If it again I will. However, the day he let me go I go to one of his older brothers or to find a loop and leave me the possibility to use multi indeed simple. The pedal comes in the form of a box that looks sturdy metal casing and solid buttons feet and a switchable volume pedal and wah wah. It is a product rather turned to live for musicians who do not have the space they deserve or small bar scene or small apartment The idea is to simulate the amps and speakers, it will go on a public address broadcast live neutral plug the mixer. There is an editor supplied with the pedal to play sounds on his search for mac or pc USB connection, connection noon on the formula of the HD UTILIZATION The use of the pedals is relatively simple, at the foot of the buttons to press to change the 4 sounds per bank and 32 banks for a total of sounds to be programmed. Editing of effects can happen to a Mac or PC once you understand how the program works and the safeguarding You can not really fully define a sound during a rehearsal or concert. Change the volume or dose saturation, equalization or reverb used is relatively simple. Change the value of delay or chorus effect is more complicated in the heat of the moment. The rest of the simulations is, I venture to speculate the same ilk. A digital tone gives the opportunity to retune between every song. The chorus is a digital digital chorus and other digital effects have defects of their qualities cold but effective I never used the loop so I will not dwell here on this feature. The adjustment effects through a step by step graduation and some purists may regret not being able to Basks values. We do covers of pop rock band and the ability to stick as close to its original, or away from it is perfect, the sound library available online after registration at the site of Line 6 is breathtaking, and gives a good indication of sound construction for groups. It is a compact and solid. In terms of money that is certainly what is the best currently out Line 6 updates the program from time to time with new amps and new settings. Musically your 5 of 5 people found this review helpful Did you find this review helpful? I think with the AC drive will become logic. I had already done a live PA without direct input simulator, and it is day and night. For the distos cons, I do not know about others but I really find it hard to find one that is ringing, and I spent time Anyway for those who want to base effects without mixtures is quite amazing enough. Also be noted that the adapter has a part that pops out to accommodate taken around the world! Editing sounds is relatively easy, although the small screen From my mac is already obvious. The manual that came with it is incomplete, it must take one on the site of line 6: I need money, and I sold the equipment that I loved, many pedals tailor shops, a small tube amp that I liked, but I did not want to deprive me of everything from stroke with sub one of my pedals a tad more I bought the HD, on the advice of a seller which in retrospect was a little kerchief of me because he told me There was no difference with the other hd on the use of effects. Having had quite a pod already, I can say that this one is above the level of modeling, undeniably. However you can use two channels of amp and effects I find x3 allowed to do things quite nice. And then I feel sorry not being able to grind all the sounds. Second point that annoys me: The looper is the most intuitive I have ever had to try I already had a digitech home , and at this price with everything else is the icing on the cake. His level, I am a success but not a "revolution. Bravo anyway Line 6. I know quite well what kind of products in this price range. And indeed, if we blunder at value for money, it is extraordinary! That, in view of all functions, very affordable and complete. If I had the under, and saw what I hoped to do, I would have taken Connectors already very full for current use. The sound editing is done either directly from the pedal, or through software on PCs. UTILIZATION Usage is relatively simple, instructions are provided in French for a first approach to the device, it does not address in detail the settings "expert" but somehow the issue is much more practice using the software, it is visual and quick. I decided to crank HD version always use at home, play quietly and connection to PC. First tests, the factory presets uninteresting and overly loaded with effects. Then create some sounds for me to make my own idea, and good surprise, a good dynamic nuances play out well on the ropes. A little crush on the Gibson , Dr. Z, and the bassman, a little disappointed by the blackface and some distos. In fact I would have preferred more choice in distos instead of some effects are difficult to place. Try to see if sound is convincing.

6 Pitch Glide This is the Line 6 Pitch Glide effect, designed to be used with the POD HD Expression Pedal. Set your heel and toe values as desired, then glide between them. Position: Manually adjusts the pedal position, allowing you to tweak the effect without actual pedal control.
