Pretty Little Liars is a series of young adult novels by Sara calendrierdelascience.coming with 's initial novel of the same name, the series follows the lives of four girls - Spencer Hastings, Hanna Marin, Aria Montgomery and Emily Fields.

Edit Spencer Hastings An extremely competitive girl who strives for perfection in everything she does. A high-strung over-achiever, Spencer is willing to do whatever it takes to win, often to the detriment of herself and others. She is often quick to jump to conclusions and suffers from IED. When she attends a summer program at Penn to improve her GPA, she becomes addicted to Easy A, leading her to frame a friend for possession in order to get admitted to Princeton. In Ruthless, she experiences hallucinations and paranoiac while suffering from withdrawal and guilt over her actions.

Edit Hanna Marin A pretty, popular girl who struggles with both bulimia and anorexia due to insecurities about her appearance. Flighty and occasionally air-headed, Hanna often acts purely on impulse. For a short time Hanna is sent to a mental institution, her father believing her eating disorders would resurface due to stress.

Edit Aria Montgomery An artistic, independent girl whose family moved back to Rosewood after her father took a three year sabbatical in Iceland. Aria often feels out of place in Rosewood and tends to be attracted to older, more worldly men, which frequently causes conflicts for her.

Edit Emily Fields Emily is a dedicated swimmer and a shy girl with a sweet personality. She is bisexual, a fact which she takes great pains to hide until she is outed by the first "A". Although at first her parents make attempts to "de-gay" her, they eventually come to accept her. Best friends with Alison, Emily was also in love with her, which caused her great anguish and continuously affects her judgment in the present. It was revealed in Twisted that she had hidden an accidental pregnancy from her family, later giving her child up for adoption. Despite this, she received a swimming scholarship to attend UNC. Unfortunately, she never got to have the full middle school experience as her twin sister Courtney fooled their parents into taking Ali to the mental institute instead of her. When she first arrives in Rosewood Day in third grade, Alison holds commanding reign over the school, with every girl wanting to be her and every guy wanting to date her. During a Thursday afternoon in sixth grade, Ali spots a flyer for the Time Capsule Tradition, and boasts that she will have a piece flag given to her by her brother Jason. That weekend, Courtney was home from The Radley , her old mental institute that was being turned into a hotel, in order to switch to a new clinic, The Preserve at Addison-Stevens. However, Courtney spots them shortly after arguing with Ali and immediately comes out and pretends to be her sister.

