

Chapter 1 : "Glencannon" The Monte Carlo Massacre (TV Episode) - Plot Summary - IMDb

Find showtimes, watch trailers, browse photos, track your Watchlist and rate your favorite movies and TV shows on your phone or tablet! IMDb Mobile site.

Long banished to Africa for his sins in , Martin Rauch is called back into the field. The account includes new interviews with survivors and Jones family members. Detective Grace Gibbs Griffiths is obsessed with catching the armed robber who killed her junior officer. Charlie Fung An her new trainee, blames Grace for the death of his best friend. Meanwhile, a share house of international students think that they have found paradise, until one of their housemates disappears. A couple of greedy convenience store owners resort to deadly measures to defend their business, while on the outskirts of the city, a violent fugitive is hiding. Over one week, the paths of these characters collide, with devastating consequences. While fleeing from the police, the two gangsters take an entire busload hostage. The ensuing manhunt, however, turns into a disaster. But Degowski is also unpredictable and violent. When he loses his nerve, and kills a teenage passenger in the bus, the two men choose two young women as their hostages while leaping into another getaway vehicle. Thus, begins an odyssey that goes completely out of control, marking one of the biggest hits for the local broadcaster in China Girl star as new parents Joanna and Alistair. They live in Scotland, but travel to his home country of Australia to introduce the new arrival to family " and so that Alistair can pursue custody of his first child, Chloe. Joanna is already struggling with being a first-time mom and soon after arrival they find themselves at the center of an unthinkable tragedy. As they face the glare of public scrutiny, alongside this deeply personal trauma the consequences of the tragedy succeed in changing their lives and their relationship forever. At the heart of the drama is a dangerous relationship between university professor Leah Kelly , and her student Rose Windsor. A seemingly open and shut case of academic deception quickly spirals out of control, ending in fatal consequences and triggering a devastating sequence of events that threaten to engulf them both. Sundance Now also announced that it is expanding its content offerings to include podcasts, beginning with its first scripted podcast , Exeter. This marks the first time this process has been used for a scripted dramatic podcast. Detective Clayton struggles to keep the trust of her department as a series of grisly and ritualistic murders rock her decaying South Carolina town, putting her at odds with her ambitious partner, Lester Pruitt McKinnon and the department at large, as they race to put the pieces together.

Watch Glencannon - Season 1, Episode 6 - The Monte Carlo Massacre: Coming Soon!

It is equipped with a Monte Carlo stock, a scope and an altered bolt handle. This stands in for the 6mm Remington Whitman used in reality. Arisaka Type 02 Paratrooper Takedown rifle - 7. This is the base rifle for the sporterized take down rifle. Notice the shape of the bolt. A close-up of the receiver as Whitman reloads. M1 Carbine Whitman switches to an M1 Carbine later on. Earlier in the film, he is shown buying it, six magazines, and rounds of ammunition. M1 Carbine Post-War -. Notice that some of his magazines are "jungle-clipped" together. Whitman reloads an M1 magazine. Remington Model One of the most common rifles in the movie is the Remington Model pump action rifle. Whitman has one in his arsenal, a substitute for the Remington Model 14 in. Various policemen and armed citizens are shown using it throughout the film as well. Remington - first introduced in Lt. Lee tries shooting Whitman from an airplane. Allan Crum and Martinez as they get to the observation deck. A close-up of the receiver as Crum covers Martinez. Winchester Model Some armed citizens are shown shooting back with Winchester Model rifles. Winchester Model carbine - 1st generation rifle - Cal. An armed citizen returns fire. Remington Model Some armed citizens are shown shooting back with Remington Model rifles. Remington Model s Production -. Luger P08 Whitman is show loading a Luger P08 pistol. He tucks it into his waistband when he knows the end is near, but never draws it. Luger P08 - 9x19mm. This is blank adapted movie gun. Whitman loads his Luger. Shotguns Sawed-off Shotgun Whitman buys and cuts down a double barreled shotgun prior to his rampage. Whitman loads the shotgun when he knows the end is near. Ithaca 37 Various policemen and civilians, including Officer C. Foss Paul Carr , are shown with Ithaca 37 shotguns. Foss is in the film in place of Officer Houston McCoy, who refused to allow his name to be used. Foss is shown freezing upon seeing Whitman and not firing at all, while in reality, McCoy is officially credited with firing the shots that killed Whitman. Ithaca Model 37 riot version - 12 Gauge Foss meets Crum below the tower. Foss in the lobby of the tower. Mossberg A policeman is shown armed with a Mossberg with an extended magazine. The real Whitman had a Remington Model 14 and a 6. His three pistols are visible. His arsenal in his USMC footlocker. His Arisaka is shown disassembled. His arsenal ready for use. Miscellanea Understandably, the city of Austin and the University of Texas refused to assist in the filming, as less than a decade had passed since the actual massacre. The UT tower is surrounded by a campus, not warehouses, and is not by the river.

