That evening was to be an unforgettable and influencing moment in my life. After that I took him to my room and showed off my entire wardrobe. Finally we wound up singing and playing at the piano all evening. And that was the case in the following six years until I had to admit that apparently I lacked the necessary perseverance to become a really good pianist. When I was eleven - my family had just moved to Prague - I reconsidered for the third time and this decision should finally be the lucky one: After they finished rehearsing he looked at me and said with a smile in his eyes: I have composed numerous pieces for that beautiful instrument. Maybe one day you will be playing my music. But until then you will have to practice a lot.

Ksenia was born in Minsk, Belarus in a family of pianists. At the age of twelve Ksenia made her debut as a soloist with orchestra. In the next years she performed piano concertos of Beethoven and Rachmaninov. She graduated cum laude, with Gold Medal. Ksenia continued her piano studies at the National Music Academy with Vladimir Olovnikov, where she received her Master degree, also cum laude, as a soloist, a teacher and in vocal accompaniment and chamber music. She took part in many masterclasses, with outstanding musicians such as Ab-bey Simon, Gyo? In the summer of she followed an intense chamber music program in Tanglewood in the USA. Ksenia received prizes for accompaniment at numerous international competitions. As a soloist, she won the 2nd prize at the Tromp Competition in Eindhoven, where she received the Audience Prize as well, and the 3rd prize at the Rencontres Musicales de Gaillard, France. She was a soloist in the Kurta? And, on recommendation of Gyo? Petersburg, and all over the Netherlands. Ksenia played chamber music in every kind of combination. In almost 30 years she built up an enormously rich repertoire ranging from Bach to Kurta? She is constantly searching for new compositions and is fond of making unusual, inspiring programs. Among her long-time partners are wonderful musicians, such as the violinist Lisa Jacobs, cellist Lucie S? Kerver and many others. Recently, Ksenia discovered the joy of playing on an Erard grand piano, with its inspiring sound possibilities. During her studies Lucie participated in numerous cello and chamber music masterclasses. At home and abroad, Lucie has played with diverse chamber music ensembles. She has made several recordings and live performances for Czech Radio Vltava, and has given solo recitals at the Young Prague Festival. Also, she has performed as a soloist with many orchestras - including the Prague Philharmonic Orchestra. Two documentaries have been made about Lucie for Japanese and Czech television. Gemrot composed a piece especially for her and her mother, which they recorded together for Czech radio. During her solo tour of Japan, she performed in the Casuals Hall for the Japanese crown princess. Since Lucie has performed in a duo with the pianist Ksenia Kouzmenko, playing in concert halls throughout the Netherlands - including the Concertgebouw. Lucie is quite versatile in her musical repertoire. She initiated the project Bach in the Dark in December in which concerts she plays solo compositions by Bach and other composers in total darkness, giving the listener the opportunity to concentrate completely on the power of tone in an intimate atmosphere. In recent years Lucie has emphasized performance of chamber music and became a founding member of the Voirin Quartett in

I seriously finished this book speechless. The writing is absolutely beautiful, the emotions are realistic and raw, and stories amazingly told. D Whispering Leaves Saga is a delightful collection of seven short stories, all tales of the same characters. The fantasy storyworld was really amazing, and I loved the castles and kingdoms. I loved how what happened in the beginning of the story wrapped back around at the end. The sacrifice by the Woodlenn boy at the end tore me up. This was the first story to include characters from both the previous two. It was fast-paced and exciting, but left some room for explaining. The Crowning -- 5 stars This one included the explanation of the aforementioned story Escape along with some excitement all its own. Golden Eagle and Willowy Whisper are the cutest. Henceforth and Forever -- 5 stars And this one was beautiful too. Like, seriously, I have no words. Do not vex me by slaughtering my pride, lest I should have to prove my words and kill you. There was a tangible fairy tale feel to the whole story, a sweet romantic element, and to top it off some positive Christian elements. I loved the way it was a fairytale world that yet included God. The subplots and plots all wove together beautifully to create a stunning tale. The characters were all done down to the last detail. You feel their pain and their sorrow, their happiness and their joy. The romance was sweet and true, clean and wholesome. The plotline otherwiseâ€”with the kingdoms and true princesses and all that stuffâ€”was also done amazingly, with never-saw-coming reveals, lots of drama, and suspense. Whispering Leaves Saga was an amazing book and I would highly recommend it! I look forward to adding this book to my collection.
