

Chapter 1 : Thought Provoking Christian Quotes

Thought Provoking Quotes Quotes tagged as "thought-provoking" (showing of) "A question that sometimes drives me hazy: am I or are the others crazy?".

Making it spiritually depends not on how popular or nice we are, but how much we want God to rule our life and change us. Whether it be through quirks of nature or upbringing or whatever, becoming likable is harder for some of us. What matters most, however, is not where we are now, but where we are headed. Though they may have started far behind many non-Christians, people who have opened their lives to Jesus, have commenced a spiritual journey that will end in divine moral perfection in the next life. Net Be totally devoted to Jesus. Anything less than total devotion is actually nauseating to him Revelation 3: Those who are dedicated get immensely more out of life than those who are not. This is especially true of Christianity. And do it for the Lord 1 Corinthians If you suffer because of your relationship with Jesus, you will share his glory. That glory will far outweigh any suffering you could possibly experience in this life Romans 8: In other words, those who are not prepared to suffer severe persecution for their Divine Lover will suffer for it for the whole of eternity in Hell. That is a very sobering thought. But Jesus is worth dying for. He has already suffered and died for YOU. He will give you the strength for every situation. Net We are called to be like Jesus, who kept on loving Judas, knowing from the beginning that he would betray him. We are to love like the one who did not wait until his heathen torturers showed any remorse but forgave them while they were in the very act of killing him Luke What chance have we of doing this if we cannot even show our marriage partners such love? He wants to have joint bank accounts with you so that you can enjoy his trillions and delight in them as being your own. Instead of being excited, however, you see problems. Although you could spend the trillions as if they were yours, you could never be credited with the honor of having earned them. So you have a choice: This creates a dilemma: The Lord gave us feelings and he would like us to enjoy even the nice feeling that boasting creates. When we truly understand the utter oneness that we have with Christ, boasting about his greatness and perfection will excite us even more than when we used to boast about our own puny achievements. Most spiritual honeymooners are radiant primarily because they think they have entered a blissful world of near-perfect Christians, instant answers to selfish prayers and a life forever free from pain, heartache and trials. Theirs is most likely mere puppy love, relative to the ardor moving you to tough it out. She is like the merchant ships, bringing her food from afar. She considers a field and buys it; out of her earnings she plants a vineyard. She sets about her work vigorously; her arms are strong for her tasks. She makes linen garments and sells them, and supplies the merchants with sashes. She is clothed with strength and dignity. She speaks with wisdom, and faithful instruction is on her tongue. Her children arise and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praises her: Give her the reward she has earned, and let her works bring her praise at the city gate. This is one highly capable woman! Her husband esteems her intellect, talents, economic prowess and even her physical strength. Such is his faith in her that he even lets her buy property! The mother of your children needs you to believe in her. No one has the power to shape her destiny like you have. Net To take up our cross and follow Christ sounds horrific, until we discover that following Jesus takes us not only to crucifixion but to resurrection; not only to the death of self but to a gloriously new and superior life. It is only the spiritually corrupt part of us that we are asked to let die. Once that goes we find ourselves tingling with life like never before. Jesus would reject it too. Anything Jesus is involved in is vibrant, liberating, compassionate, powerful and supernatural. Net If we really think the one we can never hide from and who has the power to torment us for all eternity is cruel or heartless, why would we risk the fury of the Omnipotent One by raging against him? That he lets us get away with this shows that God is extraordinarily loving and patient. Astoundingly, it is this mind-blowing love and patience that not only lets us rage but is the reason for our rage. We foolishly want God to execute instant justice without stopping to realize that instant justice would have sent us to hell. Ironically, what infuriates us about God is the very thing we should be most grateful for. Net One of the most powerful forces pushing humanity forward is that good fathers fearlessly and valiantly strive not only to achieve but for their own achievements to be eclipsed by those of their children. They passionately want their children to end up better