

Chapter 1 : Who is America? Sacha Baron Cohen's™s savage attack on everyone - The Globe and Mail

After being called out in a speech at a cybersecurity conference, the Russian hackers have been targeting experts with emails mimicking invitations for this year's event.

Atiyah Abd al-Rahman was alleged to be second in command prior to his death on August 22, The group was estimated to consist of 20-30 people. One such member is thought to have been Sayed Tayib al-Madani. Al-Zawahiri replaced Saif al-Adel , who had served as interim commander. The Military Committee, which is responsible for training operatives, acquiring weapons, and planning attacks. US-led efforts to eradicate the sources of terrorist financing [60] were most successful in the year immediately following the September 11 attacks. The Law Committee reviews Sharia law , and decides upon courses of action conform to it. Newscast and handled public relations. In , al-Qaeda formed As-Sahab , a media production house, to supply its video and audio materials. Command structure Al-Qaeda is not operationally managed by Ayman al-Zawahiri. Several operational groups exist, which consult with the leadership in situations where attacks are in preparation. Al-Qaeda is a way of working Curtis contended the name "al-Qaeda" was first brought to the attention of the public in the trial of bin Laden and the four men accused of the US embassy bombings in East Africa. The reality was that bin Laden and Ayman al-Zawahiri had become the focus of a loose association of disillusioned Islamist militants who were attracted by the new strategy. But there was no organization. These were militants who mostly planned their own operations and looked to bin Laden for funding and assistance. He was not their commander. There is also no evidence that bin Laden used the term "al-Qaeda" to refer to the name of a group until after September 11 attacks, when he realized that this was the term the Americans had given it. The name of the organization and details of its structure were provided in the testimony of Jamal al-Fadl , who said he was a founding member of the group and a former employee of bin Laden. I think he lied in a number of specific testimony about a unified image of what this organization was. It made al-Qaeda the new Mafia or the new Communists. It made them identifiable as a group and therefore made it easier to prosecute any person associated with al-Qaeda for any acts or statements made by bin Laden. The number of individuals in the group who have undergone proper military training, and are capable of commanding insurgent forces, is largely unknown. The lack of any significant numbers of convicted al-Qaeda members, despite a large number of arrests on terrorism charges, was cited by the documentary as a reason to doubt whether a widespread entity that met the description of al-Qaeda existed. The first, numbering in the tens of thousands, was "organized, trained, and equipped as insurgent combat forces" in the Soviet-Afghan war. Many of these fighters went on to fight in Bosnia and Somalia for global jihad. Another group, which numbered 10, in , live in the West and have received rudimentary combat training. Qatar and state-sponsored terrorism and Qatar diplomatic crisis Several Qatari citizens have been accused of funding al-Qaeda. Nuaimi was also accused of investing funds in the charity directed by Humayqani to ultimately fund AQAP. Arnaut revealed that Qatar Charity was cited by Bin Laden in as one of the charities used to channel financial support to al-Qaeda operatives overseas. This accusation was publicly denied by Hamad bin Nasser al-Thani. The funding is primarily channeled through kidnapping for ransom. Al-Nusra acknowledged a Qatar-sponsored campaign "as one of the preferred conduits for donations intended for the group". Please update this article to reflect recent events or newly available information. Provoke the United States and the West into invading a Muslim country by staging a massive attack or string of attacks on US soil that results in massive civilian casualties. Incite local resistance to occupying forces. Expand the conflict to neighboring countries, and engage the US and its allies in a long war of attrition. Convert al-Qaeda into an ideology and set of operating principles that can be loosely franchised in other countries without requiring direct command and control, and via these franchises incite attacks against the US and countries allied with the US until they withdraw from the conflict, as happened with the Madrid train bombings , but which did not have the same effect with the July 7, London bombings. The US economy will finally collapse by the year , under the strain of multiple engagements in numerous places. This will lead to a collapse in the worldwide economic system, and lead to global political instability. This will lead to a global jihad led by al-Qaeda, and a Wahhabi Caliphate will then be installed across the world. Atwan noted that, while the plan is unrealistic, "it is sobering to consider that this virtually describes the downfall of the Soviet Union. The goal of the phase is to provoke the United States to attack a Muslim country by executing an attack on US soil that kills many civilians. The goal of this phase was to recruit young men to the cause and to transform the al-Qaeda group into a movement. Iraq was supposed to become the center of all operations with financial and military support for bases in other states. In this phase, al-Qaeda wanted to execute additional attacks and focus their attention on Syria. Hussein believed that other countries in the Arabian Peninsula were also in danger. Al-Qaeda expected a steady growth among their ranks and territories due to the declining power of the regimes in the Arabian Peninsula. The main focus of attack in this phase was supposed to be on oil suppliers and cyberterrorism, targeting the US economy and military infrastructure. The declaration of an Islamic Caliphate, which was projected between and In this phase, al-Qaeda expected the resistance from Israel to be heavily reduced. The declaration of an "Islamic Army" and a "fight between believers and non-believers", also called "total confrontation". According to the seven-phase strategy, the war is projected to last less than two years. According to Charles Lister of the Middle East Institute and Katherine Zimmerman of the American Enterprise Institute, the new model of al-Qaeda is to "socialize communities" and build a broad territorial base of operations with the support of local communities, also gaining income independent of the funding of sheiks. The initial al- is the Arabic definite article "the", hence "the base".

