Keiko Toda Hitomi is the main protagonist of the series. Like Rui, she is an accomplished athlete and well versed in a number of disciplines and skills ranging from horseback riding to safe cracking. She is a skilled gymnast and is able to perform complex acrobatic moves with ease and grace. She is able to escape most restraints and handcuffs with minimal effort, and it is inferred that she is ambidextrous as well as double jointed. She is a skilled martial artist with proficiency in a number of disciplines, most notably judo , boxing and karate , and also has degrees in kendo and aikido. So, Hitomi is a very charming, clever, sweet, sisterly, loyal, cunning, flirtatious, caring and kind-hearted. Like Rui, Hitomi is also able to disguise her appearance effortlessly and can speak several other languages. Toshiko Fujita Rui is the second protagonist of the series. With model good looks, worldly sophistication, and a razor sharp intelligence she is able to handle almost any situation. She is extremely athletic and proficient in a great number of activities and skills including car racing , hang gliding , parachuting , helicopter piloting , motorcycle riding , roller skating , skateboarding , martial arts , electronics , handguns and scuba diving. She is a skilled actress and is able to disguise her appearance effortlessly. She is also fluent in a number of languages including English , French and German. Rui acts as the mother figure for her sisters and is very protective of them. She is the only sister who has any lasting memory of their parents. Chika Sakamoto Ai is the third protagonist of the series. As baby sister of the trio, Ai has a spunky, tomboyish personality and demeanor , and has a genius-level I. She has built a wide array of gadgets to help her sisters in their heists. A typical teenager , she seems to be preoccupied a lot and dreams of falling in love. Being a high school girl, she also has a pet tabby kitten called "Tiger". While not as skilled as her sisters, Ai has none-the-less mastered a number of skills and is regularly the one who operates the get-away vehicles for the heists, including helicopters , gyrocopters , trucks , motorcycles , cars and mini-planes. Her greatest weakness lies in the fact she is physically the weakest of the three siblings evident in the anime when she tried to suplex a wrestler , only to have the maneuver backfire on her , but in exchange, she is also the most agile. While a bit clumsy, very gullible, unlucky, and not very good at finding clues, his dogged determination and unyielding persistence has impressed his supervisors. He is, however, very stubborn and gets into verbal fights with his Chief constantly. He has a weakness for beautiful women especially blondes and constantly makes Hitomi jealous. Nothing really is known about him, even his full name is never disclosed. Asatani has a very shrewd intellect and has a very cunning personality, and is considered an elite officer of the Tokyo Metropolitan Police Department. Her main weakness is that she must wear prescription glasses all the time, as she is practically blind without them. While never really elaborated in the TV series, in the manga she is said to have a secret crush on Toshio, much to the chagrin of Hitomi. Traveling around the world, he eventually settled down in Japan, where he met and married a young Japanese woman. After the birth of their third daughter, Heinz travelled to the U. His vast and priceless collection of art works were soon auctioned off and dispersed to art dealers around the world. Eventually, many pieces found their way to Japan in the hands of various private deals many with criminal ties. Rui, Hitomi and Ai find that their father is in the U. His background is a mystery but he may have been a member of the Armed Forces as he has some military expertise. Asatani has noticed this too and takes Kazumi into her confidence.

Despite lack of durability, it remains one of the most popular gemstones for jewelry. In fact, moonstone has been worn as jewelry for centuries, dating back to ancient Greek and Roman civilizations. Moonstone jewelry should be limited to protective-style jewelry designs, such as earrings, pendants, pins and brooches. Buy colored gemstones by size and not by carat weight. Colored stones vary in size-to-weight ratio. Some stones are larger and others are smaller than diamond by weight in comparison. Do not use any harsh chemicals or cleaners, such as bleach or sulfuric acid to clean your gems. Avoid the use of ultrasonic cleaners or steamers as well. To clean your gems, you can use a mild soap or detergent and simply wipe down your stones using a soft cloth. Be sure to rinse your gemstones and jewelry well with warm water to remove any soapy film and residue as this can dull the attractive luster of moonstone. Moonstone is sensitive to pressure, so avoid extreme temperature and climatic fluctuations when possible. Do not set your gems in any type of tension-style mountings. Always remove jewelry before exercising, playing sports or performing household chores. If possible, wrap stones individually in a soft cloth, or place them inside a fabric-lined jewelry box. Most of the gemstones generally bear a certificate of authenticity too so as to certify their genuineness. In case of any doubt one can always consult a testing lab for judging if the stone is genuine or not. Awareness about natural gemstones that we sell The availability of bogus products, especially in the market for gemstones, has risen tremendously over the years making the consumers more aware and cautious over time. While buying gemstones, one needs to be extremely precautious as buying a fake stone will not only be lacking the desired effect but can also affect the wearer adversely. Also, a majority of people hold a perception that a high price is a certification of the authenticity of a gemstone which is completely false. Gemstones are available over a wide spectrum of price range but only a lab certification proves the authenticity of a gemstone. Consumers must make sure that any gemstone that they buy must bear a lab certificate confirming its usefulness and genuineness. Certain gemstones can also be tested for their authenticity by simple methods that anyone can follow. Being cautious of the spurious products and going that extra mile to attain the original gemstone must be priority for the consumers. Genuine Gemstone Certification from OJAS Lab verification provides the ultimate evidence of the potency and authenticity of a gemstone. Most gemstones come with a lab certificate so as to let the buyer know of their quality. Also, buying gemstones from trusted and renowned sellers is a healthy practice that consumers should cultivate. We at AstroSage, provide a certificate of authenticity of all our gemstones confirming their validity and legitimacy. The certificate that we provide is ISO certified and gives a brief description of the weight, shape, colour, cut and chemical combination of the gemstone.