educated and more prosperous and successful than they themselves were. This is the glory of fatherhood and highlights the selfless courage of genuine love. And any way in which she surpasses you will make you proud. Either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and Money. Without exception, all of us end up being ruled by whatever we most love. What matters is not what we SAY we most love but what we really love most. Unless our greatest love is the eternal Lord of glory, who alone is all-powerful and perfect in goodness and wisdom and self-sacrificing love, what we serve is inferior, with the result that our efforts are not just wasted on the inferior but our whole lives end up inferior. And since only God is eternal, any efforts not devoted to him end up squandered on things that are decaying. This, and only this, is what your loving Lord wants to die, so that a new you can burst onto the scene. Like and through Jesus risen from the dead, the new you will be a person brimming with life; glowing with purity, honor and a thrilling future. Trying to suppress such inner turmoil, and refusing to face it, is a significant enemy to peace because it is denying ourselves and God the chance of ever resolving it. Just as we cannot expect divine forgiveness while trying to suppress the extent of our sin, so living in divine peace necessitates courageous honesty with ourselves and with God about everything that is troubling us. This applies whether the source of our unease is grounded in the present or the distant past. For more see Virtual Library Net-Burst. We squander our peace by struggling with him, rather than snuggling into him and pampering ourselves in the wondrous reality that he is even more on our side than we are. He is a better friend to us than we are to ourselves; loving and forgiving and believing in us more than we do. He weeps for us, making our pain his pain, understanding us better than we understand ourselves and having our highest interest more at heart than we do. If only we spent less time fighting our greatest Friend and more time luxuriating in faith-filled thanks to the most wonderful Person in the universe, our minds would rest in far more peace, far more comfort and far more contentment and fulfillment. Instead, we get frustrated with God, not understanding his heart and the perfection of his timing. We might even take our ignorance to the scandalous extreme of falsely blaming the Perfect One. Net The world says love yourself, Jesus says deny yourself. Jesus and the entire Bible poured much effort into expounding this concept, but few people grasp what Jesus longs for us to know because it sounds so dreary, even scary, that we are loathe to investigate it. And it is only those who seek, who find. Only if we delve deeply into this truth, will we ever discover how exciting it is. Net God alone thoroughly understands us and has answers to the most complex matters we could ever face. In theory, we need only God. In practice, however, the Lord has purposely arranged it so that we need the help of other people. As he says of fellow Christians: From early childhood, men, in particular, are trained to pride themselves in their independence and to treat asking for help as humiliating weakness. Countering this brainwashing is not easy, but renewing our mind and dying to self needs to include an extensive revision of such worldly thinking. Net Study the Psalms until they become your emotional roadmap. The inspired poets typically worked through their issues until reaching the pinnacle of praise, but to get there they were fiercely honest in confronting raw emotion and inner turmoil. For example, Psalm 13 ends with: But it starts with: Will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me? How long must I wrestle with my thoughts and every day have sorrow in my heart? How long will my enemy triumph over me? Net My rough count reveals at least 89 instances in the Bible when God either directly or through a divinely inspired spokesperson such as an angel or prophet told people not to be afraid. You have probably met this so often in your Bible reading that you find it unremarkable. So let me pose this question: What makes it interesting is that, unlike the trifling amount of cash, a check requires faith in the person who signed it. Net The fearsome Lord of righteousness is the eternal enforcer of moral perfection and the executer of justice. As the ultimate owner of everything we have ever misused and the zealous defender and passionate lover of every person we have ever cheated, exploited, lusted after, lied to, gossiped about, resented, been jealous of, felt superior to, or have mistreated in any other way, the Holy Lord should be our resolute enemy and source of torment for all eternity. Instead, the Pure One took all our moral filth upon himself and the Innocent One assumed full blame for all our atrocious offenses. This is so staggering that the human mind has no hope of comprehending the enormity of what he did for us.