Chapter 2 : Russia Will Attack and Invade America | United States Prophecy

Yes, yes and yes. Yes, Sacha Baron Cohen's new satire series is sometimes savage. Yes, he can be shockingly indelicate and, yes, there are gullible victims who fall completely for his act.

Wed, 01 Jun We have been watching with increasing anxiety as the current US and NATO policies have set us on an extremely dangerous collision course with the Russian Federation, as well as with China. But their voices have been all but lost among the din of a mass media that is full of deceptive and inaccurate stories that characterize the Russian economy as being in shambles and the Russian military as weak—all based on no evidence. But we—knowing both Russian history and the current state of Russian society and the Russian military, cannot swallow these lies. We now feel that it is our duty, as Russians living in the US, to warn the American people that they are being lied to, and to tell them the truth. And the truth is simply this: If there is going to be a war with Russia, then the United States will most certainly be destroyed, and most of us will end up dead. Let us take a step back and put what is happening in a historical context. Russia has suffered a great deal at the hands of foreign invaders, losing 22 million people in World War II. Most of the dead were civilians, because the country was invaded, and the Russians have vowed to never let such a disaster happen again. Each time Russia had been invaded, she emerged victorious. In Napoleon invaded Russia; in Russian cavalry rode into Paris. But times have changed since then. If Hitler were to attack Russia today, he would be dead 20 to 30 minutes later, his bunker reduced to glowing rubble by a strike from a Kalibr supersonic cruise missile launched from a small Russian navy ship somewhere in the Baltic Sea. The operational abilities of the new Russian military have been most persuasively demonstrated during the recent action against ISIS, Al Nusra and other foreign-funded terrorist groups operating in Syria. A long time ago Russia had to respond to provocations by fighting land battles on her own territory, then launching a counter-invasion; but this is no longer necessary. Thus, if tomorrow a war were to break out between the US and Russia, it is guaranteed that the US would be obliterated. At a minimum, there would no longer be an electric grid, no Internet, no oil and gas pipelines, no interstate highway system, no air transportation or GPS-based navigation. Financial centers would lie in ruins. Government at every level would cease to function. US armed forces, stationed all around the globe, would no longer be resupplied. At a maximum, the entire landmass of the US would be covered by a layer of radioactive ash. We tell you this not to be alarmist, but because, based on everything we know, we are ourselves alarmed. If attacked, Russia will not back down; she will retaliate, and she will utterly annihilate the United States. The US leadership has done everything it could to push the situation to the brink of disaster. First, its anti-Russian policies have convinced the Russian leadership that making concessions or negotiating with the West is futile. It has become apparent that the West will always support any individual, movement or government that is anti-Russian, be it tax-cheating Russian oligarchs, convicted Ukrainian war criminals, Saudi-supported Wahhabi terrorists in Chechnya or cathedral-desecrating punks in Moscow. Now that NATO, in violation of its previous promises, has expanded right up to the Russian border, with US forces deployed in the Baltic states, within artillery range of St. They will not attack; nor will they back down or surrender. But Russia will retaliate, and a provocation or a simple mistake could trigger a sequence of events that will end with millions of Americans dead and the US in ruins. Unlike many Americans, who see war as an exciting, victorious foreign adventure, the Russians hate and fear war. But they are also ready for it, and they have been preparing for war for several years now. Their preparations have been most effective. Unlike the US, which squanders untold billions on dubious overpriced arms programs such as the F joint task fighter, the Russians are extremely stingy with their defense rubles, getting as much as 10 times the bang for the buck compared to the bloated US defense industry. While it is true that the Russian economy has suffered from low energy prices, it is far from being in shambles, and a return to growth is expected as early as next year. It is as advanced and sophisticated a society as the United States. But such a fight would be suicidal for all sides. Contrary to irresponsible statements made by some American propagandists, American antiballistic missile systems are incapable of shielding the American people from a Russian nuclear strike. Russia has the means to strike at targets in the USA with long-range nuclear as well as conventional weapons. The threat of all-out nuclear war is probably over-exaggerated. If it were ever to happen, it probably would have by now. But conventional wars have started over much less than what has been happening between Russia and the Evil Empire. If you take nuclear armageddon out of the equation, the overall picture remains the same: But if attacked, she will not simply sit back and take it. The sole reason why the USA and Russia have found themselves on a collision course, instead of defusing tensions and cooperating on a wide range of international problems, is the stubborn refusal by the US leadership to accept Russia as an equal partner: Washington is dead set on being the "world leader" and the "indispensable nation," even as its influence steadily dwindles in the wake of a string of foreign policy and military disasters such as Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya, Syria, Yemen and the Ukraine. Continued American global leadership is something that neither Russia, nor China, nor most of the other countries are willing to accept. This gradual but apparent loss of power and influence has caused the US leadership to become hysterical; and it is but a small step from hysterical to suicidal. First and foremost, we are appealing to the commanders of the US Armed Forces to follow the example of Admiral William Fallon, who, when asked about a war with Iran, reportedly replied "not on my watch. If possible, please tell your staff, colleagues and, especially, your civilian superiors that a war with Russia will not happen on your watch. At the very least, take that pledge to yourself, and, should the day ever come when the suicidal order is issued, simply refuse to execute it on the grounds that it is criminal. Remember that according to the Nuremberg Tribunal "To initiate a war of aggression We also appeal to the American people to take peaceful but forceful action to oppose any politician or party that engages in irresponsible, provocative Russia-baiting, and that condones and supports a policy of needless confrontation with a nuclear superpower that is capable of destroying the US in about an hour. Speak up, break through the barrier of mass media propaganda, and make your fellow Americans aware of the immense danger of a confrontation between Russia and the US. There is no objective reason why the US and Russia should consider each other as adversaries. The current confrontation is entirely the result of the extremist views of the neoconservative movement, whose members have infiltrated the US Federal government, and who consider any country that refuses to obey their dictates as an enemy to be crushed. Thanks to their tireless efforts, over a million innocent people have already died in the former Yugoslavia, in Afghanistan, in Iraq, Libya, Syria, Pakistan, the Ukraine, Yemen, Somalia and in many other countries—all because of their maniacal insistence that the USA must be a world empire, not a just a regular, normal country, and that every national leader must either bow down before it, or be overthrown. In Russia, the irresistible force that is the neocon movement has finally encountered the immovable object. They must be forced to back down before they destroy us all. We are absolutely and categorically certain that Russia will never attack the US, nor any EU member state, that Russia is not at all interested in recreating the USSR, and that there is no "Russian threat" or "Russian aggression. But we are just as certain that if Russia is attacked, or even threatened with attack, she will not back down, and that the Russian leadership will not "blink. Even if the entire Russian leadership is killed in a first strike, the so-called "Dead Hand" the "Perimetr" system will automatically launch enough nukes to wipe the USA off the political map. We feel that it is our duty to do all we can to prevent such a catastrophe. Eugenia V Gurevich, PhD, http: The Neocons and Neolibs are crazy enough to take down the world with them, or at least a sizeable chunk of it. Perhaps mitigating events will intervene, perhaps the U. As bad as things are today, they can get worse. At the very least we can educate ourselves about the possibilities. Putin recently made some serious remarks in Greece on the subject.

