

Chapter 1 : A self-study guide for TOGAF certification

The TOGAF Certification Program has enabled more than 67, Enterprise Architects and trainers around the globe to demonstrate their proven knowledge of the framework. Certification is achieved through a two-part examination, following a course of self-study or a TOGAF 9 Accredited Training Course.

There are two levels to certification: Level 2 contains the learning requirements for Level 1. There are a number of different learning paths to obtain certification see later Examination Tips Open Book Examinations at Pearson VUE Centers Please note that if you are taking an "Open Book" examination at a Pearson VUE test center, then the reference book is always built into the examination itself, and available by selecting the "Reference" button within the examination. It should be noted that due to the limitations on monitor size and screen resolution it may be necessary to use the magnification button within the pdf reader to adjust the size of small text within diagrams. For information on taking an examination at a test center, see the Take an Exam page. A result received before one month will be VOID. What is the Purpose of the program? Program Summary How can I achieve certification? You first need to decide the level you would like to study for, and then after a period of study, attending a training course or by self-study, take the applicable examinations. What is the difference between accredited and non-accredited training? Accredited training course providers are subject to an assessment both of the course and also their personnel and organization. In addition all accredited trainers include in their course fee the examination, either on site as part of the course or a voucher to attend a public test center. Some Accredited trainers also have permission to distribute official TOGAF materials, such as the official pdf copy of the standard with their course materials. What are the available certifications? The exams are what you need to pass to reach a certification qualification. This is explained further below. What is the retake policy if i fail an Examination? The upgrade path has now expired. The paths to certification and applicable examinations are shown in the diagram below: How can I find out about the syllabus and examinations? Firstly to obtain a high level view, you should read the datasheets above for the appropriate level or path for certification you are considering. For detail of the learning outcomes required see the Conformance Requirements document. There are three examinations as follows: Each correct answer scores a single point. This exam is open book and covers the complete Level 2 learning outcomes. The correct answer scores 5 points, the second best answer 3 points, the third best answer 1 point. The distracter scores zero points. Each section must be passed in order to obtain an overall pass mark. If you fail a section then no certification is awarded, however you only need retake the Examination s corresponding to the failed section s. Further information follows below at the end of this page. What are the eligibility requirements for the Exams? The following sections detail the eligibility requirements. Note that ineligible candidates will be disqualified from the exam and no fees refunded. Any and all candidates are thus eligible to take this examination. Candidates are obliged to provide their Personal Conformation Code to the ATTC provider if they have set their directory entry to confidential. What is the difference between the Combined Part 1 and Part 2 Examination and taking the exams separately? If you take the Combined Exam, and fail a section, you will need to retake the failed section s before certification will be awarded. If I fail can I retake an exam immediately? No, the certification policy has a minimum period before you can retake an examination. This is currently one month. If you retake before that period your test result will be void. How can I find a training course? You can find an available accredited training course either by viewing the public calendar of accredited TOGAF 9 Training Courses or by contacting a provider using the register link on the left or selecting this link. Click on the course name entry and the detailed page should give you a web link to the company that offers the course. As part of the package of attending the qualifying course, the training organization may offer facilities to take the examination, or may supply vouchers for you to take the examination at an authorized examination center. Are there self-study materials? Two study guides are available. The two study guides can also be bought together as a bundle with additional supporting material, see here. How do I locate a test center? If you attend an accredited course then the examination may be given as part of the course check with your course provider , otherwise you can attend a test center. Chapter 2 : TOGAF® 9 Certification| Getting Started -- Individuals

Togaf study materials. Prasun Saha. Greenhorn Posts: 2. posted 1 year ago. Hi Gurus, I am planning to write TOGAF part1 certification exam, I have few queries.

Of course you also need to learn about the black art of Enterprise Architecture to understand the techniques and skills, to get plenty of practice and experience, and to become an expert in your field. But the fact remains that you also need to get through the 2-part TOGAF exam in order to be certified. So here are my top ten tips for passing the exam: Pace Yourself There is a fixed amount of time to complete the exam 60 minutes for 40 multiple choice answers for Level 1 , and a further 90 minutes to answer 8 scenario questions for Level 2. Once you start the clock is unstoppable. Keep an eye on the time the remaining time is shown at the top of the screen throughout. If you are not a native English speaker then you can select the English as a Second Language ESL option to get more time 90 and minutes respectively. When you complete Level 1 you can choose to move on to Level 2, or Level 2 will start automatically when the time for Level 1 is over. So work at a steady pace and keep an eye on the clock. It is easiest to answer the ones you know first. This will leave more time for the other questions. If you are not sure of an answer, then you can mark it for review. After last question you are given a summary page that lists your answers, tells you which questions are still unanswered, and shows you which questions you marked for review so choose to go back to questions that you stand the best chance of getting right. You have to choose the response you think is most appropriate for each scenario from four options. Start by reading the scenario carefully to figure out what it is about think about which phases of the ADM are relevant, the concerns of stakeholders, and how well each option meets their needs. Use the reference material to assess scenarios, but be smart with your searches. So make sure that you know the words and their definitions! If you know your stuff it is easy to be critical of TOGAF, but to pass the exam remember that you are being tested on the gospel according to TOGAF not your interpretation or criticism of it! It will help you take advantage of the open book in the Level 2 exam. Relate things that are difficult to other bits that make more sense. And if you are struggling on your own, try learning with others. But you can become familiar with its structure before the exam. Practice searching on key words to find the sections you need. Learn it by heart. You are given pencil and paper for the exam, so quickly draw the diagram before you start the exam. Practice the Exam Study example questions, especially Level 2, to get a feeling for the exam. Think like an Architect Finally, remember this is about being an architect so put your architect hat on and think like one.

It prepares you for both part 1 and part 2 of the exam. Part 1 is a 40 question closed book multiple choice test. Part 2 is open book scenarios. As you might imagine, taking the class greatly expedites the time to learn the material. We had some logistical issues when I took the class including the class book not showing up until the end of the second day. This hurt my understanding. In that respect, the certification was valuable – it got me to solidify what I learned. I choose a date exactly two weeks from the end of the course. I was off work that day so I could go to my local testing center. I needed to know I was getting that – and I do at my local center. Plus I have an upcoming vacation and want to get the test in before that. Problems with Prometric The list of testing centers is by state not by zip code. New York state is a large place. There are only 23 sites in all of New York state that offer this exam. Only four are in Manhattan and all four of those are in midtown. Luckily the testing center in my neighborhood offered the exam. After they resolved that, I sat for 40 minutes while they tried to load the test and failed. Eventually they gave me a ticket number with Prometric to call and reschedule. With exams, retake implies you failed. I picked that day for a reason. On the day of my reschedule, it took 20 minutes for the exam to load. The testing center rep said it is normal for the first Prometric test of the day to be a lot slower to load than the others. Be comfortable answering the end of chapter questions and the 40 question practice test. And some general tips for taking the exam: The questions were extremely similar in difficulty to the 40 question practice test Some of the questions seemed the same as ones in the 40 question practice test this might be an artifact of there only being so many ways you can ask a question testing the difference between initial and residual risk For a number of the questions, being able to pick the most TOGAF sounding word out of a line up is enough to answer the question For a number of the questions, process of elimination works. Exam timing and confidence When I was in the class and while I was studying, I felt like my confidence level on the questions was very low. There was 1 question that was very confusing wording wise. I spent 30 minutes out of the allotted 60 on the exam. I did it in three passes.