Chapter 2 : The Big List of Motivational and Thought-Provoking Quotes | HuffPost

These would make great inspirational quotes for students or inspirational quotes for teens. These are basically our favorite cute inspirational quotes. We feel like these quotes would be inspirational for running or inspirational quotes for college students, or even inspirational sales quotes.

Comfort and Growth are bitter enemies. There is a sense of adventure when under pressure. Always give in a way which will create impact. Channelize your stress to rewarding activities. Spend time to Think, Reflect, Introspect and then choose. Who do you see? The person straight ahead is the one in charge of your life. Continue on in your journey. The buck stops with you and you alone. If you want to make your life better, you must take the reins and ride like your life depends on it; truly a better life does. Twenty-four brand new hours are before me. I vow to live fully in each moment and to look at all beings with eyes of compassion. Got to believe in it. October 14, " We achieve daily, a number of daily activities are what makes Success; one step at a time but giving your all in every one of them. Surely the required results will be determined by what or how you do daily. October 7, " Never underestimate your importance at the bottom of the totem pole. Without the bottom, the top would fall over. October 7, " The things you think are the disasters in your life are not the disasters really. Almost anything can be turned around: It brings me back to where I was at one time in my life. I felt defeated, but I overcame and grew stronger. September 30, " Happiness is a shadow. If you chase it, it moves further away. But if you turn to make others happy, it will follow you. Make others Happy and be Happy. Believe in something or fall for anything. Stay true to you and what you want out of life and you shall then receive. September 23, " Chase the meaningful by suffering the uncomfortable. Suffer the meaningless by chasing the comfortable. September 23, " Some of us make ourselves prisoners by wearing shackles that we put on ourselves, in the name of protection and fear. But you have to release yourselves so you can move around. Maloney Hunter-Lowe Virginia September 16, " When you walk, walk with your head up and your back straight. You never know who is watching. And if you cannot work with love but only with distaste, it is better that you should leave your work and sit at the gate of the temple and take alms of those who work with joy. Every single second counts against us or in our favor depending on the kind of life we are living. September 11, " Do you want to make your Life exciting? Then find a purpose that will make you jump out of bed each day with Enthusiasm, Power and Excitement. The best way to deal with these situations is to live those moments without any negative thought. Time will pass and everything will change. They are living a different life than you are. What might be good for one person may not be good for another. Allow people to make their own mistakes or their own decisions. Next time, before judging someone else, judge your own character and how you are approaching that person.

Chapter 3 : Thoughts Provoking Quotes About Life - calendrierdelascience.com

Here is a collection of quotes that we found to be quite insightful, straight up honest and or encourages you to think a little deeper than you usually would. Enjoy these interesting thought provoking picture quotes and the new perspective you can gain from them. I am the the Founder of.

Inspirational quotes and motivational sayings have an amazing ability to change the way we feel about life. This is why I find them so interesting and crucial on our paths to success. You see, the way you think and feel about yourself, including your beliefs and expectations about what is possible for you, determines everything that happens to you. When you change the quality of your thinking, you change the quality of your life, sometimes instantly. Your thoughts and feelings determine your actions and determine the results you get. It all starts with your thoughts – and I have found that inspirational words are a quick way to retune your thinking. If you are looking for another way to stay motivated in life, be sure to download my free guide to staying motivated during tough times. Here are my favorite inspirational quotes about life: Click here to tweet this quote. The optimist sees opportunity in every difficulty. Click here to tweet this. It will empower and motivate you to take action, create success, and enjoy life – no matter how tough it gets. The vision pulls you. Wishing is not enough; we must do. It reminds us to apply what we learn and take action toward success, rather than waiting and hoping. Start with a clear vision of your ideal life and happiness, then work backward to achieve it. We overcome them by action. Henry Link I love this pairing of quotation and image below. Before we act, our imaginations often run wild, but when we move forward we often find the path ahead far less daunting than the horrifying version we had created in our minds. He is still one of the wealthiest figures of the modern period. Life is either a daring adventure or nothing. I love her adventurous spirit and all or nothing attitude! You can still change the thoughts of others by changing your thoughts about yourself. In just five words, he captured the essence of his intellectual philosophy and inspired others to embrace the creative process. The wisdom he left behind implies that will power and dedication are just as important as ability. Again, alluding to the concept that success is formed in the mind before it is manifested in reality. A true optimist, he believed in the value of always giving it your all, no matter what you have or where you are. Say thank you to everyone you meet for everything they do for you. Act as if you had all the confidence you require until it becomes your reality. Get good, get better, be the best! Remember that true leadership is about striving to become better in all areas of life and empowering everyone around you to become the best versions of themselves. If you find them to be particularly motivating, please share this post with your friends. Always keep your word. What are your goals? Followers think and talk about the problems. No one else can do it for you. They look upon setbacks as learning experiences. Manage others the way you would like to be managed. They consider all consequences of their behaviors before they act. Be polite to everyone. How much people respect you determines how well they perform. They focus on getting the job done. I wish you a wonderful year and hope you can look to these inspirational words whenever you need a boost so you may confidently crush any challenges or goals that you set for yourself. They hold within them one of the greatest keys to success. You can also share your favorites on Facebook or send them to a friend who can use the encouragement. Would you like more quotes like these? In it, I will empower and encourage you to take action, create success, and enjoy life by using some of my favorite words of wisdom. Read one every day for 30 days or during times of negative thinking to completely change the way you see the world around you. Get a quick dose of motivation to live a positive, uplifting, and successful life now!