Chapter 3 : Attack on America - HISTORY

At a.m. on a clear Tuesday morning, an American Airlines Boeing loaded with 20, gallons of jet fuel crashes into the north tower of the World Trade Center in New York City. The impact.

Visit Website As millions watched in horror the events unfolding in New York, American Airlines Flight 77 circled over downtown Washington and slammed into the west side of the Pentagon military headquarters at 9:00. Jet fuel from the Boeing caused a devastating inferno that led to a structural collapse of a portion of the giant concrete building. All told, military personnel and civilians were killed in the Pentagon along with all 64 people aboard the airliner. Less than 15 minutes after the terrorists struck the nerve center of the U. S. The structural steel of the skyscraper, built to withstand winds in excess of 100 mph and a large conventional fire, could not withstand the tremendous heat generated by the burning jet fuel. Close to 3,000 people died in the World Trade Center and its vicinity, including a staggering number of firefighters and paramedics, 23 New York City police officers, and 37 Port Authority police officers who were struggling to complete an evacuation of the buildings and save the office workers trapped on higher floors. Only six people in the World Trade Center towers at the time of their collapse survived. Almost 10,000 other people were treated for injuries, many severe. Because the plane had been delayed in taking off, passengers on board learned of events in New York and Washington via cell phone and Airfone calls to the ground. Knowing that the aircraft was not returning to an airport as the hijackers claimed, a group of passengers and flight attendants planned an insurrection. One of the passengers, Thomas Burnett, Jr. I love you, honey. Sandy Bradshaw, a flight attendant, called her husband and explained that she had slipped into a galley and was filling pitchers with boiling water. The plane then flipped over and sped toward the ground at upwards of 500 miles per hour, crashing in a rural field in western Pennsylvania at 10:03. All 45 people aboard were killed. Its intended target is not known, but theories include the White House, the U. S. Capitol, the Camp David presidential retreat in Maryland, or one of several nuclear power plants along the eastern seaboard. Bush, who had spent the day being shuttled around the country because of security concerns, returned to the White House. These acts shatter steel, but they cannot dent the steel of American resolve. Bin Laden was killed during a raid of his compound in Pakistan by U. S. forces.

The terrorist group's sophisticated social-media campaign is reaching its audience in the United States. What it does next has law enforcement worried.