Chapter 3 : Works – VERBRUGGEN-CHOREOGRAPHER

Premiere held on July 19th, Salle Garnier de l'Opéra de Monte-Carlo World creation for les Ballets de Monte-Carlo, ballet for 8 male dancers and 7 female dancers La Compagnie des Ballets de Monte Carlo.

A week after the exhibition opened, they were removed and returned. As a replacement, Picasso loaned works from his own collection, including a Portrait of Madam Z. Death of Henri Matisse. Pablo Picasso, The Family, 30 September Oil on canvas, x cm. Acceptance in lieu, , MP Olga Picasso died in Cannes. The exhibition later transferred to Munich, Cologne and Hamburg, until April Picasso bought a large villa in Cannes, La Californie, built in The artist celebrated his 75th anniversary at the Galerie Madoura with the potters from Vallauris. In Moscow, Ilya Ehrenburg organised an exhibition of works belonging to Russian collections. Started a series of sculptures assembled from pieces of recovered wood. Pen, brush and Indian ink on vellum writing paper, 27 x 21 cm. Started to produce linocuts. Vallauris Chapel, decorated with the murals War and Peace, was officially inaugurated and the place was converted into a national museum. Produced linoleum cuts on Mediterranean subjects. Picasso married Jacqueline Roque in Vallauris at an intimate wedding. They moved to Mougins in June. Celebrated his 80th birthday in Vallauris. Picasso awarded the Lenin Peace Prize for the second time. Continued to produce his sheet metal busts. Produced some 70 portraits of Jacqueline using different techniques including painting, drawing, pottery and engraving. The artist started the prolific series of the Painter and His Model, which he continued throughout the year. Death of Georges Braque. Death of Jean Cocteau. Picasso began a very close collaboration with brothers Aldo and Piero Crommelynck, who moved their intaglio studio to Mougins, to produce etchings. The final version, made of steel and measuring 20 metres tall, was inaugurated in Introduced new themes into his painting: In November, the artist underwent surgery for an ulcer at the American Hospital in Neuilly and spent his last time in Paris. Series of black and colour illustrations in a notebook MP featuring figures, erotic drawings and burlesque scenes, or graphically commenting on the large Ingres painting Jupiter and Thetis. The exhibition unveiled a number of sculptures produced by the artist to the general public. Picasso was evicted from his Parisian studio on Rue des Grands-Augustins which he had occupied since Picasso continued with his Busts of Musketeers series. The Painter and His Model MP series, which for the very first time featured the characteristic Rembrandtesque figures particularly inspired by the painting Rembrandt and Saskia.

Chapter 4 : The Sports Cubicle: The Rumble in Monte-Carlo

How I would have done the Moldavian Massacre of Dynasty. Introducing the Colbys and having Krystle's double there. film material: Dynasty season 5 & season 6, Monte Carlo all rights belong to the.

