ABC You Can Draw I like this drawing book because Author Jenni has lots of great exercises for you to do and you can print those pages as many times as you like! Actually, every artist needs to practice them at various intervals. As an added bonus, Jenny sends an e-course, free of charge, as a follow up to the books. Learn Pencil Portraits in 7 Days! This is a step by step guide to learn portrait drawing with simple and easy steps. Christopher does a good job of explaining each pencil mark that he makes and the process is very easy to follow. I followed his guide and I am really happy with my results, pop over and take a look. How To Draw Cars In this drawing book, you will find the secret to creating great cars! Tim and Andy have also done a good job of explaining perspective in a simple way. Plus, you get 5 free bonuses, I thought it was very good value. Secrets to Drawing Matt has years of teaching experience so he created this course to provide a great foundation for anyone wanting to learn drawing or for those needing to sharpen existing skills. These comprehensive lessons feature over 5 Hours of video instruction and 26 eBooks. Each aspect of drawing is broken down into bite-sized demonstrations so you can follow along and understand easily at your own pace. Specifically designed to guide absolute beginners and intermediate artists through the core foundations of drawing, the whole package is a one-stop shop. If you decide to buy a book and you click the order button, you will be re-directed to Clickbank. The secure order form looks like the image here on the right. Clickbank have a very simple payment process. I obtained a credit card especially for buying online. For added security, it is separate from my ordinary accounts. I also opened up a special saving account separate from regular working accounts , so I can use Paypal when it suits me and I deposit money into it as needed. As with any financial business, we need to stay aware and take all safety precautions as normal. I will be buying more drawing books and other resources as they become available. The books featured here will help you progress and to answer any artistic questions you might have along the way. A USB stick is a great way to save your ebooks. I like to print my ebooks so I can leisurely practice anytime. The only way I have been able to learn to draw is through all the books I have bought and ones lent to me. I am very grateful because drawing has enriched my life so much. Click an image to visit another page:

Start with a circle Draw a large circle and make a horizontal line below it for the chin. Then sketch the jawline. Draw a vertical line down the center of the face and make sure both sides of the face are symmetrical. Draw guidelines on the face There are 2 ways to do this step: Ruler or no ruler. I highly recommend using the ruler method for the first couple of faces you draw. Because doing this step without it can throw your proportions off like crazy. The no ruler method requires you to split multiple sections of the face in half and then in half again. Make a ruler beside your drawing that is the same height. The ruler should be marked so there are 8 equal spaces. Always start with the center line. Without the ruler, I draw lines in this order: This is the method I use to draw heads all the time. Draw eyes in the right spot On the face, mark the center line with 4 ticks spread equally apart. The eyes will sit roughly on this line. If you want to draw more mysterious manly eyes, click here. Draw a proportionate nose Extend the 2 lines where the inner corners of each eye are located. Start with a circle, resting it anywhere between line 1 and 2. You can give your male character a more chiseled appearance by drawing the nose using very angular shapes. These lines should be very light! Using a 4B pencil, draw the eyebrows along the brow bone. Facial features that can accentuate masculinity are thick bushy eyebrows! Use a triangle shape to draw lips Draw a vertical line down the center of each eye. Click here for my lips tutorial. If you drew the nose well above line 2, extend the triangle so the tip touches the nose. Add the ears The Center Line and Line 2 mark the general boundaries for each ear. In-depth tutorial on how to draw an ear from the front Step 8: Draw the hair Draw the upper hairline somewhere in between line A and B. To draw a receding hairline, go above line A.