Early events[ edit ] The military history of the United States began with a foreign power on U. Following American independence, the next occurrence of an attack on American soil was during the War of 1812, also with Britain, and also the first and only time since the end of the Revolutionary War in which a foreign power occupied the American capital the then capital city of Philadelphia was also occupied by the British during the Revolution. After the Civil War, the threat of an invasion from a foreign power was small, and it was not until the 20th century that any real military strategy was developed to address the possibility of an attack on America. European threats[ edit ] Until the early 20th century, the greatest potential threat to attack the United States was seen as the British Empire. To that end, military strategy was developed to not only forestall a British attack, but also attack and occupy Canada. Similar plans [4] existed for a 20th-century war with Mexico, although the ability of the Mexican Army to attack and occupy American soil was considered negligible, as demonstrated by the Mexican reluctance to accept the provisions of the Zimmermann Telegram. Mexican rebels led by Pancho Villa did briefly invade the U. According to the plan, Canada would invade the United States as quickly as possible if evidence of an American invasion was found. The Canadians would gain a foothold in the northern U. They would also destroy key bridges and railroads. The plan had detractors, who saw it as unrealistic, but also supporters who believed it could conceivably have worked. On the opposite side of the Atlantic, Imperial German plans for the invasion of the United States were maintained from 1914 to 1918, but were not seriously considered because the German Empire had insufficient resources to carry them out successfully. Early versions planned to engage the United States Atlantic Fleet off Norfolk, Virginia , followed by shore bombardment of eastern cities. Later versions envisioned a land invasion of New York City and Boston. The American Campaign Medal was awarded to military personnel who served in the United States in official military duties. Military strategy instead focused on submarine warfare , with U-boats striking American shipping in an expanded Battle of the Atlantic , particularly an all-out assault on U. Adolf Hitler dismissed the threat of America, stating that the country had no racial purity and thus no fighting strength, further quoted that "The American public is made up of Jews and Negroes ". By 1941, with U-Boat losses soaring and with the occupation of Greenland and Iceland , it was clear to the German military leaders that the dwindling German armed forces had no further hope to attack the United States directly. In the end, German military strategy was in fact geared toward surrendering to America, with many of the Eastern Front battles fought solely for the purpose of escaping the advance of the Red Army and surrendering instead to the Western Allies. The team was quickly captured and put on trial as spies , rather than prisoners-of-war , due to the nature of their assignment. After the court found them guilty of espionage, six German agents were executed in the electric chair at the Washington D. Before his Machtergreifung in January 1933, Hitler had already, in 1925, thought that the United States would be the next serious foe the future Third Reich would need to confront, after the Soviet Union. Imperial Japan[ edit ] The feasibility of an attack on the continental United States by Imperial Japan was considered negligible, with Japan possessing neither the manpower nor logistical ability to successfully mount a full-scale invasion of the U. During the war, Japan successfully occupied , but later withdrew from, the Aleutian Islands of Alaska. Japan also conducted air attacks through the use of fire balloons. Six American civilians were killed in such attacks; Japan also launched two manned air attacks on Oregon the only time in the war that mainland America was bombed by enemy aircraft as well as two incidents of Japanese submarines shelling the American mainland. In such an attack, nuclear warfare was projected to almost certainly happen, mainly in the form of intercontinental ballistic missile attacks as well as Soviet Navy launches of SLBMs at U. By 1945, the United States had developed a defense plan to repel a Soviet nuclear bomber force through the use of interceptors and anti-aircraft missiles, while at the same time launching its own bomber fleet into Soviet airspace from bases in Alaska and Europe. By the end of the 1940s, both Soviet and U. The concept thus developed of the nuclear triad where all three weapons platforms land based, submarine, and bomber would be coordinated in unison for a devastating first strike, followed by a counterstrike, accompanied by "mopping up" missions of nuclear bombers. American nuclear warfare planning was nearly put to the test during the Cuban Missile Crisis. The subsequent blockade of Cuba also added a fourth element into American nuclear strategy, this being surface ships and the possibility of low yield nuclear attacks against deployed fleets. Indeed, the United States had already tested the feasibility of nuclear attacks on ships under Operation Crossroads. Reportedly, during the Cuban missile crisis, one Soviet submarine nearly launched a nuclear torpedo at an American warship, yet the three officers required to initiate the launch the Captain, Executive Officer Vasili Arkhipov , and the Political Officer could not agree to do so. By the s, the concept of mutually assured destruction led to an American nuclear strategy which would remain relatively consistent until the end of the Cold War. Cyber and economic attacks[ edit ] Further information: Cyberwarfare in the United States The risk of cyber-attacks on civilian, government, and military computer targets was brought to light after China became suspected of using government-funded hackers to disrupt American banking systems, defense industries, telecommunication systems, power grids, utility controls, air traffic and train traffic control systems, as well as certain military systems such as C4ISR , and ballistic missile launch systems. An invasion from outside of North America would require long supply chains across the Pacific or Atlantic Ocean , for a great reduction of overall power. Notably, no nation-state of sufficient power to threaten the U. Canada and Mexico generally enjoy friendly relations with the U. Even if the foreign power managed to go undetected in light of modern surveillance capability, they still could not build up a force of any size before being pushed back into the sea. Thus, such an invasion would have to come from the land borders through Canada or Mexico. While an attack from Mexico can be possible, California and Texas have the largest concentration of defense industries and military bases in the country, providing an effective deterrent from any Mexico-based attack. An attack launched from Canada on the Midwestern or Western United States would be limited to light infantry and would fail to take over population centers or other important strategic points, due to the U. One of the more well-known films is Red Dawn , detailing an attack against the U. A remake detailed a similar attack launched by North Korea and an ultranationalist-controlled Russia. A terrorist occupation of Washington, D. Joe cartoon episode, when Serpentor led Cobra forces to occupy the American capital. A terrorist occupation of the capital was also seen in G. The television series Jericho portrayed a major nuclear terrorist attack that simultaneously destroyed most major American cities, viewed from the perspective of a small town in Kansas. In the video game Call of Duty: In the game Turning Point: The Life and Times of Pancho Villa. Naval War College Review. Archived from the original on

Chapter 5 : Al-Qaeda - Wikipedia

This feature is not available right now. Please try again later.

