The NWO Is The Ultimate Goal I hope you can see through the information I have presented in this article that at many different levels, the government is either trying to poison us or they are letting corporations poison us without much if any regulation. You must understand that this systematic poisoning is not just government malfeasance although that is certainly present, it is all part of a much larger agenda that trickles down to us from the men who are pulling the strings in our so-called civilized world. The people making the decisions about what we are to receive are part of what they themselves have called a New World Order or NWO for short. Both Presidents Bush and Bill Clinton still believe in and have labored towards moving the US toward a world state where our borders are eliminated and our sovereignty is taken away. Obama of course wants to fundamentally transform America into this vision of a new world government. So the United States has had at least four Presidents in a row two Republicans and two Democrats and yet they really have no differences between them in their ultimate agenda which they are working to achieve. So the agenda of all the major players is the same, even though their brand name might appear to be different; they are all working at overthrowing America and bringing about a whole new governmental entity. Very few Americans have even the slightest clue about where these leaders are taking us or what they are planning for all of us. These people are focused in one major organization which is the Bilderberg Group or Club named after the hotel where their first meeting was held. There are a couple of researchers who have followed after these people, and their yearly meetings all over the world to get to the truth of their agenda. In the United States. A lot is known about who these people are, what they believe, and who they control. And it's all pretty scary. Population Control and Eugenics One of the key methods that these NWO operatives are using is the attempt to control the population in line with their belief system. Bush took the radical step of initiating the false flag attacks on America. The event was so unbelievable and blatant attack right inside the US that our country was flabbergasted by those events as they unfolded on our television screens. Of course, public opinion immediately turned against those "responsible terrorist organizations" and we willingly allowed the state to take away many of our rights and freedoms as it swiftly announced an endless war on terror. But it was all a carefully scripted and audacious theatrical event in collusion with the mainstream media—concocted by our own government. The event with its photo, video and television coverage was just too audacious for a sitting government to perpetrate upon its own people. Yet, that is exactly what happened. Only a government the size of ours could have created such a huge drama like that. Too many defenses had to be down to give it any real hope of success. There has simply been way too much evidence presented that it was an act of terror by our own government against us. At the time happened, most Americans including me fell for it. But more and more citizens are starting to question who was really behind that attack. What Bush did after was to create the TSA, Homeland Security and to justify all of those intrusive spying on Americans which completely opened the door for Obama to proceed down the road towards a NWO. None of these Presidents, Republicans or Democrats, have really been friends of America. There are over seven billion people on planet earth. And there are many who believe that means six billion or even 6. Here is a short video that I think sums up a lot of the bankers agenda when it comes to the population control. The elite are monopoly men who literally seek to dominate the world. They are happy to stay out of the limelight for the most part, but they are quite adept at pulling the strings to buy future Presidents and leaders of all the western countries before they get power. Many of them have inherited their beliefs from the teachings of their rich parents. David Rockefeller who is still one of the leaders of this group, is a classic example of that. His super rich family has been financing world domination and world population destruction for years. They took a step further and felt that the elitists should be the ones who decide which people will survive and be allowed to have children. Have you ever heard of eugenics? The term was coined by Francis Galton back in and it is an unnerving concept. Eugenics is the supposed science of human engineering in which the inferior races would be eliminated. Most of the founders of the eugenics movement were white and they felt blacks were an inferior race who needed to be sterilized. Amazingly, the United States bought into this demonic pseudo science and many thousands were sterilized. At the forefront of much of this was Margaret Sanger, the founder of Planned Parenthood. She was in favor of black genocide and said: The eugenics movement in America actually influenced the Nazis. As Hitler was ramping up his crimes against the Jews, believe it or not, the Rockefellers financed it. These are the people who are in the process of shaping our world. When you see how these people have been involved with China it will blow your mind. As Mao was slaughtering millions of his own people for thought crimes, this same Rockefeller was watching from the wings and clapping at his genocide! Because China knows it has too many people, and because it does not believe that humans are anything more than advanced animals, it sees nothing wrong with slaughtering anyone who disagrees with the state. At the same time, those who are placed in detention camps for