Chapter 4 : calendrierdelascience.com : Inspirational and Thought Provoking Quotes

"THOUGHT PROVOKING QUOTES" October 28, " Pressure can lead to focus, leading to fantastic results. Comfort and Growth are bitter enemies. Learning from mistakes is a champion's way.

Whether you are vegan now or thinking about transitioning, these quotes are thought-provoking and powerful. Enjoy, and please feel free to add to this list in the comments! For more vegan quotes, see part 2 here! It is a joy. They are never wicked. To get blood off your hands, go vegan. I respect the environment and I do my best to spread the importance of such an issue. They are not even considered at all. They are commodities like TV sets and cell phones. We have actually turned animals into inanimate objects – sandwiches and shoes. A few to change many. Many to change the world. In fact, when I was a kid I would have a really difficult time eating meat at all. And that makes me feel good. Eating for me is how you proclaim your beliefs three times a day. That is why all religions have rules about eating. Three times a day, I remind myself that I value life and do not want to cause pain to or kill other living beings. That is why I eat the way I do. It is a bloody, barbaric story. Do it for the animals. Do it for the environment and for the sake of your own health. They were not made for humans any more than blacks were made for whites, or women for men. All other animals stop drinking milk altogether after weaning. It is unnatural for a dog to nurse from a mother giraffe; it is just as unnatural for a human being to drink the milk of a cow. When diet is correct, medicine is of no need. A big fucking mouth. My voice is for them. I am changing the things I cannot accept. Then when you know better, do better. It is about doing the least harm and the most good. It follows the simple principle that if animals feel pain, joy and fear, they should be protected from suffering. It changed my life in a number of ways. Soul food means to feed the soul. And to me, your soul is your intent. If your intent is pure, you are pure. I feel good about it every time I eat a meal. It makes me feel really good and bright.

Chapter 5 : 39 Powerful Thought Provoking and Inspiring Questions. © peterpilt

Thank you for these beautiful, inspiring, and thought provoking quotes. You were right, quotes that will change the way you think. I have shared with others and I appreciate you for compiling them.

It can be from someone who you would not expect at all, as you will see by some of the quotes below. Sometimes there are many that strike a chord with you. One of the simplest and most inspiring things you can do for yourself is to keep an open mind of the source, write it down, and keep it somewhere that it can be seen often. I carry mine with me in a planner each day so that they are always at hand. I add to my list every time I hear something that really strikes a chord. What a simple way to give yourself that boost you need, exactly when you need it. I hope some of these resonate with you a well! Watts 2 "Not all those who wander are lost. Tolkein 3 "There is no substitute for hard work. The optimist invents the airplane, and the pessimist the parachute. What matters is if I learn from my mistakes. The world owes you nothing. It was here first. Happiness is wanting what you get. This is to have succeeded. Every sinner has a future. I am always satisfied with the best. Most people exist, that is all. I am what I choose to become. What you think, you become. It only means you are no longer willing to be the victim. Leave the situation, change the situation, or accept it. All else is madness. Love is absence of judgement. Only if you believe it is. I want to be all used up when I die.

Chapter 6 : Inspirational + Truthful Vegan Quotes | The Friendly Fig

General Colin Powell: Don't be buffaloed by experts and elites. Experts often possess more data than judgment. Elites can become so inbred that they produce hemophiliacs who bleed to death as soon as they are nicked by the real world.