Russian Attack on America is Coming April 18, 5: He is the founder and leader of Joshua Media Ministries International. Back in he had two dreams in which he saw America being attacked by Russia. The war led to a great Christian revival in America. A video clip of his message is shown below. David Taylor first saw the future of America in a dream he received twelve years before the attack on the World Trade Towers in New York City, which happened on September 11, He saw George W. Bush would become President of the United States and the war would begin during his term. There was war being plotted even at that time from Russia. Russia will not just attack America with missiles. The attack will start with terrorists bombing the financial centers of America. That will be the beginning of the war. If you knock that out and weaken it then you can attack. In this dream I saw the financial centers, the trade center, and I saw other parts of the financial center being attacked by terrorists. There is so much pride and arrogance in America. She thinks that because she is one of the superpowers and is one of the richest nations that she is untouchable. They still allow homosexuals to kiss on television, lesbians to get married, homosexuals to get married, and they continue killing children who God wants to raise up as deliverers. That night the Lord told him to drive into the city twice that day warning the people of what was about to happen. The Lord began to show me that it was about to happen, the things I had seen in my dream. And I drove around the trade centers in New York and began to tell the people that were with me and some of the people that were in New York that the terrorists are going to bomb this place. Then when it was time for our crusade we went back. So I went back up there after the crusade that same night and drove around the trade centers. The Lord opened the dream up with the scene of me watching television. And immediately after that happened, as soon as they said there would be peace, a war hit America. Before the war hit America I saw the plan and they plan to go under the sea to attack America. No, they are getting distracted. The real monster behind this attack is Russia. I can say that boldly because I know they are planning to attack America. Russia is planning an attack against America. What is going to happen is when this war hits America it is going to bring revival to America. All I can say to America is that she needs to get ready. In the middle of this war the greatest revival is going to break out because whenever darkness hits the glory of the light arises. After my election I have more flexibility. I will transmit this information to Vladimir, and I stand with you. So in this video clip, which was broadcasted on television networks all over the world, the leaders of two major world powers created the illusion that there is peace between these two powerful nations. Then the third world leader, Vladimir Putin, is put in the position of having a lot more power because President Obama made it clear he is on their side, willing to do what they want. This is what David Taylor saw happening 22 years before it happened. If you watch closely you will see them shaking hands near the end of the clip. It has now been a little over one year since President Obama and President Medvedev shook hands. Obviously, we have not yet seen bombs dropping on America. However, bombing is the final phase of the war. Russian troops arrived in Colorado in May, and have been showing up all across America ever since. So far the only explanation given is they are training for counter-terrorist operations. We already have a powerful military, national guard, and well-equipped Homeland Security. There must be another explanation. The following video clip shows David Taylor sharing his prophetic dreams with Sid Roth. This interview was conducted in so that explains why both of them appear a lot younger than they look now. However, then I came back to reality and realized I could never do anything like that unless I knew God was telling me to go. Surely the Lord will need laborers to be here to help bring in the harvest. Like Queen Esther in the Bible, perhaps we were born at this time and in this country for such a time as this. On the other hand, if I hear the Lord telling me to go I will go. Bush was elected President. He specifically saw the World Trade Towers in New York City being attacked and was actually there the morning of the attack praying over the area and warning local citizens. Two leaders of major world powers shook hands on television and gave the appearance that there was peace between them. At the same time, their actions gave the third world leader much more power. Even with all of those things fulfilled, it is still hard to believe America could be destroyed by a

Russian attack. Americans have enjoyed peace and security unparalleled by any other nation in history. Most of us have never known anything else. That is a wonderful thing but it also makes it hard for us to imagine ever losing it with a devastating war on our own land. This is called a normalcy bias. We tend to reject anything that is abnormal from what we have known. The warning of a Russian invasion of America has been confirmed by other words received from other prophetic ministers including Henry Gruver, David Wilkerson, and Dumitru Duduman. As I turned to look I saw nothing but debris, craters, and smoke all over the land of America. It is interesting that David Taylor saw the Russian plans to go under the sea to attack America because that is exactly what Henry Gruver saw. In one of his visions he saw Russian submarines launching nuclear missiles against major cities in the United States. Everything we have endured until now could be to prepare us for the great harvest season ahead of us. Like at the speed of light they were quickly going up into the air. There were millions it looked like. Then at that moment I was taken higher above the earth and I could see the round earth and all over the earth I started seeing those lights shooting up all over the world. Then I came back down to the earth as if I was back at the beginning of this dream. Then I heard a testimony from another prophetic minister, Ken Peters , who had a detailed dream about the end times. He also saw countless beams of light going up all around the world. He explained he was seeing a great revival all over the earth as the light of God was shining through the lives of His people. I believe all of these ministers are seeing the same thing. I also heard similar reports coming from other churches across the nation. However, it was a short lived phenomenon. After only about six weeks, people concluded the problem was under control and returned to their lives as if they no longer needed God. They wanted God to be there for them when they needed Him, but they had no interest in being available for God when He needed them. This shows the weak spiritual condition of many Americans. For those who know the Lord and are walking in close fellowship with Him, there is nothing to fear because God always takes care of His people. James Bailey James Bailey is an author, business owner, husband and father of two children. His vision is to broadcast the good news of Jesus Christ through blog sites and other media outlets. Full text of Z3 News articles may be shared online in exchange for a clickable link to our site. Please include the author name and do not make any changes to text or titles. For permission to use our content in other formats, please contact us.

