that can hold me back so I was thrilled to review this new release from Joel Osteen on how to break the cycle. Your mind has incredible power over your success or failure. As a child of the Most High God, you are equipped to handle anything that comes your way. To claim your destiny, start thinking about yourself the way God does and delete the thoughts that tear down your confidence. I consider myself a pretty positive person, however there are events in my life and things that have happened that can turn on that negative stinkin thinkin. The author goes in depth with his teachings and stories relating to removing those labels that hold you back. Even from the very first chapter his words hit home with me in so many ways. I recognized words and thoughts that I did not realize I was doing to myself. What an eye opening! He goes into reprogramming your mind and removing negatively labels so that you can release your full potential in life. There are so many sections in this book that I wanted to print out and highlight so that I can remember to speak words of positivity and value in life. Joel teaches us how to remove the negative labels and relearn the positive thinking and positive outcomes due to us. This book is a wonderful motivation and it is one that I have been reading over and over. If you are stuck in a rut in your life or in your business, this is a book you need to pick up. It is one that I will be using many times over reinforcement of positive messages. Here is how to enter. This giveaway is open to US Residents age 18 or over.
