Chapter 4 : W. Ian Thomas - Wikipedia

This is the quintessential Major Thomas. It is a much better summary of his teaching than even "The Saving Life of Christ", the best of the best of his writing and speaking (and I had the privilege of knowing him).

Ian Thomas September 13, 1928 – August 1, 2000, published in 1999, merely one year before his passing at the age of 71. This book was a gift from a long-time devoted Christian friend, Bernie Webb, when we began weekly meetings to encourage each other in the faith. In sharing the book with me Bernie wrote on the flyleaf: I purchase every copy I can find that I might share it with my beloved brothers IN Christ who find love, peace and joy in the mutual indwelling presence of Christ Jesus. May it be an encouragement to you as it already has been to so many others. Reading and studying through this book has enriched my Christian life immensely. The book consists of fifty short individual readings. So I restarted my reading and did exactly what was advised. Here is a sample of the kind of challenges that you will find in the book: The moon, however is lightless of itself. It shines into the darkness only by virtue of its relationship to the greater light, the sun. It has nothing of itself to offer a world in the dark; it has only the sunlight that it receives and faithfully reflects, just as we have only the light of the Lord, and nothing of our own, to offer the world of darkness around us. And another that I found to be particularly enlightening: Now, if you do something wrong, you should be sorry; but that is not real repentance. Real repentance is hilariously exciting. It is facing the facts of life, recognizing how God made you, how you were intended to function, and then being restored to that relationship of mutual inter-availability that the Lord Jesus enjoyed between Himself and the Father, a mutual inter-availability in which you are prepared to let Him be God. That is true repentance. You are in Business. In any particular situation you encounter, any particular need and responsibility that faces you, you will never let Him until you are prepared to admit that you cannot, and only God can. In growing faith, what do you need to allow the Lord to be in your life at this time? Is there an urgent sense of mission or some compelling thrust within you which makes life add up to the sheer adventure that God always intended life to be? We exchange the bankruptcy of the fallen Adam for all the fullness of the Life of Christ, and we discover the sheer adventure of allowing Jesus Christ to be God in our experience, for God He is! Are you allowing the Jesus in you, through the power of the Holy Spirit, to act on your behalf? Have you allowed God to inhabit all of your life, or are you still cordoning off portions of your life where Jesus is not allowed? They call themselves Christian for many reasons. Some claim Christianity because they admire Jesus. Some say they are Christians because they were raised in a home where their parents were Christian. Others refer to themselves as Christians because they attend a Christian church. Some say they are Christians because they believe in God. Still others call themselves Christian to fit in, to gain business, to impress others, to cover up a secret life. Others falsely think that an emotional experience or a baby baptism is enough for them to call themselves Christian. Let me help you here if you have doubts as to whether you may truly be a Christian. That is exactly what the Bible teaches! Acknowledge that sin deserves punishment. Acknowledge that Jesus took the punishment for your sins by dying on the cross. Ask Jesus to forgive you of your sins and come into your life. You can become a Christian right now. Use the process outlined above as a guide. If you need help with step 4. I recognize that I deserve punishment. I also know that Jesus died for my sins and that He was raised from the dead. I turn from self and sin and trust You to be my Savior and Lord. Take control of my life and help me to be the person that You want me to be. Save me now and save me forever. Thank You, Lord, for hearing my prayer and saving my soul. One of the clearest descriptions of that assurance can be found in 1 John 5: He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.