Days before the presidential election, Dmitri Alperovitch stood on a stage in Washington, D.C. and delivered a speech he called "how to win elections." Several months earlier, the Soviet.

I was in the clouds and the cover was so thick that I could not see my hands in front of my face. As I dropped in altitude and started to get below the clouds, I began looking to my left and to my right. As I was looking, I saw five nuclear missiles, long range intercontinental ballistic missiles to my right and to my left. A total of ten missiles! Each one carried multiple warheads with the red Communist star on the fuselage of the missiles. The five pointed red star is the universal representative symbol for Communism. The star that I saw on the missiles looked like the second red star below. At the time of this vision Russia had a red star on their flag which is the first picture below. I feel in my spirit that these will be Russian missiles. I could not believe that these missiles were getting ready to hit New York with such a magnitude. They were coming right down onto the state of New York. The next thing I knew, I was standing down on the ground looking at all of the devastation. All the buildings were totally annihilated. The big skyscrapers had fallen over as though a domino effect had happened when they were blown up. When they started falling, these skyscrapers fell one against another knocking each other down. There were dead bodies lying everywhere. Tens of thousands were dead and the air smelled of rotting, burning flesh. Not only did the air smell foul but as I looked everything was dark even though it was midday. I could not believe my eyes! I then sensed time had passed, weeks and months. God then let me see little children taking instruments like butter knives and scraping the corpses of the people that had died. The devastation was beyond anything of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The death and the disease that broke out after was beyond imagination. I could not believe what I was seeing. I was overwhelmed and sickened by the devastation. I asked God why He showed me this? He said that the enemies of the United States are going to attack. After having this life-like vision of what is coming, it was quickened to me later that Chicago and a lot of other big cities are also going to take a hit. The American people will not believe what is happening to them. God is going to execute His judgment on this nation and He is going to pay America back double for the sins that have reached into Heaven. Read Revelation 18 Click here to watch my videos about the Chinese invasion of the west coast! I saw troop movement and they appeared to be Communist Chinese and Russian troops coming into the United States. As they came in, America was no match. I saw churches and synagogues were being leveled by heavy artillery. As the churches were being blown up I saw Jews and Christians being herded up and shot like cattle in front of their churches and homes. I saw the troops killing children and infants with their bayonets. I saw the American people tormented beyond imagination. The troops were void of emotions. Their objective is to take the nation and take it hands down. All able bodied working people will be forced into slave labor. Some will be taken to other countries and some left here. The enemies of America are supernaturally being drawn together. When they come, they are going to catch the nation completely by surprise. Great is going to be her destruction and torment. This judgment is coming soon! The American people, Christians and non-Christians do not believe that God has fiery indignation that will be poured out. I saw a black forest that had an opening into the forest with what looked like a wide beaten animal path. It looked as though animals had been traveling on it for years. I found myself standing in a large meadow outside the forest. I began to hear cracking sounds like very large trees being pushed over one by one with great strength. Suddenly, a large Kodiak grizzly bear came growling and pouncing out of the path to the edge of the meadow where I could see him. He was very angry and stood there growling and pouncing on his front paws in a threatening manner. A large circus chain was around his neck with a 6 inch, red and amber medallion that had a gold hammer, sickle and star engraved in the upper left hand corner. I asked God what this meant. That same day a Russian Democratic reformer by the name of Galina Starovoytova was assassinated at her home. Galina was murdered because she was nominated to run against the hard line communist party in the case of Yeltsin death. During this time, I felt God quicken to me that in the beginning of the fireworks for the world would really start to manifest. The reaction of the Jews was disbelief. They thought they had the best of everything in food, housing, business and lifestyle and they refused to give it up. You three Prophets go to Palestine, we are staying! Because they did not listen they became victims of one man who tried to destroy the entire Jewish population. Pastors and Shepherds, listen to what the Prophets are saying! The day and hour of the Prophet has come. The Prophets are speaking with great power and with signs and wonders such as has never been seen before in the history of the Christian Church. Shepherds listen to the Prophets and heed their warnings!

Chapter 7 : Will Russia attack America? |

In , the FBI identified anti-white hate crimes as the fastest growing racial hate crime in America. Despite all the shouting about the danger white supremacy poses to "black bodies," blacks are 27 times more likely to attack a white person than vice versa.

