Importantly, the airport is close to Lisbon city centre and well connected by both metro and bus services. The Airport comprises of two terminal buildings; Terminal 1 which handles all arrivals and most international departures, and Terminal 2 that services all low-cost airline departures. At Lisbon Airport passport control is located after the duty-free shops. Many visitors have nearly missed their flights by spending too long in the duty-free shops and then getting caught in the long queues for passport control. For tourists wishing to shop always leave plenty of time. The low-cost airlines all depart from Terminal 2. This terminal has no direct connection to the metro or public bus routes. Terminal 2 is connected to the main Terminal 1 building by a free shuttle bus service that departs every minutes and takes around 10 minutes. If running late for a flight, it is recommended to get a taxi 5 minute journey to avoid delays. Taxis coming from Lisbon can also drop passengers off directly at Terminal 2 to save time. It is always wise to confirm the departure terminal, outlined on tickets or boarding documents, in the event of any service alterations. For a complete guide to Terminal 2 please click here. A flight on the approach to Lisbon airport Travel From Lisbon Airport Lisbon Airport is located just 6km from the city centre and is well served by public transport. The terminal 2 free bus For most visitors, the metro provides the best option as it is inexpensive, safe and has stops around the entire city. Metro services depart every minutes and the airport is reached by the Red Line. Please note that tourists looking to access the main sightseeing areas of central Lisbon will need to make onward connections with the Blue and Green Lines. For a guide to Lisbon Metro please click here. There are always lots of taxis at Lisbon airport For visitors in a hurry, taxi provides the fastest means of transport but drivers have a reputation for overcharging unsuspecting tourists. All fares should be based on the meter reading but some drivers insist on a set fare. If the driver insists on a set fee make sure this is agreed at the outset. For tourists seeking transport for distances beyond Lisbon, it is advisable to pre-book transfers as taxi journeys can get very expensive. The Aerobus provides a direct bus service to central Lisbon and, because of this, is slightly faster than the metro. The Aerobus departs from in front of the Terminal 1 arrival hall. More information about the Aerobus can be found on their website: Lisbon metro is clean, safe and relatively modern Facilities at Lisbon Airport The facilities of Lisbon Airport are quite standard for an international airport: There is free WIFI throughout the airport buildings but this is limited to 30 minutes and an email sign-up process is required. All major car rental companies service Lisbon Airport and offices are located within the Terminal 1 arrival hall. It is worth noting that the rental car park is located on the busiest road in Lisbon and drivers should be comfortable with their vehicle before exiting this area. For tourists holidaying within the Lisbon region a rental car is not necessary as public transport is inexpensive and convenient. This is located in the Terminal 1 arrival hall if urgently needed, but it is much wiser to exchange currency within the city centre for the best prices. The currency in Portugal is the Euro. The international terminal at Lisbon airport ATMs: There is a reasonably priced left luggage facility at Lisbon Airport, this is very usefully for tourists who have checked out of hotels but have late departures and do not wish to lug heavy suitcases around. The facility is near the P2 car park. Terminal 2 is much smaller than terminal 1 Duty Free: Terminal 2 also has very limited facilities in general. For a complete guide to terminal 2 please click here. Map of Lisbon airport terminal 1 Lisbon airport is the main international and domestic airport of Portugal and handles 14 million passengers a year. This means passengers can expect few departure delays and should always arrive on time.

Check out Rossio Square for one of the best.
