By Jaspal Singh Last updated Mar 30, Wix, as we all know, is a free website builder that also has a brilliant email marketing software in the name of Wix ShoutOut. Introduced back in mid of , Wix ShoutOut allow you to send and share awesomely designed emails in a matter of minutes. What can you ask from our very own Wix? Whenever I build a website or blog that require some reliability I always recommend Wix, as it not only expertise in providing you a web presence, but it also adds value to your profession. The beauty of Wix is that it has almost every other tool that is needed by a website owner. Wix ShoutOut is probably the easiest email marketing tools available out there. Small business can take leverage of its low cost and exceptional quality. Be it a sale promotion, invitation or a regular newsletter, Wix ShoutOut tool provides beautiful designs and quick solution for all. It also has excellent designer-made templates that are a must for any email marketing software. And their intuitive editor will undoubtedly capture your attention while making edits. No worries if you have little at hands, Wix ShoutOut only takes a few clicks to create, send and share emails. The mobile app is another excellent addition to the web version, where you have this always connected thing. You will never have to encounter the code when you are using their newsletter tool. The need for a newsletter is undeniable. Newsletters are one of the best ways to share the news with your audience, it motivates, retain and keep clients engaged with your brand. The feature of having all the images on your Wix website to Wix ShoutOut also help in maintaining brand styles and similar aura. You can also copy old campaign designs and create a new campaign with similar style and content, making it easy to change and modify the old text, image and videos. Wix ShoutOut also allows you to add social profile buttons like Facebook, Twitter making it easy for your subscribers to get connected with different social media channels. Some notable features of Wix ShoutOut Intuitive Editor â€” Wix ShoutOut comes with an intuitive editor that allow you to add your own logo, text, background, images and more, so that you can personalize your newsletter according to your needs. Plus you also have beautiful email templates that you can use quickly. Every ShoutOut can have your signup forms from where people can join your mailing list. Social media tools â€” With social media tools you can share those emails and turn those messages to Facebook Ads. Which means you can market your emails on social media sites. This will give you an idea about your subscriber behaviour. All of them can see your newsletter in a proper way. These templates can announce a sale, tell special offers, promotions and even telling you to about discounts. You can also promote your events, show or converts and for those cute event invitation, you will be surprised how people get attracted towards your work. These are the type of designs every email newsletter sender would love to have. Finally, we want you to look tell you about their current pricing, which is again pretty affordable and appropriate regarding the competition. And here are their mobile apps that can give you access to email newsletter on the go. Do tell us your experience, if you have used Wix ShoutOut before, we would love to hear about your reviews on this excellent email newsletter software.

Wix ShoutOut as it sounds aims to help customers to reach theirs through today trends of email marketing. Buckle up and grab some snacks. There is no need to sign up to a new account if you already had one with the Wix website builder. You can simple login with your previous Wix account credentials and access the ShoutOut. After logging in to your Wix account ShoutOut , you will be shown a screen giving your quick instructions on how to use the email builder like as shown above. After completing it, you will be allowed to lay your hands on the WYSIWYG email editor where you can drag and drop elements, change themes and colors as you want. All the other elements can be dragged into the email in the workspace and be positioned. All the themes are elegant and graphic rich as I observed. This feature impresses me, with its good and professional looks. Wix email editor allows you to choose a background of your choice. You not only can choose an existing background but also can upload your own. If you want to select a background from the preset list, choose one from it and click on it to apply. Custom background will help you in branding the email in a much better way that a random image. Well, its just a demonstration. You can add email addresses one by one separated by commas or you can import the email IDs from your Gmail account or from CSV files on your computer. This screen will allow you to set the subject line, first name and reply email ID to your shoutout. The test email works as same as it works previously at the phase of email creation but with more customized details at this phase. All the features I have shown here will not come in limits with premium subscriptions. You can design an email beautifully as you want just like you used to build a website with Wix. The simple drag and drop tools, background and color customization option need no technical assistance in creating an email. Custom Signup Form â€” As we have seen in the walkthrough, we can add a signup to capture leads and subscribers to your business and website. Easy Contact Integration â€” You can import all your contacts from your Gmail and CSV files which is a mostly expected feature of any email marketing tool. Social Media Tools â€” Wix ShoutOut allows users to share the email link onto social media profiles for better reach. This can even be used to notify your subscribers about the sent newsletter on social media. Stats Tracker â€” You can track your sent emails and see how many of them are opening and clicking on them. This stats information can help you make correct decisions in building future strategies. Responsive Design â€” The most wanted feature of now-a-day email marketing tool is the responsive designer. Free Templates â€” Wix ShoutOut offers free responsive email templates for it users. One can simply apply the theme and customize it as wanted. What should have included? According to my experience with some of the top email marketing tools, I feel Wix ShoutOut is missing some features which might be added with time in future. The following are the features that this email marketing tool lacks. Auto-responders â€” An average digital marketer will lookout for this feature. Because, responding to every email would be a hectic task for any company with large customer base. Smart Reports â€” The email stats cannot be distilled with more customization. Reporting intelligence should have been much better in Wix ShoutOut. I expect to see these features coming to Wix ShoutOut very soon. Wix ShoutOut is yet a wonderful email marketing tool which is simple, easy and fast. It would need no technical knowledge at all. Unlike other complex email marketing tools with advanced options that are not understandable by most of the marketing people, Wix offer a better way to send newsletters with beautiful design and simple reporting stats. If you are marketing person with less technical knowledge and if you are looking out for an email marketing tool that serves your purpose flawlessly, Wix ShoutOut is your plate of dish. Feel free to share your thoughts about this new email marketing tool in comments below.

Wix A Google user This app, along with Wix as a whole is wonderful. And im tired of writing emails to "support" that never get a reply. Thanks for nothing so far! The app is not mature enough to be truly useful. The mobile app could be developed into a really useful app for busy people. Dawn Breton I was so excited to find this app. It keeps closing everytime I try to start a new shout out. Completely useless Christina Unable to use. The mobile editor for andoid is OK, but this wix app gets an A. Had no issues sofar: I wish tho you would create an app that is entirely just for Wix blogs Ed Burch The app will no longer work. It opens but the quickly shuts down any time you attempt to do anything on it. Mario Aviles Please ck the bugs make it work. App keeps resetting itself whenever I want to create a new ShoutOut. Pole Waxers It will not allow me to send my shout out to subscribed or contacted me or any list in my contacts, Adegboyega Ogunmola The ShoutOut platform have helped to showcase my writing skills to the general public. But, I want this app to enlist more social media websites, for the distribution of published information. Thank you, for the good work so far. What happening to this app? My mobile hang and start move in few seconds after. My rate cant change untill this app completely can use. VIX Emporium Would love a way to manage email contacts on this app. It would make an efficient tool if it worked properly Lokeshvarii Harkirtin Kaur Keeps crashing despite making sure updated. Kathy Turpin Downloaded this app. Added the button to my page. Working on an Android device. Went to send the very first shout out and it crashed tried at least 6 times and still have yet to send the first shout out. Your comment You are logged in as Guest:
