superfast boats ultimate speed ultimate responsibility for the boat program and its related activities. 2. Other Members. 2 Shall review and revise the boating.

We build high performance powerboats and offshore race boats. Our customers use these boats for poker runs, waterskiing, fishing, and offshore racing. Be it an outboard boat or a stern drive boat, these boats sport the best performance and speeds in the boat building industry. Feel free to contact any of our customers via their linked E-mail addresses. This boat is totally customized with a windscreen, custom graphics and custom upholstery. Murray also happens to be our Canadian dealer. The boat is rigged with a hp EFI outboard and has a top speed of 70 mph. The console was designed with a center-throttle setup, just like a race boat, and the swept-back center console was designed to improve top speed. It is a sit-down boat, as opposed to a fish-box seat, which keeps the riders in place at high speeds. Her husband gave this to her as a sixth anniversary gift. According to its owner, the boat reaches a top speed of 73 mph. It easily takes on boats five feet longer in four- to five-foot seas. The rough water handling and speeds of this hull are truly amazing. I hit 73 mph with a Merc and a 26" prop. Our main focus was to produce and event that was racer, manufacturer and spectator friendly," said Toni Potthoff, president For further information, call We simply stabbed the throttle and let the bottom take over. It did not disappoint The real measure of this new offering is performance in its intended environment-less-than-hospitable seas. It is precisely in this element that the Superboat roared into its own, its pronounced deep-vee cutting the waves and offering up one of the best rides in the genre. The quality of the fiberglass and the structural workmanship shined during our high-speed, high-water stint, with the hull and deck exhibiting the solid rigidity required for sustained duty under these conditions. The boat is rigged with a ProMax outboard, and the top speed is unknown. This is one fast boat. The year old owner of Superboats Inc. But Coen has been smart enough to keep up with current technology and construction techniques It was the right mix of nostalgic appeal and modern technology One reason the boa handled the chop so well was its straight forward degree deep-V bottom design In addition to its superior ride in bay chop, the Superboat 24 retains its popularity because of its freeboard. Translated, the boat is tall for its length. Over nighting is a breeze. Running in waters for which it was intended, the 34 behaves perfectly in head-on and following seas The boat breezes through slalom turns at 30, 40, and 50 mph and left turns at speeds above 50 mph are great When it comes to performance, Superboat lives up to its name offering outstanding handling and mannerisms for a large outboard powered V-bottom. The boat is equipped with all stainless hardware, braided lines, In-Control throttle and steering, stainless water drainage tubes and custom-made ski tow bar. Andrade says the boat zips along at 80 mph and serves as a great ski boat for the family and a primo hot rod for himself. She has a velvet drive tranny and a stern power drive. The boat recently went 81 mph without using the k-planes. With over 23 years of experience, a catalog of more than 40, photographs, and a video library in excess of volumes, it is no wonder that Freeze Frame Video is a household name amongst offshore enthusiasts. He adds to this collection, Year End Reviews, The-Best-Of, and custom race tapes that he edits for race team sponsor promotional packages. Coen was racing his world famous foot Superboat at the time, and Jeff would accompany him to all of the races. Because Jeff was an amateur photographer for many years prior, he decided to shoot stills of the race boats. Jeff continued to shoot until when the offshore bug bit even harder.