Open this photo in gallery In Who is America? Yes, yes and yes. Yes, he can be shockingly indelicate and, yes, there are gullible victims who fall completely for his act. Right-wing media in the U. Some of the people Cohen attacks mercilessly want to put guns in the hands of toddlers. Story continues below advertisement The important thing to know about Who is America? Cohen mocks everyone, including, and without mercy, Democrats and the anti-Trump liberal left. No one is spared. His targets are pomposity, complacency and ignorance. Cohen has spent over a year on a covert operation. Be prepared to laugh, cringe and occasionally feel your stomach turn in revulsion. The first episode is a doozy of darkly comic but all too plausible encounters. Cohen poses as Billy Wayne Ruddick Jr. D, a guy in a wheelchair who is vague about his background and disability. He spews nonsensical conspiracy theories and his math is cockamamie stuff. His first victim is Bernie Sanders. Cohen cleverly uses a disguise and demeanour that causes people to make assumptions about him. It is a masterful comic creation. Next, Cohen assumes the persona of a liberal husband and father deeply curious about Trump supporters and white privilege. He gets invited to dinner by a couple who are staunch Republicans and pro-Trump. They treat him with great respect as he explains his code for living. He says he fights against gender stereotypes in his home and commands his daughter to urinate standing up. The daughter is also obliged to menstruate on the American flag and he says his wife had an affair with a dolphin. Who is being mocked here? Certainly not the Trump supporters, who are appalled but unfailingly polite. The characters he creates and inhabits are as much the casualty of his rage as those he dupes into being interviewed. What happens with a woman who is an art gallery owner when she is confronted with a Cohen creation, an ex-con claiming to be an artist, beggars belief. But the woman condemns herself. At its centre the first episode has a small masterpiece of lampoonery that will make the hairs on your head stand up. He wants kids in kindergarten armed to the teeth. He gets a ton of support from the pro-gun lobby and easily convinces some important figures to help him make an educational video, something that teaches little kids " in a fun way " how to shoot kill others. Story continues below advertisement Story continues below advertisement The video gets made, we see it and then it is pitched at various senators and members of Congress for wide distribution. What you see is the pro-gun lobby drunk with power, oblivious to the sheer awfulness of world in which tykes are armed and taught to kill. Here, enraged by the state of things in the U. He uses understatement; he parodies and burlesques like an addled, despairing comedian; he presents us with a virtue and turns it into a vice. On the evidence of the first episode, there is no sacred cow he does not assault.

Chapter 8 : Mainland invasion of the United States - Wikipedia

HAHA I still don't get how Sacha can trick these people into believing what he says is legit ! It's too funny! Sorry for my sick voice ____ Follow my Soci.

During the time of the Prophet Habakkuk, God was about to deliver the Judgment He had been warning would come, and the conditions He describes a very close to what we see in America today. Pastor Bob Reid September 16, Friendship Baptist Church, Warwick, R. Once you understand what this New World Order really is, and how it is being gradually implemented, you will be able to see it progressing in your daily news!! Learn how to protect yourself, your loved ones! Stand by for insights so startling you will never look at the news the same way again. In Habakkuk, Israel was coming under attack and this past week America, of course, has come under attack. In ancient Judah God had been abandoned. The Word of God had been set aside. The civil leadership had failed. The religious leadership had failed. Morality, honesty and honor had failed. But injustice, strife, anger, violence, lust, iniquity and idolatry had not failed - it abounded. In modern America the newspapers have daily reported the same kind of apostasy and failures for years. He had been warning the people of the error of their ways. The people could have looked in their Scriptures and read, "Be sure your sin will find you out" or, "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts", or "Let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy on him and abundantly pardon", or "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart.. God will be sending the evil Babylonians to execute His judgment upon Israel. When God speaks, when God reveals, when God warns, the response He is looking for from His people is repentance. We say we have faith but faith without repentance is nothing. When John the Baptist appeared on the scene, his first words were, "Repent for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. When Jesus first began His public ministry His first words were, "Repent for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. When some people came to the Lord and asked him about all the people who died when a certain tower collapsed - it was called the Tower of Siloam - He said nothing about those people, but to the ones who asked the question, He said, "Except ye repent ye all shall likewise perish. The Bible says that judgment must begin at the house of God. So we have a choice. Godly Christians today have been praying for revival in America for many years. For years the people have been warned of the error of our ways. I remember 30 years ago when Billy Graham preached that if God did not send His judgment upon us soon, He would have to apologize to Sodom and Gomorra. We have buried the word, outlawed prayer, and turned away from God. Marriage and the family are failing. Scriptural abominations [Liberal Apostasy] and the things God hates abound. What have we seen? Further fallings away from God. What does it mean? Or are they the beginning of judgment? On Tuesday morning people went to work and their businesses. I wonder how many were ready. I wonder how many that are here this morning are ready. None of us ever dreamed that two, story buildings, could be leveled to rubbish in less than an hour. No one thought that the Pentagon could be touched. Was it a warning? Or was it judgment? The heavens are silent. If it was a warning there may or may not be more of the same. It may depend on what we do next. Habakkuk chapter 2 beginning with verse 5 describes the course and dismal end of the ungodly. In just a few years, Babylon did level the southern kingdom and the 70 year captivity began. The explanation is revealed in the 5 woes of Habakkuk chapter 2. Woe 1 - verses Woe to those who are enslaved by a never ending obsession with greed - greed that can never be satisfied. Notice the words here like "never satisfied", "gathers to himself", "makes himself rich. If a person trusts God, then why does he need to filled with greed? Greed leads to dishonesty, bribes, robbery, extortion, con jobs, and racketeering. When people are motivated by material desires rather than by spiritual realities, they need revival. Woe 2 - Verses - Woe to those who tolerate injustice in their own hearts. The Scripture says that this person has plotted the ruin of many others. This person can take your company, your property, your wife and never once think of the fairness of it. Unscrupulous brokers have put many in the poor house. A fake Baptist charity in California was exposed 10 days ago. They had swindled many Christians out of millions of dollars. Relief donation scams in connection with last Tuesday have already been discovered. When people have this attitude and care nothing of others, they need revival. Woe 3 - Verses - Woe to those who practice violence. Here are people who have gone from greed - to injustice - to violence- so great are their lustful hearts. We all know about the violence in our society. Drive by shootings, house invasions and street muggings. But there are other forms of violence. The cutting apart of a marriage through divorce. Woe 4 - Verses 15,16 - Woe to those who practice seduction - who lead others astray. Seduction is far far along the slippery slope of moral decline. Today the Bible would add drugs such as ecstasy which are used for date rape. Such a person desperately needs revival. Woe 5 - Verses - Woe to those who practice idolatry. The same is all around us. People today love astrology, for example. Astrology offers religion without moral responsibility and so they like it. It offers salvation without accountability to a Savior and so they like it. It offers knowledge of the future and so they like it. I wonder how many duped people realize that money is what drives this tool of the devil. In a recent year, 25 million people spent over million dollars on personal horoscope materials - all to find out what fate a certain future day has for them. But idolatry could be many things - a sports team, a person, a painting, a collection, anything that takes the rightful place of God. False religions which will never get anyone to heaven abound in our world, such as Islam. He said, "I am a Muslim. I am an American. Most are loyal citizens just as we are. But we also need to remember that there is "No other name given under heaven amongst men whereby we must be saved" I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. There is no salvation, no Savior and no forgiveness of sins in Islam. No wonder that the Lord is a jealous God and hates the giving of worship to anyone or anything other than Him. People involved in idolatry need revival. There are many evidences of the need for revival: Many centuries ago The Lord gave Ezekiel the prophet a vision in which he first saw his nation destroyed and his people scattered among the nations. This was the exact coming judgment revealed to Habakkuk. The dry bones of Israel lay in the valley. All hope for the future was gone. They were past life. I mean, they were nothing but bones. No wonder Ezekiel was staggered when God asked him a question. Can we be restored to our first love? Can our nation rise and be healed? Can our dry bones of faith be restored? The only answer is, "Thou knowest.

