Chapter 60A of Mass. General Laws imposes an excise on the privilege of registering a motor vehicle or a trailer in the commonwealth of Massachusetts. The excise is levied annually on lieu of a tangible personal property tax. Non-registered vehicles, however, remain subject to the taxation as personal property. The excise is levied by the city or town where the vehicle is principally garaged and the revenues become part of the local community treasury. The Registry of Motor Vehicles prepares the data for excise bills according to the information on the motor vehicle registration and sends it to the city or town assessors. Cities and towns then prepare bills based on excise date sent by the Registry in conformity with Registry requirements. Who collects the motor vehicle excise? All bills issued after the demand are collected by the deputy collectors office. There are no special considerations for financial hardship. When is motor vehicle excise payment due? Payment of motor vehicle excise is due within 30 days from the date the excise bill is issued. A person who does not receive a bill is still liable for the excise plus any interest charges accrued. Therefore, it is important to keep the Registry and the post office informed of a current name and address so that excise bills can be delivered promptly. All owners of motor vehicles must pay an excise tax; therefore it is the responsibility of the owner to contact this office if you have not received a bill. What happens if my payment is late? Warrant notices yellow bills , Final Warrant notices green bills , and any bills Flagged at the Registry of Motor Vehicles. If the demand is not answered within 14 days, a warrant will be issued by the deputy collector. All bills should clearly state the interest and penalty charges. How does non-payment of motor vehicle excise affect license and registration? If the service warrant demanding final payment is ignored, the deputy collector may then notify the Registry of Motor Vehicles of such non-payment, including all accrued interest and penalty fees.
