It tells you about how hard different games are to play. It tells about games Patty likes to play. She was born in and saw her first airplane at the Iowa state fair at age Although she studied to be a nurse and then a social worker, she was always interested in flight. She started taking flying lessons in and then bought her first plane. Since the aircraft was bright yellow, she called it Canary. When she returned to the United States, a parade was held in her honor. She crossed the Atlantic again in , this time by herself. After this accomplishment, the U. Congress gave her a special medal called the Distinguished Flying Cross. Earhart continued to set new records, and in she decided to fly around the world. Her plan was lost over the Pacific Ocean, and Earhart was never heard from again. What is the main idea? Amelia Earhart flew around the world. Amelia Earhart was a brave woman who flew airplanes. Amelia Earhart had a yellow plane called Canary. Amelia Earhart flew from Canada to Wales. Grade 3 Main Idea Today, people know how to take care of their teeth. If someone had tooth pain, then the tooth got pulled out. Finally, people realized that they needed to clean their teeth. They just did not know the right tools to use. There was no toothpaste. So, people used lemon juice, ashes, or ground-up chalk. Sometimes, people would even clean their teeth with a mix of tobacco and honey. About years ago, someone made a minty cream to clean teeth. After a minty cream for teeth was introduced, the toothpaste tube was made to hold it. This allowed people to squeeze the paste onto their toothbrushes. During World War II, the army gave all the soldiers a toothbrush. At this time, tubes of toothpaste were made with metal. Today, they are made of soft plastic. This makes them much easier to squeeze. Now, shoppers can find many different kinds of toothpastes. People can choose different flavors and colors. There are even different types of toothpaste tubes. Which of the following supports the main idea of the second paragraph? The toothpaste tube made it easier to get the toothpaste out. Today, there are so many different kinds of toothpastes people can buy. People learned that cleaning their teeth was very important. Toothpaste did not always have a minty flavor to it. The pictures help them tell us about the weather without using so many words. Weather reporters need to know where the cold air is. They need to know where the warm air is. They have to know where it is raining and what types of clouds are in the area. Their reports need to be correct, but they also need to be short. The pictures help weather reporters get the information out in a fast way. Which sentence best describes the main idea of the paragraph? Weather reporters need to know where the cold air is Pictures help weather reporters get information out in a fast way. Grade 3 Main Idea People do not usually think about spiders when they think about endangered species. Endangered species are animals that are in danger of dying out. Spiders are small and have lots of babies. People think that this means that they cannot die out. This is not true. One endangered spider is the Kauai cave wolf spider. It is only found in a few caves on an island of Hawaii. This is one of the reasons why there are so few of these spiders. Another reason is that the female might lay as few as fifteen eggs at a time. Most female wolf spiders lay many more eggs at a time. Many other spiders are endangered for the same reason. What is the main idea of this paragraph? Many people believe that because spiders are small they cannot be endangered species. The Kauai cave wolf spider is found in only in a few caves located a on the island of Kauai. Some spiders are endangered because they do not have enough food or lay enough eggs. Unlike the Kauai cave wolf spider, most female wolf spiders lay dozens of eggs at one time. Determine the main idea of a text; recount the key details and explain how they support the main idea. Do Now 15 minutes We were learning about landforms in the science text, so I used this content to teach the skill. I displayed the main idea and supporting details graphic organizer on the document camera. I told students we were going to use it to help us find what the text is mostly about and the details that explain it. I explained that the main idea is written in the center shape and the supporting details are written on the connecting shapes. Students had their own reading guide at their desks to follow along. I displayed it on the document camera and began reading the text. I modeled reading the title and turning it into a question because good reader ask questions, just like we had studied before. Before I read the rest of the text, I explained that sometimes the first or last sentence identifies the main idea. You can also find the main idea by highlighting repeating key words. I modeled highlighting and writing the words landforms and Earth in the reading guide. I wrote this in the middle of the graphic organizer, explaining as I went along. I identified the supporting details by looking for sentences that support the main idea. I highlighted them in the text and wrote them on the organizer. I then explained the connections between the supporting details and the main idea. I used my finger to trace the connecting lines to give students a visual of the connections. I modeled reading another passage with students and they followed along. The explained why the supporting details supported the main idea by talking to their shoulder partner. I reviewed the poster with students and told them to reference is ask they worked to be sure they followed the steps. Main Idea and Supporting Details.