Feast of the Dead. This is the last day of the Pagan year. The new year begins November 1. This is the day when the veil between this world and the spirit world is thinnest. Communication with the dead is easiest and spirits are most common. Also an excellent night for divination. Feasts and parties are held in remembrance of those who have died. This is a time for resolving problems. Ways of celebrating Samhain can be the traditional giving of candy to trick-or-treaters, divining, or placing out cookies and cakes for the spirits. Leave doors and windows open as it is thought to allow the dead to pass through the house without getting confused and lost inside. Samhain is also a time for divination. Even jack-o-lanterns come from old Irish traditions. It is a time to think about our own mortality. The first day of winter and the longest day of the year. This day is celebrated as the death and birth of the Sun God – the Divine Child. The full moon after Yule is considered the most powerful of the whole year. Yule is the celebration of the death of the Holly king and the rebirth and renewed reign of the Oak king. We celebrate Yule nearly exactly as you would Christmas. Yule is always celebrated on the Winter Solstice. A common Yule practice is Wassailing. The Winter Solstice was a time for marriage ceremonies. Some say that the practice originated in ancient Egypt. Feasting has always been a Yule tradition. The time of cleansing and newborn lambs. Time of spring cleansing. Festival of the goddess Brigit, whose breath gave life to the dead. The first day of spring. Time when light and dark are in perfect balance, yet the light is growing stronger. Sowing time in the North. Ways of celebrating are dying beautiful eggs and leaving them in the forests and the gardens for the spirits and little people. Leave dyed eggs in the fields to promote fertility of crops and abundance. You can also celebrate by allowing the children to find the eggs and then going back and leaving the most beautifully dyed eggs for the nature spirits. This is also another Pagan holiday turned Christian. This is also a time for lovers to get together. Celebration often involves lovemaking. A fertility festival with nature enchantments. Powers of elves and fairies are growing and will peak at the Summer Solstice. A time of great magic, it is good for divination and for establishing a woodland or guardian shrine. Ways of celebrating are building shrines to nature spirits. This is the time to honor the house guardians. Leave small gifts of honey cakes, wine and sweets for the little people. The first day of Summer. This is a time of dedication to your religion. The sun casts three rays to light the world. Celebration includes dedication ceremonies, giving of thanks and the lighting of yellow candles. This is the turning point of the year. The waning God and waxing Goddess. Celebration includes harvest festivals and spell work for good fortune and abundance. First day of autumn. The balance of light and dark. Time of long rest after labor and completion of the harvest. A time of thanksgiving. Celebration includes quiet feasting, and meditation and reincarnation in preparation for Samhain. The Esbats Esbats are the full and new moons of every month. Certain spell work is done during different phases of the moon. Most spells are done during the full moon. Spell work is often for banishing unwanted influences, protection magic, and divination. Planning, releasing and working backwards in time are done on the full moon as well. There are thirteen full moons during the month: It is similar to the Cross or Crucifix of the Christian religions. This symbol has nothing to do with the devil or with evil. This is not to be confused with the Holy Spirit of the Christian religion. The spirit is the energy vibration attributed to each and every thing. People have them as well as animals, stones, trees, planets, moons, stars, even the universe. It is often used for protection and is included on most amulets and talismans. It can be drawn in certain ways to promote specific results in spell work. The banishing getting rid of something – i. This pentacle is drawn this way in all rituals involving banishing. It is also drawn over doors and windows to prevent evil from entering a space. The invoking bringing something toward you – i. The invoking pentacle is drawn in this way when you want to draw something toward you or to gain something. This pentacle heightens power and aids in invocative spell work. The circle is considered feminine and is indicative of the womb and the points represent the male member. It is also used to represent the God and Goddess at each point. The top three points represent the aspects of the goddess: Maiden, Mother and Crone. The bottom two are the aspects of the god: Oak King â€” light, and the Holly King â€” dark. The Wiccan kiss, or the five-fold kiss is used in ritual and is represented by the pentacle: Witches believe in the balance and equality of all things. The All is sometimes referred to as the Wiccan deity. The All is just that. It is all that is and is not. Think of it as the yin and the yang. The God and Goddess do not really play a part in my religion as I choose to work with spirits and elements. It is hard and rather unnerving for me to envision gods who look and act like people which seems also highly unlikely to me. If you choose to incorporate them into your religion then you will wish to know the following: Lord of the underworld not hell , the sun, life itself, passion, male aspects. Fire and Air elementals. He is worshipped in rituals for passion, fertility, meditation and all other fire and air rituals. Mate and Mother of the lord. She gives birth to the new lord in the winter and when the male aspect grows older in the spring, becomes her lover. Greek; Goddess of passionate, sexual love. Aphrodite will assist you in pulling loving energy toward yourself. Italian; Queen of the Witches, daughter of Diana. Aradia is an extremely powerful entity and a protectress of Witches in general. Welsh; Goddess of the stars and reincarnation. Call on Arianrhod to help with past life memories and difficulties as well as for contacting the Star People. Greek; Goddess of the Moon.
