

Chapter 1 : Strangers in Death - Las Vegas-Clark County Library District - OverDrive

Strangers in Death by calendrierdelascience.com is the 26th book in the In Death series. Eve investigates the murder of a prominent sports tycoon in what appears to be a sex crime. The title of the book gives away the solution but does not detract from the enjoyment of it.

A fifth matching rope was wrapped around his throat. Peabody arrives and verifies the times of death as 3: There are no signs of forced entry or burglary. Eve notices that the lack of discarded clothes could mean that the killer entered after Anders was asleep. They interview Greta Horowitz who gives them her background and informs them of her schedule. She recounts that the victim was a very private person. That is why when she noticed that the bedroom door was open, she was alarmed. On finding the body, she called and then contacted Mrs Anders. She says that the relationship between her employers was "very content Ava Anders arrives just then. She had been on an annual trip with some female friends to St Lucia. They are directed to the 21st and 22nd floors where Anders Worldwide is situated. She runs the case by him and gets his impression on the Anders. Eve promises to take a look at the file. Eve calms him down, questions him. Eve detours to the Anders house on her way home. Home " she has her usual spar with Summerset. Eve discusses the case with Roarke over dinner; they decide to split the financials " she takes Ben, he Ava. Roarke finds that Ava has been paying Charles Monroe regular bimonthly payments for the last 18 months. On their way home, they both agree that Charles had been behaving differently. They discuss marriage and love, have sex, fall asleep. Day 2 Wednesday, 19th March, Edit Eve brings Peabody up to date about everything she and Roarke found the night before. Roarke agrees to take a further look at the financials; Eve and Peabody leave the house. Rather than ruin their marriage, they decided to use professionals for that purpose. She gives her consent for Charles to talk to them. Eve admits to Mira that she likes Ava for this murder but has no evidence. Dallas swings by EDD to discuss the case with Feeney but finds him very ill. She persuades him to go home and gets a uniform to escort him. Ben Forrest comes to see her, ask her for an update. Lucia and is frustrated to find that Ava has a perfect alibi. On her way back to her office she is hailed by Tiko , who offers her a tip in exchange for a drink. He takes her to a shop near Times Square where a pickpocket appears to be dropping of his loot. After getting him, Eve drops Tiko off at his house and speaks to his granny about a reward. Over dinner she discusses her suspicions about Ava with Roarke and gets him to check if her voice matches with that in the conversation with Greta. Day 3 Thursday, 20th March, Edit Over breakfast, Eve and Roarke discuss the possibility that Ava had involved her two friends in the murder of her husband. Eve and Peabody decide to have another talk with Leopold Walsh , who tells them that he found Ava cold, petty, ruthless and deliberate. They recount how Anders and Ava met. Luce claims that Ava was never interested in the company and its workings. He says they separated because he strayed; also tells Eve that Ava was ambitious and looking for money, fame and respect. Eve pays Greta Horowitz a visit, who tells her that Ava was generally happier when Thomas Anders was away on a trip. She feels uncomfortable with Ava Anders now, and has already started looking for another job. At the memorial Eve speaks with Ben and lets Ava know that she understands her game. She is cornered by Karla Blaze Tibble , who knows Ava through some charity work they did together. She describes Ava as a master at organization. She then begins to go through the pile of projects that Ava worked on throughout her career at Anders Worldwide. She discusses her theory that maybe Ava got one of the employees or one of the mothers involved in her sports camps to kill Anders with Dr Mira. At home, she takes an hour for a swim and pool sex. Charles takes Louise to the house he has just bought for them. He asks her to marry him; she accepts. Eve gets a hit: Charles and Louise drop by to announce their engagement; Roarke offers them the use of the gardens where Eve and he were married for their wedding. Eve puts in another couple of hours going through the lists before Roarke carries her off to bed. Bebe tells her about how her husband was killed, and that the Anders scholarship combined with the work she puts in will ensure that her boys have a better life than she has had. When Eve accuses her of killing Anders, she demands that they leave. They follow Bebe to work and then get two uniforms to continue following her. She contacts EDD, finds a healthier Feeney back at work, gives the pill dispenser to him and asks him if to see if Ava had changed the pills in it. When she gets back to her office, Benedict Forrest is waiting for her. He promises to make a list for Eve. Bebe Petrelli comes to talk to Eve. Ava had told Bebe that her husband was sexually abusing her and was threatening to stop the programs and the scholarships. The only way he could be stopped was if he were to die. After that Ava avoided Bebe completely. After dinner they decide to divide the names of parents that had worked for Ava, all on the list that Walsh had composed. Roarke connects it to the Strangers On A Train concept. Eve schedules a meeting with her team for the next day. Eve and Roarke make love. She delegates jobs to her team, while she heads to question Suzanne with Baxter. They get her into Central for an interview. Suzanne tells them that at a retreat for mothers, Ava had told her about how abused she was. Ava reminded her that her part of the deal remained. Suzanne recounts how she carried out the murder and Eve takes her through it step by step again, looking for details. Roarke finds the man from whom Ava bought the remote for the security system. From Greta Eve gets confirmation the Ava owns several wigs, including a red one that she may have used while killing Ned, for an annual costume party. Eve sends Troy Trueheart to get Ava into Central. In interview Eve shows her the wig and asks her about Ned Custer. Ava claims that she led Ned to the hotel room and then left him there with Suzanne, who was going to confront him. Eve continues to show Ava the evidence, accuses her of killing her father in-law until Ava begins to claim that Suzanne was blackmailing her. Then the story changes until Ava claims that Ned was going to rape her and she killed him in self defense. When she finally realizes that she is truly trapped, Ava asks for a lawyer. She attacks Eve, who takes the initial nail swipe and then retaliates with a shot that renders Ava unconscious. Baxter agrees to book Ava. Eve goes to her office to file her report where Roarke treats her wound.
