He was a crucial figure in the transitional period between the Classical and Romantic eras in Western classical music, and remains one of the most respected and influential composers of all time. Born in Bonn, then in the Electorate of Cologne now in modern-day Germany, he moved to Vienna in his early twenties and settled there, studying with Joseph Haydn and quickly gaining a reputation as a virtuoso pianist. It is based on the book Shrek! After a tryout in Seattle, the original Broadway production opened in December and, after a run of over 12 months, closed in January. Paul Hindemith Paul Hindemith 16 November – 28 December was a German composer, violist, violinist, teacher, music theorist and conductor. Referred to as the King of Pop, he is the most commercially successful entertainer of all time, and one of the most influential. His contributions to music, dance and fashion, along with a much publicized personal life, made him a global figure in popular culture for over four decades. Alongside his brothers, he made his debut as lead singer and youngest member of The Jackson 5 in . He began his solo career in . He is widely credited with having transformed the music video from a promotional tool into an art form with videos for his songs such as "Billie Jean", "Beat It" and "Thriller" making him the first African American artist to amass a strong crossover following on MTV. With stage performances and music videos, Jackson popularized a number of physically complicated dance techniques, such as the robot and the moonwalk. His changing appearance was noticed from the late s onwards, with changes to his nose and to the color of his skin drawing media publicity. He was accused of child sexual abuse in though no charges were brought, and in he was tried and acquitted when the jury ruled him not guilty on all charges. He married twice, first in and again in , and brought up three children, one born to a surrogate mother. While preparing for the This Is It concert tour in , Jackson died at the age of 50 after suffering from cardiac arrest. He reportedly had been administered drugs such as propofol and lorazepam, and his death was ruled a homicide by the Los Angeles County coroner. His death triggered an outpouring of grief from around the world with his globally live broadcast memorial service attracting an audience of up to one billion people; as well as a huge surge in his album sales, resulting in him becoming the best selling artist of with sales in excess of 8. Claude Bolling Claude Bolling born 10 April , is a renowned French jazz pianist, composer, arranger, and occasional actor. He was born in Cannes, studied at the Nice Conservatory, then in Paris. A child prodigy, by age 14 he was playing jazz piano professionally, with Lionel Hampton, Roy Eldridge, and Kenny Clarke. He was a major part of the traditional jazz revival in the late s, and he became friends with Oscar Peterson. He has written music for over one hundred films, mostly French, starting with the score for a documentary about the Cannes Film Festival, and including the films Borsalino , and California Suite . Bolling is also noted for a series of "crossover" collaborations with classical musicians. His Suite for Flute and Jazz Piano Trio with Jean-Pierre Rampal, a mix of Baroque elegance with modern swing, has been a top seller for many years, and was followed up by other works in the same vein. It was particularly popular in the United States, at the top of the hit parade for two years after its release and on billboard top 40 for weeks, roughly ten years.
