Venture the historic township and heritage Gold Mine. Barometer Pride in your Town A school leaver thinking of her future was inclined to go nursing, so she met a nurse and asked her this question. How much do you make? I can make holding your hand seem like the most important thing in the world when you are scared. I can make your Father survive By Graeme Meade a heart attack. I can make myself get up at 5am to make sure your Mother has Thanks to the gentleman that dropped this item the medicine she needs to live. I can make your little sister breathe into the shop. I work all day to save the lives of strangers. I make my family wait for dinner until I know your family member is taken care of. I make myself skip lunch so that I can make sure everything I did for your Mum today is charted. I may save your life. How much do I make? With Christmas upon us when all families try to get together, this lovely poem seems to fit in beautifully. It seems that Grandmas always need a little one to hold; To kiss and love, with all their hearts, to shelter from the cold. It gives me so much pleasure when you sit upon my knee. To know as I grow older you will always keep me company. And you will know I love you more with each beautiful day that goes by. I used to hold your mummy and hug and kiss her too I love her very much you know the same way she loves you. I used to wish that she could stay my baby all her life But God intended for my little girl to grow up to be a mummy and a wife. It would be such a lonely world without you. With these few words Pride in Your Town members would like to take this opportunity to wish all our readers a very Happy Christmas and a Joyous New Year that starts with prosperity and good health for young and old. I believe the item is a Stick Barometer; possibly a Ships Barometer. Unfortunately this one is not complete, with a few missing and broken parts. Complete pieces that are mounted to good quality board and are quite valuable. With older items condition is everything. This Barometer was made by a company called Griffin and Tatlock Ltd. This company was incorporated in August and dissolved in March The piece stands about 90cm tall and has something missing from the middle. This was probably where the thermometer sat. At the top there is a glass tube that seems to move up and down. It is broken but there is still some pieces there. The top has a movable dial with numbers 27 - 32 printed on the right side. Round Barometers have the same numbers around them to tell the change in barometric pressure. The tube at the bottom looks like a gimbal, so it moves independently. This is one of the reasons I think it could have been in a ship. I hope everyone has a great Christmas and a successful This was followed by a graduation ceremony for grade six students, at the Dee Bowls Club that evening. Kathy Griffiths pictured presented the academic achievement awards to the students in recognition of their achievements throughout the year, on behalf of the Cutter Social Club in association with the Grand Hotel. The Club would like to thank everyone for their support through out the year. L-R were presented with beautiful bouquets and momentos in recognition of their many years of service to the school family and the wider community. They will be sadly missed and we wish them all, good health and all the best for their retirement. Photograph from the State Library of Queensland. From the sweet sounds of voices singing Christmas carols, twinkling lights, tinsel, glittering Christmas trees, children filled with wonder and excitement as Santa arrived, to tables laden with goodies to suit everyone. Hundreds of people attended the event on both nights, to gaze upon the beautiful and innovative Christmas trees that were on display, courtesy of businesses, community groups, clubs and individuals. Attendees voted for their favourite trees. MMPAD provided free amusement rides for the young ones, who were kept refreshed with cold watermelon kindly provided by our Trainee, Samantha. A big thank you goes out to all the talented artists who donated their time on the night including: Special mention must be made of the professional performance by the everpopular Red Frog Learning Centre Children. For those chasing a last minute Christmas gift there was an abundance to choose from with cooking, plants, clothing, handicraft, embroidery, souvenirs and preserves all on offer from the stallholders. Sales of burgers, sausages on bread and softdrinks were constant and after two nights, the volunteers cooking and serving decided not to give up their day jobs! Thank you to everyone who assisted in any way to make the Christmas Tree Festival so successful, including: Santa, the Mount Morgan Fire Brigade, all the volunteers and members who helped set up, decorate and clean up, those who assisted with raffle ticket sales, cooking and serving food, those who donated prizes, the stall holders, the performers, those who entered trees and everyone who attended the event. Diane Kirby Alcohol second prize: Although this action was welcomed by residents it was concerning to officers that some residents are leaving their vehicles unlocked, some with valuables inside including keys to the vehicle. Not only does this practice leave the resident vulnerable to theft, but it is also an offence not to properly secure your vehicle. There are a number of measures people can adopt to protect their property: Those who occupy multi-story dwellings should be aware that offenders can gain access by climbing balconies. Identify vulnerable areas and increase security where necessary. Police can record this code on their computer system to assist in property recovery. Additional information can be located at the Queensland Police Service web site www.qps.com.au. The meeting was well attended by over 100 people. Carbine Managing Director Tony James addressing the Mount Morgan Project benefits include a significant contribution to the environmental cleanup of the former mine site, along with local employment, and business opportunity and tourism benefits. Trial smelter slag testing was also completed last month. Mr James explained that tasks yet to be completed before the project can commence are approval of an Environmental Authority Amendment from the Department of Environment and Heritage Protection, and the completion of project financing. He said that project permits had taken longer than expected because of the complexity of the site jointly managed by Carbine and the Department of Natural Resources and Mines DNRM but both DNRM and Carbine have worked through the complexity and are looking forward to seeing the project succeed. Mr James also addressed the concerns of some residents who live along the proposed pyrite haulage route from the mine site to Gladstone reinforcing that road transport classification, environmental classification and laboratory toxicity and reactivity testing of the pyrite concentrate confirms that trucked pyrite concentrate is not toxic to human health. It was unfortunate that some residents had an anonymous flyer placed in their letterbox ahead of the community meeting suggesting otherwise. Carbine is thankful for the strong community support expressed at the meeting and remains committed to delivering the project and the opportunities it will present for the Mount Morgan community. Carbine would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a safe and happy Festive Season. The North Keppel camp is an extra curriculum experience which involves 5 days and 4 nights on an island with 6 meals a day, positive well being activities from raft building, canoeing, snorkelling, hiking, plankton trawling and fishing. It involves team building trust activities and positive goal setting. The Blue Care Christmas Party on Saturday the 2nd December, certainly provided all of those things for those who attended the get-together. The party was tinged with sadness however as the group also said farewell to volunteers and great friends Marie and Dennis Johnson pictured right with Daphne Kennedy , who have been so much a part of Blue Care and in fact the Mount Morgan Community. Special guests from Yeppoon and Rockhampton also joined the local auxiliary members, and local volunteers and their families. President Daphne Kennedy thanked everyone for their hard work throughout the year. Exactly twenty years earlier, in , the same author Michael Crichton wrote and directed a film about a theme park where the attractions went berserk and began killing the patrons. The patrons flock to WESTWORLD from their own sanitised existence, to live for a time in a place where every human appetite, no matter how noble, no matter how depraved can be indulged without consequence. As an observer, a participant, a lover, a killer or even as a prisoner Never before have they been this aware
