Chess Sheet Music Chess is a musical with lyrics by Tim Rice and music by Björn Ulvæus and Benny Andersson, formerly of ABBA. The story involves a romantic triangle between two players in a world chess championship, and a woman who manages one and falls in love with the other.

American stage version[edit] History of the original Broadway production [edit] After the West End production, the creative team decided to reimagine the show from the top down, leading to a second major stage version of the musical intended for American audiences, with considerable differences from the British version in both plot and music. Trevor Nunn brought in playwright Richard Nelson to recreate the musical as a straightforward "book show" for Broadway audiences. Nunn brought in new, younger principals after he disqualified Paige from the role of Florence by insisting Nelson recreate the character as an American. The story changed drastically, with different settings, characters, and many different plot elements, although the basic plot remained the same. Here, in order to clarify some points, it is almost one-third dialog". Robin Wagner designed a new set, which featured mobile towers that shifted continuously throughout the show, in an attempt to give it a sense of cinematic fluidity. You have to consider what your grosses are going to be in the future". It got five nods from the Drama Desk Awards: And maybe it costs too much brainpower for the average person to follow it". Henry III wrote an exceptionally sympathetic review in Time: This is an angry, difficult, demanding and rewarding show, one that pushes the boundaries of the form" Time, 9 May His sentiments were echoed by William K. Gale in Providence Journal: Sadly, the music has been encumbered with an overwritten book and an uninspired staging Truly, this is a score to be treasured, held ransom by a questionable book and production". Benny Andersson commented in Variety on the negative Broadway reviews: I do know that most of the audiences so far stand up and cheer for everyone at the end. They appear to get emotionally involved with the show, and they really like it. In particular, in the American Chess the entire show is about one chess match, not two. Act 1 involves the first part of the match, which is held in Bangkok, Thailand, while Act 2 handles the conclusion, and is set in Budapest, Hungary. Also, the incumbent champion is switched in the American version that is, to Anatoly Sergievsky rather than Freddie Trumper as is the winner of the Sergievsky-Trumper tournament. Act 1[edit] Decades later at an international chess tournament in Bangkok, Thailand , the wild-tempered American challenger, Freddie Trumper, arrives with his second and presumed lover: At a press meeting, Freddie loses his temper with the reporters as Florence scolds them for their sensationalism "Press Conference". The current world champion, a Soviet Russian named Anatoly Sergievsky, discusses this with his second, Molokov. Afterwards, in private, Anatoly cynically reflects on how his career as world champion has been characterized by empty fame "Where I Want to Be". Anatoly apologizes for the yogurt incident and Freddie returns to the match, but only after a hefty bribe. Florence is elated to be back in her hometown, but dismayed that she remembers none of it "Heaven Help My Heart". Molokov offers to help her find her missing father and starts "investigating". Freddie, under protestations from Walter, is confident that he will win "Winning". In the deciding game of the match, Anatoly resolves to ensure that Florence is reunited with her father. He thus chooses to recant his defection and makes a tactical error during the game. Freddie immediately takes advantage of the blunder and proceeds to win the tournament, becoming the new world champion "Endgame". Florence and Anatoly reflect on the conclusion of their romance "You and I: Florence is left alone to wait for her father when she is approached by Walter, who confesses that the old man is not her father, who is most likely dead. It seems that Molokov struck a deal with Walter that if the Russians managed to get Anatoly back, they would release a captured American spy; using Florence, they succeeded. I have learned the song and think that it is absolutely beautiful, and while I do have a general understanding of the emotion behind the lyrics, it would be a great help if I could understand the song in context with the story. I have searched Wikipedia and other sites, but they have not been very much of a help. Can someone please explain the song within the context of the show? Thank you so much! In the US version, the song is given to Florence in the script. Freddie, the American chess player whom she is assisting, and her sometime lover, has just caused an international incident by accusing the Soviet player of cheating by way of receiving coded messages in cups of yogurt. He walked out of match and left her to clean up the mess, which she did by arranging a meeting in which the Soviets. Later in Act One she does leave Freddie, so this is really the beginning of that arc for her character. Her situation is a similarly ridiculous one - she has been brought to Bangkok or Budapest, or wherever, depending on version under duress purely to put emotional strain on her husband. She knows about his relationship with Florence, and also knows that her marriage to Anatoly has been over for some time now - but the two did indeed once love each other; some could argue that Svetlana indeed is still in love with him but her feelings are not reciprocated. Thu Jul 08, 2: Fri Jan 01, 6: Today during rehearsal, I was really able to connect emotionally with the song! Sun Jul 11, 9: Wed Aug 13, 3: It helps round out her character a bit more, and helps to feature her as a performer too, as she has sadly little to sing otherwise. Fri Mar 25, 5: I saw a production last year in Kansas and I think the US version does not work very well. But it would be great to let us know how you get on with it. Cheers Tue Mar 29, 9: Well hope it all went well!!!