crimes which they really have not committed, are available for rich men like the Rockefellers of this world if they need a new kidney or some other organ. This is happening now. They have vans where human donors are slaughtered and doctors instantly provide the needed organ to the waiting rich elitist. When you understand the full vision of their New World Order it is absolutely terrifying. These people are beyond evil all dressed up in suits and ties. Out of their reprobate minds have come maleficent deeds based upon their conviction that man are merely intelligent animal. And because of their power and wealth they are the most intelligent of the beasts. So on their whim, the elitists can then choose who they wish trample. Entitled "Endgame" this is a must-see video. The Bilderberg Group is intrinsically connected to eugenics, the Nazis, the Chinese Communists, and so many other evils inside their dark minds. And he even stated in that he thought it would be possible for future totalitarian governments to make people love their servitude through the use of mind control and drugs. He felt this was "better" because these new elitist governments would combine methods of terror with mind control and drugs, thus making life easier on its poor downtrodden human chattel. Huxley was obviously still a believer in the deadly philosophy of eugenics at the end of his life. At a minimum there have been at least 20, American deaths that we know of which have been caused by our own government as it has tested unknowing and unwilling subjects. Our country has blatantly tested poisons, nerve gases, vaccines with mercury and radiation on US troops. The VA given different levels of radiation pills to pregnant wives of servicemen saying they were vitamins, which caused violent miscarriages and the death of many of the women. How we have used our own citizens as guinea pigs or lab rats is simply unconscionable. The mercury injections mentioned above which are still happening was recommended by Bertrand Russell, a noted British writer and atheist suggested that vaccinations filled with mercury and other chemicals would create chemical lobotomies would develop a zombie population that would be easy to control. He said in The Impact of Science on Society, "Diet, injections, and injunctions will combine, from a very early age, to produce the sort of beliefs that the authorities consider desirable, and any serious criticism of the powers that be will become psychologically impossible. A full 20 percent of American kids have now been routinely prescribed some type of anti-depressant. Worse, two thirds of all foster children where the state has total control are automatically placed on psychotropic drug cocktails of at least seven different drugs making them behave like zombies. Chapter 2 : Why We Want to Kill You - Book Detail - Midpoint Book Sales & Distribution

Part autobiographical, part confessional, Why We Want to Kill You helps readers in the West understand the Islamic mindset, what drives Islamic hatred and violence, and to become more aware of the dangers to which many Americans and Europeans have become overly complacent. Why We Want to Kill You.

You are not a very smart human being, and you know it. All your opinions and beliefs are wrong, you have a low IQ and you are of no use to the human race. The only contribution you will ever make to our species is if you die and your carcass is used as manure, and even then it might be used to grow plants that might be useless themselves or that would wither and die. Fact is, killing yourself would be the most interesting thing you would have done in your lifetime. No one will miss you: Face it; no one will miss you if you killed yourself today. Sure, the process of burying you and the high cost involved in arranging your funeral proceedings might inconvenience your family members, but it would all be worth it in the end since no one would have to see your pathetic self ever again. Sure, that might make them childless, but it would be worth it. Make no mistake; you will not visit paradise when you die. On the contrary, you will journey to the pits of Hell and pay penance for the sad life you have lived. And you deserve it too. The life you have lived on Earth has been meaningless and without worth. It is only in the lowest parts of the abyss that you will find purpose. All men die eventually: It is a simple fact of life; all men die. And what difference does it make? In fact by choosing not to kill yourself today, you are preparing yourself for a life of suspense. Will you die today? Will the car you drive tomorrow morning be involved in an accident? Will you choke on your breakfast next week? You will never know, and not knowing will eat you from inside. The only way to end it all and know for sure is to kill yourself today and take control of the situation. Think about it; if God is real, then that means we do not live in a deterministic universe. Everything that has happened, is happening and will happen in the future has already been written down by God himself. This means you have already been programmed to kill yourself immediately after reading this article. By opting not to kill yourself, you are going against the word and plan of the creator. In addition, by refusing to kill yourself even though God has already willed it, you might break the space-time continuum and might initiate a series of events like creating a black hole which would ultimately lead to the end of our world as we know it. Seriously, just go ahead and kill yourself.

Buy a cheap copy of Why We Want to Kill You: The Jihadist book by Walid Shoebat. The most powerful and authoritative book written on the causes of terrorism. Walid Shoebat, who is a self-confessed, former Islamic-inspired terrorist, reveals all.