Henry Ford The will to win means nothing without the will to prepare. Juma Ikangaa, Tanzanian marathoner Learn one way; react. Learn many ways; understand. Sam Walton Outsiders have the intuitive ability to continually view problems in fresh ways and to identify ineffective practices and traditions. John Kotter, Harvard Business School professor and best selling author Even when experts all agree, they may be mistaken. Bertrand Russell Use your head, and save your feet. W Carr Dialect of Craven When the only tool you have is a hammer, you tend to view everything as a nail. Abraham Maslow All truth passes through three stages. First, it is ridiculed. Second, it is violently opposed. Third, it is accepted as being self-evident. Arthur Schopenhauer, philosopher Nothing is so dangerous to the progress of the human mind than to assume that our views of science are ultimate, that there are no mysteries in nature, that our triumphs are complete and that there are no new worlds to conquer. Any fool can make something complex, It takes a genius to make something simple. Richard Branson Knowing is not enough, we must apply. Willing is not enough, we must do. The less effort, the faster and more powerful you will be. Notice that the stiffest tree is most easily cracked, while the bamboo or willow survives by bending with the wind. If you are out to describe the truth, leave elegance to the tailor. Nothing happens until something moves. Life is like riding a bicycle. To keep your balance, you must keep moving. Common sense is the collection of prejudices acquired by age The greatest ideas are often met with violent opposition from mediocre minds. Make everything as simple as possible, but not simpler. You do not really understand something unless you can explain it to your grandmother. There is nothing that is more certain sign of insanity than to do the same thing over and over and expect the results to be different. Not everything that can be counted counts, and not everything that counts can be counted. The right to search for the truth implies also a duty one must not conceal any part of what one has recognized to be true. Experts often possess more data than judgment. Elites can become so inbred that they produce hemophiliacs who bleed to death as soon as they are nicked by the real world. Learn from the pros, observe them, seek them out as mentors and partners. But remember that even the pros may have leveled out in terms of their learning and skills. Sometimes even the pros can become complacent and lazy. The day soldiers stop bringing you their problems is the day you have stopped leading them. They have either lost confidence that you can help them or concluded that you do not care. Either case is a failure of leadership. Theodore Roosevelt Nobody cares how much you know, until they know how much you care. Do what you can, with what you have, where you are. The only man who never makes mistakes is the man who never does anything. It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat. To weep is to risk appearing sentimental. To reach out for another is to risk involvement. To expose feelings is to risk exposing your true self. To place your ideas, your dreams before the crowd is to risk their loss. To love is to risk not being loved in return. To live is to risk dying. To hope is to risk despair. To try is to risk failure. But risks must be taken, because the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing. The person who risks nothing, does nothing, has nothing and is nothing. He may avoid suffering and sorrow, but he simply cannot learn, feel, change, grow, live -- live. Chained by his certitudes, he is a slave, he has forfeited freedom. Unknown Authors Ask advice, but use your own common sense. A coach can only inspire their athletes, motivation comes from within.

27 Deep & Thought Provoking Spiritual Quotes. A collection from different spiritual ideologies, writings and inspirational figures. - "It is not the world but attachment to it which is the root of all misery."

Your strengths, or your weaknesses? The best that might happen, or the worst that might come to be? In your quiet moments, pay attention to your thoughts. Because maybe, just maybe, the only thing that needs to shift in order for you to experience more happiness, more love, and more vitality, is your way of thinking. Here are 60 thought-provoking quotes and life lessons gathered from our book and our blog archive that will help you adjust your way of thinking. You cannot change what you refuse to confront. Sometimes good things fall apart so better things can fall together. Sometimes you need to distance yourself to see things clearly. Read Rich Dad, Poor Dad. If a person wants to be a part of your life, they will make an obvious effort to do so. Think twice before reserving a space in your heart for people who do not make an effort to stay. Making one person smile can change the world – maybe not the whole world, but their world. The most painful thing is losing yourself in the process of loving someone too much, and forgetting that you are special too. As we grow up, we realize it becomes less important to have more friends and more important to have real ones. Making a hundred friends is not a miracle. The miracle is to make a single friend who will stand by your side even when hundreds are against you. Falling in love is not a choice. To stay in love is. Never do something permanently foolish just because you are temporarily upset. When you stop chasing the wrong things you give the right things a chance to catch you. Every single thing that has ever happened in your life is preparing you for a moment that is yet to come. True nobility is in being superior to the person you once were. Trying to be someone else is a waste of the person you are. You will never become who you want to be if you keep blaming everyone else for who you are now. People are more what they hide than what they show. Being alone does not mean you are lonely, and being lonely does not mean you are alone. Love is not about sex, going on fancy dates, or showing off. Anyone can come into your life and say how much they love you. It takes someone really special to stay in your life and show how much they love you. Burn the candles, use the nice sheets, wear the fancy lingerie. Love and appreciate your parents. We are often so busy growing up, we forget they are also growing old. Learn to love yourself first, instead of loving the idea of other people loving you. Happiness is a choice. No matter how good or bad you have it, wake up each day thankful for your life. Someone somewhere else is desperately fighting for theirs. The smallest act of kindness is worth more than the grandest intention. Many people are so poor because the only thing they have is money. Learn to appreciate the things you have before time forces you appreciate the things you once had. When you choose to see the good in others, you end up finding the good in yourself. You drown by staying there. Most people depend on others to gain happiness, but the truth is, it always comes from within. If you tell the truth, it becomes a part of your past. If you lie, it becomes a part of your future. What you do every day matters more than what you do every once in a while. Read The Power of Habit. Things turn out best for people who make the best out of the way things turn out.

