ATbar Created as an open-source, cross-browser toolbar to help users customize the way they view and interact with web pages. The concept behind ATbar is simple: One toolbar to provide all of the functionality you would usually achieve through the use of different settings or products! ATbar is free and allows you to change the look and feel of webpages, increase and decrease font sizes, have text read aloud, use coloured overlays, readability and a dictionary to aid reading. Spell check forms and try word prediction when writing. It is a simple tool, which is available for most popular browsers. Open source font created to increase readability for readers with dyslexia. The typeface includes regular, bold, italic, and bold-italic styles. It is being updated continually and improved based on input from dyslexic users. Text to speech converters Improve reading, comprehension, spelling skills and concentration by allowing the person to listen to the text while reading. Natural Reader free version Provides text to speech conversion for documents, web pages, emails etc. Can be run as a discrete toolbar within programs. For windows Organization tools Many people with dyslexia have poor organization and time management skills. These can result in a general disorganization of life and of academic work. They find it hard to juggle and keep track of several coursework assignments, or to prioritize these tasks. Tips and tricks Tracking Time Online tools Task Coach is a simple open source todo manager to keep track of personal tasks and todo lists. It is designed for composite tasks, and also offers effort tracking, categories, notes and more. MyNotex is a free software dedicated to notetaking. It offers several features for redaction, classification and search according to certain criteria. Its interface resembles a text editor and has several panes that give an overview of how content is organized. It was built with a strong focus on intuitiveness and ease of use, removing all unnecessary clutter so that you can concentrate on the creative process.

About this book Big pig on a dig A series of fun stories using very simple synthetic phonic-based text. Synthetic phonic learning is the process of reading by sounding the individual sounds of a word and then blending them together to read the word as a whole. With fold out flaps to make the reading experience more interactive. Written in conjunction with an educational psychology expert. Reader Reviews Big pig on a dig I have a four year old son with Autism. We picked this book from his shelf one night at bedtime. He started reading it to me. I was so shocked but I found this book to be a great book for him to read. It is a great fun book for a first time reader. He is learning three letter words at school but he read almost all the words in this book by sounding them out. I would like to get the two titles listed on the back of the book. They sound fun also. These would be a great addition to your Literacy Station or classroom library. They are in excellent condition and come in their own plastic sleeve. I always leave feedback once feedback is received and would appreciate the same from you once the transaction is complete. Please read my positive feedback for reassurance. You can bid with confidence! At time to time I have some gently worn to used clothes up for auction. There are many cute pieces of clothing out there that have only been worn a few times and are still great to have. Thanks for checking my auctions out and have FUN! Please add me to your "favorite list" to get my monthly newsletter. See my other listings for more great items! I expect payment to be received no longer than 7 days after auction ends. I will file a non-paying bidder to eBay if I do not hear from you after the 7 days are up and more than likely block you from future bidding. I feel that 7 days is beyond the norm, so please be prompt! International Buyers â€” Please Note: Import duties, taxes, and charges are not included in the item price or shipping cost. I am VERY prompt in shipping!! I do combine shipping! If you end up buying more than one item, please wait for me to send you a combined invoice. I also give free shipping if you purchase a certain amount check my store for details , this too has to be on one invoice to get the discount. IF I misrepresent something in a description, I take full responsibility. I give more details in my listings than most sellers do or care to do. I have many sales going on at once to liquidate my inventory. I feel by asking for further discounts is insulting and disrespectful