We are privileged to run this excerpt from his outstanding, newly released book, Why We Want to Kill You. It is the transcription of a verbal exchange between a Palestinian named Ramzi and Mr. A terrorist mind-set is concerned with occupation. To them, everything is an imperialist or Zionist conspiracy. The reality is that the terrorist mind is occupied with half truths. Although many times the terrorist knows the truth, he simply ignores it. The reason is simple—he is usually a racist, filled with bias. He views everyone who is non-Muslim as Kafir, an unbeliever. Whereas, the usual problem with many Westerners is that they have a very narrow view of traditional, conservative people. The following is a response to a typical Palestinian, pro-Jihad objection. It fits a common pattern that shows the cookie-cutter mentality: Shoebat, I am totally opposed to your positions! Today, we have Hamas and the P. How is that a free society? You are a person who has lost all his roots! I disagree for several reasons: Jesus was from Bethlehem. My roots are connected to the land where Jesus walked. I follow a faith of a Bethlehemite and not an Arabian. What about Germans who died as a result of standing up against Hitler? Do you accuse them of losing their roots? Why is it that if anyone objects to the Palestinian dogma, then they are accused of losing their roots? I am from the Holy Land. I was born there. No one can take away my roots. It seems to me that you feel free to uproot people as you wish. You want to expel Jews from Palestine, yet you want to keep only Palestinians in Israel. Why should Arabs have a right to live in Israel, yet Jews are not allowed to live in Palestine? What roots are we talking about? Before, we were Jordanians, and before that, we considered ourselves Syrians, and only since have the people living in historic Judea clinged [sic] to being Palestinians. So, what roots are you talking about? We all had Jordanian passports all along. Why is it that we wanted to establish a Palestinian state in Jordan? When King Hussein decided to throw out that brat named Yasser Arafat, they lost that hope of creating a state there. Why are Palestinians not trying to create a Palestinian state in Jordan? Why is it only in historic Judea? How have I lost my roots? What roots are you talking about? My old bigoted opinions? Then why do you hate me so much? So, do you mean to tell me that what Naim Ayyad, my Islamic teacher in high school taught us, that killing Jewish civilians is o. Are you telling me that it is a lie that Arafat went to mosques and asked women to give him their children for suicide? Have I fabricated the hate filled cartoons, Holocaust denials, suicide bombings, or the writings on walls calling for the murder of Jews? I suggest that you come and live one week in Bethlehem! Maybe then you will know what being a Palestinian nowadays means! Does being a Palestinian nowadays include killing Arab teenagers and dragging their bodies down the streets of Bethlehem, or are the executions of Palestinians, by Palestinians, fake? I have seen them on video. Are all these videos fake? Did the Zionists make these up? Only racists claim victimhood when they ignore what they do to others. We chased, Jews out of Arab lands. Are they not victims, too? Quit your bellyaching, and stop that victimhood paranoia. Arabs want their homes back. No one has a right of return. This should end all this mess. Yet you would not agree to that. I live the occupation every day! You think Israel was bad? We declared a war on Israel in, we lost, and now you are crying about an occupation? What about the Jordanian occupation? Why have you never called it a Jordanian occupation? Why is it only an Israeli occupation? Could it be that the answer is simpler than you think? This is the only reason why we never objected to a Jordanian occupation, yet we screamed victim-hood when Israel won the war that WE declared. I feel it [the occupation] every day! I get yelled at every day by Israeli occupational forces! Stop bombing buses, start singing songs of peace, demonstrate all over for peace, then see how Jews will fall backwards for you. Yet what did you do instead: You elected Hamas and proved to the world that you are racists. You severed your ties with Israel, then later complained about Israel keeping you out. You kept carrying olive branches in one hand, while you carried a bomb in the other. I would love to see you waiting in a line at a checkpoint to go from your home to your work and then being turned back by someone 20 years younger than you! I lived there for 18 years. I had to carry my I. Yet I saw what I did wrong. I saw why Israelis set up checkpoints. I changed my heart and my mind. I stopped playing the victim. I moved on with my life. You already expressed your view that we should not be allowed to go home. What about my land? Who stole my land [in Bethlehem], Ramzi? Or was it Palestinians? Who is the land-thief? Why can I go to Israel but not to Palestine? Why when truth hits you directly in the face do you reject it? Why when facts are so obvious do you reject them? In this book, Shoebat not only gives insight into his own thinking but