

Chapter 1 : White churches on sidelines of Trayvon Martin outrage – Baptist News Global

Sanford Church would like to thank our city, Sanford, NC for showing up and joining with us during our Harvest Festival! We had a blast sharing with the city we love so much. We played games, listened to great music, heard a wonderful message and gave away candy, candy and more candy to more than people.

Before becoming a minister he was well known for being an active member of the popular southern gospel group The Dixie Melody Boys who traveled extensively throughout the country. His desire is to live the Great Commission making disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. From a very early age he knew God had called him to lead others to Christ. He is a licensed minister within the Church of God. He believes strongly that we need to pour into others in order to propel leaders forward. His passion is preaching and has a vision to bridge together people from different cultures and generations as one church. His goal is to help the worshiper respond through a transformational encounter with God utilizing music and the arts in worship services. His undergraduate work was also done at Lee University where he graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in Christian Studies with an emphasis in Church Music. Trent has 5 years of full time ministry experience and is a licensed Minister in the Church of God. She has over 20 years of ministry experience. Her personal desire is that every child would develop a firm foundation of the Gospel, come to know that their identity is found in Christ and that they were created in His image and ultimately developing a personal relationship with our Lord. No child is too young to experience the move of God in their life. She is currently pursuing a degree from Lee University in Ministry Leadership with an emphasis in Counseling. Her passion lies in seeing the next generation become great and mighty leaders that will be the driving force of change in a lost world. Her life motto is to BE the difference, BE the change. Sky longs to be an extension of Jesus in our community and do life alongside of the students. Sky and her husband, Trent, have been married since May of Her joyful tone is a warm welcome to guests as they enter the church or call the office. As a mom of three wonderful children and wife to her high school sweetheart she knows persistence, patience and prayer are the keys to finding hope and faith in her walk with the Lord. God has given her a love for His Word and a passion for discipleship. She continually pours into the lives of all that God brings her in contact with and is an inspiration to many women of all ages due to her dedication to her family, the church and God. He has served as a Sunday school teacher, musician, choir member, elder and church council member. He brings a practical, soundly biblical application to the variety of issues facing men today.

Chapter 2 : Grace Fellowship Congregational Church: Sanford, FL > Our Elders (Pastors)

Pastor Tim lamaio: On May 16th, , Tim lamaio accepted the call to become the next pastor of Grace Fellowship. Pastor Tim faithfully preached through Galatians for several months before the call and we were impressed and encouraged by his knowledge of Scripture and passion for the gospel.

Pastor Tim faithfully preached through Galatians for several months before the call and we were impressed and encouraged by his knowledge of Scripture and passion for the gospel. We encourage and support Tim in his vision for this church in reaching the neighborhood and the nations with the good news of salvation in Jesus Christ. Who I am is a sinner saved by grace, and what I believe and what I will do in ministry is a result of who I am. I could not be saved without a Savior. Without the saving blood of Jesus Christ, the providential call of the Father, and the transformative work of the Holy Spirit. I grew up in a Christian home to godly parents, but rejected the gospel and squandered the blessings of the Lord until the age of Not only was I a sinner, but loved sinning and sinned boldly. My life was a testament to my flesh. I was a club DJ and party promoter and I was an activist for secularism and self-worship. Far from home and far from God, the Lord saw fit to crumble the temple to my flesh that I built around myself. In October , all the things I trusted in and looked to for validation and security were stripped from me and I was bare and broken before God. For the first time in my life, I truly cried out for help, desiring to surrender all I held dear, repenting of my old ways, and committing my life before the feet of my Savior. The Lord had drawn me to Himself and redeemed me from the pit, and it was no longer I who lived but Christ who lived in me. For the next several years, I grew in knowledge and conviction, praying daily and earnestly for wisdom. I was becoming more confident of who I was in Christ and this was recognized by different people in different stages of my life, most notably my wife. Sherri was with me through this transition and growth and was the first to declare that I would be used by the Lord in a mighty way. I was asked to lead studies, classes, mission trips, and ministries and began to have increased opportunities for discipleship and leadership. However, more and more people spoke this into my life and confirmed my calling. I prayed that the Lord would guide me and make my calling abundantly clear. I began attending Reformed Theological Seminary in Oviedo, FL to further deepen my biblical foundation in preparation for ministry. Every door I tried to create for myself was closed, but yet God opened wide the opportunity to step into a small church and preach. Over several months, the Holy Spirit not only softened my heart to the people of Grace Fellowship and the city of Sanford, but softened the heart of my wife as well. All of my growth and failures were in preparation to lead the people of this congregation. I accepted the call of Grace Fellowship Congregational Church on May 16th, to lead and grow the congregation, with a focus on Christ-centered expository teaching and intentional discipleship. If you want to hear more about my story, would like to talk about yours, or have any questions, I would love to hear from you. From the moment he and his wife Bri joined our body he has served faithfully in many capacities. Initially coming on as a pastoral intern, Dashawn naturally discipled, helped with church organization and structure, and has become an effective teacher and preacher until it was evident to all that God had been preparing him to shepherd His people. We are blessed to have him and are amazed at the wisdom, humility and maturity God has blessed him with at a young age.
