Susannah Higgins can solve any mystery; and when her friend's grandfather dies and doesn't include her in the will, Susannah knows something isn't right and she plans to find out. "Susannah Higgins is a top-notch detective and worthy candidate to give Nancy Drew competition a well-constructed.

Be a kid, you know? Look at those blue eyes. Can I please get one brown-eyed child? Wait, what were we talking about? THIS is one way she lets you know she likes something: If she does the big, slow head nod, she likes it. If she snorts, she likes it. And WHAT, you ask, was she liking in this picture? And of course, she likes them. My other two babies walked at months, FYI. I remember from a brain development class in grad school that crawling is GOOD, and you want your babies to crawl a LONG time for optimal brain development. And 16 months is average, right? Though she is right on track for clothes size, wearing months clothes and size 4 shoes. And she will be in a rear-facing car seat for many months to come. Everything but these five foods in moderation. She says a few words: She has at least two more teeth coming in, which will make a total of 8 teeth. And teething is NOT pleasant for her, poor girl. She has her dada sufficiently wrapped around her tiny finger, too, which is quite hilarious to watch. Thank you, God, for giving her to us.