carefully analyzes the mindset of many intellectuals on the cause of terrorism. He also explain the key problems and how to defeat terrorism; he substantiates his argument from a fascinating and unique perspective. This may be one of our few glimpses into this world and the lessons we can learn from it are invaluable. A must-read for all. It has fascinating incites to the thinking of terrorists and terror sympathizers. It clearly defines Islamic fundamenatlist goals and makes arguments that need to be taken very seriously concerning the the number one problem concerning the freedoms we now enjoy but are under serious threat. The number one book to read on understanding the threat of Islamic fundamentalist inspired terror. A former terrorist now on our side is a must read for everyone. An inside look at anti-Western terrorism By Jill Malter on Nov 04, Human civilization has not always had a smooth path. As recently as the fifth century, we had a Dark Ages in Europe, in which reason was virtually repudiated in favor of tyranny. There was a threat of a repeat of that in the s and s in Europe. And there may be a similar threat at present. Walid Shoebat, a former terrorist, shows, in this somewhat scary book, how serious the problem is. Quite a few people are being trained as destroyers of society. And if they succeed, that will be bad for virtually everyone. What do the Islamic fundamentalists say? Well, they say whatever they please. And they come up with all sorts of demonizing propaganda against Western society. But there really is no right side of that. How does one reply to the Islamists? Well, there are plenty of ways. One can come up with a reasoned rebuttal. Or one can simply describe reality and warn that what goes around can come around. Or one can even answer insults with insults. But none of it does much good. We all need to value truth more in order to combat this threat to society. I think this book shows that we need to draw the line at demonizing untruths. I think agreeing with such lies, as a matter of course, as a matter of loyalty, as a matter of principle, as a matter of laziness, as a way to avoid trouble, whatever, is a giant leap over the line. Shoebat makes a few specific points that I especially like. One of them deals with the "right of return. What ought to be done about it? No one should have a "right of return" to them. I would add that very few people who lost their homes in the s are still alive. Oh, sure, people who lived in those homes are still alive. But most of those were kids, not owners. These kids never owned the homes, they never developed them, they never paid property taxes on them, and they may not ever have been the actual heirs to them. Shoebat also discusses "reversalism," which is just one more way in which pro-tyranny thugs use words as weapons rather than as tools of communication. This is a way of simply making things up as one goes along, and it generally involves a fair amount of projection. Is one a big fan of the National Socialists? Then why not call the Jews National Socialists? Why not call liberation "occupation," why not call sorrow "joy," why not call victims "terrorists," and why not call the conspirators to terror "victims? Is Islamist terror a problem for Muslims in general? You bet it is, just as National Socialism was a problem for Germans in general. And it is, of course, a problem for non-Muslims, just as National Socialism was a problem for non-Germans. Shoebat says that a more recent survey showed that only ten per cent supported these bombings, but that is still eighteen million people. This is a key untruth, and if it stands, I think it helps put civilization at serious risk. A new Arab state? As Shoebat tells us, it is the prosecution of jihad against the West. And what do some Western academics have to say about all this? Shoebat does mention that there is a problem here, and he quotes a few, including a couple who are at Columbia University. Yes, Columbia has a problem, but there are some other universities that probably ought make a more serious attempt to enforce academic standards. What is to be done about the threats posed by radical Islam? Shoebat has some ideas, including removing the leaders and dismantling hate-filled mosques. He also favors presenting truth in the media and in academia. I highly recommend this book. Hard to put down By Patrick K. Danielsen on Aug 18, With very few exceptions, this book is written in a concise manner. I found it hard to put down. I began reading it, " I expected it to be a hateful book. However, it produces verifiable quotes for the reader to further investigate. It provides a view that I am sure is disputed, but the author has credentials to speak on the topic. This book is worthy of a read by leftists, rightists and free-thinkers such as myself Finally, an inside look. Quinton on Sep 29, Finally, someone from the inside has been willing to share the truth in spite of death threats, including from his own family. I believe this is a book that everyone outside Islam should read, especially our elected officials that only want to talk peace or throw money at the problem. The war on terror is exactly like Mr. This