She attended high school in Pennsylvania, where she currently resides. The following paragraphs are a list of her book series Pretty Little Liars, set in chronological order, along with brief summaries of each book. The series is divided into four arcs of four books each. Set in the fictional town of Rosewood, Pretty Little Liars is a book series about the lives of four pretty little girls telling some not-so-pretty lies. But nothing is as it seems, and soon things begin to get out of control for the liars. With no one to believe them and someone set out to destroy them forever, what are they going to do? Read the following list of the series to know more. She forms the crux of the plot. She knows secrets about them that could very well destroy their lives, so they have no other option but to bend to her dominating ways. The story begins with her disappearance, and then jumps ahead three years, showing how the lives of these four girls change forever. Hanna Marin Hanna Marin is a typical teenager who has severe issues with her appearance. Factor in bulimia and anorexia, and her eating issues just become a lot more serious. She is severely prone to stress eating, which is responsible for worsening her bulimia. She is often careless and impulsive, and goes along with everything Alison says or does. Emily Fields Emily Fields is a character with many facets to her personality. She falls in love with Alison, then with another friend named Maya, then with a boy named Isaac, all the while trying to figure out who she really is. The main aspect of this character is her inner battles, which cause her to do things that harm her and others. Spencer Hastings Spencer Hastings is a serious overachiever who does anything to win. She has anger issues, image issues, strives to be the best at everything, and is severely intimidated by her equally-ambitious older sister, Melissa. She is a bit cynical and is very quick to make assumptions about anything or anyone. Her constant friction with Alison shows that she is not someone who will just listen to and go along with what someone else asks her to do. Aria Montgomery This character is an independent girl who is dealing with a family crisis involving her parents, and also battling with her love life. She has an attraction to older men instead of guys her own age, which leads to additional problems in her life. Alison gets the four together and forms a clique. It shows the experiences the girls have, and also describes their relationships with each other. The story then jumps three years ahead, when the four girls are leading separate lives. Aria returns from Iceland, transformed into a sophisticated and classy lady. Hanna loses weight, and she and her best friend Mona Vanderwall become the most popular girls in school. Emily falls in love with a girl called Maya and kisses her, despite having a boyfriend. And I know everything. They suspect that it is Toby, the step-brother of their former schoolmate Jenna, who is accidentally blinded in an incident involving Alison. However, it turns out that they are wrong. She is thrown out of her house. He makes Hanna admit her eating problem and her bulimia to her parents. But can they find him before he finds them? Ezra is put under surveillance, and Sean asks Aria to leave. When Emily tries to, he discloses her kiss with Maya to the whole school. She calls the other three and asks them to meet her. But on the way there, she meets with an accident. The book ends with the girls getting a text saying, She knew too much. Unbelievable Book Four Released - May In the fourth book, Hanna is in the hospital and does not remember anything of the last two days. Emily makes a round trip to Iowa, to her conservative aunt and uncle, and back home, when her parents decide to accept her as she is. She and the other girls text Spencer, asking her to get away. But that night, somebody dies in Rosewood. Was she able to get away? But either way, the threats are still coming, and they are still real. Emily is still as confused as ever when she begins to fall for a guy named Isaac after her split with Maya. Hanna is having trouble getting along with her stepsister Kate, the daughter of the woman her father marries. Aria falls for a guy named Xavier, who meets her mom through a dating site. To save her relationship with her mother from breaking again, Aria moves in with her dad. Spencer begins having issues with her family, which lead her to believe that she may be adopted. The four think that he has killed Alison. Can the liars find out who killed Ian, before they get themselves silenced for good? Emily begins dating Isaac, who knows of her bisexuality, but accepts her for who she is. Spencer is scammed by a woman who pretends to be her birth mom and steals all her money. There is a revelation, there is a fire, and Alison returns from the dead! Can the liars trust anyone around them? Will they be able to figure out who is really involved before it is too late? Emily thinks that it was not Ali who really died, but a girl named Leah, who looked like her. Hanna, who is admitted to a clinic for her eating disorder, suspects that Iris, a girl who is also admitted there, may have known Ali and the truth behind who that girl really was. Aria visits a psychic, whose readings make her believe that Ali killed herself. How will the liars convince everyone that they are innocent? It turns out that she has been in and out of institutions for health reasons, and that she is a part of the troubled youth institution, not her brother Jason. One day, Courtney reveals her true identity! She is the real Alison, and Courtney had her sent off to the institution by pretending to be Ali. When they reach the house, they find a tied up Melissa and a dead Ian inside. Suddenly, the house catches fire. The girls escape, but Ali cannot. Her body is never found. But something happens there, something awful, and they do not want anybody to know about it. The book also shows the various problems that the girls face in their lives. Then one day, the girls turn on the news, only to realize what a horrible mistake they made. Can they salvage the situation before they get caught? Spencer frames her college roommate Kelsey, to get herself out of drug trouble. Emily and Kelsey meet and hit it off, to the dislike of Spencer. She also begins to suffer from hallucinations due to all the pressure she is under. She consequently breaks up with him. Meanwhile, Aria gets into an on-off relationship with Noel. They will never find him, he says. Stunning Book Eleven Released - June In the happening town of Rosewood, where nothing is really as it seems, and secrets run deep and dangerous, the four girls have gotten themselves into serious trouble because of their unwillingness to come clean, which keeps taking them deeper and deeper into this treacherous web of lies. A woman named Gayle turns up at Rosewood, and begins hounding the girls. Soon, Hanna, Spencer, and Aria find out that she has a rather unpleasant past with Emily, which involves a payoff and deceit. She is actually the cousin of Madison, a girl who is with Hanna when she meets with an accident. She makes friends with Hanna when all the girls are on a school cruise to the Caribbean. The second suspect is a guy named Graham, who befriends Aria. They face danger, threats, and a near-death experience. What will the liars do this time? Can they save themselves? They begin their search, more determined than before. Though she does not want to believe it, it does seem possible. He has a history with Alison; he was in love with her and would even visit her when she was institutionalized. At the same time, Spencer finds a blogger who may also know something about Alison. Hanna volunteers at the burn ward, hoping to get something out of him. But sadly, he dies before he can say anything. At the prom, Noel confesses his love for Ali, which flips Aria out, causing Noel to get a little rough with her.