Chapter 8 : 20 Thought-Provoking Quotes about Death | calendrierdelascience.com

31st to 40th Thought Provoking Quotes "Be daring, be different, be impractical, be anything that will assert integrity of purpose and imaginative vision against the play-it-safers, the creatures of the commonplace, the slaves of the ordinary."

Sometimes the questions are complicated and the answers are simple. The soul of piety was killed long ago by that idea of reward He does not require to stop and taste it; he can be about the rugged and bitter business where his heart lies; and yet he can tell himself this fairy tale of an eternal tea-party, and enjoy the notion that he is both himself and something else; and that his friends will yet meet him, all ironed out and emasculate, and still be lovableâ€”as if love did not live in the faults of the beloved only, and draw its breath in an unbroken round of forgiveness! Merwin The human mind is inspired enough when it comes to inventing horrors; it is when it tries to invent a Heaven that it shows itself cloddish. Discovering the Buddhist Path of Attention We become aware of the void as we fill it. Yeats Almost every wise saying has an opposite one, no less wise, to balance it. But the opposite of a profound truth may well be another profound truth. I am doing it myself at this very moment. The hardest thing to hide is something that is not there. Merwin There are things I have wanted so long that I would only consent to have them if I could keep wanting them. Fischer â€” Our sweetest hopes rise blooming. And then again are gone, They bloom and fade alternate, And so it goes rolling on. I know it, and it troubles My life, my love, my rest, My heart is wise and witty, And it bleeds within my breast. Leland was the chief introducer of Heine to the English-speaking audience, especially America. Merwin The road was new to me, as roads always are going back. We are finding that we must learn a great deal more about "and. A cry in the night from a man buried alive No poet ever had such a lucky change before The wrecks in the Morgue, what tales they could tell! But dead men tell no tales. But Iâ€”I aloneâ€”have dodged the Fates. I am the dead-alive, the living dead. I hover over my racked body like a ghost, and exist in an interregnum. And so I am the first mortal in a position to demand an explanation. Most sins are sins of classification by bigots and poor thinkers. Who can live without sinning, or sin without living? All very well for Kant to say: But if you happen to be one of those fellows to whom all the roses nod and all the stars wink They are conflicts between two rights. Merwin We are spirits clad in veils. Cranch In the circle of life there is no top, no corner, and no straight lines. Merwin If a man will begin with certainties, he shall end in doubts, but if he will content to begin with doubts, he shall end in certainties. They are nothing of the sort. What the world turns to, when it is cured on one error, is usually simply another error, and maybe one worse than the first one. Mencken The future influences the present just as much as the past. Pirsig A stumble may prevent a fall. Seek what they sought. Last modified Oct 19 Thu

Chapter 9 : Philosophical Quotes, Thought-Provoking Sayings

The approach to spiritual progress isn't one of "getting somewhere," as there is no "where" to get. Instead, you're guided to transcend your ego and shed all illusions so that Truth stands revealed.

He who rejects change is the architect of decay. Paul Getty Future shock is the shattering stress and disorientation that we induce in individuals by subjecting them to too much change in too short a time. Harris When it becomes more difficult to suffer than to change Wells Resistance to the organized mass can be effected only by the man who is as well organized in his individuality as the mass itself. Not to discipline, I learned that. I like to think for myself. And I like to cause trouble. Laing The difficult journey from change resistance to change acceptance. The first step toward change is awareness. The second step is acceptance. Finding that balance is tricky for every politician. It clears out the old to make way for the new. We are to learn about fear, not how to escape from it. Change Management Strategy Insight into strategies for change. It may be hard for an egg to turn into a bird: Lewis All change is not growth, as all movement is not forward. And those who look only to the past or present are certain to miss the future. It is the one that is the most adaptable to change. A culture that innovates. One change always leaves the way open for the establishment of others.