Chapter 2 : How to File a Fictitious Business Name in Los Angeles (Updated In)

For applicable Fictitious Business Name Statement filings, the Los Angeles County Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk will require proof of current existence and good standing from the California Secretary of State; no other state evidence will be accepted.

The County Clerk is responsible for determining the acceptability, not the legal sufficiency of documents presented for filing. Questions regarding the legal sufficiency of any document should be referred to an attorney. The following is a short summary of Business and Professions Code. For the complete code, click here. A fictitious business name shall be filed within 40 days of first transacting business. Once registered, it is effective for 5 years. The fictitious business name will need to be re-registered prior to the date of expiration or if there are changes to the filed statement; except the change of a residence address. Once a Fictitious Business Name Statement is filed, it must be published in an adjudicated newspaper one day per week for four consecutive weeks. Check the Fictitious Business Name index to determine if the selected name is a business name that is the same or is similar to one already on file. FBN Statement In the case of a business owned by an individual, a "fictitious business name" is any name that does not include the last name surname of the owner, or which implies additional owners such as "Company," "and Company," "and Sons," "Associates," etc. Name Publication Requirements The registrant will publish the statement once a week for four consecutive weeks in a legally adjudicated newspaper of general circulation in the county where the fictitious business name is filed. The first publication of the statement must appear in the newspaper within 30 days from the filing date or it becomes obsolete and must be refiled again with another filing fee. If the county has no newspaper of general circulation, it will be published in an adjoining county. If the registrant does not have a place of business in the state, publication will be made in Sacramento City. An affidavit of publication shall be filed with the County Clerk where the fictitious business name statement was filed within 30 days after the completion of the publication. For more details see Fictitious Business Name Publication Requirements Place of Filing The Fictitious Business Name Statement shall be filed with the clerk of the county in which the registrant has his or her principal place of business in this state or, if the registrant has no place of business in this state, with the Clerk of Sacramento County. Nothing shall preclude a person from filing a Fictitious Business Name Statement in a county other than where the principal place of business is located, as long as, the requirement as stated above are also met. Expirations Unless the statement expires earlier, a Fictitious Business Name Statement expires five years from the date it was filed in the Office of the County Clerk. Except as provided in BPC, a Fictitious Business Name Statement expires 40 days after any change in the facts set forth in the statement pursuant to BPC, except that a change in the residence address of an individual, general partner, or trustee does not cause the statement to expire. A fictitious Business Name Statement expires when the registrant files a statement of abandonment of the fictitious business name described in the statement. Abandonments Upon ceasing to transact business in this state under a fictitious business name that was filed in the previous five years, a person who has filed a Fictitious Business Name Statement shall file a statement of abandonment of use of fictitious business name. The statement shall be executed in the same manner as a Fictitious Business Name Statement and shall be filed with the county clerk of the county in which the person has filed his or her fictitious business name statement. The statement shall be published in the same manner as a fictitious business name statement and an affidavit showing its publication shall be filed with the county clerk after the completion of publication. Withdrawal of a General Partnership Any person who is a general partner in a partnership that is or has been regularly transacting business under a fictitious business name may, upon withdrawing as a general partner, file a statement of withdrawal from the partnership operating under a fictitious business name. The statement shall be executed by the person filing the statement in the same manner as a fictitious business name statement and shall be filed with the county clerk of the county where the partnership filed its Fictitious Business Name Statement.

What Is a Fictitious Business Name by William Adkins - Updated September 26, Most businesses operate under assumed names, rather than the names of the owners of the businesses. Registering a Fictitious Business Name is not an expensive procedure. If you are starting a business, the advantages of having a registered Fictitious Business Name make it a worthwhile option for you to consider. Identification A Fictitious Business Name FBN is the legal term for an assumed name which a business uses instead of the name of the owner. The use of a registered Fictitious Business Name allows individuals or businesses to use trade names without having to go to the expense of creating a separate legal entity. The rules for filing a FBA are established by each state but follow the same general model. Check with your Secretary of State Office for the specific requirements and procedures in your state. You are normally required to file a FBN if the name under which you will do business is something other than your own name if the business is an individual proprietorship. For example, a specialty restaurant chain that uses different names for individual locations will need a FBN for each name. Video of the Day Brought to you by Techwalla Brought to you by Techwalla Function To file a FBN get the necessary forms from the county clerk in the county where the business is located. You may need to have the filing recorded as well with the county recorder. In most jurisdictions you must place a notice of the filing in a local newspaper. Benefits The chief advantage to using an FBN is that you do not have the cost of setting up a separate business entity to do business under another name. You can accept checks and credit card payments using the FBN. Another benefit is that you can make good use of the FBN as a trade name for advertising, place it on letterheads and on checks. Finally, once your FBN is registered you have the exclusive right to use that particular name. Doing business under an assumed name without an FBN can leave you open to charges of fraud. Check to see when the FBN filing will expire. Usually you need to file every 5 years. Despite this, using an FBN is a relatively uncomplicated way to protect your business name. A well-chosen name can contribute to your business success. Establishing strong name recognition in your community draws in customers and promotes word-of-mouth advertising, boosting customer traffic and sales. Sam made the whole process of obtaining an EIN from beginning to end fast and painless. Thanks Sam for all you good work. His associates are much the same, always personable and of high integrity. His process was well conducted and provided critical insights. I suggest and recommend to anyone to contact him to better understand the legal issues and implications of opening a business in US. For a case I thought would take a long time, he wrapped it up very quickly. I could not ask for anything better and will go back to him again and again. Everyone said I could easily do this myself, but truthfully I was daunted by the task. One quick email to Sam and the team. Thank you so much, I can only highly recommend. Sam was prompt in ensuring we understood everything before we registered a company in USA and his careful approach helps people like me establish business with ease. He even went beyond and pointed us in the right direction to help us set the business up. We would for sure recommend him as the one stop shop for anyone wanting to open a company in the USA. I really loved the service especially because we are based in Australia and everything was so easy! He was very understanding of the issues we faced and got straight to work. He kept me updated throughout the whole process and was able to turn the work round within 4 days. His price was also quite reasonable compared to other quotes that I received. When I asked for a referral to a CPA, he was kind enough to refer me to one. I would highly recommend his services.