That weekend, Courtney was home from The Radley, her old mental institute that was being turned into a hotel, in order to switch to a new clinic, The Preserve at Addison-Stevens. However, Courtney spots them shortly after arguing with Ali and immediately comes out and pretends to be her sister. Courtney was more popular than Ali, and Ali forced Courtney to be Ali. Fed up by this, Courtney attacked Alison because she was sick of her tormenting her. The family moved to Rosewood and Courtney was placed at The Radley, a mental institute. She occasionally came home on the weekends, but she was forced to stay in the house, as the DiLaurentis family pretended they only had two children Jason and Alison. She stayed there for about three years until the Radley was closed down. One weekend, when Courtney was switching from the Radley to the Preserve, she got into a fight with Ali and took her ring. Hanna, Aria, Emily, and Spencer wanted to steal the piece of the flag Ali bragged about for the Time Capsule competition. Courtney saw them sneaking around the yard and talked to them for a while. And her plan worked. She was now Alison DiLaurentis. Now Courtney was best friends with Emily, Aria, Spencer, and Hanna, and in one way or another, she learned all of their deepest secrets. Courtney mysteriously disappears one night at a sleepover, at the end of seventh grade.

The novel is divided into a series of four short stories, with each one focusing on the exploits of a specific girl. Spencer and her family go to Nana Hastings mansion in Florida, and Spencer falls in love with a tennis player named Colin at the country club. During the trip, Spencer and her mother also run into Mrs. Spencer also decides to fight for Colin. Spencer and Melissa decide to team up to get revenge on Colin by putting crushed Viagra in his Aminospa vitamin water right before his important tennis game. In the end, they all have a fun vacation, but Spencer worries that someone has been following her. Eventually, the elves forgive Emily after she bails them out of jail. It is revealed that A is blonde she will later be revealed as Alison as Emily sees a blonde figure run off. Hanna joins a boot camp after thinking she gained too much weight at a holiday party. She develops feelings for the instructor, Vince. She also develops a rival, Dinah, another girl who also likes Vince. After agreeing to stop chasing Vince, she celebrates by going out for drinks with Dinah, where Dinah admits she knew Alison. Hanna goes home drunk, causing her to oversleep. As she arrives at boot camp, she discovers Vince and Dinah kissing, revealing that Dinah only pretended to be friends with Hanna to have Hanna let down her guard. Hanna flees the scene, devastated, and is confronted by Kate, who, after receiving a tip-off, followed Hanna around, taking unflattering photos of her at boot camp, which she threatens to put on Facebook. Hanna counterattacks by showing Kate the pictures of her and Santa, causing Kate to back off. Some of what Dinah said may be true such as she knew Alison. Aria goes with her father and Mike to Bear Claw Resort, but leaves to go back home after finding out that Byron invited Meredith along as well. Unfortunately, his travel visa only lasts for a week. Aria proposes the idea of marrying him, and the two head off to Atlantic City to elope. At the hotel, they attend a magic show involving two panthers, which greatly angers Halbjorn, who cares a lot about the environment. After convincing Halbjorn not to release the panthers, they go back to the hotel. The next morning, Aria wakes up to find Halbjorn gone and his clothes missing as well. Upon returning to Rosewood, she is joined by Mike and Byron, who know nothing about her marriage. All of which comes true