This section needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed. Army at Fort Campbell , Kentucky. Matix first served in the U. In , Matix enlisted in the U. Army and served in the military police. He was honorably discharged from the Army in Platt enlisted in as an infantryman and served with the U. Both of their spouses had died under mysterious circumstances. Army Specialist 4 [citation needed] Patricia Buchanich, and a female co-worker, Joyce McFadden, were stabbed to death on December 30, , at Riverside Methodist Hospital in Columbus, Ohio , where both women worked. Matix was a suspect in the murders but was never charged. Lylen-Platt whom he married in , was found shot dead with a shotgun from a single shot in the mouth. Her death was ruled a suicide. Prior to embarking on their crime spree neither Platt nor Matix had a criminal record. In the end, he was a father to an infant son that he never met. On October 5, , Platt and Matix murdered year-old Emelio Briel while he was target shooting at a rock pit. One of the pair shot a guard in the leg with a shotgun. Two other guards returned fire, but neither Platt nor Matix were wounded. No money was taken in the botched robbery, and the one wounded guard would later die from his wound. One week later, the two robbed a teller station outside a branch of the Florida National Bank and a branch of the Professional Savings Bank. They resumed their robberies on January 10, , by attacking a Brinks armored truck. On March 12, they robbed and shot Jose Collazo as he was target shooting at a rock pit, leaving him for dead and stealing his black Chevrolet Monte Carlo , but Collazo survived the shooting and walked three miles to get help. Illustration is not to scale. The agents did not know the identity of the suspects at the time. They were acting on a hunch that the pair would attempt a robbery that morning. Eight of these FBI agents took part in the actual shootout and were paired as follows: Two of the agents had backup. Grogan is credited with landing the first hit of the gunfight, wounding Matix in the forearm as he leaned out of the Monte Carlo to fire the shotgun at Grogan and Dove. Platt then fired his rifle at Mireles who was running across the street to join the fight. Mireles was hit in the left forearm, creating a severe wound. Due to collision damage, Matix could only open his door partially, and fired one shotgun round at Grogan and Dove, striking their vehicle. Matix was then shot in the right forearm, probably by Grogan. Matix apparently was knocked unconscious by the hits and fired no more rounds. As he did so, he was shot a second and third time, in the right thigh and left foot. The shots were believed to have been fired by Dove. This wound caused Platt to drop his revolver. The wound was not serious. One round hit McNeill in the neck, causing him to collapse and leaving him paralyzed for several hours. Platt then apparently positioned the Mini against his shoulder using his uninjured left hand. Hanlon fired at Platt and was shot in the hand while reloading. Platt rounded the rear of their car and killed Grogan with a shot to the chest, shot Hanlon in the groin area, and then killed Dove with two shots to the head. Mireles fired four more rounds at Platt and Matix, but hit neither. A civilian witness described Platt leaving the car, walking almost 20 feet and firing at Mireles three times at close range. Mireles does not remember this happening. Risner and Orrantia, observing from the other side of the street, stated that they did not see Platt leave the car and fire at Mireles. Mireles fired six rounds at the suspects. The first round missed, hitting the back of the front seat. The third hit Matix in the face, and fragmented in two, with neither piece causing a serious wound. The fourth hit Matix in the face next to his right eye socket, travelled downward through the facial bones , into the neck, where it entered the spinal column and severed the spinal cord. The fifth hit Matix in the face, penetrated the jaw bone and neck and came to rest by the spinal column. Of the ten, only one, Special Agent Manauzzi, did not fire any shots his firearm was thrown from the car in the initial collision , while only one, Special Agent Risner, was able to emerge from the battle without a wound. The incident lasted under five minutes yet approximately shots were exchanged. Both of their bodies were drug-free at the time of their deaths. The FBI soon began the search for a more powerful caliber and cartridge. Noting the difficulties of reloading a revolver while under fire, the FBI specified that agents should be armed with magazine-fed semiautomatic handguns , and this incident contributed to the increasing trend of law enforcement agencies switching from revolvers to semi-automatic pistols across the nation. Other issues were brought up in the aftermath of the shooting. Despite being on the lookout for two violent felons who were known to use firearms during their crimes, only two of the FBI vehicles contained shotguns in addition to Mireles, McNeill had a shotgun in his car, but was unable to reach it before or during the shootout , and none of the agents were armed with a rifle. Only two of the agents were wearing ballistic vests , and the armor they were wearing was standard light body armor, which is designed to protect against handgun rounds, not the. Minor wounds from shotgun pellets. Remington gauge shotgun, five rounds 00 buckshot fired,. Seriously wounded by a. Wounded by shrapnel and debris produced by a. Suspects[edit] William Matix: Killed after being shot six times. Ruger Mini 14 [1]. Killed after being shot 12 times. The lawsuit was dismissed. Murders depicting the circumstances leading up to and including the shootout, one of several films in the In the Line of Duty series produced during the s and s. The Untold Stories featured a portrayal of the shootout.

DOWNLOAD PDF THE MONTE CARLO MASSACRE.

Chapter 5 : Deadly Tower, The - Internet Movie Firearms Database - Guns in Movies, TV and Video Games

Les «Massacre» de Jeroen Verbruggen et «Memento Mori» de Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui sont proposés aux passionnés dans le cadre de l'été de la danse.

Chapter 6 : Massacre Verbruggen | Répertoire | Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo

While traveling in Buenos Aires, Glencannon is tricked into buying a fake Nazi sword. It was supposed to belong to the Admiral of the Graf Spree. The Monte Carlo Massacre. Episode 6 k Followers, Following, 1, Posts - See Instagram photos and videos from Les Ballets De Monte Carlo (@lesballetsdemontecarlo).

Chapter 7 : Flash - Former Dutch PM who resigned over Srebrenica dies - France 24

Chapter 8 : FBI Miami shootout - Wikipedia

The Monte Carlo Casino has been used as a set to film several movies, including Grace of Monaco, a biographical drama about Grace Kelly starring Nicole Kidman, and comedy heist film Oceans Twelve.

Chapter 9 : Glencannon - Episode Guide - calendrierdelascience.com

Police Investigating Shooting Outside Las Vegas Casino Police in Las Vegas say they are investigating a shooting outside the Monte Carlo casino-hotel that left one man injured.