is a war against a form of Socialism that is to the extreme. I give him great credit, not only to his faith but to his courage in writing this book. Fox on Sep 14, Who better than a former terrorist to tell you what kind of indoctrination he received as a child, and grew into a man believing. The author is now a Christian, but only after exhaustive efforts to convince his wife that Islam is right, and Christianity is wrong. In using the Bible to try to prove it, he found out that he, himself, was wrong He speaks out now, at the risk of his own life. He could be killed at any time for what he does. The book is his follow-up to another called "Why I Left Jihad. The book is one you should not miss reading, because it helps anyone who does not have a full understanding of what we are up against in this war to "get it. Shoebat gives the most credible insight to what the world faces from the threat of the Islamic ideology that drives young Muslims all over the world to carry out world Islamic domination. It also exposes the agenda of "moderate Muslims" who are in a giant scheme of deception and propaganda to disguise the threat. A book that the main stream media seems to want to avoid because it completely bursts their bubble with someone who has the real credibilty to undermine their positions of political correctness. An eye-opening read By Cheryl D. Weber on Jul 14, I thought this was a real eye opener. It is a counter balance to the current news, the viewpoints of liberals and the position taken by our government. His mother is Christian and kept under the bondage of sharia law. His father and brothers carried on the tradition of Islam. I was intrigued by the title and picked it up because I was looking for a book to balance the generally accepted view which I questioned that Islam is a peaceful, generous and pious faith of the God of both Judaism and Christianity. Since there is no credible translation of the Quran -- the truth of it is only found in the Original Arabic -- I was interested in Mr. He also discusses the fact of shaheeds: There is chilling information gleaned from our government records on statistics, speculations and concerns that have not been reported widely in the press to the American public. And then watch what is going on in the Middle East and within our own borders. Life is getting interesting to say the least. At the very least you will have something to think about and a good summer read. Great insights on a warped death cult By F. Klein on Nov 12, Mr. Shoebat describes a frightening "death cult" that has emerged from Islam. There are ways to interpret religious texts in such a way to justify great cruelty in the service of human lust for power. Shoebat describes this phenomenon in Islam. What is scary is that most Islam in the Middle East is under the sway of these Jihadis, either to preserve the political order where loyalty and connections trump merit, or as a reaction to the speed of change in a modernizing world. However, he details the abuse of women and non-Moslems, and the demonization of all who do not follow the path of whichever charismatic leader has killed his way to the top of the heap. To paraphrase him, evangelical Christians annoy you by wanting to change your head. Islamists want to cut off your head.

Chapter 5 : Why We Want to Kill You : Walid Shoebat :

It gives insight into what makes the terrorist tick. Reasons on why they hate us and want to destroy our way of life and freedom. More than what you would hear from the pc folks in the news.

I believed in it. Sometimes I think perhaps I was. I approved of it; I joined in the general cry of madness and despair. I urged men to fight. I was safe because I was too old to go. I was like the rest. What did they do? Right or wrong, justifiable or unjustifiable -- which I need not discuss today -- it changed the world. For four long years the civilized world was engaged in killing men. Christian against Christian, barbarian uniting with Christians to kill Christians; anything to kill. It was taught in every school, aye in the Sunday schools. The little children played at war. The toddling children on the street. Do you suppose this world has ever been the same since? How long, your Honor, will it take for the world to get back the humane emotions that were slowly growing before the war? How long will it take the calloused hearts of men before the scars of hatred and cruelty shall be removed? We read of killing one hundred thousand men in a day. We read about it and we rejoiced in it -- if it was the other fellows who were killed. We were fed on flesh and drank blood. Even down to the prattling babe. I need not tell you how many upright, honorable young boys have come into this court charged with murder, some saved and some sent to their death, boys who fought in this war and learned to place a cheap value on human life. You know it and I know it. These boys were brought up in it. The tales of death were in their homes, their playgrounds, their schools; they were in the newspapers that they read; it was a part of the common frenzy -- what was a life? It was the least sacred thing in existence and these boys were trained to this cruelty.
