Planetary magick lies at the root of all astrological, alchemical, and Qabalistic lore. Although the planetary powers of the cosmos are far beyond our intervention, their correspondences in the depths of the psyche are within our reach through certain special meditative and ritual methods. The complete system of planetary magick is set forth here, and is designed for both the beginner and the established mage. This book includes 65 classic magical rites in full detail and provides the reader with a thorough understanding of the foundation of Western Magick. Over a quarter-million people are using this book to help them learn this valuable skill. If you want to learn how to project your consciousness onto the astral plane, you should use it, too. First, as the book shows, this skill is natural. You do it all the time in dreams, for example. In a sense, it is more natural than walking. It is a skill you can develop with practice. Further, it allows you to have spiritual experiences on the astral plane. Plus, what you create on the astral plane creates changes on the physical plane. This is true magick! Heal someone on the astral and they will be healed on the physical. Create opportunities on the astral and you will have them on the physical. You can even experience sex on the astral plane for one of the most dynamic experiences you will ever have. But it is not only the information in this book that makes it easy to understand and use. The very design of each chapter? The book begins by showing you what astral projection is and what it is not, what can happen and what is fantasy. As a result, you will discover that astral projection can be safe, comforting, exhilarating, and fun. Then you will learn methods of being able to let your consciousness leave your body and safely explore the astral plane. Make your dreams a reality. It was written by Melita Denning and Osborne Phillips -- authors of the high standing "Mysteria Magica" which made public high ceremonial magic techniques in Western Mystery Tradition -- who have helped to spread the name Aurum Solis, of which they were students. The author distinguish four type of OBE: It is important to note, though, that the other stages have their function in the science of magic -- for this, the reader could have aid from the above mentioned book. Their method starts by cultivation of friendliness with your lower being. In other words, self esteem. The reader has to get intimacy with this deck for the astral projection is not something mental, according to the author, astral projection has to do with emotions, therefore, non-rational movement. The next step is charging the chakras. Finally, the technique used is the Body of Light. One of the major results to be sought, whether in magical training, in meditation, or for the matter of that in psychotherapy, is to push back the misty boundaries of unconsciousness, both higher and lower. That achieved, the conscious mind is more widely able to recognise the influences which affect it, to understand them and very frequently control them, and so is able to take more intelligent responsibility in the life of the person. In this book, the keys to this process as employed in the initiatory rites of the Order Aurum Solis are revealed in detail for the first time. These ceremonies of initiation, together with inner magical techniques required for proper performance of the works, are capable of leading the aspirant from the portal of the mysteries to the heights of magical attainment. The structure and consecration of an Aurum Solis temple are likewise presented, together with details of vestments and regalia; and the major inner symbolism of the Ogdoadic Tradition of the Western Mysteries is set forth. This significant work, prepared by the Grand Master of the Order, is a full and vital revelation of the outer and inner initiatory technology of the Aurum Solis, and stands as a guide to the magical potential and the power of the Ogdoadic Tradition. This book not only teaches pure Qabalistic and Hermetic thought, but insightfully and lucidly ties in connections to Oriental, Native American, and even the often overlooked ideas of those anomalous American Transcendentalists, such as Emerson and Whitman. It helpful for understanding the structure of Qabala in relation to the Tarot

Part of the technique is to understand how this attempted manipulation works. By studying this book you will gain that knowledge. The result is that the psychological intimidation that has been used on you in the past will no longer control you. There are two types of psychic attack. The first kind is attack by a person who has not had any occult training. He or she may feel slighted or betrayed by you based on actual or imagined situations and hold on to negative emotions. Eventually, unknown to that person, the negative energy can leap out, directed at you. This book reveals that your aura is your best line of defense. growth, then read on. The "k" at the end of the word serves to distinguish it from the "magic" of nightclub acts. It is not for show. Magick is not supernatural. As Janet and Stewart Farrar, prominent Irish witches and Craft teachers, point out, "Magic k does not break the laws of Nature; when it appears to do so, that is because it is obeying laws that the observer has not yet understood. Though it is possible to establish communication with beings on other planes of reality, trying to coerce them into service is both unethical and dangerous. Magick is not based on a pact with "the Devil. Magick is not a good way to get revenge on enemies or force a former lover to return to you. Indeed, there is no "good" way to accomplish such nasty and immature things; but the penalties for misusing magick can be far greater than the consequences of these actions on the material plane. It can be learned and mastered to a great degree by anyone with self-discipline and persistence. Magick does not reside in ritual tools— amulets, magickal swords, etc. The skill and power lie always in the person, not in the tool. Magick does not generally result in spectacular "special effects" on the material plane: Dramatic physical effects are possible and occasionally occur; but most magick aims at internal growth, where results are harder to see. Even magick for material-plane ends tends to manifest in more or less quiet, gradual, natural ways. And magick is not easy to learn or to practice. It is a set of specialized tools, uniquely well-designed for inner growth and spiritual development. It can be used for more ordinary purposes, but sometimes that is like trying to pound nails with a screwdriver. But what is the goal? And what is the ultimate purpose of the work? To fulfill the self on an even higher level. To transform, uplift, and so fully develop the self that the whole Universe may benefit thereby. Gray, another well-known occultist, says: Sane, sound, healthy, and happy souls, living naturally and normally on levels of inner Life where we can be REAL people as contrasted with the poor shadow-selves we project at one another on Earth. Wiccans might say it is the work of the Goddess within: Other creatures can change their environments, but only sentient, self-aware beings can change themselves. Perhaps the cetaceans attempt this too— one day we may explore the spiritual paths and magickal traditions of the dolphins and whales. To a fuller range of possibilities, a broader spectrum of spirit. Not change to something else, but to something more. First learn to know ourselves, then we expand, stretch our hearts and minds and souls, and explore and develop new territories within ourselves. We are part of All That Is. With magick we can experience existence from the perspective of other parts, and know that we are One. We can experience at-one-ment with the in-manent Source. Perhaps this is the goal of all spiritual paths: But the quest requires us to change, and magick is an effective tool for this. The scary part is this: We cannot change back— we can only keep changing, or wither. Because we give up our old selves, any change is a "little death. It brings the "little death" which is part of rebirth. Not to change is to stagnate and die; but to willingly offer up the life we know is to find a greater Life. Yet on another level sacrifice is required— self-sacrifice, the surrender of the old persona-self. Perhaps, however, you are working by yourself, and have no contact with teachers or with teaching groups near you. Of course, it is possible to develop some skill in magick on your own, especially if you are careful, diligent, and have some past-life experience in the magickal arts. But if you work with an ethical and experienced teacher, and especially within a group, your progress will be swifter and more sure. How can you find a teacher, assuming you want to continue in magick at all? You might begin with a ritual: Here are some potential contact points: For those interested in Wicca, there is the Covenant of the Goddess Box , Berkeley CA , which can offer referrals to covens in many areas, including some outside the United States. Horeb WI U. There are many of these oriented toward Pagans and other magickal folk. In them, you may read about groups or individuals near you, especially in the classified ad or "contact" sections. Or you may want to place an ad, such as: Please contact Sue, Box xx, this city, state, zip. Every summer, in most regions of the United States and in some other countries, Pagans gather to share, network, celebrate and learn. Most of these events include workshops in which you can check out various teachers and topics, as well as rituals, the barter and sale of magickally oriented crafts, sweat lodges and more.