Chapter 9 : David Taylor: Russian Attack on America is Coming | Z3 News

Of course, attacking America wouldn't actually serve the Islamic State's long-term objectives. Quite the opposite: Any atrocity would fuel a popular American resolve to crush the group with.

Visit Website The collision caused a massive explosion that showered burning debris over surrounding buildings and onto the streets below. It immediately became clear that America was under attack. September 11, , was the deadliest day in history for New York City firefighters: Some of the terrorists had lived in the United States for more than a year and had taken flying lessons at American commercial flight schools. The 19 terrorists easily smuggled box-cutters and knives through security at three East Coast airports and boarded four early-morning flights bound for California , chosen because the planes were loaded with fuel for the long transcontinental journey. Soon after takeoff, the terrorists commandeered the four planes and took the controls, transforming ordinary passenger jets into guided missiles. Jet fuel from the Boeing caused a devastating inferno that led to the structural collapse of a portion of the giant concrete building, which is the headquarters of the U. All told, military personnel and civilians were killed in the Pentagon, along with all 64 people aboard the airliner. Twin Towers Collapse Less than 15 minutes after the terrorists struck the nerve center of the U. The structural steel of the skyscraper, built to withstand winds in excess of miles per hour and a large conventional fire, could not withstand the tremendous heat generated by the burning jet fuel. Only six people in the World Trade Center towers at the time of their collapse survived. Almost 10, others were treated for injuries, many severe. Because the plane had been delayed in taking off, passengers on board learned of events in New York and Washington via cell phone and Airfone calls to the ground. Knowing that the aircraft was not returning to an airport as the hijackers claimed, a group of passengers and flight attendants planned an insurrection. One of the passengers, Thomas Burnett, Jr. I love you, honey. Sandy Bradshaw, a flight attendant, called her husband and explained that she had slipped into a galley and was filling pitchers with boiling water. The plane then flipped over and sped toward the ground at upwards of miles per hour, crashing in a rural field near Shanksville in western Pennsylvania at All 44 people aboard were killed. Its intended target is not known, but theories include the White House , the U. Capitol, the Camp David presidential retreat in Maryland or one of several nuclear power plants along the eastern seaboard. At the World Trade Center, 2, died after the two planes slammed into the twin towers. That figure includes firefighters and paramedics, 23 New York City police officers and 37 Port Authority police officers who were struggling to complete an evacuation of the buildings and save the office workers trapped on higher floors. At the Pentagon, people were killed, including 64 on American Airlines Flight 77, the airliner that struck the building. On Flight 93 , 44 people died when the plane crash-landed in Pennsylvania. America Responds At 7 p. Bush , who was in Florida at the time of the attacks and had spent the day being shuttled around the country because of security concerns, returned to the White House. These acts shatter steel, but they cannot dent the steel of American resolve. Within two months, U. Osama bin Laden, the mastermind behind the September 11th attacks, remained at large until May 2, , when he was finally tracked down and killed by U. In June , President Barack Obama announced the beginning of large-scale troop withdrawals from Afghanistan. September 11th Terror Attacks Fast Facts. Start your free trial today.